WOMEN OF THE MOOSE

Margaret Prince conducted a toy demonstration at the Women of the Moose meeting. Plans for a children's Christmas party were discussed.

Women of the Moose will cater for a breakfast for the men's lodge Dec. 10 and for a banquet and dance Dec. 9.

A new candidate, Edna Seamark, was enrolled and Mary Archer won the draw donated by Olive Hanson.

Eye Clinic To Be Used In S. India

The November business meeting of the White Cane Club was held at the Recreation Centre on Wednesday evening. President Clarence Morris welcomed the members and escorts, following the opening songs.

The gift presented by John Towner, on which tickets were sold to raise funds for the Centennial project was won by Vi Waite.

The C.C.B. Council Committee was read by Maude Rollins. The members were interested to hear that the Mobile Eye Clinic (Unit No. 1) is being financed through donations of the C.C.B. Clubs across Canada, will be used in Southern India. Treasurer Doug Huffman announced that a gratifying sum had been raised by the local club for this project, over the past year.

Six members of the Army and Navy Kitchen Band, dressed in centennial costumes provided the entertainment for the evening. A lively sing-song was enjoyed and Doug Huffman expressed the appreciation of the Club.

LETTERS AND STAMPS

"Belleville's peak volume of Christmas mail occurs between Dec. 16 to 20, when our postal staff of 60 with 140 extra helpers sort around the clock about 260,000 cards daily." — Belleville Post Office.

"I would like to say, that the public does the postal system a great service by posting all local Christmas cards by Dec. 17. It is a response much appreciated," says Post Master J. A. Maley, when asked about mailing dates and Christmas deadlines, and we are happy to bring this reminder to our readers' attention.

The Christmas rush also reminds us that the postal service is one of mankind's great blessings. Perhaps the writer, Edward Everett, expressed the thoughts of everyone who said:

"When I contemplate the extent to which the moral sentiments, the intelligence, the affection of so many millions of people — sealed up by a sacred charm within the cover of a letter — daily circulate through a country, I am compelled to regard the Post-Office, next to Christianity, as the right arm of our modern civilization."

"One marvels over the fact that a letter may safely reach nearly every inhabited area in the world. Interesting, amusing exceptions only highlight the truth of the fact more so, such as the love letter mailed in 1921 to the woman who received it some 40 years later. "It must have slipped down somewhere," explained a baffled spokesman for the English Post Office. Or the letter mailed to an English village a mile away in 1961 which arrived six years later with a New Zealand postmark and a postal explanation: "It stuck to other mail." And the letter mailed in Melbourne, Australia, to a Melbourne suburb, which arrived three months later via England, having strift-ten delivered to a similar address in Brighton, Sussex, with a line written on the envelope which someone had added: "Small world, isn't it?"

Postmen find extra demands imposed on them at the holiday season. One English postman was asked to deliver a letter that bore just a street name and the following poetic instructions:

"Mr. Postmen, please aid Santa Claus

Help me find Mrs. Small White, because

With your help and utmost speed

I may find this lady whom I need."

and the postman delivered the letter correctly.

Sometimes postal departments are flooded with civic mail at Christmas as at Yell, Shetland Islands, when, tired of putting up with kerosene lamps in the 20th century, its 1,286 inhabitants, "yelling" for electricity on the island, mailed cards to the Members of the House of Commons which bore two messages:

"Yell for light."

"Light for Yell."

But, to return to the matter at hand — this year is the fourth consecutive year that special stamps have been issued for Christmas in Canada. The design chosen for Canada's Centennial year are in the combinations of 5 cents and 3 cents," says Mr. Maley who kindly made available the following information put out by the Philatelic Service, Post Office Department, Ottawa, which we give in part:

"Familiar sights and sounds of a traditional Christmas are brought to mind by the design chosen for the Christmas stamps . . . wherein carols and Christmas music are sung by the happy voices of children—all three of whom are suitably clothed for a season which a large part of Canada is under a blanket of snow. . . The singing of carols at Christmas is common to both of Canada's recognized founding cultures . . .

Christmas retains its character as a season of goodwill, a time for children, for loved ones near and far, and for consideration of those less fortunate than ourselves.

Postmaster General Jean Pierre Cote, we understand, has approved Canada's 1968 stamp program. The stamps will be produced by two security printers: the Canadian Bank Note Company, which had held the contract, and the British American Bank Note Company. Both are in Ottawa.

It is possible to share the printing contract since both printers are installing equipment that will give Canada an opportunity to produce more multicolored stamps by various methods.

WI Leaders Conduct Cooking Class

Three local Women's Institute leaders, Mrs. C. Marshall, Mrs. F. Hodgen and Mrs. Violet Elliott attended the recent training school in Stirling where the topic studied was "Baking With Yeast".

The first evening Mrs. C. Marshall and Mrs. Violet Elliott demonstrated making whole wheat and rye bread. Tuesday evening they made rolls and fancy bread, presented by Mrs. F. Hodgen and Mrs. V. Elliott.

At the close of each meeting the food baked was tasted and tested by the class and everyone felt their time was well spent in a most worthwhile project.

Club Activities

HILLCREST SCHOOL

Hillcrest Home and School Association meeting was held on Monday, November 20th.

Mr. Dale, principal of the school was the speaker to explain the new report card system effective on the Christmas report cards. These report cards are to be for Grades 5 and 6, only for this school year.

This was followed up by a question and answer period.

Refreshments concluded the evening's program.

BETA SIGMA PHI

Xi Beta Zeta chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority met Tuesday at the home of Mrs. H. L. House, with Mrs. Grace Drury, hostess, in charge of the meeting. Plans were completed for a Christmas party Dec. 12. The service committee reported a turkey is to be donated to the archbishop's Christmas dinner.

Mrs. Barbara Pringle presented a program entitled, How to Say It.

Meatless Stuffed Peppers

By MARY MOORE

QUESTION: Can one buy dried mushrooms in Canadian stores? Where I came from (Southern Europe) you can buy them in little packets and have them on hand to soak any time you need them. — Lucia P.

ANSWER: Yes you can buy them, mostly in shops whose proprietors are Europeas or Chinese. I have a Polish grocer who has "Imported European Dried Mushrooms - Carpatka" in ½-oz. cellos bags for 50 cents. When washed and soaked overnight and drained these measure ½ cup.

QUESTION: Please print a recipe for stuffed peppers — not a meat stuffing. — Agnes M.

ANSWER: I followed the above letter with yours because they tied in.

SATURDAY

Dinner Menu

Vegetable Soup; Sliced Cold Meat Loaf (beldover from Thursday); Mustard Pickles; Scalloped Potatoes; Cauliflower in Parsley Cream Sauce; Hot Mince Tarts; Cheddar Cheese; Coffee.

STUFFED GREEN PEPPERS (no meat)

4 small to medium green peppers
2 cups soft fine breadcrumbs - not packed
½ cup drained canned or dried soaked (see above) mushrooms, sliced
2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine
1 teaspoon green onion or bottled flakes
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon accent
Wash and cut green peppers in halves lengthwise, remove stem, seeds and ribs. Wash inside and invert to drain. Melt butter and remove from heat. Add all remaining ingredients gently stirring. Lightly fill green peppers halves and arrange in single layer in shallow baking dish with lid. Add ¼ cup hot water, cover and bake at 400 deg. Fahr. 35 to 40 minutes or until peppers are tender.

Grey Cup - Hockey Game Fans (and I am one) please note that I have some ideas for after-the-game buffet menus. So watch for them on Tuesday, November 28th.

U.C.W. Meeting

EASTMINSTER UCW

Eastminster United Church UCW staged a Canada night for its November general meeting.

Menu, decorations and program were under the direction of Vivian Bettney and the green group. Posters and shields of the provinces and territories decorated the auditorium and map of Canada serviettes and place mats, showing the scenic groups in Canada, were used on the table.

Two quizzes, on the Prime Ministers and ethnic groups, were conducted. The green group provided entertainment in the form of a humorous skit performed by Marion Smith, Dorothy Irwin, Joan Dixon and Mildred Graham. Kenneth Smith led a sing-song, with Evelyn Martin as pianist. Mildred Graham and Evelyn Martin played a piano duet.

Vivea Harrison gave the report on the study book, The Church Grows in Canada, and discussed the many religious groups operating in Canada. The worship service was presented in the form of a conversation on how church members can best serve God. Elaine McGee, Joan Dixon and Dorothy Irwin asked the questions and Evelyn Throop replied.

Ann Landers

Screaming Audience Disturbs Performers

DEAR ANN LANDERS: You spoiled my day when you told that groovy girl she had a right to scream at a Monkee concert.

ANN LANDERS

I'm a professional musician who has spent time on both sides of the footlights. Furthermore, I know the Monkees personally and have travelled with them for two months when they first went on tour.

Screaming has its place at these concerts, but only after the song is finished. When the kids yell and bring the roof down during a number, the performers get nervous. They can't hear themselves or the other members of the group and they lose the beat. The screamers also make it impossible for the non-screamers to hear.

The girl who wrote seemed to think that just because she spent $6.00 on a ticket, she had a right to give everyone in the place a headache. Please tell her she is wrong. Also tell her that if she thinks the performers are honored by the shrieking she's wrong about that, too. It drives them crazy. — INDIANA.

DEAR INDIANA: I received dozens of letters from entertainers and I thank you all for giving me a fresh point of view — in fact, your letters have persuaded me that I should reverse myself.

So — here's my new advice. Scream your head off if you want to — but not until the number is finished.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: A friend of mine has a young son who is about to be married. When I say young I mean he is 18 and acts like 12. The "bride" is several years older than he is and has a good job. He is unemployed. It's too bad she didn't adopt a little boy to satisfy her maternal instincts instead of grabbing on to this poor dumb kid.

The boy's mother has to sign for him since he is underage in this state. When I asked her why she agreed to such a thing she answered, "If I don't sign for him he will go to another state and get married anyway."

DEAR LEONA: The mother lost this ball game a long time ago. The boy's desire to get married at 18 is simply the final inning.

In my opinion the mother should not have agreed to sign for him. By so doing she removed the final obstacle. She should have said, "I refuse to consent to do this foolish thing." If he runs off to another state anyway she will have done what she could to prevent what looks like a sure calamity.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Your reply to the woman who complained about her husband's compulsion to turn off lights ("Save the Juice, Marie") was interesting. You mentioned the cost for burning a 100-watt bulb was less than two cents for seven hours.

An electrical engineer told me that just switching on the light requires the same amount of energy required to burn it for approximately 100 minutes. So, please tell your readers that once the light has been switched on they might as well let it burn for an hour and a half if they really want to get their money's worth. — OL' SCOTTIE.

DEAR SCOTTIE: Thanks for the tip. Your contribution to this column may well produce a brighter world for all of us.

Torchlight parades were the feature of many political campaigns of the Civil War era. This tinned sheet iron lantern was used about 1860. A candle inside supplied the light from the top of a high wooden pole. "Wide Awake" clubs of Republicans favored these torchlight parades.

(Index of American Design, Washington, D.C.)

Torchlight Parade Was Vote Getter in Political Campaign

By RALPH and TERRY KOVEL

Old time political campaigns had their banners and buttons plus a feature missing in today's campaigns. The torchlight parade down the centre of town was a vote getter during the 19th century.

Special lanterns were made for these parades. The top of a long wooden pole was fitted with a closed lantern that held a candle or kerosene. The lantern was usually made of tinned sheet iron.

Q. A purple bordered plate with an eagle and the words "E Pluribus Unum" in a centre cloud has recently been found in our family attic. The words "Administrators Abraham Lincoln" are on the bottom of the plate. Is this dish part of the original Lincoln White House china?

A. Mrs. Lincoln was given $20,000 by Congress to add to the White House furnishings in April of 1861. She went to New York with a committee and purchased a dinner set of 190 pieces. The set was decorated with royal purple, gilt, and the eagle and motto of the United States.

The original design for the plate had been shown to President Pierce in 1853 but he did not order it. Haughwout and Company, importers of French china furnished the set that was sold for use in the White House. It is probable that the dishes were made by the Haviland Factory at Limoges, France, although they are unmarked.

The purple dinner set was not the only one used during the Lincoln administration but it was cited often. President Johnson in 1866 had to order 138 more pieces to fill in the set. President Grant did not have enough left during his administration to use it in the state dining room.

Two types of known copies of the Lincoln china have been recorded. Both were sold at the Centennial Exposition in Philadelphia in 1876. On the back of each copy are the words "Administration Abraham Lincoln" stamped in red.

Some pieces are marked: "Fabrique par Haviland and Co., pour J. W. Boteler and Bros. Washington." None of the original White House service bought by Mrs. Lincoln or President Johnson had any mark on the back.

Q. "Crane, St. Louis" and "J. Kits" are the marks on my two julep cups.

A. Benjamin Crane worked in St. Louis, Missouri from about 1842 to 1863. John Kits worked in Louisville, Kentucky, from about 1836 to 1870.

Successful Living

One Way of Meeting Football Hero Is to Join Cheerleaders

Dear Dorie: My school is having a dance. The trouble is I know some guys but I don't really want to ask them.

The boy I really want to ask is shy and also he doesn't know me. I can't join anything at school he is in because he is only in football and basketball. I don't mean to sound conceited or anything, but I think he likes me.

I would really like to ask him, Dorie, but I don't want to be formally introduced to him for fear he'll think I put the person up to it. — Ready and Waiting.

Dear Ready: So far I have not heard of girls making the football squad. Have you thought of joining the cheerleaders?

If you dread the risk of having him suspect you engineered an introduction, better just drool over him from afar. Take a new look at the friendly boys you do know. Don't miss out on the fun that is ready and waiting for you.

Dear Dorie: I have been partially deaf since a small child of four; am in my early 20's, and single. I took the first seven years at a regular school, then the next five at a deaf school.

Now that I am an adult, there are times when I get the feeling that they made a foolish mistake. Why wasn't I supplied with a hearing aid as soon as my hearing began to impair and allowed to grow up in one big straight world with normal people? In spite of my long years of deafness, my ability to speak is still with me. I could have had a speech equal to that of a normal person, if I had received proper aid at the early stage.

Since attending a school for the deaf, I lost all confidence in the hearing world, and was rather backward. Just how would you get rid of fear and gain confidence in yourself once more? Am were a ring a hearing aid right now but it was far too late. — A Mixed Up Soul.

Dear Soul: So you are now a hearing person, trained to operate in a deaf world? Which means you don't meet people or anything like the same footing. I'm sorry. There must have been some thought about the deafness was progressive.

You can still make it. A teacher of speech — or even a teacher of English — could help you in putting sentences together, expressing yourself grammatically and clearly.

The only thing that can make your handicap permanent is your own self-pity. Practice makes perfect. Get practising — with help. .

To Jitters: J. Alex Edmison, prominent Canadian, supplies these ten commandments about public speaking. Don't, he says:

1. Begin by apologizing.
2. Overload your speech with statistics.
3. Be overly sentimental.
4. Exaggerate.
5. Be sarcastic or unfair.
6. Be dull.
7. Murder the English language.
8. Wander from your subject.
9. Steal your audience's time by saying nothing of value.
10. Be long-winded.

Mr. Edmison loves to recall the introducer who declared: "There will be no entertainment tonight. Mr. Edmison will speak."

Doris has studied human behavior and can shed light on your dilemma. Write to her, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope for private reply.

Points for Parents

By MARY REYSON

Aunt: "I'm afraid I don't have any toys for Susie and Janie to play with."

Mother: " I meant to bring lots of things for them — but I forgot."

If you have little visitors occasionally, save junk jewelry, old summer jewelry, lone earrings to which the mates are lost, broken-down watches, lockets and necklaces. Children will enjoy looking over each piece and trying them on.

Toys aren't the only items that will amuse and intrigue young children.

Church Groups

ST. ANDREW'S WMS

The November meeting of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Women's Missionary Society, afternoon auditiary was held in the Sunday school auditorium.

Mrs. H. Elvidge conducted the business period.

Reports were given by the secretaries of the various departments. Miss L. Burnside will be in charge of calender sales. Members were reminded to bring in their annual reports at the December meeting.

Mrs. L. Sutherland presented the introductory chapter of the study book "Christ and the Faiths of Men." She was assisted by Mrs. W. Clendenan, Mrs. R. Jones, Mrs. F. Douglas.

The president expressed the thanks of all present to the group for the interesting program.

Refreshments were served.

RAISING CHINCHILLAS !
Because Chinchilla fur is the softest in the world the demand for good quality pelts is far greater than the supply.
added because — second income families produce most of the pelts sold on today's market in their spare hours. You too, can share in the millions of dollars being earned by these people throughout North America.
convenience — Most Chinchilla Breeders began in the basement of their home or in their garage. Chinchillas are among the cleanest of animals, odor free, quiet and gentle.
investment — In our opinion, the Chinchilla business is one of the easiest, and least costly in which to get started. If you are seeking security, happiness, success and are fond of animals and are interested in making up to $3,000.00 per year in your spare time; then as little as $1,000.00 invested will completely equip you to start raising money-making Chinchillas.
care and feeding — Chinchillas are vegetarians, inexpensive to feed and require very little attention. Chinchillas generally average two litters per year, two animals per litter.
profit returns — with first quality pelts valued from $20.00 to $60.00 and dealing with one of Canada's largest Chinchilla ranchers (who began in his own basement) will help guarantee your success.
quality Chinchillas are assured — P and R Chinchilla Ranches are associated with five progressive ranches across Ontario who raise some 3,000 Chinchillas. A total of 30 years experience raising Chinchillas assures you quality Chinchillas backed by experienced and knowledgeable ranchers. All our associated Ranchers are members and active in the Canadian Chinchilla Association working together to produce a very luxurious fur for a lucrative market.
all stock is fully guaranteed — against loss for 1 year and guaranteed to reproduce within the first year.

SLICES SPORTS

By Geo. H. Carver
Sports Editor

Four outstanding individual athletes of the city will be honored with hundreds of others by the government of Ontario in Toronto on December 6th.

They will be awarded specially struck medals at the function to be held in the Royal York Hotel.

All of the city athletes were outstanding in their efforts in this Ontario championships in their respective fields.

Two sports organizations share the individual honors the Belleville Apollo Barbell Club and the Belleville Archery Club.

Carr-Brainl is recognized as the top coach in his field while Morris has the potential to bring home a gold medal from the Olympics.

From the Belleville Archery Club comes Mrs. Floyd (Carol) Armstrong all-Canadian lady senior champion who won her laurels last August.

Peter Calvert, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jeffrey Calvert is the all-Ontario archery champion and also was his crown this year.

Peter will be one of the youngest if not the youngest..Ontario title-holder to receive the award.

Six hundred Ontario champions seem a lot and the question arises in this department's mind if collective awards will be made such as hockey, softball and baseball championship teams are concerned. Thus far we have no word to this effect. We have in the city one or two championship squads but as to whether they have received invitations to the big party no one seems to know.

The setting was the San Diego Invitational Track Meet. Success was impossible said Canadians who were familiar with his physical ailments — hairline fractures of both legs three years ago and the loss of sight to one eye from a childhood accident.

But he became Canada's only four-minute miler with a clocking of 3:59.1. He came up with his second sub-four minute mile this year in Toronto.

Bailey a pharmacy student will get his medal as the Canadian 1,500 meter champion, a title he won in the Pan-American Games last June.

The story of this determined young man really started in August, 1961, when he collapsed with leg pain. X-rays were taken months later and disclosed he had suffered hairline fractures of both limbs.

The disability wasn't serious enough to keep him off his feet and he walked to school — 2½ miles daily — in a determined effort to rebuild his legs. Track experts said it was futile, that he would never come back. But he returned to the track in a year and started from the bottom in his training.

Six months later he realized his ambition at San Diego. Many other Canadians had gone out to become the country's first four-minute man, including Bruce Kidd of Toronto, Bill Crothers of Markham, Ont., and Jimmy Ivans of Brampton, Ont. They had come close but they couldn't crack the barrier.

Black Hawks Miss Chance To Nip Flyers

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

St. Catharines Black Hawks had a chance to be giant-killers, Friday night, but they fell off the beanstalk.

The Black Hawks met Niagara Falls Flyers, first-place team in the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A series and were only behind 2-1 late in the third period. They pulled goaltender Peter McDuffe for an extra attacker and Tom, Webster ended their victory chances by scoring into the open net.

In the night's other game, Kitchen Rangers scored four unanswered goals in the second period and cruised to an 8-4 victory over Montreal Junior Canadiens before 3,323 fans in Kitchener.

Niagara Falls now are seven points ahead of second-place Kitchener. The Flyers have 29 points on a 14-11 record and Kitchener have 22 with an 11-3 standing.

Don Tannahill gave Niagara Falls Flyers a 1-0 lead in the first period and Steve Atkinson made it 2-0 before Dale Powers narrowed the gap to 2-1.

Defensive Lapses Hurt

Junior Bs See First Victory Slip From Grasp

Belleville's "Pony Express" Junior B's tried valiantly to carry the mail last night but were finally tripped 5-4 by the leading Peterborough Don Byes.

For 1,500 youngsters on hand at the annual pony night hockey game at the Memorial Arena it was an exciting event — and they showed their displeasure at game end by literally covering the ice surface with programs and paper cups.

But defensive lapses, poor clinch outs and a Peterborough goal with only 19 seconds remaining spoiled their chances for at least a tie.

After a scoreless first period Peterborough's Garry Chittick and Dave Gilmour sandwiched a Belleville tally by Ron Fuller to give the Don Byes a 2-1 lead and set up the third period excitement.

RICK ROSEBUSH

Rick Rosebush tied the score after a minute and seven seconds of the final period, cashing in on a pass from defenceman Mike Healey, while Peterborough's Bill Craigs was in the penalty box for cross checking.

Despite the Juniors best-save attack which kept the Don-Byes off balance, Peterborough took the lead for the third time at 11:09 when Al Houston hooked the puck away from Greg Burkitt's feet after the Belleville defenceman had knocked a pass down at mid-ice.

The Peterborough attacker swept in alone on Paul Smith and his high rising handcuffed the Belleville goaltender as the shot caught the net just under the cross bar.

Belleville went ahead for the final time at 12.05 when Ron Fuller, Maher and Mallory buzzed around the Peterborough goal, Mallory finally scoring on a pitch out from the corner by Maher.

SHOTS ON GOAL
By Peterborough 8 7 5 — 18
By Belleville 11 11 13 — 35

With victory in their grasp, the Juniors saw the chances for the first win of the season slip away on poor defensive work.

Sloppy clearing from behind their own net saw the puck squirt out in front to Peterborough's Ron MacInnes. Paul Smith blocked his drive from 15 feet out but Chittick scored his second goal by lifting the rebound over the falling goaltender.

The icing was stripped from the cake when Dave Gilmour took a pass from Blewett, skirted the defense and fired a shot from the right boards. It slid up the blade of Smith's stick as he came across to cut off the angle and the game was over.

Belleville outshot the visitors in every period to end with a 35-18 margin. Each team was assessed eight penalties despite countless infractions around the goalmouths.

It finally broke loose in the third period when Belleville's John Smith was pitchforked into Peterborough goaltender Gary Holbrook. Holbrook retaliated by crosschecking Smith to the ice from the rear and the two players engaged in a free-swinging duel which required the strenuous effort of both officials to halt.

In a jovial example of pre-Christmas spirit each was given a roughing penalty.

Mo-Hawks Collapse On Road

By GARRY ALEXANDER
(Staff Sportswriter)

COLLINGWOOD — Athletes have a favorite speech before leaving a road game: "It's going to be a long trip home".

Leading 4-0 at the 9:39 mark of the second period, and playing every bit as well as the score indicated, the Mo-Hawks ran out of steam before a hard-driving Collingwood onslaught and suffered a 5-4 defeat.

The Kings were at full value for their win once the Mo-Hawks started to falter. They came on like wildfire and never quit staking to make the most of every opportunity.

Thus, Belleville's slump has reached 10 games. Over that period, the Crawfordmen have won once and tied once. They face home-and-home games against Guelph Regals next Tuesday and Friday.

Belleville outshot the Kings 34-28 and held a side 16-5 margin in a penalty-riddled first period. They took a 2-0 lead on a pair of "Wiener" powerplay goals and only the superb work of Collingwood goal Chuck Jewell kept the score that low.

Brown got his stick on Lionel Bolly's point shot and dribbled it between Jewell's pads after Hoc Lalonde started the play at 7.15. His second tally came after a two-part fight between big Mickey Kay and the Mo-Hawks Eddie Marineau. Dave Fitter's penalty left Belleville up four men in five and the Mo-Hawk powerplay was a picture to watch.

Brown took Lalonde's pass uncovered in front, spun quickly and hooked a backhand past Jewell. Dave Jones also assisted and Bolly was the fourth man in on the sharp passing attack. Earlier, Jones and Brown kept the Kings' goalie jumping while Joe Junkin's key save came early when Butch Keeling broke in alone.

Junkin stopped Fitter's tip on Alexander's labelled point shot opening the second and at, 4.02.

Junkin pulled a brilliant save on Brainerd broke in along on a long powerplay pass before Brown triggered his third goal of the night at 8.39, just as Baker was leaving the penalty box. "Weiner" used Jones as a decoy on a two-on-one rush and ripped a blazing shot past Jewell's glove into the upper corner.

While building the 4-0 lead, the visitors were coming back strong to clever and clear well in their own end but the Kings got their first break at 16.22 to start the comeback. Joe Hamby intercepted Greg Marchen's errant pass in the Belleville zone and drilled it home. Junkin had to stop Buddy Horne twice seconds later but at 19.30 big Dave McComb took Brainard's long centre pass, broke between the defence and tucked it home to slice the margin to two.

The intermission failed to cool the Kings and Hec Brainard, left uncovered, took a right-wing pass on the fly and went in alone for a 4-3 score at 1.03 of the third.

Ottawa Favored--But Not By Enough To Get Past Hamilton

HAMILTON (CP) — Hamilton Tiger-Cats have eight points and tradition going for them today when they meet Ottawa Rough Riders in the first Eastern Football Conference playoff game.

The Ticats won the opener of the two-game, total-point series 11-3 Sunday in Ottawa and are aiming at a berth in the Grey Cup final, back in Lansdowne Park, Saturday, Dec. 2.

The Riders have things to prove in this afternoon's game, starting at 2 p.m. EST and nationally televised by the CTV network.

Among them are that the one-point lead Hamilton enjoyed in the EFC final standings and the three Hamilton victories in four games between the two clubs this season are no indication of comparative strengths.

Ottawa also would like to reach the Grey Cup, preferably against Saskatchewan Roughriders of the Western Conference, and avenge a 29-14 loss in the national final last season.

Ottawa has been called 2½-point favorite to win today's game, but that would be against tradition and would not be enough to get past the Ticats.

Since league playoffs were started in 1936 Hamilton has won six of nine semi-final or final meetings between the two clubs and taken nine of 17 Grey Cup games, compared with five of 10 for Ottawa.

The Ticats have another advantage over Ottawa in that they are going into the game healthy. Ottawa has defensive half and place kicker Don Sutherin out, except for emergency use, with a pair of broken ribs.

The Riders also will have halfback Don Gilbert on the limp with an ankle injury and fullback Rick Black available for limited action after suffering a broken shoulder in September.

Wayne Clardine is expected to be the main replacement for Gilbert with Black taking occasional turns. Moe Racine probably will return to the place kicking he used to win the EFC scoring title a year ago.

Field conditions are expected to be almost perfect. A tarpaulin will remain on the field to protect it to game time. Anticipated snow was not in evidence Friday night.

Weather conditions won't be quite so good with the temperature forecast in the high 30s, the skies leaden and winds from the southwest about 30 miles an hour.

CALGARY (CP) — The Western Football Conference final has become a war of attrition, with Saskatchewan Roughriders appearing to be holding up better under the onslaught than Calgary Stampeders.

Roughriders appeared in better physical condition as they arrived here for the third and deciding game against Calgary Stampeders Sunday afternoon.

Saskatchewan coach Eagle Keys said Friday he expects all his regular players in the lineup, including star defensive end Garner Ekstran who injured his hamstring muscle in the first game here a week ago and sat out Wednesday night's action at Regina.

Fullback George Reed of Saskatchewan was badly bruised in the second game, but will definitely play.

"He plays his best football when he's bruised," Keys said.

Don Gerhardt, Roughriders' other injured player, is expected to regain his full capability in his defensive end position after playing with an ailing leg Wednesday.

Stampeder coach Jerry Williams would not definitely say Friday who would replace Evanshen, but it is likely defensive men Frank Andruski and Larry Robinson will go both ways to fill in at the split end position.

Stampeders still have other fine receivers in Herm Harrison, Gerry Shaw, Bob McCarthy, Lovell Coleman and Bob Paremore, but cold weather could hinder quarterback Peter Liske's throwing.

Halfback Ben Woodsen, who missed the second game, was still a doubtful starter for Stampeders Friday night.

The forecast for the game is temperatures in the 20-25 degree range with light wind. About one or two inches of snow was expected to fall today and ground crews at McMahon Stadium were ready with blowers and shovels to clear the snow away.

In case of slick field, both clubs may use running shoes, and Dow Chemical of Canada Ltd. Friday offered both teams a new spray adhesive to improve the players footing.

George Hansen, Stampeders' minor football co - ordinator, tested the adhesive on artificial ic- and said it should help the footing on a frozen field when sprayed on rubber soles.

Stampeders won the opening game 15-11, but Roughriders, the defending Grey Cup champions, tied the series with an 11-9 victory Wednesday.

Sunday's game goes at 2 p.m. MST. It will be televised on the CBC national network, with the Calgary area blacked out.

The Stampeder office reported that McMahon Stadium's 19,635 seats have been sold out since Thursday.

Colts Having Fine Season But Fighting For Lives

NEW YORK (AP) — Johnny Unitas is going great, the season is more than two-thirds gone, and Baltimore is unbeaten.

But the Colts still are fighting for their lives in the National Football League's Coastal Division.

The Colts, 8-0-2, have only a one-half game lead over Los Angeles, which kept the pressure on the Colts Thursday with a 31-7 rout of Detroit on U.S. Thanksgiving Day. That boosted the defensively-tough Rams' record to 8-1-2 and put the Colts in a position of needing a victory or a tie when they meet San Francisco 49ers to stay ahead.

The Colts, who beat the 49ers 41-7 at Baltimore earlier this season, are heavily favored to do it again in San Francisco. The Colts now have a string of 10 straight victories against the 49ers.

In the other NFL games on a trimmed-down Sunday schedule, Green Bay is at Chicago, Washington is at Cleveland, Philadelphia is at New York, Minnesota is at Pittsburgh and Atlanta is at New Orleans.

Only two games are scheduled in the American Football League: Boston at Houston and Buffalo at Miami.

Unitas, the Colts' all-everything quarterback, shares the league's No. 1 passer rating with Washington's Sonny Jurgensen, and is leading Baltimore in its quest of becoming the first unbeaten team in the league in 25 years. Willie Richardson of the Colts is the league's leading receiver.

Minor Hockey

The Americans defeated the Barons 6-1 and the Wings edged the Aces 2-1 yesterday in the novice division of the Belleville Minor Hockey Association.

Goal scorers for the Americans were John McCully, Kevin Shannon, Mike Burke, Steven Fralick, Bruce McIntyre and N. Lamirande. Lone scorer for the Barons was Martin Brine.

Brockville Whips Kings

BY THE CANADIAN PRESS

The three pace-setting teams in the Central Junior A Hockey League had it their own way Friday night, all piling up one-sided victories over the three teams in the bottom half of the standings.

At Smiths Falls, it was 8-1 for the Bears over Eastview Mustangs; at Brockville, the Braves defeated Pembroke Lumber Kings 9-2; and at Morrisburg, the first-place Cornwall Royals came up with a 7-4 win over the Knights.

The game at Smiths Falls was punctuated by nine fist fights and 89 minutes of penalties were piled up as Mike Cyr showed the way with five goals. Teammates Ron Courtaneche, Wes Peters and Ray Renaud got the others. Eastview's goal was scored by Pat LaGrange.

Bathgate Ties For Second Spot

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

ANDY BATHGATE

Andy Bathgate is in a fair way to proving a lot of Doubting Thomases wrong as to his future in the National Hockey League.

The 35-year-old right-winger Friday night scored an assist as Pittsburgh Penguins dropped a 5-3 decision to Los Angeles Kings in the only scheduled game.

Bathgate and Cournoyer each have 20 points compared with 27 for Hull on 18 goals and nine assists in 19 games.

But Bathgate was looked on as almost washed up after a pair of mediocre seasons with Detroit Red Wings, before the Penguins made him their 17th draft choice last spring.

Now, with eight goals and 12 assists, he is the leading point-getter in the expansion Western Division.

The victory bolstered the Los Angeles lead atop the western staddings, moving them three points ahead of challenging Philadelphia Flyers.

Bathgate has had a chequered professional career since breaking in the New York Rangers in 1952-53 from Guelph Biltmores of the Ontario Hockey Association.

The Winnipeg native spent most of the year with Vancouver Canucks of the Western League and split the following season between Vancouver, New York and Cleveland Barons of the American League.

It was up and down for him until 1954-55 when he started a seven-year stint with New York that was his most productive in his professional years.

It also started an NHL career unbroken for 13 years except for six games with Pittsburgh Horsets of the AHL last year.

In 838 NHL games, Bathgate has scored 890 points on 322 goals and 568 assists.

Twice named to the NHL all-star team, he shared the scoring lead in 1961-62 with Hull at 84 points each.

Skiers Get Hall Of Fame

MONT TREMBLANT, Que. (CP) — Canada, which now has a hall of fame for hockey, lacrosse and football greats, will soon have a similar edifice to honor its top skiers.

The formation of such a hall, to be built at the base of Mont Tremblant, was announced Friday by Dan Ferguson, general manager and vice - president of Mont Tremblant Lodge.

Mr. Louis Cochand, first president of the Canadian Ski Instructors Alliance, received a diamond pin symbolic of membership in the Diamond Ski Hall of Fame.

The diamond pin award was initially given to skiers who recorded exceptionally fast times on the hill here and was won by only four competitors between 1944 and 1950 when the race was discontinued.

Two other awards of diamond pins have been made since. The first went to Lowell Thomas, the famed U.S. broadcaster and ski development pioneer. The other was presented to Nancy Greene, whose achievements recently have won world acclaim for herself and Canada.

College Bowl

Groom May Be Just Bit Late

TORONTO (CP) — The bride will wear white peau de soie; the groom just might end up wearing a mud-spattered football jersey.

But if the University of Alberta Golden Bears have anything to say about it the bride won't be left standing at the altar when they meet McMaster University Marauders in the Canadian College Bowl today.

Vern Lucyk, a defensive end for McMaster, is due at the church for his marriage to Lilian Diamonte at 3 p.m. and, although the game starts at 1 p.m., he is not expected for more than the first quarter.

The problem was brought about by an injury to John Watson, son of wrestler Whipper Billy Watson. Lucyk was named as his replacement in the Atlantic Bowl game against St. Francis Xavier last weekend after the wedding had already been arranged.

The game is the third annual bowl match, the proceeds going to the Save The Children Fund. University of Toronto Blues defeated Alberta in 1963 and St. Francis defeated Waterloo Lutheran University last year.

Alberta defeated McMaster 11-1 in a pre-season exhibition earlier this season and the Marauders have gone undefeated in seven regular-season games in the Central Canadian Conference.

Swedish Critics Quieted By Nationals 2-1 Win

GAEVLE (CP-AP) — The Canadian Nationals edged Sweden 2-1 Friday night, snapping a depressing defeat in the Swedish capital of Stockholm Wednesday night at the start of their current European exhibition-hockey tour.

The Canadians, from the eastern division of the national team, overcame a first-period deficit with two second - period goals.

They played much better than Wednesday, when they were tired after a long flight from Canada and had to accustom themselves to changes of time and climate.

The team lost 6-2 to Sweden in the first game and was ridiculed in Swedish press comments.

"It was a wonderful victory even if I hadn't any doubt that my boys should come back in this second game."

Derek Holmes, 25-year-old centre who helps coach the team's younger members, scored the first Canadian goal, at 3:03 of the second period. Holmes, a native of Kemptville, Ont., has coached and played with several European teams.

The second Canadian goal was notched at 7:54 by forward Ken Laidlaw, 22, who attends the University of Ottawa.

Hsakan Wickberg tallied for Sweden.

The Canadians Friday night played a faster game, blocking the goal well and attacking constantly. Their forechecking was especially impressive.

Even when their number was reduced by penalties, they kept up the attack. During a 14-minut. period when the Canadians had one player or another off the ice, they made it impossible for Sweden to score.

The Canadians now go to East Germany where they will play the East German Nationals Nov. 26-28. They then play a series in Moscow Dec. 1-10. ries in Moscow Dec. 1-10.

Bobby Hull's World Of Hockey

By BOBBY HULL

In the expansion draft last summer, Coach Lynn Patrick of St. Louis Blues made one firm vow after he picked Glenn Hall to play goal.

"I don't care what Glenn wants, it'll see he gets it," Patrick said. "I'll even go out and help him paint that barn if it makes him easier to sign."

Glenn farms like a lot of us do in hockey. His place is at Stony Plain in Alberta, not far from Edmonton. Last season, while he was holding out from Chicago, the story got around that he was staying away because he had a big barn to paint.

He joined us finally, in time to share the goal-keeping work with Denis DeJordy as we finished first for the first time in Chicago's hockey history. When Glenn's right, he is one of the game's great money players.

Patrick found out Glenn doesn't really have a barn on the farm, so Lynn threw away his paint brush when he went out to sign him. All reports indicate Glenn signed for more than $45,000, which he'll be worth if he plays a lot for St. Louis, and also let him buy a lot of paint.

Alert goaling will be important for the Blues because the defence seems a little slow. Patrick has tried to get some speed back of the blueline by switching Ron Stewart back there, Stewart formerly was a smooth, fast forward with Toronto and Boston.

Patrick once managed Boston Bruins and he took several Bruins in his expansion recruiting. Ron Schock, Terry Crisp, Don McKenney and Wayne Maxner all played for him in Boston.

He got a particularly hard-nosed player in Jim Roberts from Montreal, one of those versatile types who can take a regular shift or kill penalties.

But it seems to me that for St. Louis to do well, Glenn Hall and Seth Martin, his goalkeeping partner, must play very well.

TODAY'S CUE FOR KIDS: Some young players are puzzled when they see a goalie like Glenn skate straight toward the bench when his team has the puck and the referee has signalled a penalty. This trick may have started with the Hawks. The reason for such a startling move is there is no danger in leaving the net empty. The referee will stop the play as soon as defending team gets the puck and is assessed the penalty. If the goalie can reach the bench in time, the coach can send out another forward to assist the attack.

Employment News

By J. B. STAVELEY
Manpower Counsellor

The problem of solving the commonly called "hard core of unemployment," has prevented many difficulties to those persons involved in the employment field and others engaged in trying to assist in the successful rehabilitation of this type of a worker.

Towards this objective, the Federal Department of Manpower and Immigration has initiated a unique program called "Operation NewStart." In co-operation with the provinces of Canada, to assist in this program, is to motivate disadvantaged workers for more stable and rewarding jobs. The target is a portion of the bottom 20 per cent of the labor force, where many workers have too little education to enter the department's regular manpower training programs.

According to Mr. Garnet Page, director of the program, many people in areas of slow economic growth often lack the skills, attitudes and orientation required for full participation in Canada's changing and growing economy. In addition, many people in slow growth areas are suffering from unsatisfactory social and personal adaptation to school and to work values and patterns. "Operation NewStart" will take a close look at these types of problems.

The vehicle planned for this program will be ten experimental "NewStart" corporations — one to each province in Canada — that will experiment with new approaches in training the "disadvantaged," the adult drop-outs who suffer most from the declining demand for unskilled labor in Canada.

This new program which has been developed by the pilot projects branch of the Department of Manpower and Immigration during the past year, will be co-ordinated at the community level with existing programs and agencies.

To date, four provinces have signed agreements initiating "NewStart" projects. "NewStart" corporations are being set up at the present time at Lac La Biche, Alberta (population 4,500), Prince Albert, Saskatchewan, (23,000), King's County, Prince Edward Island (17,000), and Yarmouth, Nova Scotia (18,000). Those particular areas present typical hard core poverty and employment problems. Lac La Biche is sparsely settled, with a large number of Indians and Metis in the population. Prince Albert is an urban-rural environment. Although agreements have not yet been finalized, future "NewStart" corporations are expected to be set up in the other six provinces. All "NewStart" locations will be in depressed areas that qualify for Ottawa's incentive grants to new industry. Mr. Page points out that the target group of workers generally have family incomes under $3,000 with a grade 3 to 6 education. In addition, he also points out that they, in general, have more health problems than the average Canadian and probably are not used to the demands of regular employment.

Each "New Start" corporation is a non-profit corporation set up under provincial law and jointly owned by the province and the Federal Government. The two governments pick the executive director for each corporation.

There will be a close technical co-operation between the "New Start" corporations and the Department of Manpower and Immigration. A technical support group, that includes a variety of specialists in the social sciences, humanities, and adult education fields, is available to the various "New Start" corporations. A parallel French-speaking support group will be hired sometime in the near future.

While the new corporations will be concentrating on training of unemployed and underemployed workers, they will also tackle related social and industrial problems that tend to keep disadvantaged adults from continuing employment.

Nicholson and His Aide Clash Over Montreal Port Deadlock

OTTAWA (CP)—An unprecedented clash between a cabinet minister and his parliamentary secretary—a sort of junior minister—occurred Friday as the Commons debated on an emergency basis what to do about Montreal's crippling port deadlock.

Labor Minister Nicholson had just finished saying there was no legal way, short of special legislation, in which the federal government could intervene.

Then Bryce Mackasey, who has been his parliamentary secretary since Mr. Nicholson assumed the labor portfolio almost two years ago, rose a few minutes later and suggested that Mr. Nicholson recall the author of the Picard report to clarify its intent.

"The unions would not accept that," the minister interjected in a complaining tone, turning to face his assistant who sits two seats behind him.

In his earlier speech Mr. Nicholson said the inquiry report was perfectly clear.

But Mr. Mackasey, Liberal MP for Montreal Verdun, said it contains sections that are ambiguous and should be clarified.

The report in question was ordered by government legislation in the summer of 1966 to resolve a series of work issues that had triggered a 39-day longshoremen's strike on St. Lawrence River port in the spring of that year.

One provision of its elucidation—and a matter of dispute at the time—was that the findings of the inquiry by Laurent Picard of Montreal would be automatically binding on both parties.

Mr. Picard was assigned to resolve a deadlock between the employers' demands for improved productivity and the longshoremen's insistence on better working conditions and job security.

His report, issued 3½ weeks ago, reduced work gangs at Montreal to 17 men from 20, removed weight restrictions on sling-loading and set up an employer-financed fund to guarantee longshoremen a regular income.

Another dispute immediately erupted over interpretation of this report and reached a climax in a shutdown of port operations Thursday night. It caught about 36 ships and hundreds of tons of goods in the port.

At the opening of Friday's Commons sitting the Conservatives moved for an emergency debate on the crisis and Mr. Nicholson said the government would agree to it.

For almost two hours a string of opposition MPs assailed Mr. Nicholson for inaction and demanded that the government step in immediately to get the big port back into operation.

Mr. Nicholson then spoke for 45 minutes in a detailed defence of his department's attitude.

He stressed that a legal contract exists between the two sides, good until the end of the year, and the government had no legal right to intervene. There were avenues open to both sides to resolve their differences.

The minister said he could appoint a compulsory arbitrator if both sides would agree, but they had refused.

A federal mediator, without powers, would be useless, he said.

Devaluation Scared Investors Into Selling, Market Recovers

By FRITS ROOS
Canadian Press Staff Writer

The devaluation of the British pound and a resulting boom in gold stocks overshadowed moderately active trading on Canada's major stock markets this week.

The devaluation scared investors Monday into an initial rash of selling at Toronto which lopped some $2,000,000,000 off the value of stocks within an hour after opening.

By noon, the market began to recover and the losses were more than offset when the rally continued through Tuesday.

By mid-week, investors had returned to their previous wait-and-see attitude, picking up oversold bargains and hoping for more positive signs in the economy.

Golds, traditional safeguards against devaluation, rocketed to new all-time highs in unusually active trading.

Monday's initial boom tapered off but resumed Thursday on reports of a rush on gold bullion on European markets.

Toronto's gold index surged 18.70 points, (almost 11 per cent) to 191.34 during the week after reaching a high of 192.41 on Friday. The 192.48-point post-war record was set in July, 1967.

Dome Mines surged 8¾ to 57¾ after touching a high of 58 when the week was 10 minutes old, and Campbell Red Lake, which sold at a high of 28, moved up 4¼ to 27.

McIntyre, which derives only part of its earnings from gold production, jumped 8 to 97 cents in a late surge. Giant Yellowknife gained 75 cents to 8.75, Sigma 55 cents to 5.50 and Kerr Addison ½ to 16¾.

Western oils hit an all-time group record at Toronto. The index advanced 7.41 to 212.54, breaking through last September's high of 209.08.

Canadian Superior Oil was up 4¼ to 48¾, Dome Petroleum 2¼ to 35½, Great Plains 2 to 19 and Aluminex 75 cents to 6.00. Security-Rainbow declined 1¼ to 42½ and Great Canadian Oil Sands 1¼ to 10¾.

Industrials were fractionally richer as a group. The Toronto index edged up .67 to 163.29 but mainly thanks to bullish industrial mines and strong banks. In Montreal, most other industrial groups weakened.

Inco jumped 6 to 125 and Falconbridge 2½ to 88. Noranda, which upped its domestic copper price, also advanced 2½ to 52¾ despite Ottawa's announcement that it will investigate the rise.

Toronto-Dominion Bank was up ½ to 13¾, Bank of Commerce ¾ to 12⅝ and Royal Bank ¼ to 15¾.

Hudson's Bay Co., which has its head office in devaluation-hit Britain, fell 3¼ to 19. Massey-Ferguson continued to slide with a drop of 3 to 15½ after touching a four-year low of 15¼.

Canada Cement declined 2¼ to a low of 31, Trans-Canada Pipe Lines 1⅛ to 27 and Dofasco 1¼ to 19¾.

At Montreal, Inco also highlighted the industrial gainers with a 5¼-point jump. Noranda advanced 2¼ to 52½.

Massey-Ferguson dropped 2 to 15½, Asbestos Corp. 1⅝ to 21⅛ and Hudson Bay Mining 1¼ to 37¾. The Montreal industrial index gained 1.36 to 167.83.

Dupuis headed the base metal risers at Toronto with a gain of 4 to 82½. Hollinger was up 2¼ to 22½ and Pine Point 2 to 51½. The base metal average picked up 2.18 to 198.58.

Hollinger rallied 1¼ to 27¼ at Montreal.

Volume in Toronto totalled 13,775,000 shares compared with 13,866,000 last week. Declines outnumbered advances 381 to 325.

At Montreal, volume increased to 5,807,000 shares from 5,651,000 as losses outpaced advances 161 to 102.

THE BIG SHOW

Hillier Reeve Returned Council Election Possibl

With the reevership and one vacant seat on the school board decided by acclamation, residents of Hillier township will have to wait, until this evening to learn whether there will be an election this year.

Reeve Gordon Lloyd was returned by acclamation for another term as was McCrae Danford as school board member.

There were six nominees for council with four already qualified.

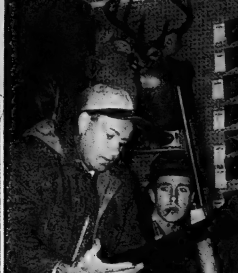
Qualified are Robin Adair, Ralph Margetson, Ross Benway and John Walt.

John A. Dixon withdrew, while the sixth nominee John A. Taylor has until tonight to determine whether he will force an election.

There will be no election in Ameliasburg township with all municipal offices decided by acclamation.

Thursday night it was no contest for the office of reeve, deputy reeve and council as all seats were filled by acclamation, but there still remained a possible election for school board.

As it turned out only two school board nominees Morris Pulmer and Mrs. Twilla Langman qualified, making the election unnecessary.



Sammy Davis Agrees To Trial Separation

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Negro entertainer Sammy Davis Jr. says he has agreed to a trial separation in his seven-year interracial marriage to Swedish actress Mai Britt.

"I must admit it comes as a blow to me," Davis said at Las Vegas, Nev., after a spokesman announced the couple's decision Friday in Hollywood. "Mai told me she wanted a trial separation."

The couple, both converts to Judaism, have three children—a daughter, Tracey Hillevi, 6, and two adopted sons, Mark, 7, and Jeff, 3.

Two days before the an-

Deer-hunting season means deer-hunting talk and that's exactly what these three hunters find interesting. Mayor Jack Ellis explains the good points of a model 94 30-30 Winchester, which was won by James Devolin after he shot a 220-pound deer in Unionyal's contest for the biggest buck. Another hunter, Thomas Thorn, took a on.

One Pound Difference In Deer Hunting Contest

Venison at $104 the pound?

That's what two hunters figure it was worth to them after entering their kills in a deer-hunting contest.

Unfortunately they did not have the extra poundage to walk off with the big prize.

Devolin, who hunted the snowy forest floors of the northland deer haunts, took the valuable prize when his entry was adjudged winner of the Big Buck contest staged by the Unionyal Centre, 16 Bridge street west.

He was presented with the award at a special ceremony held at the Centre last night with His Worship Mayor Ellis doing the honors.

But it was close — very close.

Only a pound separated the top buck from the second-place entry. The third entry was a pound short of its predecessor and two pounds shy of the prize.

The prize-winning stag topped the scales at 222 pounds dressed.

D. Jenkins, 27 Poyntz Avenue, Toronto entered a buck that was sixteen ounces shy of the weight of the winner.

A Unionyal Centre spokesman said the first Big Buck contest was a success. Over 30 entries were submitted from all parts of the hunting district.

Others ranging between 240-255 pounds have been reported.

Thurlow Reeve Opposes Regional Government

Thurlow township reeve Carl Thompson marked his acclamation to a second term last night with an attack on the concept of regional government.

"If it ever comes and we don't fight it we are not going to have any representation", he warned ratepayers who packed the township hall at Canniffton for municipal nominations.

"I think progress is a good thing, but we have to go slowly," he cautioned.

He noted that proposals to the provincial government would place Thurlow in an administrative region reaching from Cobourg to Kingston.

Reeve Thompson said there are enough "headaches" for representatives sitting on township council.

"But when you have a regional council I don't like what's going to happen", he added.

Deputy reeve Horace Casey also was returned unopposed for a second term.

However, J. W. Hamilton was nominated to run against the incumbent councillors Garnet Denyes, Fletcher Reid and Borden Forsythe.

Gary Masterson also was named to contest the public school trustee incumbencies of Clarence Reynolds and Kenneth Grestzka.

Both men said they would make their decision on seeking election before qualification deadline tonight.

Insurance Subject Of Talk

On Monday evening the Bay of Quinte Chapter of the Society of Industrial Accountants held its monthly dinner meeting at the Tops Motel.

The chairman, Glyn Harry, B.I.A., Bursar, Loyalist College requested the program chairman, Ron Connelly, R.I.A., of Lake Ontario Cement Co. Ltd., to introduce the speaker, Mr. Harry Wilmshurst, district manager, Commercial Union Insurance Group, Kingston.

Mr. Wilmhurst gave an address on "Business Interruption Insurance." He stated that there are two types of Business Interruption Insurance, the American one, called "Gross Earnings Insurance" and the British one, "Net Profit Insurance." He emphasized the necessity that the Insurer must fulfill the terms of the Co-insurance clause in order to obtain dollar for dollar coverage of the insured loss. Also he pointed out that unless you are obtaining a rebate each year on your insurance premium that it is very likely that you are not 100% insured.

In the ensuing question period, Mr. Wilmhurst advised that each case is different; however, that it is better to over-insure against "Business Interruption" as a refund can be obtained in the evidence that the net profit and other items of expense were less than anticipated. He also pointed out that the anticipated growth of the operation in many cases is greater than estimated.

Tweed Graduation

TWEED — There was certainly pomp and the circumstances were most enjoyable for the 1967 graduates of Tweed High School.

Held in the auditorium of the school on Saturday night the program began with a welcome made by Principal W. R. Hamilton (after the processional and O Canada) and an address by E. J. Kourneyn of the Tweed-Hungerford District High School Board.

A trumpet solo and choir performance were also given at the beginning of the evening.

Patrick Kelly, one of the two Ontario Scholars gave the valedictory address. The other Ontario Scholar at the school was Richard Whalen.

Immediately after the valedictory the secondary school diplomas were awarded and the long awaited presentation was followed by an address by the guest speaker, Fred Abare, Area Superintendent of Separate Schools.

The presentation of scholarships, trophies and prizes took up the rest of the ceremony. A luncheon was served by the teachers and some students after the completion of the program and the evening ended on the Bay Bridge auditorium with music by the Royal Urchins, a Belleville group.

Thomasburg Man Acquitted

Harold Kitchener Morton of Thomasburg was found not guilty of dangerous driving yesterday during his trial before Judge J. C. Anderson. The jury was 15 minutes making its decision.

Mr. Morton was charged as the result of an incident on Jan. 21 that the jury heard when his car hit and killed Sharon Yvonne Woodcox, 20, formerly of 72 Gt. St. James street and then crashed into the bridge closest to Belleville.

Mr. Morton's decision followed one day of testimony by members of the Ontario Provincial Police, a passing motorist and Mr. Morton, himself.

Mr. Morton explained on the witness stand that the girl was in the middle of his lane. He hadn't seen her because of cars approaching him with their headlights glaring on the pavement.

He pulled to the right and his snow, it went over the windshield."

Mr. Morton stated that he heard a bump and thought he had hit the guard rail. He didn't know that the girl had been hit until he was told by a police officer.

The general sessions will continue on Tuesday morning.

Reeve, Council All Acclaimed

MARMORA — Reeve John Wilkes of Marmora-Lake township yesterday was acclaimed to his eighth term to head the township's local government.

Reeve Wilkes' acclamation also saw his entire council returned unopposed following an afternoon nomination meeting.

Candidates Will Air Views At Several Public Meetings

Campaigning by the two mayoralty candidates has been underway for the past two weeks, but the public meetings affording the opportunity for the aspirants to other municipal offices will be the order of the day next week.

On Monday evening, Nov. 27, will be the Chamber of Commerce municipal candidates' night at the Corby Public School.

The meeting will get underway at 8:00 o'clock under the chairmanship of Chamber vice president Jack Ireland.

The two mayoralty candidates, Jack Ellis and Dr. J. Russell Scott, will given seven minutes each in which to state their platforms, followed by two minutes rebuttal by incumbent Mayor Jack Ellis.

The 16 aldermanic candidates will be given three minutes each in which to state their views on municipal affairs.

This year with public utilities seats and also the public school board decided by acclamation it has been decided to restrict the night's speech making to the mayoralty and aldermanic candidates.

Tuesday night Hillcrest ratepayers are holding candidates' night at the Hillcrest public school when candidates again will be given the opportunity of stating their platforms.

Also Tuesday night there will be a home and school association public meeting at the Harry J. Clarke School where public and separate school board candidates are invited to speak. The meeting gets underway at 8 p.m.

But the big night for speechmaking will be the Wharf Street Debating Club's bun feed, where no holds are barred — hither by the speechmakers or by the suffering listeners. Heckling by the audience is the order of the day and those in attendance and as usually the case, those in attendance will need a shoehorn to force their way in. The clubroom has had extensive renovations during the summer and an extra lot of winners have been acquired for the occasion.

TWEED GRADUATION

TWEED — There was certainly pomp and the circumstances were most enjoyable for the 1967 graduates of Tweed High School.

Held in the auditorium of the school on Saturday night the program began with a welcome made by Principal W. R. Hamilton (after the processional and O Canada) and an address by E. J. Kourneyn of the Tweed-Hungerford District High School Board.

A trumpet solo and choir performance were also given at the beginning of the evening.

Patrick Kelly, one of the two Ontario Scholars gave the valedictory address. The other Ontario Scholar at the school was Richard Whalen.

Immediately after the valedictory the secondary school diplomas were awarded and the long awaited presentation was followed by an address by the guest speaker, Fred Abare, Area Superintendent of Separate Schools.

The presentation of scholarships, trophies and prizes took up the rest of the ceremony. A luncheon was served by the teachers and some students after the completion of the program and the evening ended on the Bay Bridge auditorium with music by the Royal Urchins, a Belleville group.

THEATRE FEATURE TIMES

Spinal Cord of Proulx Never Severed Claim

TORONTO (CP)—Dr. William R. Drucker, surgeon-in-chief at Toronto General Hospital, said Friday night that paralysed Bernard Proulx did not have his spinal cord severed and rejoined.

Dr. Murray told the doctors of a new spinal operation that permits paraplegic patients to walk. Then he told his patient, the 26-year-old truck-driver, aside his feet off a hospital bed and stand erect.

Dr. Murray, senior surgeon at Toronto General, said he had performed an operation on the spinal cord—hitherto considered irreparable—that had cured a hopeless cripple.

Dr. Drucker said in an interview Friday night:

"On review of the operative record and x-rays, it is evident that no operation was performed on Bernard Proulx to shorten the cervical (neck) spine nor was the spinal cord transected and rejoined."

Dr. Drucker expressed "extreme concern about the disastrous effect premature release of this matter has had in raising false hopes among paraplegics around the world."

Dr. Murray, described by his contemporaries as a brilliant surgeon and innovator, was in Ottawa Friday night to be invested as a companion in the Order of Canada for his past surgical accomplishments.

Billiard Academy Planned

Downtown Belleville is soon to have an ultra-modern billiard academy — for both women and men.

Today D. J. Whalen Real Estate Ltd., advised it had completed leasing—arrangements for the venture on the second floor of the new building on property formerly occupied by Latimer's Drug Store.

The new billiard academy is to be known as "Marty Billiard Academy" will be operated by Mrs. Peter Zamanis.

District Governor Visits Lions

DESERONTO — Paying his official visit to the Deseronto Lions Club last week, Herbert Visser of Whitby, governor of District A-3, reviewed the various projects in which the Lions are interested on an international scale. His event on their support of CARE, so essential in this day when so many children are concerned. He spoke also of the teaching aid being given to the children of Cuba.

The speaker referred at length to the traditional interest of the Lions Club in conservation in eyesight conservation. The blind are assisted, but in addition, help is also proved the lots of eyesight, or to provide aids to those who cannot afford these aids themselves. He referred especially to children and to the aged.

The Lions have paid off the last loan on camp at Lake St. Joseph, the speaker stated. This involved raising $250,000. The camp has been laid out for the use of the blind, and local clubs pay for a week's holiday here for a blind person and his sighted escort. Much of the time the blind can go about without guidance, as railings ensure safety. They can safely enjoy swimming, for example.

The local club does a great deal of work of a purely civic nature, in addition to supporting the international projects. It provides a hall which is made available to churches, Girl Guides, sports organizations, and other worthy groups. It also gives financial support to various projects such as Centennial Park this year, and together with the Legion and the Salvation Army, sees to it that the poor are remembered at Christmas.

At this meeting the Lions were asked, tentatively, to support two other local projects which are so far only in the formative stage, and both requests were favorably received.

To Your Good Health

Allergies and Sensitizing Contacts

By Dr. Joseph G. Molner

Dear Dr. Molner: I think I can understand something of the nature of an allergy that someone is boys with, but is it possible to have an allergy? When I was younger, I had no trouble with animals. Now that I am in my 30's I find that if I pick up a cat my eyes get red and puffy. Do some allergies develop later in life? —D.W.

"Allergy" means an oversensitivity to something. Let me explain one point that evidently confuses you.

An allergy does not manifest itself from the first contact with anything. There must be first of all, a "sensitizing" contact. Then any further contact with that substances touches off an allergic reaction.

You may be extremely sensitive to some allergen (an allergen is anything that causes allergies) or you may be only mildly sensitive. Or not sensitive at all.

Let's say that you are basically mildly allergic to cats (or their fur, or whatever). You may, therefore, have no trouble with cats for years.

On some occasion you petted or cuddled a cat to the extent that the contact finally went past the amount which your system could tolerate. You then became sensitized. And from then on, only a small contact with cat fur was enough to touch off your allergic reactions.

I can give you one example from my own experience. A man who loved strawberries, but never got more than a few to eat at a time. He went to a "strawberry social" an gorged himself on his favorite delicacy.

This "sensitized" him, and ever afterward even a few "strawberry social" and gorge cost in a rash.

Too bad, isn't it? But that is the way we are made.

Another example is penicillin sensitivity. Some folks have penicillin repeatedly without trouble, but one day they get a little more than they can tolerate, and they become sensitized. From then on even a small amount is bothersome.

Yes, an allergy can break through later in life. You have to be born with an allergic tendency but it may be years before you are subjected to enough contact to sensitize you.

Dear Dr. Molner: My problem is I have no appetite. I eat cereal in the morning and then nothing until dinner, and not much then. My blood count and blood pressure are good. What can I do? —Mrs. M.C.

I am guessing that you are fairly well along in years. If so, it may be that you no longer need as much food because you are not as active as you used to be.

If your weight remains reasonably stable, stop worrying about your appetite. Be glad you aren't like some folks who as they slow down physically, do not slow down their food intake to match. Then they have a problem with overweight.

Dear Dr. Molner: I've been told to drink milk for my bones as I need calcium but I gain weight easily. Is it right to drink skim milk, or do I have to drink regular milk to get full benefit of the calcium? — Mrs. A.S.

Skim milk is the perfect answer for you. It contains just as much calcium as regular milk — only the fat has been removed.

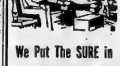
Note to Mrs. C.P: Ah I can tell you is that chronic earache, especially in a child, and more particularly when there is any discharge from the ear, should receive immediate medical attention preferably by a specialist.

Opportunity Shop Will Open Soon

NAPANEE — The Auxiliary of the Lennox and Addington County General Hospital is to open an Opportunity Shop on the Market Square, where Clark's grocery used to be. It is expected that renovations will be completed in time for the store to open December 1.

Officers of the auxiliary have attended various sessions where they met with members of auxiliaries of other hospitals and have learned that in every case, where similar opportunity shops have been opened, they have been a constant source of revenue to aid the organization in its work. Small communities such as Napanee find them especially successful.

These shops sell none but good articles. No clothing is accepted unless it is perfectly clean and in good repair. If such articles are offered, they are laid aside for another project and will not be sold in the Opportunity Shop.



The auxiliary will welcome donations from its friends. They hope to receive china and glassware, small articles of furniture, and, at this time of year, children's warm clothing. Books, records — any small articles will be welcomed, but all must be of good quality.

Volunteers to staff the shop will also be needed. People who have been wanting to do volunteer work but have thought the hospital itself too far away may find that they can give a few hours of their time now and then for this more central work.

Scoharie

SCOHARIE — The AOTS Men's Club held a ladies' night Tuesday evening in Bloomfield United Church Sunday School room with Bloomfield UCW serving a turkey dinner and Allan Anderson as guest speaker.

Mrs. Joanne Martiels and Garth visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Huff for the weekend. Her sister and her niece, Mrs. Arnold Greaves and Teresa, who had been visiting for a week returned home with her.

New Broadcasting Act Voting Starts Tuesday

OTTAWA (CP) — The Commons broadcasting committee Friday completed its general discussion of the government's proposed new Broadcasting Act.

Beginning next Tuesday, it is expected to go into secret sessions to vote on a number of changes proposed by MPs.

Among these changes are:

1. Deletion of the section calling on the CBC to promote national unity. New Democratic Party MPs say even the political parties can't agree on a definition of national unity.

2. A new name for the Canadian Radio Commission which will replace the present regulatory body, the Board of Broadcast Governors. Opponents of the name says it is outdated.

3. A cut in the $700,000 fine for private broadcasters who break the new regulations.

4. Substituting proposed five-year operating grants to the CBC in lieu of grants for three years or less.

French From Outside Quebec Oppose Right to Separate

MONTREAL (CP) — French-speaking Quebecers at the Estates General of French Canada voted massively Friday in favor of "the right to self-determination of the French-Canadian nation."

But a crucial vote on self-determination at the privately-organized forum for constitutional change indicated that "la nation canadienne-francaise" is split into Quebec and non-Quebec factions.

French-speaking Canadians from other provinces voted by a slim margin against a resolution on self-determination described by organizers of the meeting as "a declaration of existence for the French-Canadian nation."

The resolution says Quebec is "national territory" of "la nation Canadienne-francaise," which "has the right to self-determination and to choose freely the political system under which it intends to live."

Ninety-eight per cent of the Quebecers voted for the resolution and Estates General voting regulations prevent this massive majority from resulting in expression of an official view of the Estates General of French Canada.

Rules require that a resolution gain at least a two-thirds majority among each of the Quebec, Ontario, Maritimes and Western delegations to constitute an expression of opinion of "the entire nation."

More than 35 per-cent of non-Quebec delegates voted against the resolution, with opposition highest at 52 per cent in Ontario. Thus only the Estates General of Quebec favors the resolution.

A Saskatchewan delegate protested that all of Canada, and not only Quebec as the resolution states, is national territory of French-Canadians.

A Toronto delegate also objected.

"We want to feel at home in our country," he said. "We want to live in our country other than as New Canadians.

Disposal Plant to Be Separate Unit

DESERONTO—The Deseronto sewer and sewage disposal plant is a separate unit, and not part of the overall Quinte area pollution problem, the delegation of Deseronto civic officials learned Wednesday in Toronto. Articles had appeared in two city dailies and a digest given in a local weekly, to the effect that Deseronto had been promised a $1,400,000 sanitary sewer system and sewage treatment plant by the Ontario Water Resources Commission, as part of an overall plan for the Bay of Quinte area, which would include a $2,600,000 program for Belleville.

Deseronto was naturally disturbed that the information had appeared in the press before it had been given to the town. They learned however, that the information had come only in part from the OWRC.

Also, the delegation was satisfied that the OWRC is doing what it can to speed up the proposal which it will submit to the town for its approval. Only two more important points need the final details before the proposal is submitted, tentatively in two weeks, they were told.

The delegation consisted of Mayor Gerald Lott, Reeve Donald Armitage, clerk-treasurer Joseph Reynolds, and Councillors William Higgins, Robert Huffman and James Sharpe. They met with Paul Cockburn, projects engineer for the OWRC, and two of his assistants.

"We feel better satisfied now", stated the mayor.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 — May 20): You may feel secluded. Clandestine meeting could be necessary. Be discreet, mature. Don't tell all your hand. Someone behind the-scenes has you in mind. Result proves interesting.

GEMINI (May 21 — June 20): How you adjust to changing conditions is featured today. Some may gain prestige but, regardless, key is what you think, how you react. Be an individual in true sense.

CANCER (June 21 — July 22): What shake-ups occur are likely to work in your advantage. Your intuitive intellect is on, course. You perceive. You are aware. You already know.

LEO (July 23 — Aug. 22): Your desire to be understood is highlighted. Some understand—others resent. Today pick the best. Don't make concessions to those who lack worth. Strive for quality, mature approach.

VIRGO (Aug. 23 — Sept. 22): Don't send good money after bad. Know when to call a halt. Today you could learn difference between idealism and foolishness. Be practical. Be aware of facts without giving up convictions.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 — Oct. 22): Take action despite objections from the establishment. What you do today could be based on individual conviction. Others tend to confuse basic issues. Either you have to go it alone.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 — Nov. 21): Work quietly to attain objectives. Be subtle, but firm in what your best interest at heart. But don't expect the sensational. Solver judgment wins major point. Act accordingly.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 — Dec. 21): Some of your friends experience problems, delays. You could become involved. Key is independence. Maintain vigorance. Be sympathetic, but keep eye on budget.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 — Jan. 19): Handle yourself with dignity. People with power to aid your cause are observant. Conduct yourself in manner which inspires confidence. You are being considered for import a nt assignment.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20 — Feb. 18): Find the why of situation. Be analytical. Piece together bits of information. Key is to know what is needed. Discovery made today could be profitable. Wait for all the facts.

PISCES (Feb. 19 — Mar. 20): Slow speedup. Step up long-range savings program. Outline new policy. Stick to it. You gain prestige but, regardless, more solid financial base. Consult expert if necessary.

If today is your birthday . . . you attract people with problems, dilemmas of others. Key is to apply this touch to yourself. Prospects for immediate future are bright if prepared to accept added responsibility. If single, marriage could be on horizon.

Emergency Body Lists Budget

TWEED — Directors of the Northern Emergency Organization met at the North Addington High School Nov. 20 to prepare the first financial statement, and make plans for the first annual meeting. It will be held in the Cloyne Community Hall Nov. 28 with Gordon Krueger, Toronto, director of Canadian Red Cross training, as guest speaker. The program will include the showing of colored films and there will be refreshments.

Gross income for the year amounted to $1,700. Of this sum $1,100 was spent on equipment and training, leaving approximately $600, on hand, which will be used to train and equip an accident squad. Owing to government donations, equipment on hand is valued at $1,300.

Scouting activities

Steven Wilson of the 5th Belleville Troop was honored at an Investiture at Government House, Ottawa on November 20th. In July last year, Steven rescued a young child from drowning at the Outlet Park in Picton. The child was in bathing and unnoticed had strayed beyond her depth. Without hesitation Steven plunged into the water and rescued her unaided. For this act of heroism he was awarded the Boy Scout Gilt Cross for Gallantry.

Accompanying Steven to Ottawa for the investiture were his mother Mrs. Wilson and his Scoutmaster Basil Kirby. This was a memorable occasion for the recipient of the award as well as for his parent and Scoutmaster. From Chateau Laurier Hotel, where a briefing was held a bus took the 27 members of the Scout movement to Government House, where Governor General Rolland Michener, Chief Scout for Canada, accompanied by Mrs. Michener entered the Grand Ballroom to the strains of "God Save the Queen" by the R.C.M.P. Band. After the presentation of awards to Cubs, Scouts, Scouters and other supporters from all parts of Canada, His Excellency and Mrs. Michener circulated through the gathering while luncheon was being served and talked with everyone. During the presentation, three were four silver, 23 gilt medals for Meritorious conduct, five Silver wolves and a special presentation of 1 Jack Cornwell Decoration (posthumously) for an extreme act of bravery.

After the luncheon the recipient of awards were interviewed by the Ottawa radio station and a tape recording was made of their interview. This recording was sent to radio station CJBQ and Steven's interview was heard over that station broadcasts at least twice.

After the ceremonies were over all members of the investiture were transported to the Chateau Laurier, where they were served a special full course meal in the Rescscall Room, later returning to their homes with pleasant memories for the years to come.

5TH BELLEVILLE TROOP WEEKEND CAMP

Some 30 boys of the 5th Belleville Troop enjoyed a weekend camp at Sagonaska Scout Camp at Thomasburg recently.

Scouters Kirby, Fitzgerald and Mr. John Garner of the Rovers Kip Hawley, Rick McGrady Committee assisted by Ihquham and Jack Short were of great help in keeping things going for a successful weekend.

Many outdoor activities were covered, including orientation, estimation, tracking, camp set up, cooking, etc., plus a few "wide" games.

A few boys passed several of their First tests and did a very good job as this was their first taste of camping. On Sunday, a short "Scouts' Own" service was held under Scoutmaster Kirby who thanked all the leaders at that time for their help. Rovers took over the cooking of meals for the Scouters.

At 4.00 p.m. Sunday the flag was lowered and the boys tired, but happy left for home.

Robarts Tells Parley Canada Today Faces Two Great Issues

TORONTO (CP) — Ontario Premier John Robarts said today the object of the Confederation of Tomorrow conference should be "to determine the measure of our consensus and the range of differences."

Welcoming delegations from all 10 provinces, Mr. Robarts suggested they leave detailed discussion of specific issues to future conferences.

The Ontario premier suggested that Canadians are confronted by "the two great and pressing issues."

"One is the place of French Canada in Canadian society—and by French Canada I mean French-speaking Canadians across the country and not only those of Quebec."

"The other is the nature of the relationship between the federal government and the provincial governments."

Mr. Robarts said Canadians should cast aside once and for all any idea that the provinces "are in some way a nuisance and an impediment."

However, he stressed that Ontario has "no intention of undermining the place of primacy" of the federal government.

Ankara Given Greeks' Reply

ANKARA (AP) — U.S. special envoy Cyrus Vance returned to Ankara today with Greece's answer to Turkish conditions for averting a military showdown over Cyprus. Informants said it appeared the Turks will reject it.

Battle-Ready Turkish troops and tanks were aboard ships at Mersin and Iskenderun on Turkey's southern coast poised for invasion of the eastern Mediterranean island. Mersin is 80 miles and Iskenderun 100 miles from the nearest possible landing point on Cyprus.

Turkey's major cities and its southern coast were blacked out Sunday night. Thousands of Turkish troops boarded ships on the southern coast and paratroops and helicopters were massed at the airport in Adana. Seven destroyers, three submarines and a tender three troop transports, two freighters and two passenger liners were seen in the harbor at Mersin.

This was Vance's third visit to Ankara since Thursday. He has been shuttling back and forth between the Turkish and Greek capitals in part of an intense diplomatic effort to keep Turkey from carrying out its threat to invade.

"He's ready to go back to Athens as soon as it necessary," an informant said.

Vance met with Foreign Minister Ihsan Sabri Caglayangil soon after arriving in Ankara. Later he conferred with Secretary-General Manlio Brosio of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. Brosio flew in from Athens Sunday expressing hope the two NATO partners would settle.

In Nicosia, Jose Rolz-Bennett, the roving UN envoy, appealed to the Turkish-Cypriot leadership to do everything possible to help ease "the present dangerous tensions."

77 Die in Town in Colombia As Insecticide Gets Into Bread

BOGOTA (Reuters)—Health teams appeared to have won an around-the-clock battle to check mass poisoning from contaminated bread that killed 77 persons in the north Colombian town of Chiquinquiara during the weekend.

Health Minister Antonio Ordonez Plaza said Sunday night 147 persons still are in hospital after eating the bread, but the situation appeared under control.

He said the outbreak resulted from the accidental mixing of the white insecticide, parathion, with flour on a truck making deliveries to a local bakery.

Medical teams hurried to the city, 125 miles north of here, after adults and children began dying in the streets.

De Gaulle Hopes For Gold Standard

PARIS (AP) — President de Gaulle said today the storm created by the devaluation of the British pound may provoke a return of the international monetary system to the gold standard.

"It is possible that the storm unleashed by the devaluation of the pound will lead to the re-establishment of the international monetary system founded on the immutability and impartiality which are the privileges of gold," de Gaulle said at a news conference.

LONDON (Reuters) — Demand for gold and resulting pressure on the U.S. dollar dropped off today in international markets after last week's hectic gold rush.

London, Zurich and Johannesburg all reported gold shares falling.

Showers of Joy

Greeted with a rain of confetti and good wishes as they leave the Church of St. Michael the Archangel after their wedding Saturday are Jimmy Brennen, 83, and his bride, Florence LePage, 80. THE WEATHER

Synopsis: Cold air swept across the Great Lakes into Ontario during the night. Brisk northwest winds, variable skies and a few snowflurries are expected to persist today and Tuesday across the southern half of the province. Heavier snow squalls are likely in these areas to the lee of the lakes. In the north continuing cloudy cold weather with occasional light snow is forecast.

'Sovereign Quebec' Is Endorsed

MONTREAL (CP) — The Estates General of French Canada emerged Sunday from a four-day debate on "the French-Canadian nation" with a program of resolutions as startling as anything ever advocated by Quebec's separatist parties.

And organizers of Rene Levesque's "sovereign Quebec" movement declared that the Estates General resolutions will be studied as basic material for the former welfare minister's proposed independent party.

Mr. Levesque, the Independentist MLA for Laurier who left the Liberal party when it rejected his sovereign Quebec proposal, received thunderous applause when he made a brief appearance before delegates to the privately-organized forum, assembled to plug for constitutional changes.

At a press conference, held in a room containing at least as many Levesque supporters as reporters, the former minister said:

"We aren't very far away from becoming a country. I consider this inevitable and, for the first time in our history, possible. One gets the impression there's a mass which is ready to embark on the road to a free and independent Quebec."

The resolutions, heavily endorsed by Quebec delegates, included such demands as:

—The right of self-determination for "the French-Canadian nation," whose "national territory" was defined as Quebec province.

—Exclusive powers for "the State of Quebec" over international relations, transport and communications, immigration, broadcasting and other fields.

—French-language unilingualism for Quebec with the legislature urged "to adopt radical and effective measures to impose French as the language of general use."

—"Full jurisdiction" over Quebec air space, along with Newfoundland's Labrador and "nationalism of expansion." Quebecers should lay off New Brunswick because this would be "an act of aggression."

"Let's not repeat the mistake of a German head of state of 25 years ago who also had his form of nationalism of expansion."

Why French-Canadians Are Irate

MONTREAL (CP) —A burly old man walked up to the mike and announced: "I want to tell the nation about the shameful situation in Postiac County."

Louis D. Bertrand, 68-year-old personnel manager of a pulp company in the northwestern Quebec region, then told the Estates General of French Canada:

"Postiac is 47 per cent French-speaking, but of 34 postmasters 26 don't speak French. Our sheriff doesn't speak French.

"Certain game wardens don't speak French. The agronomist doesn't speak French. The veterinarian doesn't speak French.

"The inspector from the social welfare service doesn't speak French. At Campbell's Bay and Shawville the telephone operators don't speak French."

Kennedy Says U.S. Moral Position Weak

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senator Robert F. Kennedy says the United States has undermined its moral position because it changed its reasons for fighting in Vietnam, has inflicted thousands of civilian casualties there and "I think we're going to have a difficult time explaining this to ourselves."

Kennedy said the U.S. first involved itself in the war so the people of South Vietnam could decide their own future and government without interference by North Vietnam.

"That is certainly the way I looked at it when I was in President Kennedy's administration and when I was with President Johnson.

"Now we turned, when we found that the South Vietnamese haven't given the support and are not making the effort; now we're saying we're going to fight there so that we don't have to fight in Thailand, so that we don't have to fight on West Coast of the United States, so that they won't move across the Pacific."

Claude Ryan Skeptical Of Separatist Strength

TORONTO (CP) — Two separatist leaders and a number of Quebec university students failed to convince several hundred persons attending a seminar at York University's Glendon College that Ontario would soon have a sovereign nation on its eastern border.

Most were as skeptical as Claude Ryan, editor and publisher of Montreal's Le Devoir, who wasn't convinced that the Estates General of French-Canada reflected Quebec thinking when it adopted a separatist attitude at a weekend meeting in Montreal.

In three days the students listened to and quizzed Quebec separatists Rene Levesque and Gilles Gregoire and nine moderates, including Mr. Ryan who said he was an avowed federalist.

When the smoke cleared Sunday night the majority of the students agreed Quebec had grounds for complaint. But they refused to believe no solutions exist.

Thirty-five university students from Quebec took part in the seminar and most appeared convinced their province would split from the rest of Canada.

Dr. Murray Raps Skeptic

TORONTO (CP — Dr. Gordon Murray, who set off a hot medical controversy with his claim that he had found a way to repair the spinal cord, says the most outspoken skeptic in the case "doesn't know what he's talking about."

Dr. Murray denied Sunday in a broadcast interview that he had ever claimed to have removed a vertebra from a patient's spine.

Dr. William A. Drucker, surgeon-in-chief at Toronto General Hospital, said Saturday that x-rays and hospital records showed that the spine of truck driver Bertrand Proulx, operated on by Dr. Murray, had not been shortened by removal of a vertebra.

Dr. Murray is world-renowned for his "blue baby" operations 20 years ago, which were acclaimed as medical firsts. He is the first man to transplant a kidney and make it work.

Raggety Dolls Could Be Fatal

Meet the latest, lethal addition to the gallery of fatal femininity: The dangerous doll.

The little lady is truly little—just over 12 inches! Nonetheless, she has strong men running scared. Like fire safety inspectors.

The face, says fire inspector Bob Fair is made of celluloseniturate, which, despite its small area when exposed to maximum temperatures in various domestic appliances, is highly dangerous.

The type of doll worrying the safety experts was shown by Insp. Fair yesterday. He said it was manufactured in Poland and imported from England.

A check in 1966 failed to reveal any of the specimens on sale in the Belleville area.

Insp. Fair said his bureau didn't know if there were any being offered in local stores this season.

The scare started after tests on a doll affected for sale in Ontario last Christmas revealed face materially as highly flammable, says the inspector.

"We're asking all citizens to take the necessary precautions to prevent any injury from these type of dolls," added Fire Chief Ted Poste.

Belleville and District Obituaries and Funerals

CHARLES A. PIGDEN
(Madoc, Ont.)

MADOC — The funeral of Charles A. Pigden, well known and highly respected Madoc businessman was held on Sunday afternoon, November 26th from the MacKenzie Funeral Home to Trinity United Church where service was conducted by Rev. D. W. Potter. The church was filled to overflowing by the many sorrowing relatives and friends in attendance and the many floral tributes and memorial offerings testified silently to the very high esteem in which the deceased was held.

The honorary bearers were Charles Derry, Beryl Carman, Harry Gawley, Reg. McKrown, Melvin Johnson and Cecil Hagerman—and the active bearers were Wilfred Thompson, Don Declair, Cecil Trudeau, Eric Sandford, Russell Dunford and Rayburn McCoy.

Interment took place in Eldorado Cemetery.

A memorial service by RBP 332 of Foxboro was held in the Funeral Home on Saturday afternoon with Douglas Hall, Gordon Priest, William Chatten, Stanley Heyion, Earl Dafoe and Jesse Chatten officiating.

MRS. WILLIAM HIRST
(Ottawa)

WELLINGTON — Former well-known resident of this village, Mrs. Elsie Hirst, 330 Albert Street, Ottawa was laid to rest here this afternoon.

Mrs. Hirst was the beloved wife of William Hirst, a longtime resident of Belleville who was associated for years with the Belle-Sargent Company.

Mrs. Hirst passed away in Ottawa Civic Hospital on Friday after a lingering illness.

Born in London, England, Mrs. Hirst was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. George Carver. Before her marriage she resided in Bloomfield and Wellington for a lengthy period. The family had resided in Ottawa for a number of years.

Prior to her marriage she was a valued member of the Bell Telephone Company here after receiving her education in schools of the county.

Mrs. Hirst was a member of the Anglican Church and during her life here attended St. Andrew's Church. She was a member of the choir for a number of years.

She was predeceased by an only child William (Billy) who passed away twelve years ago at the age of 12.

The funeral service was held at the Ainsworth Funeral home at two o'clock this afternoon with the Rev. J. M. G. Soutter, rector of St. Andrew's Church officiating. Mr. Soutter also conducted the committal service.

Surviving besides her husband are one brother, George H. Carver of Belleville and two sisters, Mrs. Alfred (Edith) Oglivy and Mrs. George (Lillian) Bailey, both of Wellington.

A large number of sorrowing friends paid final tribute both at the funeral home and the graveside.

The bearers were six nephews, Jack Ogilvy, Donald Bailey, Clifford Channell, Ron Harris, and Leonard and Norman Pearsall.

Interment was made in Wellington cemetery.

MRS. JOSEPHINE CONNELL

Requiem Mass for Mrs. Josephine Connell was held in St. Michael's Catholic Church on Saturday. Rt. Rev. J. P. Sullivan officiated, while Rev. P. Carty said the prayers at the graveside. Interment was in St. James Cemetery.

The bearers were Godfrey Donoghue, Claude Flanegan, Jack Chapelle, Frank Donnelson, Stephen Garvin and Richard Flagler.

MRS. ALEX ISARD
(Deseronto)

After a year of illness, Mrs. Ida Alberta Isard of Main St., Deseronto, died Thursday, in the Belleville General Hospital. The funeral service was held at the White and Morden Funeral Home on Sunday, and interment will be the following day in the family plot in Park Lawn Cemetery, Sodbury, beside her son, George, who was drowned 25 years ago. She was in her 66th year.

Mrs. Isard was born in Northport in Prince Edward County, the daughter of Albert Lambert and his wife, who was Annie Adams prior to her marriage. She was married to Alex Isard in Bloomfield, and they lived there and in Belleville, Forest Mills and Sodbury before coming to Deseronto in 1948. They owned and operated a grocery business known as Al's grocery until the spring of 1966 when they moved to Sudbury for a short time, returning to Deseronto in a few weeks.

Mrs. Isard did not have long to enjoy her retirement. In November she broke her hip and since then had spent much of the time in hospital in Napanee and in Belleville, with only short periods in her home. While in hospital she met many people, and made friends of these—all She was a member of the United Church.

Mrs. Isard is survived by her husband; her son, Donald, and brother Morley Lambert, both of Sudbury; and her sisters, Mrs. Dorothy Adams, Mrs. Mary Osborne, and Miss Jane Lambert, all of Toronto; and grandchildren, Brian, Jan and Joe Isard.

Attending the funeral service were all the immediate relatives except her grandchildren, together with several nieces from Toronto.

MRS. ARTHUR DEMILLE

A longtime resident of Canniffon, Mrs. Annie Edna Demille passed away suddenly at her residence on Sunday in her 77th year. She was born in Crookston to the late Mr. and Mrs. William Post and is survived by her husband, Arthur Carman Demille.

She is survived by her sons, Carl of Ocean Side, Cal., Earl of Belleville and her daughter, Mrs. Darryl (Edna) Radcliff of Albany, Ga. She was predeceased by two sons, Ralph and Lyle. Mrs. Demille is also survived by her brother, Gardner Post of Napanee and 10 grandchildren.

Mrs. Demille was a member of St. Mark's United Church in Canniffon and the Rebecca Lodge in Belleville.

Funera lservice will be held on Wednesday from the chapel of the John R. Bush Funeral Home to Elmwood Cemetery for interment. Rev. John Hobbs will officiate.

MRS. ANDREW SCERO
(Deseronto)

Mrs. Ethel Edna Scero died on Thursday last in the Belleville General Hospital where she had been a patient since the middle of September. She was in her 81st year.

Daughter of the late Jack Culbertson, and his late wife, who was Maggie Powlin before her marriage, Mrs. Scero was born on the Tyendinaga Reserve, and was married there to Andrew Scero September 10, 1902. For a few years after farmed there, going to Ontario in the 30's and returning to their home on the Bay Shore Road 20 years ago. Of late years they have operated a small summer resort near their home, with a number of summer cottages.

Mrs. Scero is survived by her husband; by her only son Everett and his seven children, all of whom but 2 are great-grandchildren, as well as a number of nephews and nieces.

In her active days Mrs. Scero took part in committing life but of late years has had to curtail her activities. She is described as a mother and a friend to all. Only a few years ago when she and her husband celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary they were the recipients of many messages of congratulation from prominent people, many friends called to offer their good wishes in person. Last year there was a celebration on a smaller scale, a week after she was 80 years old. A week later, September 12, 1966, Mr. Scero's husband was 85, she suffered a severe stroke and has since been bed-ridden.

The funeral service was held at the United Church Saturday, at 2.00 p.m. Rev. T. F. Downey officiated.

The bearers were her grandsons, all of Oshawa: Everett and Alvin Scero, Lloyd Mateer, Ivy Clemens, Ernest Stoodman, and Henry Tutak.

Interment was in Christ Church Cemetery.

FRANK FINLEY REID

Founder of one of the oldest milk distributor plants in the Quinte district and retired Sidney alderman, Frank Finley Reid, R.R. 3, Belleville, died Saturday at his home following a lengthy illness. He was in his 83rd year.

Born at Shannonville, Mr. Reid was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Reid and had lived all his life in the Belleville area.

He founded Reid's Dairy in 1908, a milk distributor business which remained in the family for more than 50 years.

He was a member of the Wesley United Church and was a charter member of Bayside Lodge.

Twice married, he was predeceased by both wives. His first wife was Eliza Jane Foulkes who died in 1919. His second wife was Christina Arnold.

He is survived by two sons, Leonard and Frederick, both of Belleville and one daughter, Mrs. John (Florence) Stewart, R.R. 3, Belleville. One daughter, Mrs. May Henderson predeceased him.

Also surviving are a sister, Mrs. Harry (Jessie) Carter of Foxboro, 13 grandchildren and several great grandchildren.

The funeral will be held Tuesday afternoon from the John R. Bush Funeral Home with service in the chapel at 1.30 conducted by Dr. H. F. Swann. Interment in Belleville Cemetery.

GORDON HOLLYWOOD

Requiem Mass for Gordon Hollywood was held Saturday in St. Joseph's Catholic Church, Rt. Rev. J. J. Carley officiated. Interment was in St. James' Cemetery.

Effects of Irresponsible Litterbugs

Assisted by a good wind, litterbugs have made Front Street in Belleville a second city garbage dump. Just about the entire length of the west side of the street was littered on Sunday.

Ironically a waste container was surrounded by newspapers, wrappers and other forms of unsightly garbage which blew on the sidewalks and along the street.

Scholarships, Bursaries Awarded At Trenton High Commencement

TRENTON — Rewards for outstanding performance in endeavors of education, music and sports were presented to high school students at impressive annual commencement exercises here on Saturday.

Scholarships and bursaries distributed among 28 students from grades 9 to 13 amounted to $3,150.

The top awards winner in the education field was Peter Morrison, son of Air Commodore and Mrs. H. A. Morrison, CFB Trenton, who collected $625, including the Ontario, George Frost and Dunbar scholarships. Now enrolled for pre-engineering studies at Western University he was further honored as valedictorian.

His terms at Trenton high school he told the graduating class produced two-fold benefits. As a result he was thoroughly equipped with a good base to compete in the expanding world of technology. Perhaps more important he said he had learned well how to get along with others. While the universal goal is success, he said, he wondered whether young people can accept today's intangible and material challenges and really become a success.

Ontario scholarships of $400, were also awarded Paul Carlson now studying mathematics and science at Carleton University and Gary Raindahl following a professional s e r v i c e m a n's career at the Royal Military College at Kingston.

In his message to the graduating class Dr. J. K. Bracford, president of Loyalist College of Applied Arts and Technology assured them "you will have ever-increasing opportunities to make the most of your education and experiences although the old fashioned concept of careers is completely out-moded with the new technological developments."

High school principal J. C. Garrett presided as chairman.

Scholars Get Together

County Council to Hold Final Session Dec. 6

The final session of Hastings County council for 1967 has been called by Warden William A. Shannon for Wednesday, Dec. 6, with the session expected to continue into Friday.

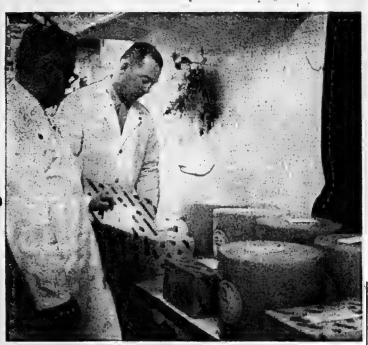
dation will be giving its final report and it is expected that Bert Cruikshank, welfare administrator for the county of Wentworth will address council on Thursday.

On the opening day of the session on Dec. 6, council will break off during the afternoon to attend the official opening of the new addition to Hastings Manor.



Resolutions to be considered at the session include one from Essex county requesting the federal government to assume a more equitable share of capital construction costs for hospital; another from Peterborough asking that all costs for secondary schools be assumed by the senior governments; and another from Lambton county asking the Ontario government to take over full responsibility for the operation of ambulances with financing to be carried out through the Ontario Hospital Services Commission and that wherever possible ambulances be operated from hospitals.

No Injuries In Accident

A two-car collision near Cooper on Sunday morning, about 11.20 a.m., caused extensive damage to the two vehicles.

The automobile driven by Frederick Rollins, 16, of Cooper received $450 damage while the car driven by Archie Whiteman, 30, of RR 3 Madoc had $500 damage. There were no injuries.

Cheese Show Has Large Entry List

Cheese Show Readied

Quinte district dairy fieldmen Tom Heath of Picton, and Keith Hubbs, Stirling, set up British Empire Cheese show to be held Wednesday and Thursday in Belleville.

Featuring the largest entry in many years, the annual British Empire Dairy Show at 191 Front Street, began to take shape over the weekend.

Judging of the 172 entries commenced this morning and the show will be open to the public on Wednesday and Thursday. Judges of the show are J. MacMillian, Belleville, Thomas Aickens, London, and Norman McWalters, all dairy graders with the Federal Department of Agriculture.

The cheese show is being held in conjunction with the 40th annual convention of the Central Ontario Cheese Makers' Association being held Wednesday and Thursday at the Sun Valley Motor Inn on North Front Street. The convention sessions get underway Wednesday afternoon and continue Thursday.

The annual cheese makers' banjuet and dance will be held Thursday evening at the Club Canara.

In charge of setting up the cheese show are dairy fieldmen Thomas Heath, Prince Edward county, and Keith Hubbs, Hastings county.

In keeping with the trend away from the large 90 pound round cheese which around the turn of the century put Hastings county on the map as a quality cheese producing area, entries in this year's British Empire Dairy Show are predominantly of the 40 pounds square type.

There are 40 large round cheese entered and four dairy displays by Black River, Mesis, Selby and Foxboro cheese fac-

Two Bands, Adelines, At Concert

PICTON (Staff) — Another musical treat is in store for Picton music lovers this week. Following the Salvation Army's Woodstock "Songsters" this weekend, Monday night will see the famed RCAF Band from Canadian Armed Forces Base Trenton provide a program at Prince Edward Collegiate auditorium.

The program will start at 8 pm and will appeal to all ages. Added attraction will be the Sweet Adelines from Kingston. A further added attraction for the evening will be the Picton Junior Band, which in the past has gained great experience in playing concerts along side such bands as this one from Trenton.

Arctic Owl Visits District

The old time weather man would say it's a sure sign of a hard winter ahead and if that is the case we must be really in for a tough one.

In any event the first sighting this season of an Arctic owl has been made in the Belleville area.

Saturday one of the big white feathered predators was seen in Sidney township just west of the city limits — believed one of the earliest such sightings on record.

Garnet Reid, a resident of Avonlough Road, was doing some maintenance work at the home of Alderman Donald Joss when he spotted the owl sitting on the roof of the Joss residence.

"When I first saw it I thought it was a roof ventilator that was turning in the wind," Mr. Reid said. "Then when I got closer I saw it was an owl."

The Reid and Joss families all got a good look at the big owl before it flew away.

Mr. Reid said the owl was almost pure white with a few black feathers, and had a wing spread of at least three-and-a-half feet.

It was the first Arctic owl he had seen in 25 years.

Cyprus Powderkeg

The explosive situation on Cyprus has more than normal interest for hundreds of people in the Quinte area.

For the Canadian Guards have had two tours of duty in that beautiful but troubled land at the eastern end of the Mediterranean. Crews from Air Transport Command at Trenton have made weekly service trips as well as volunteer flights when the six-month tour of duty ends for Canada's 800-strong U.N. commitment.

For anyone who has been there, it is almost inconceivable that two races would quarrel over an island which has so many attributes.

The island's history as a resting spot dates back to the start of history — a factor in its present troubles. Despite a constantly changing ownership, the people of Cyprus over the centuries never learned to live in much more than an armed truce.

Hatreds today are so ingrained there appears little chance even U.S. special envoy Cyrus Vance will accomplish anything more than easing the present threat of Turkish invasion.

His comment today after returning from Athens was: "There is no call for a smile . . . but there is none for a frown either." It is no different than the answer almost any Canadian soldier who has been there would have been given three years ago.

It is until now, the integrity of the Canadians' performance in Cyprus has made them immune from any serious threat. Both Greek Cypriots and Turkish Cypriots have come to accept the Canadians' presence as a stabilizing force. Most are not anxious to upset this balance.

But this would change with an invasion or any sudden tipping of the balance of power on the island.

As peacekeeping forces, Canadians at home are prepared to accept the presence of their troops on this far away land. If war breaks out the death of even one soldier will be too high a price.

A Bright Memorial

Earlier this year, the memorial commemorating Sir Mackenzie Bowell at Bridge and Pinnacle gave way to allow The Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment to pay tribute to its war dead.

Back from the corner, a monument was erected which outlined the battle honors of the regiment and carried the names of those of its members who failed to return.

One of the compensating factors for working the occasional night is that by looking out the window of The Intelligencer you can see the recently flood-lit memorial.

The regiment is to be commended for its service to its most important soldiers. Citizens can share in this pride by taking time to view this tribute.

Downtown Disgrace

It's a picture no self-respecting city should tolerate. It might not be possible to attach the blame for untidy streets on any one source, but there is no reason why it can't be eliminated.

If the city's garbage collection schedule is at fault, then it should be altered to suit the need. If it is the downtown businessman who is failing to secure his waste in an adequate fashion, he should be called to task.

A healthy downtown core is needed in any thriving municipality. There is no reason to discourage patronage by adding untidiness to already existing burdens.

Air Force Decision

For the past year, Royal Canadian Air Force personnel and veterans have been working towards a national memorial. A recent poll indicated most were in favor of locating the memorial at the Trenton Canadian Forces Base.

During discussions which have been made public base commandant Group Captain D. R. Adamson has referred to the proposed memorial as one which would match the contribution of the RCAF to Canada's development.

In the past few months it appears planning is reaching a peak. Not only air force personnel but residents in the Trenton-Belleville area are awaiting with interest the final decision. The Quinte area's future is closely aligned to the CFB. Anything which complements the base will add prestige to this area.

Western Pressures Not Enough to Resolve Cyprus Dielmma

By HAROLD MORRISON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Strong Western pressures are considered likely to succeed in preventing a full Greek-Turkish war over Cyprus for the simple reason that both sides are heavily dependent on Western aid of one kind or another. But there is no easy path to a permanent peace on that racially-split island.

Tensions are high and it is possible that even the most concentrated effort by the United Nations, the Western powers and the Soviet Union may fail to achieve a full retreat by the opposing forces. Diplomats suggest the most urgent problem is to restrain the Turks in a situation which strongly favors Turkish intervention.

In terms of military strength, Turkey is far more powerful than Greece, its NATO partner. Geography also favors the Turks since Cyprus is just a 40-mile hop off the Turkish coast but some 500 miles from the Greek mainland.

In addition—and perhaps equally important—the Turks appear to be united at home while Greece is split, its population troubled by a military dictatorship that gives only the appearance of democracy.

On Cyprus itself, less than one-half the size of Nova Scotia, the Greeks outnumber the Turks about four to one. But the total population is small, only about 600,000 and might in normal cases be easy to control except that the two races are rigidly split with the prospect of future integration or cooperation which authorities no longer entertain.

The only solutions that seem practicable are permanent partition or evacuation of the minority population. But some experts suggest other solutions may develop if only the political forces can be restrained from exploiting the racial situation. Many of the Greek-Cypriots favor "enosis," a link-up with Greece. Gen. George Grivas, who until his recent withdrawal, was in charge of Greek-Cypriot forces, was one of those who strongly supported such a move.

His removal is seen by Western authorities as a concession to the Turks. Under a 1960 agreement giving Cyprus independence, the Greeks were to have 950 troops and the Turks 650. In recent months the Greek total rose to 10,000 troops. Some reports suggest there were secret movements of troops from the mainland that the Grivas force actually totalled more than 12,000.

What Canada now asks is that military forces on both sides be reduced and fortifications eliminated so that entrenched positions might be destroyed and an invasion impossibility of surprise attack. Turks and Greeks must also be brought to the conference table, at least to consent an uneasy truce if not a permanent peace.

The Turks feel in a position to demand prior assurances and while the Greeks maintain they will not concede under military threat, the situation suggests Turkey may get some concessions to pave the way for negotiations.

Drug Discredited

No Options About LSD

The Vancouver Sun

There can be little enlightened opposition to the bill now proceeding through the Senate which will make illegal the possession of the hallucinatory drug LSD.

If there is a softening of the public attitude toward marijuana — and this would seem to be the case when such a conservative body as B.C.'s doctors says we're making too much of its perils — the reverse is true of its chemical running-mate.

Its supporters, the Timothy Learys, have been utterly discredited by the terrible evidence that has been adduced. Any defence of LSD usage on the ground that it is a private sin is mocked by the bill already being paid by society. Deformed babies, murders, suicides, insanity, senseless tragedies such as that young man's fatal dive off Burrard Bridge; there's nothing private there. And now, one is told, LSD has even proved useless in the treatment of alcoholism, by the one field in which it promised to serve a constructive purpose.

The effectiveness of a federal law controlling LSD may be questioned. Possession of LSD already is illegal in British Columbia under an amendment to the B.C. Health Act with, one must conclude after hearing the evidence put before a coroner's jury, little or no effect on trafficking. Yet society must do what it can. And if the ominous sour risks of LSD usage aren't enough to frighten off experimenters, there just aren't any options at all.

Devaluation of Pound Slide to Bankruptcy If Throw of Dice Fails

LONDON (AP) — Devaluation may be the last throw of the dice for Britain. If it fails, as other governments have so far failed to restore Britain to economic health, it could prove a slide to bankruptcy rather than a springboard to prosperity.

The theory behind cutting the value of Britain's currency to $2.40 U.S. from $2.80 is simple. To attract customers, the nation of shopkeepers has in effect cut by 14.3 per cent the price foreigners must pay for British goods.

If it works, it will end the deficits that have kept the country living on borrowed money for five years.

But will the foreigners buy? Will the nation be able to bolt out until profits start flowing? This is the essence of the gamble taken by Prime Minister Wilson's Labor government.

The gamble rests on the behavior of Britain's businessmen, its labor unions and not least on the government itself. None has been too keen to take risks such as this in the past.

The government figures that the cost of higher imports should not force the cost of living up by more than three per cent.

But workers have just come through a year of wage freeze that meant pulling in their belts to uphold the old pound—in vain, as it turned out. Management has been under profit and price restraint, and many companies had been waiting for a chance to increase prices.

There are about 650 unions composed of 19 in West Germany, which held down wages during its own post-devaluation growth, or the 200 in the United States leadership is weak here.

The dock strikes that touched off the recent crisis were typical strikes.

The British economist on the government's prices and incomes board? "The first thing a businessman hears about when he has a two per-cent increase in costs is how to bring up prices by five per cent."

Some manufacturers do not even know their labor costs.

The Trades Union Congress in support of the government has voted to refuse support for any pay demand not justified only by the inevitable inflation that followed devaluation. But it warned that it would not restrain itself themselves only if employers did.

In effect, the workers were daring the bosses to raise prices and take the blame if the devaluation fails.

Management has demanded that the government get tough with the unions. The Confederation of British Industry has indicated it wants another wage freeze by law. The government has conceded this is politically impossible.

For export firms, the devaluation means an overnight subsidy of 14.3 per cent to put into their prices or their profits. Some complained this isn't enough.

They did the British, once the masters of an empire and on the winning side in two world wars, get into this fix?

It's easy to accuse them of living beyond their means. Exports have gone up 5 per cent since 1958. West Germany and France have almost doubled theirs, and Japanese exports have tripled.

But the British still export a higher proportion of gross national product—13.7 per cent—than France and Japan. An increase in exports or a decrease in imports by only about two per cent would pull trade out of the red.

It's more precise to accuse the British of trying to live up to their illusions. They don't earn enough to pay overseas military costs that skyrocket with sophisticated weapons. They have trouble maintaining enough spare cash in reserves to function as a world banker when world trade is booming.

Laying down either of these burdens—and many in Britain and its government would like to—is more difficult than devaluing the pound. None of their European or Asian competitors retells these hangover burdens of empire. So far, none wants to take them over.

This month British credit literally ran out, forcing perhaps some illusions went with it.

Interpreting the News

Gold Fever Brings Threat of World Trade Collapse

By HAROLD MORRISON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Gold fever, now sweeping the world, brings with it the threat of a collapse in world trade. A lot will depend on the success the United States employs to protect its shrinking gold stocks from French and other raids.

There are several reasons for the roaring demand for gold: The spreading view that paper currency cannot be trifled, that the American dollars is overvalued in terms of gold and that there is a serious imbalance in the over-all post-war monetary structure.

This crumbling of monetary stability, on which the terms of world trade are based, was dramatically illustrated by the sudden decision forced on British to devalue its currency.

Recurring foreign trade deficits meant that large amounts of British currency were flowing around the world. When the world lost faith with the exchange rate and demanded other currency instead, Britain soon found that her foreign currency cupboard was bare. She cut the value of the pound.

Now may countries, including France, believe the American dollar, which also is floating around the world in large volume, is overvalued. France is one of those countries demanding gold instead of U.S. dollars. France now holds a strong fortune in gold, apparently concluding the official gold price may soon be forced up sharply.

The world's most important gold market is in London, run by five merchant bankers headed by N. M. Rothschild and Sons. Their main client is the Bank of England which, until France withdrew in June, represented a pool made up of eight countries—U.S., Britain, West Germany, Italy, Switzerland, Belgium, The Netherlands and France.

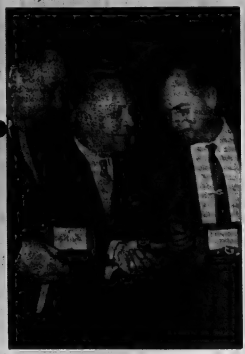
These countries agreed to provide a percentage of legitimate official demands for gold. The U.S. portion was 50 per cent before French withdrawal and now it may be 58 per cent, to cover the French portion.

The pool was designed to stabilize the world market, which, in addition to legitimate dey mands by governments and central banks, also is affected by outside pressures by gold hoarders. All the pressures are growing. The upset caused by French withdrawal from the pool is increased by speculation that Belgium and Italy also might wish to withdraw.

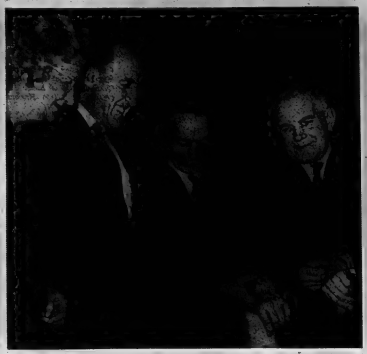
Most pool members are reported to have assured the U.S. they do not plan to embarrass the American government by demanding more gold for their U.S. currency holdings at this crucial time. The American gold stockpile has been reduced by about $10,000,000,000 in four years—with France absorbing about one-third of that amount. The stockpile now totals about $12,900,000,000. But of that amount, $10,000,000,000 are required to back American currency.

The withdrawal the French onslaught, the U.S. could free all of the gold for world sale at the official price of $35 that would keep the market satisfied for a fairly long period. Or it can insist that the direct move to gold to the U.S.—or slash imports to bring American trade into balance and thus end up to loose American dollars around the world.

A slash in American imports could send a cold blast through the whole structure of trade. This trade oils only a small part of the American economic machinery but for such countries as Canada and Britain, as well as many other advanced and underdeveloped countries, American import barriers could prove a devastating blow, opening up the abyss of recession.



Gloss Off Celluloid Favorites



The Buffalo Evening News

By defeating Mrs. Shirley Temple Black, California voters who in recent years had elected former movie stars Georgo Murphy and Ronald Reagan demonstrated yesterday that the gloss is now off the celluoid.

This special congressional election had been viewed as a referendum over Vietnam policy. But we don't see it as a reliable barometer, mainly because the flock of contestants included many controversial names. Dorothy Rapaiieau Paul N. McCloskey, who beat hawkish Shirley, was a Korean war hero. Dovish Democrat Edward M. Keating, who lost, is a former publisher of Ramparts magazine.

The one sure significance is that Hollywood stardom doesn't guarantee political success in California. Shirley's loss proves that and we wonder how many other entertainers had their aspiring hopes for political success abruptly nipped in the bud.

Gold Watches Are Symbolic of 25 Years' Service With Company

A meeting of the Quarter-Century Club of Stewart Warner is a timely affair as think the six new members in these pictures who received watches last night. Proud of his employees is S. D. Hagerman, General Manager of Stewart-Warner, who has his arms around James Shortt and Gerald Lewis. Comparing times are Mrs. Lizietta Stirland, Victor White and Douglas Locke and Ronald Denyer, two more members. Two female admissions last night were Evelyn Foote and Lillian Summers.

Eight Honored

Eight members of the Stewart-Warner Corporation were honored last night by being admitted to the Stewart-Warner Quarter Century Club. Two of those to be honored were absent.

Following a cocktail hour and a dinner S. D. Hagerman spoke briefly to the members in attendance.

Explaining that the club welcomed the people of the corporation together, he said, "each year brings new members to our quarter-century club. It accomplishes a spirit of good will."

As part of the ceremonies, the new members were presented with gold watches. There were eight who received the gift, Lillian Summers, Evelyn Foote, Ronald Denyer, Douglas Johnston, Gerald Lewis, Douglas Locke, James Shortt and Walter Vanderweter.

To be admitted to the quarter-century club the employee must have 25 years with the company.

The presentation was followed by a social evening.

Toronto Stocks

The gold index, which surged 18.79 points last week following devaluation of the British pound and a rush on gold bullion on European markets, fell 16.52 to 180.82.

Dome Mines dropped 3¼ to 54, Giant Yellowknife 95 cents to 7.80 and Kerr Addison ⅛ to 16¼. Campbell Red Lake was down 2¼ to 24¼ in sales of 275 shares.

Industrials gained fractionally. Inco moved up 1 to 123 after touching a high of 125-4. Supertest 1 to 29, Dupont ¼ to 26¾ and Bell Telephone ¼ to 45¾.

Falconbridge slipped ⅛ to 67½ and Bank of Montreal, which reported slightly increased annual earnings, ⅛ to 21¾.

In base metals, Pyramid Mining jumped 2.25 to 5.50 after the announcement that Ottawa would drop a $16,000,000 tax claim against the mining exploration and development company.

Denison advanced ½ to 83 and Patino declined ¼ to 15½.

The western oils index gained 2.36 to an all-time high of 214.00. Previous high, at 212.14, was registered Friday. Canadian Superior Oil was up 1 to 43¾ and Scurry-Rainbow ⅛ to 43.

On index, industrials edged up .34 to 163.59 and base metals .24 to 106.82. Volume by 11 a.m. was 723,000 shares compared with 853,000 at the same time Friday.

London Life's new Opportunity Program would make a truly rewarding gift for a youngster.

London Life introduces a unique financial opportunity for the young

If you have ever wondered about life insurance for children, you should consider these eight facts about London Life's new Opportunity Program. This unique savings and protection plan lets you give a child the choice of several valuable advantages. Designed for children 15 and under, it offers cash flexibility never before available in a life insurance policy. Here are the facts:

1. Policy paid for at 25

The Opportunity Program gives your child, at age 25, a life insurance policy that is completely paid for—plus an automatic cash payment. This policy would become the cornerstone of your child's life insurance program. And, a completely paid-for policy provides excellent collateral for borrowing the down payment on a house or meeting other needs that face young married people.

OR YOU MAY CHOOSE THIS OPTION IN THE OPPORTUNITY PROGRAM:

2. Money for education

The Opportunity Program is designed to release cash for education and still provide a lifetime program of insurance. The size of this cash fund depends on the size of the Opportunity Program you give your child. He may never acquire the money. But, if a need does arise, cash will be available for education, specialist training, a start in business, or to meet an unforeseen emergency.

OR THE OPPORTUNITY PROGRAM COULD BE USED THIS WAY:

3. Money for marriage

The Opportunity Program makes cash available when your child marries. And, as you know, cash is nearly always welcome when a home is being started ... for the honeymoon, appliances, furniture, or down payment on a house. What better gift could you give a young man or woman on their marriage? But most important, if the cash is taken out, the lifetime program of insurance may be continued.

Now read about the other important advantages of the Opportunity Program.

4. Low premiums

Life insurance for children costs less. And the sooner you purchase the Opportunity Program for your child, the lower the cost. The lowest possible premium rate, for example, is during your child's first year. Low cost is a factor your child will appreciate as he reaches maturity.

5. Growing values

Each year, dividends increase the value of your child's Opportunity Program. While future dividends are not guaranteed, London Life has one of the most outstanding records of dividend payments in North America.

6. Guaranteed program of investment and protection

You can use the "self-completing" feature of the Opportunity Program to ensure that, in the event of your death or total disability, your child's investment and protection program will be completed without further payments.

7. Option to buy more

For a small extra premium, London Life's guaranteed insurance option can, in most cases, be added to the Opportunity Program. This means that your child can purchase a specified amount of additional insurance in the future regardless of health or occupation. If you decide to include the option with the Opportunity Program, more insurance can be purchased on six option dates between ages 25 and 40.

8. Money management

One of the most important things parents can teach their children is how to handle money effectively. With the Opportunity Program you can enter a "partnership" by letting your child take over or share payments at a certain age. Your child's participation in the Opportunity Program will help him develop an appreciation of the value of careful money management.

These are eight important facts about London Life's new Opportunity Program. It is a unique investment and protection plan for children. No other plan lets you give a child such valuable opportunities for so moderate a cost.

For more information about the new Opportunity Program for children 15 years old and under, phone a London Life Insurance Company office listed in the telephone directory. A London Life representative may give you a new outlook on the value of life insurance for children.

WEDDING

CASSIDY — LATENDRE

TWEED — St. Edmund's Church, Stoco, was the setting of the wedding earlier this month when Mary Rita Latendre, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Felix Latendre, Tweed, was united in marriage to William Francis Cassidy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Cassidy, also of Tweed. Reverend Father John Greenswegen officiated at the ceremony and nuptial Mass.

Andra Cassidy, of Stoco, and Thomas Quinn, of Tweed, were the acolytes. Appropriate wedding selections were played by Janice McCormick and the soloist was James Marchen, both of Tweed.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length A-line gown of white French velvet, French chantilly lace coat with flowing train and long sleeves. A matching velvet headdress of rosettes and pearls held her double-tier silk illusion veil, and she carried a bouquet of yellow roses.

Mrs. Robert Williams, of Toronto, was her sister's matron of honor, and the bridesmaids were Miss Judy Cassidy, sister of the bridegroom, Mrs. Geraldine Canning, Miss Ann Lake, niece of the bride, was junior bridesmaid and little Miss Joanne Williams was flower girl. All were identical gowns of white chantilly lace with moss green velvet trim. Their head-pieces were white satin rosettes with lily-of-the-valley and each carried a bouquet of bronze and yellow mums.

The bridegroom was attended by his brother, Burt Cassidy, of Rochester, N.Y., and the guests were ushered by Raymond Cassidy and Clare Latendre.

At the wedding dinner and reception following at St. Carthagh's Hall, Tweed, Mrs. Latendre received the guests wearing a green and metallic dress with brown and gold accessories, and a corsage of bronze and gold 'mums. The bridegroom's mother assisted, wearing a white and gold brocaded dress with matching accessories, and a corsage of bronze and gold 'mums.

For the wedding trip the bride donned a jade green wool dress with matching hat, mink stole, and a corsage of bronze and gold roses.

Miss Ora Wickwood presented current events and Mrs. George Thomson showed colored movies of her trip to Fort George where one of her daughters is in charge of a nursing station among the Indians.

MR. AND MRS. FARLEY VERMILYEA

Vermilyea — Brown

Norma Patricia, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas C. Brown, Frankford, and William Arthur Vermilyea, son of Mr. and Mrs. Farley Vermilyea, R. R. 5, Belleville, were married by Rev. J. Wesse in Frankford United Church. Mrs. Karl Austin was organist and Tom Hinchey was soloist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of crushed French crepe with mandarin collar and long fitted sleeves with open cuffs. The gown was enhanced with a train at the back. A headdress of pearl and crystal petals held her French bouffant veil and she carried a bouquet of pink roses and stephanotis.

Mrs. Bonnie Steele, Montreal, matron of honor, wore a semi-A line floor length gown of laurel green velvet with Empire waist and shoulder cape. Her headpiece was a matching baby lamé and she carried a corsage of pale pink carnations on a white muff. The bridesmaids, Mrs. Diane Lytle, Toronto, and Mrs. Joyce Sarle, Cleveland, both sisters of the bride, were gowns identical to that of the matron of honor.

Don Little, Shannonville, was groomsman and the ushers were Jack Vermilyea, Toronto, and Blair Vermilyea, both brothers of the bride-groom.

To receive the guests at the reception in the Pinnacle Room, Hotel Quinte, the bride's mother wore a three-tier lace brown knit suit interwoven in brown metallic floral pattern, brown accessories and a purse corsage of orange delight roses.

To assist, the bridegroom's mother wore a mink tone Italian silk knit suit with brown accessories and a purse corsage of orange delight roses.

For her wedding trip to Cleveland, Ohio, the bride chose a rust walking suit trimmed with white fur collar and cuffs, brown accessories and a corsage of white roses. On their return the couple will live at R.R. 3, Foxboro.

VON Board Members Hold Meeting

The Victorian Order of Nurses board members held a regular monthly meeting at the Y.M.C.A. building last week. Mrs. R. Smith as president conducted the meeting and welcomed Miss G. Cornish, field secretary of Ottawa headquarters.

At this time it was announced that the next secretary at the local office is now Miss M. Mac. The treasurer's report was given; also one by Taylor Franklin representing the housekeeping committee.

The new treasurer will be V. A. Payette who takes the place of W. Kent who resigned.

Members were told that the Red Cross work had been in charge in Belleville during the summer months now confined in an Ottawa hospital.

To conclude the meeting there was some discussion on the budget which was followed by the nurses' report.

Church Groups

ST. MARGARET'S GUILD

The Evening Guild of St. Margaret's Church held the November meeting recently, with a good attendance of members, and friends.

There were prizes for the hydro quick-tricks evening to be held in December. After the meeting an auction sale was held, with Mrs. R. Hayes as auctioneer, which proved enjoyable as well as profitable.

A tasty lunch was served by Mrs. C. Kemp and her group.

Centennial Project

She Collects Corneas

WINNIPEG (CP) — Brenda Richards, a 16-year-old school girl, has completed a far-sighted centennial project that will continue to benefit Canadians long after the end of 1967.

In 10 months she has persuaded 100 persons to pledge their eyes to the eye bank when they die.

Brenda became aware last January that many slightly-used persons can have sight restored by corneal transplant. After watching the operation on television, she went to the local branch of the Canadian Institute for the Blind and willed her own eyes.

Then she set out to persuade others to do the same. Among those who agreed were school friends and relatives. Her 98th conquest was Dave Rainey, Winnipeg Blue Bombers halfback.

The project was not without difficulties.

"Some thought I was nuts. The older people are more hesitant and young people think they have a long time to live and it doesn't bother them." About one-quarter of those she approached refused because of their belief in the hereafter.

"Some believed in reincarnation and said they wouldn't want to be blind in the next life. Others simply thought a life after death would be better with eyes."

Hospital Auxiliary Discusses Convention

Belleville Hospital Auxiliary delegates to the Ontario Hospital Auxiliaries convention in Toronto, Mrs. W. G. Harvey and Mrs. E. Fairman, reported on the convention at the November meeting of the Hospital Auxiliary.

Senator Mary Kinnear spoke on the changing role of women in the community and Miss W. J. Shooter discussed patterns of communications. Mrs. Anne H. Jones, Hamilton, spoke on serving the aged and suggested auxiliary members insist on sufficient pensions for the needy and decent housing. She suggested a visiting program and meals on wheels scheme.

Ideas for gift and opportunity shops were presented by Mrs. J. W. Hinchey, buyer and co-ordinator of fashions for Eatons. Volunteer psychiatric service was discussed and Mrs. F. Beeby attended tions on play therapy in pediatric wards.

Mrs. Selma Bechtnel has assumed the chairmanship of volunteer services and is organizing the work. The library cart will soon be in operation and play therapy in pediatrics will take place each morning. Visiting of long term patients began Nov. 17 and the cradle picture service is operating. Mrs. Bechtnel requires volunteer assistance and all interested are asked to contact her.

Mrs. F. Bowler, opportunity shop convener, reported difficulty in staffing the shop on Saturdays. Volunteers are asked to contact Mrs. H. McIntyre, staff convener.

Mrs. L. Post was placed in charge of a fund for patients.

Mrs. A. H. Pedersen, demonstrated the making of pelican angels for Christmas decor. Mrs. E. C. Garnett won the draw for the decoration. Mrs. W. S. Greaves convened the social hour.

Brother's Teen-age Girl Hard to Manage

Dear Doris: What time and how many nights a week should a 16-year-old girl in Grade VIII go out?

This is my brother's girl. We brought her to live with us as she was staying out all night and drinking in her home town. Last week end she spent at home.

I read a letter she wrote to a friend after. She told the girl that she liked the town but hated her uncle and me. Also about how she went out at midnight last Sunday and got drunk. She really has her parents worried about her and now we are starting.

She was mad tonight when she left to baby sit because she wanted to go out with this 19-year-old boy (man he is, making his own living) but he is always in trouble. At this time he is on probation for being with a 13-year-old girl.

She wants to quit school and take a hairdressing course. I think she is much too young as she'd be away from home. —Maybe I'm Wrong.

Dear Maybe: More than likely you are right. Did you learn anything helpful from reading her mail? If she is out of hand at home, you know already she is likely to be rebellious.

I'm thinking that a girl in Grade eight at 16 is getting nowhere, where she is, and that something involving more practical skills might be fine. But I agree she hasn't the self-discipline to be out on her own.

Keep up the controls. She needs them, even though her objections are noisy and violent. Her parents are greatly at fault, and your job is really one of undoing a wrong, then directing a misguided personality. Seek skilled counselling.

Dear Doris: I guess I feel much like "No Stone Unturned". I have been a widower several years. I am in my early 50's and have not had a day's illness in my life.

I took a widow out for a while. I got this "but you can't put me in a new house" - when the question of marriage came up, so that was that. I haven't had the nerve to try again; expecting the same again I suppose.

I have never thought much of marriage bureaus. — Wondering.

Dear Wondering: Oh, go ahead and try. Widowers much older than you have married a second time very happily.

Spruce up, look your best. Go where the ladies are: church, volunteer work, interest groups, discussion courses. Forget about not having any nerve.

Wait a while before even thinking of popping any serious questions. Most women are not mercenary; but an older woman will hesitate before consenting to lower her standard of living, if that's the rub.

Confidential to Frantic Father: Your wife is sick, not really sane. All your efforts to smooth things over will not work unless she gets psychiatric help.

Her threats about the children should not be taken lightly. It is tragic that the authorities say they cannot take action unless something drastic happens. Talk with her doctor and your child care agency for clues about how to cope with her when she does come back.

(Doris can help you with that puzzling decision. Write to her, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope for private reply.)

Ann Landers

Parents' Attitude Helps College Student

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am writing this letter in the hope it will reach the thousands of parents whose children have gone off to college for the first time.

I am the registrar in a Midwestern coeducational college. I have seen dozens of students quit and go home because they were homesick. Other students equally homesick, have stuck it out and gone on to graduate.

The difference between these two groups is invariably the parents. It is amazing to me how many otherwise intelligent parents tell their kids who blubber on the phone about homesickness, "You don't have to stay if you don't want to. Come home."

ANN LANDERS

Then there are parents who write to their kids and tell them how much they miss them, how sick they've been and how hard up for money they are. Naturally the student who is not very enthusiastic about college in the first place is inclined to chuck everything and come home "for the sake of the folks."

Wise parents understand the value of a college education and do everything they can to help their children get that diploma. The student who is told, "This is a major challenge, stay there and meet it," will often do just that. The students who is permitted to throw in the towel and come home after a few weeks (or months) may well develop a defeatist approach to all of life's challenges. — JOHN W. HAUER, RAPID CITY, S.D.

DEAR JOHN: Thank you for superb letter. I have long suspected that parents who allow their kids to fold out of colleges within the first few weeks or months do so because they, the parents, are lonely and want the child at home. I hope your letter opens up a few thousands eyes around the country.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: One sentence from you will settle this argument.

Is it good taste to display cheques with the wedding gifts? I feel that it is not, since some of my less affluent relatives gave us rather modest cheques as compared to the well-heeled folks on my fiance's side whose cheques were downright staggering.

My parents feel it is spirit of the giver and not the size of the gift that counts. They say all cheques should be on display.

What is your last and final word on this? — BATTLE WEARY.

DEAR WEARY: There is no "last and final word." The answer is not part of the Bill of Rights, or the Magna Carta. I can only give you my opinion.

I think wedding cheques should be placed in sealed envelopes — with the names of the givers on the outside. Those who view the gifts will then be aware that Uncle Barney and Aunt Eleanor gave a gift but the size of the cheque will remain undisclosed.

Food for Casual Yule Party

By MARY MOORE

Clip-this now for Christmas Entertaining

In the cut-up chicken shop I noticed that the chicken wings were 25 cents per pound as were the giblets. I asked the clerk to pick me out fifteen of the largest wings and to weigh me a pound of giblets. I had an idea that they could be made into a big platterful of luscious-looking food for a casual Christmas party at low cost. I served them to five hearty diners last night and all agreed they rated column space.

MONDAY

Dinner Menu

CHICKEN WINGS FOR SWINGERS (serves 5)

15 large chicken wings
1 pound chicken giblets
2 packages "Shake 'n Bake"

NOTE: As you may know there is a plastic bag enclosed in the package of "Shake 'n Bake" - (from now on referred to as "S 'n B").

Add water to giblets to cover, bring to boil, reduce heat to simmer, put on lid and simmer 4 hours. Remove from liquid and dry them.

Butter a large shallow baking dish or your broiler pan. Shake chicken wings - one at a time - in crumb mixture in plastic bag, and place in even rows on baking pan. Sprinkle with a little salt. Bake at 400 deg. Fahr. for 30 minutes, covered with foil.

Meanwhile shake giblets in second package of "S 'n "B to completely coat. (NOTE: Use second sons of the second package to coat all wings well.)

After wings have baked 30 minutes line up coated giblets in a long row over wings at centre. Recover with foil and bake 10 minutes longer at 400 deg. Fahr. - 50-minutes in all - until deep gold. Transfer to preheated platter in perfect order and serve with red currant jelly.

NOTE: Tomorrow I will give you - in response to three requests - suggestions for a Grey Cup buffet meal. I believe that this finger food-Chicken Wings - should be given serious consideration for your Grey Cup Day buffet.

Points for Parents

By MARY BRYSON

Mother: "Tom is so touchy these days. If we mention grades he is up in arms. I guess we shouldn't even bring the subject up."

Father: "I wouldn't want him to think we don't love him just because he isn't a good student."

Mother: "We know that English is difficult for you — but your teacher says you get low grades because you don't complete your assignments or hand them in on time. You will have to drop some of your activities and spend more time on your home work."

Disapproval of a child's behavior is not rejection of the child, in fact, voicing the disapproval in a helpful way is evidence of parental love and concern.

Static and Dynamic Balancing of Wheels

By RAY STAPLEY

A reader writes: "I would be interested in your comments on the following points:

a) I am told that wheels may be balanced statically or dynamically. What are the pros and cons of each and the relative costs?

b) Can the above methods be used with the wheels either on or off the car? If so, which way is preferable?

c) If a wheel has been balanced on the car, is its balance affected if its position is changed?

d) To what extent are the wheels of a new car balanced at the factory?

e) Is a slight imbalance harmful to the front wheel bearings?"

Static balance is accomplished by removing the wheel from the car and placing it on a machine to see that the weight is evenly distributed around the centre of rotation.

Dynamic balancing is accomplished by spinning the wheel up to possibly 100 m.p.h. When the wheel is spun, imbalance results in minor to major dynamics, depending, of course, on the degree of imbalance. Then an ingenious piece of machinery locates the heavy spot on the wheel. Let's say that the top outer part of the sazembicy is 4 ounces heavier than the lower section. Then, 4 ounces of weight must be added to the bottom half to cancel out the imbalance. But there is a catch. If, for example the weight is added at the opposite point on the inside, it will not necessarily completely balance the wheel, particularly on wide wheels.

Most of us know that if we swing a piece of string between thumb and finger with a weight on the other end, the weight stays dead in line with the point where we grasp the string — our thumb and finger. So at higher speeds the weights on the sides of the wheel assembly are fighting madly to move back in to the centre of force to be in line with the centre of the wheel. Since they can't, vibrations occur. To avoid this condition the weights are sometimes split and perhaps 2 ounces are placed on both the inside and the outside of the wheel.

While there is much controversy by the experts, some preferring static, some dynamic balancing, and some both, I prefer balancing the whole wheel is spun, since a good mechanic can detect whether the imbalanced condition is static or dynamic and place his weights accordingly. Too, sometimes a tire can balloon out due to centrifugal forces at high speed, resulting in imbalance. This could not be detected unless the wheel is spinning. Cost of both static and dynamic balancing runs $2 to $2.50 per wheel, including weights.

A wheel's balance, dynamic or static, can be affected when wheels are rotated, the reason being that sometimes it is a brake drum that is the source of the imbalance.

Wheels, brake drums and tires usually are balanced at the factory, but remember, if you request optional white walls installed on a new car, be sure and ask to have these balanced.

As well as being harmful to the front wheel bearings, imbalance is extremely hard on the whole front suspension, including tire tread. I have actually seen unbalanced wheels bouncing off the road at high speeds. A 4-ounce imbalance works out to approximately 32 pounds of weight on the wheel assembly of a passenger car going 60 mph.

A reader writes:

"I seem every fall I have trouble with moisture freezing in my door locks, and sometimes in my trunk lock as well. I am a salesman and carry a good stock in my car, and recently I had to wait an hour before the garage man arrived to free up my frozen locks. Is there any way to avoid this?"

I think one of the last things most of us ever think about is lubricating the door locks. There are preparations available that are quite effective for the purpose. Sometimes heating the key (if you can find a way to do so) will do the trick for the moment when it is ice that is the problem.

I'll never forget a few years ago a nervous young fellow who called my garage wanting me to come and open his car doors. Freezing rain had formed ice in the key cylinder. I hurried over and found him shivering on the sidewalk in a panic. It seemed he was getting married and was due at the church in half an hour. Working with a piece of coat hanger I was able to catch the inside door handle and open the car for the trembling groom. Under the circumstances I charged the call up to goodwill and as a wedding present gave him a can of lock de-icer.

It's wise to remember, however, that lubricants and deicers must be sprayed in fairly frequently, especially in inclement weather. To merely buy a can and stick it in the glove box is not of much help when the door locks are frozen and you can't get at it.

SLICE SPORTS

By Geo. H. Carver
Sports Editor

The newsroom version of Alexander's Ragtime Band was in full-throated cry this morning. The teletypes were shocked into almost silence by stentorian yells, catcalls and "Oaks-Wa-Wa" the battle and victory howl of their beloved Tiger-Cats.

In the sorrowful hush of disappointment and the darkness of night in their respective dens, gazing at dainty chunks of cover through moisture-misted eyes.

"Not was a Cat dismayed; oh, the wild mare they made, loudly their tonsils brayed, valleyed and thundered."

Unhappy is the lot of an unpredictable predictor. Now resting in the garbage can is my casual forlorn one sawyer's forecast—one yegi book on "How to Pick 'Em and Never be Wrong" and one well-worn crystal ball.

Even Mushmouth rubs it in. He sends a note "Dear Boss: Enclosed is an old sign we've had around the Clam-and-Eel Cave for years. Hang it in your lair — and consult it often." The sign a sort of prayer reads: "Oh Lord When I Don't Know What I'm Talking About Please Help Me Keep My Big Mouth Shut."

One weeping Rider Buff sulked my shoulder with tears of disappointment, "Why did it have to be?" he sobbed. "Those dam Tiger Cats haven't any heart. It had to happen last game in a hundred years and what did they do?"

"They clobbered us, buddy, that's what they did. And they did it in good style. One crunky point every time around the shock but a shutout. Ah, woe is us."

But there's no sentiment in sport. Centennial Year or not those hungry striped tabbies from the limestone ridge lately merceries as long as a grandpappy elephant.

They hadn't forgotten that humiliating double-barrelled shellacking they received at the hands and feet of the Rough Riders last year in the conference playoffs.

They laughed at some of the eastern pundits belief that Ottawa was the best team in the land and would prove highly tasticible when the playoffs chips were down.

They proved in no small way that the prediction was a fallacy. And they did it the best way they knew how. On the football field.

And I imagine the defeat left a lot of the Ottawa faithful in a state of shock. On a brief safari to the capital last week I talked with a few of the hometown buffs and according to them there was nothing surer than death, taxes and an Ottawa entry in the Grey Cup classic.

Scatlaced-wise it does seem a bit of a shame that Ottawa won't be represented in the biggest hoof since the Quebec couriers-du-bois held their first convention there over 100 years ago.

But — and that rarping noise you hear is the rubbing of hands down Ottawa way —a million bucks will play a merry tune on the coin registers of Rytawa when the baggage here arrives for the week's cup festivities.

As has been noted staid Ottawa will let its hair down in a boisterous welcome to a roistering crowd. Elaborate preparations have been made and the capital city will rock and roll to the thunder of celebration.

And doing a lot of hair-dressing and other things — will be the largest football posse ever to come out of the West. Reigin said will be a ghost town on Cup week-end.

Bruins Lead Eastern Traffic Jam!

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Coach Toe Blake of Montreal Canadiens must be asking himself about now "what's a nice team like us doing in a place like this?"

As for Harry Sinden, his counterpart with Boston Bruins, the wonder of it all must be overwhelming.

For Canadiens, traditional terrors of the National Hockey League, today are tying in the Eastern Divisional cellar while Boston—everybody's also-ran for years—are up there on top.

Mired yes, it's crowded. Boston has 26 points, two ahead of Toronto. Then come New York Rangers, Detroit Red Wings and Chicago Black Hawks, with 21 each. Montreal has 20.

Philadelphia Flyers are on top with 34 points, one ahead of Los Angeles Kings. Pittsburgh Penguins have 19, Minnesota North Stars 14 with a one-point edge on Oakland Seals while St. Louis trail with 10.

On Saturday the action went this way: Boston 3, Montreal 1; Toronto 3, Detroit 2; Chicago 4, Minnesota 1; Philadelphia 2, St. Louis 1; Pittsburgh 2, Oakland 2.

Sunday, New York blanked St. Louis 1-0 while Philadelphia demolished Los Angeles 7-2 and Boston took Detroit 7-5; Chicago edged Minnesota 2-1.

Bobby Rousseau put Montreal ahead 1-0 in the Saturday game with Boston, but Phil Esposito, Ken Hodge and John McKenzie struck back.

McKenzie scored three against Detroit on Sunday as the Bruins twice blew three-goal leads. Tommy Williams, Eddie Shack, Fred Stanfield and Bobby Orr got the others before a sell-out crowd of 13,908—Boston's 10th full house in 11 home games. Paul Henderson, Norm Ullman, Dean Prentice and Floyd Smith scored for Detroit.

Goals by Art Stratton and Bob Dillabough for the Penguins were matched by those of Tom Thurlby and Alain Caron for the Seals in their 2-2 tie.

The injury was diagnosed as bruise and Bauman was not taken to hospital.

Cesare Maniago took over and had no chance on Doug Mohns' two power-play goals; Dave Balon saved the Stars from a shutout.

And it was a bad night for goaltenders in Philadelphia on Sunday. Flyers galloped to a 5-0 lead over the Kings by 11: 17 of the second period and coach Red Kelly yanked rookie Wayne Rutledge in favor of Terry Sawchuk.

Two goalies who have been around a long time—but both of them rookies in the NHL—featured the New York-St. Louis game Sunday.

Gilles Villemure earned his first big-league shutout when Blues' Seth Martin fanned on Phil Goyette's backhand with only four minutes left to play.

Aces Hold Point Lead!

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Traffic at the top of the Ontario Hockey Association Senior series remained snarled after weekend activity which saw the three leading teams record defeat goal victories.

John Mercer scored a sudden-death overtime goal as Kingston Aces defeated Oakville Oaks in Saturday to retain their precarious league lead.

The Aces have 24 points from 18 games, but that looks shaky because Guelph Royals have 23 points from 13 games and Tuesday night they play cellar-dwelling Orillia which has won only three games all season.

Oakville is in the leadership race are Collingwood Kings who have 21 points from 15 games.

In other Saturday action, the Hornets snapped a five-game Toronto Marlboro winning steak with a 3-2 victory before 2,222 fans in Galt.

Sunday, Collingwood handed Oakville Oaks their first home defeat, 3-2, to move three points ahead of Marlboros.

Mercer's overtime goal for Kingston was his second of the night with single goals going in Bob Olajos, Tom Carly and Ron Earl. Olajos' goal tied the game with less than two minutes remaining and paved the way for Mercer's heroics.

Barrie Flyers scored five goals in the second period Sunday and defeated Woodstock 6-4 while moving into sixth place in the league.

Corby Adams scored three times for Barrie and Barry Jacks, Al Stitt and Dave Nicholsben added one each. Bobby Robinson was Woodstock's standout, scoring twice and picking up assists on linemates Dave Dei Pappa's two goals.

Habs Nudge Flyers

By TH ECANADIAN PRESS

The hoverman is still going for Niagara Falls Flyers in the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A series, but Montreal Junior Canadiens are trying to crash the party.

The Canadiens downed Kitchener Rangers 7-3 Sunday night to move into second place in the series with 22 points, six back of the first - place Flyers. But Niagara Falls has two games in hand.

In other weekend action, Toronto Marlboros downed Oshawa Generals 7-4 Saturday and 12-4 Sunday, St. Catharines Black Hawks edged Peterborough Peter 5-4 in the other Sunday game.

The Marlies back-to-back victories moved them into a tie for third place with Kitchener Rangers. Both have 22 points.

Varsity Whips Redmen

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

University of Toronto Blues, the power of the Ontario - Quebec Athletic Association hockey league, rolled to their second easy win in two days Saturday, whipping McGill Redmen 7-1.

The win followed Friday's 11-3 thrashing of Laval Rouge et Or in Quebec City.

Saturday's game was in doubt only until 1:08 of the first period when the Blues scored their first goal, from then it was a matter of how high the score would be.

Bob McClelland and Gord Cunningham scored two goals each for the Blues—the former had two on Friday—with singles goals scored by Peter Speyer, Ward Passi and Doug Jones.

John Tibbits scored for McGill.

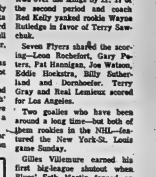
Meanwhile, University of Montreal Carabins defeated Guelph Cryptona 7-2 in Guelph Saturday, bringing their season record to 1-1.

N.H.L. Scoring Leaders

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Johnny Bucyk of Boston Bruins is moving closer to first-place Bobby Hull in the National Hockey League scoring race.

Bucyk picked up five assists in two weekend games to bring his season total to 34 points on 11 goals and 13 assists. Hull, Chicago Black Hawks' scoring ace, has 27 points on 13 goals and nine assists.



Two other Boston players, Fred Stanfield and Johnny McKenzie, are tied for third place with 23 points apiece. Stanfield and McKenzie each picked up four points Sunday night as the Bruins whipped Detroit Red Wings 7-5.

Tie East Germany

EAST BERLIN (CP-Reuters) — Canada and East Germany tied 3-3 in an international exhibition hockey game Sunday night.

The second section of Canada's national team had taken a 3-2 lead on two goals by right winger Ken Laidlaw of Ottawa and one by centre Bob Goring of Winnipeg. But Ulrich Noak slammed home a tally from the blue line in the last minute of play to give the East Germans the tie.

The 22-year-old Laidlaw, a student at the University of Ottawa, scored Canada's first goal in the last minute of the first period to give Canada a 1-0 lead. Diotmar Peters tied it up in the first minute of the second period.

Goring and Laidlaw scored for Canada before Lothar Fuchs got East Germany's second goal, leaving the Canadians with a 3-2 edge at the end of the second period.

A sell-out crowd of 5,000 watched as both sides tried vainly to score in the third period until Noack badged home his tally in the dying moments to rob the Canadians of a win in their first of two games in East Germany.

Sport Miniatures

RIVERSIDE, Calif. (Reuters) — American Dan Gurney raced into the lead in the final lap to win the Rex Mays 300-mile championship car race Sunday.

A. J. Foyt, confirmed in fifth place following a protest, won the U.S. national driving championship with 3,400 points gained during the entire season.

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Minnesota North Stars of the National Hockey League Sunday called up Andre Pronovost, a veteran of eight seasons in the NHL from their Memphis farm team in the Central Hockey League.

Revenge-Seeking Ti-Cats Tucked Victory Away Early In Game

HAMILTON (CP) — The name of the game was revenge Saturday as Hamilton Tiger-Cats battered Ottawa Rough Riders 26-0 in the second half of the Eastern Football Conference final.

The win gave Hamilton a 37-3 victory in the two-game, total-point playoff and stoned for last season, when the Riders flattened Hamilton 72-17 to win the trip to the Grey Cup.

Ottawa bowed 29-14 to Saskatchewan last season and the Tiger-Cats will meet the same club in the national final this season. Saskatchewan defeated Calgary 17-13 to win the Western title Sunday.

Hamilton entered Saturday's game with an 11-3 margin gained at Ottawa six days before and two long passes wrapped up the championship within the first six minutes.

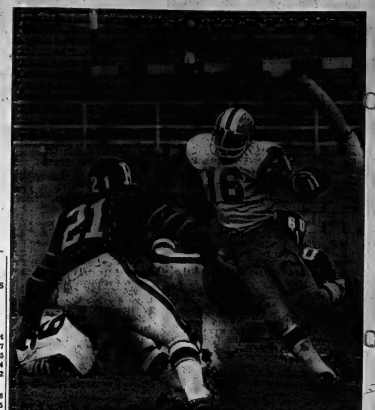
On the first pass, Tommy Joe Coffey went deep over centre for Joe Zuger's heave and ended with a 38-yard gain that moved the Ticats from deep in their own end. Ottawa's momentum, dissipated by Coffey's move, disappeared entirely when Barrie Hansen intercepted an Ottawa pass and returned 33 yards to the Ottawa 32.

Zuger, on the next play, found Dave Fleming with a 32-yard touchdown toss that put Hamilton beyond Ottawa's reach.

Fleming, in his best game of the season, combined with Zuger for a 60-yard touchdown in the second quarter and Bill Redell threw to Tommy Grant in the final minute for Hamilton's final touchdown. Zuger punted for three singles and Coffey contributed the remaining points on three converts and two singles.

A vicious defensive display gave the vaunted Ottawa offence neither time nor space to operate. Ottawa quarterback Russ Jackson was dumped four times for losses by the front four of John Barrow, Angelo Mosca, Billy Ray Locklin and Dave Vill on pass attempts alone.

After the first half, in which Hamilton constructed a lead of 18-0 on the game and 29-3 on the round, the game acquired many of the ingredients of a tong war.



The Riders were thoroughly battered by the end of the game. Halfback Don Gilbert entered the game with a damaged ankle and left early for repairs. Wayne Giardino, who filled in for Gilbert, also took a pounding.

Perhaps the worst thumping was absorbed by Ottawa punter Bill Cline, whose second-quarter fumble of a Zuger punt led to Coffey's first of two wide field goal attempts for singles. Cline, operating on a knee that has not been sound since about midway through the season, was bounced several times on punt returns.

Zuger suffered the only noticeable injury for Hamilton when he left the game in the fourth quarter with his nose smashed. He left to a thunderous ovation from 21,245 fans and was carried off the field by spectators after the game.

Zuger's departure enabled Redell to add to Ottawa's discomfort. On his first offensive play, he ran for 26 yards. On the second play, he sent Ed Turek for 23 yards. Coffey then settled for a single from the 29-yard line.

Less than two minutes later, Redell hit Grant with a 25-yarder that simply confirmed what Ottawa had demonstrated all day—the Riders were just not good enough.

Colts Still Unbeaten

Packers Roll By Bears; Sew Up Title

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Green Bay's burial brigade has made an early killing in the National Football League's Central Division.

But, if you ask Packer pundit Vince Lombardi, Chicago's Papa Bear is a lively corpse.

Lombardi lauded George Halas, Chicago's 72-year-old owner-coach, Sunday after the Packers nailed down the Central Division title with a 17-13 victory Sunday over the rugged Bears.

"Get this straight: He's an old man but he's a great man," Lombardi told reporters in Chicago where stories had been written suggesting Halas step down after 40 years as the Bears' pilot.

"The Bears are a great club, and I'm glad we clinched it against them."

While the Packers' hard-earned victory gave them an insurmountable 3½-game lead in the Central Division, idle Dallas Cowboys closed in on the Capitol Division title, Cleveland Browns clung to the Century lead and unbeaten Baltimore Colts regained its one-game edge in the Coastal race.

New York Giants flattened Philadelphia 44-7, dropping the Eagles three games off Dallas' Capitol pace with three games remaining. The Browns outscored Washington Redskins 42-37 to remain one game ahead of New York in the Century scramble. The Colts moved one game up on idle Los Angeles in the Coastal standings by trimming San Francisco 49ers 26-9 for a 9-0-2 mark.

Minnesota Vikings downed Pittsburgh Steelers 41-27 and New Orleans Saints edged Atlanta Falcons 27-24 in other NFL games Sunday.

In American Football League play, Houston Oilers kept its Eastern Division hopes alive with a 27-6 victory over Boston Patriots and Miami Dolphins upended Buffalo Bills 17-14.

Green Bay's defending NFL champions capitalized on Dave Robinson's pass interception and Travis Williams' 60-yard kickoff return for two first-half touchdowns, added a third quarter field goal by Don Chandler and then held off the Bears for their eighth victory against two losses and one tie. The second-place Bears are 5-6.

Upset Purdue

Hoosiers Make Rose Bowl

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Indiana Hoosiers won an invitation to the Rose Bowl Saturday with a stunning 19-14 upset over third-ranked Purdue.

The upset lifted the Hoosiers into a three-way tie with Purdue and Minnesota for the Big Ten conference title with a 6-1 record. Minnesota tied with a 21-14 victory over lowly Wisconsin.

Because Purdue went to the bowl last year, Minnesota went in 1962 and Indiana has never made the trip, the Hoosiers were picked to represent the conference on New Year's Day.

But they can expect no waltz with top-ranked Southern California. The Pacific-Eight conference representative that is certain to be a heavy favorite.

The rest of the bowl lineup was filled Saturday night when Florida State was picked for the Gator Bowl after whipping rival Florida 21-16, idle North Carolina State got the invitation to the Liberty Bowl and the University of Texas at El Paso won a Sun Bowl bid by stopping Utah 28-8. Florida State will play Dec. 30 in Jacksonville, Fla., against Penn State, which slaughtered Pittsburgh 42-8, and North Carolina State travels to Memphis, Tenn., Dec. 16 for a clash with Georgia, a 21-14 victor over Georgia Tech.

Fish and Game Presents "Buck" Awards Tuesday

Tuesday night should be a big night for the deer-hunting members of the Belleville Fish and Game Club.

It is the annual night for tall hunting stories and the presentation of awards to winners of the Big Buck Contest.

The meeting, as usual, is slated for the Club Canara starting at eight o'clock.

It is reported several entries have been submitted to the Buck Contest. The winner receives $25.00, the second place $15.00.

A number of interesting motion picture films will be shown and the usual big prize and door awards presented.

Members are urged to attend.

SAN JUAN, P.R. (AP) — Chuck Courtney stood off a tremendous finish by veteran Art Wall Sunday, shot a conservative par-72 and won the Puerto Rican open golf tournament with a 72-hole total of 280.

Wall, seven strokes back going into the final round, fired a five-under-par 67, matching the record of the Dorado Hilton Hotel and Country Club course. He was two strokes back at 282, Jerry Pittman took third with a 70 for 284 and Fred Baird fourth with a 70 for 285.

Wilf Homenuk of Winnipeg finished at 292 on rounds of 71-71-73—77 to tie with Juan Gonzalez for 13th place and win $375.

Tip To Sheriff Sazio; Roughrider Reed, Posse Headed Thisaway

CALGARY (CP) — A word of warning for Hamilton Tiger-Cats; Saskatchewan Roughriders are heading your way with two teams—George Reed and everybody else.

Saskatchewan won the right to represent the West in the Grey Cup game in Ottawa Dec. 2 when they tripped Calgary Stampeders 17-13 in the third game of the best-of-three conference final Sunday.

Hamilton clobbered Ottawa Rough Riders 26-0 Saturday to become the eastern representatives on the basis of a 37-5 score on the two-game total-point final.

Reed is a linebacker who some genius turned into a fullback in 1963. Sunday, he carried 31 times for 201 yards, nearly twice the yardage that Calgary rolled up passing and running. It's a feat he has pulled before—in the 1966 Grey Cup game against Ottawa in Vancouver Reed surpassed the total Ottawa ground yardage all by himself.

This year, Roughriders dropped the first game of the western final 15-11, but came back to take the second game 11-9.

It was that second game that scuttled whatever hopes Calgary had when Terry Evanshen, the phenomenal flanker who was voted Canada's player of the year, broke a leg.

Of Reed's Sunday performance, coach Eagle Keys said:

"George has never run any better. He was not getting the holes—he was finding them."

Ron Lancaster, the scrambling quarterback for the defending Grey Cup Roughriders, had little trouble picking apart Calgary's defence with his passing.

He hit Jim Carphin in the first quarter and Gord Barwell in the second with touchdown runs. Jack Abendschan converted both and kicked an 18-yard field goal.

Peter Liske, the Toronto Argonauts cast-off who went on to set a hatful of passing records with Calgary, threw touchdown passes to Lavell Coleman and Bob McCarthy. Bill Goods converted McCarthy's touchdown.

There were 31,238 screaming fans in the stands and while halfback Ed Buchanan complained about the noise, Lancaster said it didn't bother him:

"I've had worse games here. We missed some audibles, but after we got the two touchdowns the noise died down."

Calgary's first touchdown came in the second quarter and was set up after Dick Suderman blocked and recovered an Al Ford punt on the Saskatchewan 36-yard line. The second came when Ford fumbled a snap on a punt attempt late in the game.

"We just knew we could beat them," Lancaster said after the game.

"It's the first time in Calgary we've had Stampeders on the run. We had control throughout the game."

It took Saskatchewan only three plays to score the first time they got the ball. Lancaster hit Barwell with a 49-yard pass and a Calgary four-yard line. Reed got nowhere, then Lancaster found Carphin all alone in the end zone.

Reed set up the second Saskatchewan touchdown in the second quarter with a 21-yard run. It paid off when Barwell got behind defender halfback Bill Gaskins in the end zone to get liner in the ball.

Saskatchewan led 7-0 at the quarter, 14-6 at the half and was ahead 17-6 going into the last 15 minutes.

Big Scores Feature Int. Games

Readers will be forgiven if they mistake yesterday's OHA Intermediate Hockey League scores for National Basketball League results.

CFB Flyers of Trenton walked into Tweed and trounced Belleville Oil Kings 13-3 while Picton Merchants hammered Campbellford, in Picton, 14-5.

Picton continues the rule as class of the grouping with an undefeated record. Belleville visits Picton for a 8:30 game Tuesday.

The Merchants led 4-2 and 9-3 by periods while outshooting Campbellford 56-43. Larry "Pocket" Pyes scored three goals in just over four minutes and "Moe" Hunter also collected the hat trick in pacing Picton's easy win. Jim Guernsey, James and Carl Searcy added two goals each, Syd Faulkner and George Jacklin the others.

After taking a 2-0 lead in the first period, CFB made it 7-2 in the second and outshot Oil Kings 38-23 for their second win in a row over Belleville.

The Flyers' goals were passed out in pairs as Gilben, Joe St. Pierre, Peterson, Shepherd, Lalibeite and Mc. Vicar each scored twice and Toupin got the odd one.

Brothers Get 15 Goals In Two Games

The Centre Hastings Hockey League's Ivanhoe Knights are missing a good bet by not changing their team name to the "Brothers".

Ivanhoe trounced Cloyne Blazers 10-3 and dumped Stirling 8-3 in two of their week-end games - and brother combinations scored 15 of the 16 goals. Ivanhoe leads the league with 12 points and Bata has eight. Both teams are unbeaten.

Against Cloyne, Jack Francis scored three, Ralph and Gene Francis two each, Bob Jerry and Richard Chapman isners. Eldon Gray, Eldon Ferguson and Gary McLuckie scored for Cloyne.

Ralph Francis potted three goals and Jack added two more against Stirling. Jim Thain was the club "spoil-sport" with the Knights' other goal. Glenn Spencer, Dave Potts and Barry Turpin were Stirling marksmen.

In other games, Foxboro shaded Frankford 3-2 as Dennis Ray's second goal of the game snapped a third - period tie. John Hill also scored for the winners. Allen Partington and Glen Houlden were Frankford scorers.

Cloyne bounced back to double the score on Frankford Sunday, 8-4, Clayton Whitman fired three goals and Gary McLuckie bagged two. Eldon Gray, Eldon Ferguson and Ray Darrah also scored. Bob and Bill Chesher, Glen Houlden and Ivan Smith had Frankford tallies.

Girls Hockey

Two of three scheduled games were played in the Quinte Women's Hockey League, in Picton, Saturday night.

Picton McParlands defeated Belleville Barriage Landscapers 5-1 while South Shore Rockets banded Belleville Hills Printers their second shutout in as many games 2-0.

Picton Lumber and 6 R.D. were scheduled to play in the other game but for the third consecutive time, 6 R.D. failed to appear.

Young Miss Jennie Gerow, the Maxs' import star from Napanee, again led Picton to victory over Barriages by scoring three goals. Aquino and Backrall added the other goals. Jerri Rushlow scored Belleville's goal.

College Title
Bears Nip Marauders

TORONTO (CP) — McMaster University Marauders were within the goalpost shadows, a step away from the Canadian intercollegiate football title.

Quarterback Dick Waring rallied a roll-out pattern pass play, the ball ended up in the arms of John Wilson of the University of...Alberta and the Golden Bears won the game and the title 10-9 Saturday before about 9,250 fans at Varsity Stadium.

The play came with less than a minute remaining the Maurauders at the Alberta 15-yard line, directly in front of the goalpost.

The Westerners ran out the clock to nail down the first Canadian intercollegiate football final sanctioned by the Canadian intercollegiate Athletic Union.

YMCA Basketball

Quick passes, fast breaks and excellent ball handling were the main attraction in a recent boys' basketball game between two Y.M.C.A. community program groups. A team from Prince Charles school outbuelled a team from Sir Mackenzie Bowell school 30-25.

Both teams exhibited excellent play marked ability. Prince Charles took an early 13-8 scoring lead but Sir Mackenzie rallied and closed to within a single point 26-25. Their rally fell short and Prince Charles took the win 30-25.

High scorers for the winners were Ged Forrester with 17 points, followed by Mike Kavanaugh (6), Stephen Hedge (5), and Joey Carroll (2).

For the losers Danny Sandford was their big gun with 15 points, followed closely by John Empson (8) and Neal MacLeod (2).

Both teams are of boys in the Y.M.C.A. West Hill program and are coached by Mr. Bob Cronsey who would welcome any interested boys 8-12 years old, Tuesday at Prince Charles, on Thursday at Sir Mackenzie Bowell at 5.00 p.m.

"Northern" Hockey Under Way

The Northern Electric Interdepartmental Hockey League opened its schedule on Sunday with Comets whipping Generals 11-1 and Crawford's Terrys topping Crazyiegs 7-2.

Comets were led by Charlie Scott with a big seven-point performance on three goals and four assists. Ron Hutchinson had two and one, Ted Ford two goals, Steve Hatfield one and four, Steve Barak one and two, Ron Smith one of each and Bob Doyle the other goal. Mike Rivers scored for Generals.

Rick Rosebush sparked the Terrors with three goals and as many assists. Kevin Allen had two and two and Randy Longhurst the other two goals. Mark Aquadredo potted both Crazylegs markers.

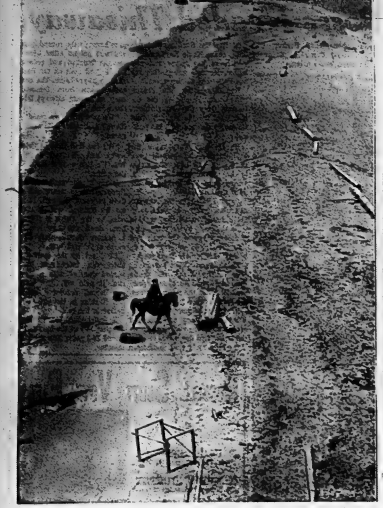
*Nylon Cord

NOW MADE WITH POLYESTER

The Miracle Tire Cord

Nearly two years ago, Canadian Tire introduced Polyester miracle-cord in their high performance summer tires. Come spring, most major rubber companies are expected to follow with Polyester in their more profitable summer tires. Right now, a year ahead of most others, as usual, another exclusive for Canadian Tire. Polyester Winter Tires . . . here RIGHT NOW!



If you ever experienced the sheer delight of being behind the wheel of an automobile equipped with "Hiway-Byway" winter tires, you have doubtless told others about the fun of bulldoning through drifts and wheeling past cars struggling for traction. You've also taken for granted the confidence of being master on ice and hard-pack snow. Now with better-than-ever Polyester "Hiway Byways" you'll get more miles and an incredibly smoother ride — more like summer tires — be it at 7 or 70 mph. "Morning Glory", even on the stiffest cold mornings, will be a thing of the past. Initially of course, Polyesters do cost more; but,you'll soon agree they're worth every penny of it.

Maritime Premiers' Aim Is End to Disparities

TORONTO (CP) — Canada's Maritime premiers will be unanimous on more than one issue when they enter the Confederation of Tomorrow Conference today.

Foremost in their minds will be ending in Canada's second century the "glaring disparities" that exist among the provinces.

More specifically, they want to close the wage gap between East Coast provinces and other areas of Canada and have more money funnelled into the region from the federal treasury.

Premiers Louis J. Robichaud of New Brunswick, G. I. Smith of Nova Scotia and Alex Campbell of Prince Edward Island said they would present this united front following their annual meeting Saturday.

The meeting was intended as one of Atlantic premiers, but Premier Joseph Smallwood of Newfoundland neither attended nor sent a representative.

Mr. Smallwood, who had been in Europe, checked into the hotel at which the meeting was held less than two hours after it ended. He could not be reached for comment.

The Maritime premiers said in a joint statement following the meeting that Confederation is faced with crucial problems, despite its great success.

"Unless these problems are satisfactorily solved, Canada may not match in its second century the performance of its first 100 years," they said.

"One of the dominant problems of Confederation today is that within our political union there are glaring disparities in levels and standards of services and development among the 10 provinces.

"In many areas of Canada, Confederation has not provided Canadians with sufficient means to achieve economic and social freedom."

The premiers said the Atlantic region has not shared fully in the growth of the Canadian economy and its "concurrent political and social evolution."

Federal government action to fight inflation is another area in which the three premiers agree. They plan to issue a special statement to the conference urging that anti-inflationary restraint measures be selective so they will not check or destroy the growth impetus of the Atlantic Provinces.

Possible political and economic union of the Maritime Provinces came under discussion and Premier Campbell told a news conference that Prince Edward Island is ready to join her neighbors in studying a merger.

The Nova Scotia and New Brunswick legislatures passed resolutions several months ago to set up a commission to study the matter but have been unable to find a suitable chairman.

Premier Robichaud, chairman of the meeting, said Premier Smith intends to ask a "very prominent Canadian" to accept the post, but the name of the person was not disclosed.

Newfoundland is not interested in studying possible union with the Maritimes, the New Brunswick premier said, because its problems, "geographical and otherwise, are different than ours."

The premiers decided to hold further inter-provincial meetings on medical care before implementation of the proposed federal scheme next July 1.

They said the plan involved "financial and administrative" problems and felt the majority of the provinces are "hesitant" towards the scheme.

Historical Body Plans Fund Raising Event

NAPANEE — The Lennox and Addington Historical Society is embarking on a fund raising venture December 1. That day at 10.00 a.m., they will open the doors of the former "Ten to a Dollar" store on Dundas St., and will hold a combined bake and rummage sale, and some of the used articles will be genuine antiques.

Restoration of the Macpherson House has been a costly venture, and would have been out of the question had there not been so much volunteer work accomplished by a handful of devoted people. Napanee began to reap the benefit this summer, once the house was opened to the public when only three rooms had been put into a semi-finished condition. Visitors came from many parts of the country, from other parts of Canada and the United States, and even a few from Europe who stopped off to see Napanee's tourist attraction.

Much remains to be done, although work will progress more rapidly now that the building is heated. Money will always be needed for maintenance, even after the last stick of furniture is in place. The sale December 1 is the latest endeavor of the Historical Society to raise some of that money.

Nasser's Speech Softened

CAIRO (AP) — Egyptian officials attempted Sunday to dilute the tone of a speech by President Gamal Abdel Nasser in which he threatened to fight Israel again if lost Arab territories were not returned.

A government spokesman, Mohamed Hassan el Zayyat, called a press conference Sunday to say that some parts of the speech were read out of context and that in other parts there was faulty translation by the Egyptian government's own translation service.

White Elephant Store Group Holds Meet

DESERONTO — Last Wednesday evening, members of the White Elephant Store committee and staff, town officials, and those who had been active in promoting Centennial Park, met in the Presbyterian Church of the Redeemer, to review the summer's work over a potluck supper. The event was arranged by the White Elephant Store committee, composed of representatives from all churches in the town.

Following the supper Mayor Gerald Lott spoke on behalf of the community, voicing his appreciation of the whole-hearted support given by organizations and people in all walks of life and all ages. Bert Lloyd, chairman of the parks' committee, while expressing his pride and satisfaction in what had already been accomplished, warned that they were only at the half-way mark. Much of the work of establishing the park has been done, but much remains unfinished, the trailer camp, for example. There will always be the question of maintenance.

A short program was presented with each church giving a number.

The store will be re-opened in the spring.

COLLISION BLOCKS CANAL

THOROLD, Ont. (CP) — Shipping in the Welland Canal was tied up for almost 16 hours Saturday and Sunday after 645-foot freighter Atlantic Hope collided with a lock boom. There was no damage to the ship.

Farm Income Reduced by Higher Costs

OTTAWA (CP) — Canadian farmers will produce more in 1968 than they did in 1967, but higher operating costs will leave them with about the same net income.

The move to fewer farms, but larger and more mechanized, will continue. Higher wages and better fringe benefits for agricultural workers has halted, at least temporarily, the drift of manpower from the land.

These trends were outlined in a federal review at the annual federal-provincial agricultural outlook conference which opened in Ottawa today. There were 300 delegates.

Canadian farm production in 1967 will be down 15 per cent from last year due primarily to the drought that reduced western grain output.

"Total cash receipts for farm products in 1967 are expected to reach $4,600,000, a slight increase from the 1966 total of $4,300,000,000. But higher costs will leave the farmer with a net income of $1,600,000,000 compared with almost $2,000,000,000 in 1966.

The outlook for 1968 is higher total income resulting from larger wheat board payments, a strong demand for tobacco, higher prices for dairy and poultry products and a continuing good market for meat.

Farm expenses are expected to continue to rise as they have in the past, however, so realized net income may be about equal to 1967.

The importance of oilseeds in Canadian farm exports is increasing and accounted for six per cent of 1966 agricultural exports. Wheat made up over half of the $1,800,000,000 worth of agricultural exports last year.

While agricultural exports are continuing to rise, they are declining in proportion to total Canadian exports.

The Kennedy Round negotiations which reduced tariffs, established a new International Grains Agreement and a new anti-dumping code, provide a favorable climate for exports.

While the total number of farms in Canada has been decreasing, the number and size of commercial farms with annual sales over $15,000 has increased dramatically.

Public Speaking Winners Entertained by Legion

For the last few years the Royal Canadian Legion at Belleville have been sponsoring public speaking among the schools, both public separate and secondary, at Belleville and throughout the district. Comrade Harold Vaughan of the Belleville Branch and a teacher at Centennial Secondary School has had the chairmanship of this important committee and has accomplished a great deal with the children of the area. The 1967 project was culminated on Wednesday evening when a complimentary banquet was provided to the winners, their parents, Legion members and their wives, members of the Women's Branch, 527 and ladies' auxiliary members. Comrade Harold Vaughan presided at the head table and introduced Comrade Jack Rashotte and Mrs. Rashotte, Comrade Rashotte was the Immediate past Zone Commander and was representing Comrade Earl Brunt, Zone Commander for Zone 3-district "F" Comrade Janet MacDonald representing Fhay Wills Br. 397, and Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Alyea and their young son. Mrs. Janet MacDonald presented the Royal Canadian Legion Public Speaking certificates to the successful boys and girls and are as follows:

"BRANCH LEVEL"

Group I — grade 7-8. Catherine Kidd, Bayside School; group III — grade 9-10. Holly Walker, Quinte Secondary School; group IV — grade 11-12-13, Les. Lafferty, B.C.I. and V.S.

"ZONE LEVEL"

Group I — Heather Oaks, Ameliasburgh School; group II — Catherine Kidd, Bayside School; group III — Paul Easton, Bancroft Secondary School; group IV — Lorraine Elliott, Tweed Secondary School.

"DISTRICT LEVEL"

Group II — Catherine Kidd, Bayside School.

The following were the judges for the project; Comrade Ken Ross, local barrister, Belleville, Kenneth Bailey, teacher Quinte Secondary School and Gary Thomas teacher, Centennial school. Mr. Ross spoke briefly giving the contestants a few pointers and he hoped that the children would put them to use at future contests and that they would even go to higher awards and probably win the Provincial championship in public speaking. Comrade Jack Rashotte, district public speaking chairman, announced that the Royal Canadian Legion has expended some $42,000.00 in public speaking for 1967 in the Province of Ontario and stated that this is money well spent in trying to make our young citizens successful in coming years.

The speaker for the evening Mr. Gordon Alyea, Rossmore, gave a very interesting talk on Rocks, Gems and Minerals. He is a member of the Gems and Minerals Club of Belleville and a former president of this organization. The speaker he had on display came mostly from Hastings County and had a few from other parts of the world. We were informed that he has a very fine display at his home at Rossmore and that there are quite a number of "Rock Hounds" in the Belleville District.

Any one in the area who is interested in a hobby of this sort, should contact Mr. Alyea at Rossmore. A question and answer period followed his talk and quite a number of questions were asked. Mr. Vaughan extended to Mr. Alyea the thanks of the Legion and those present for, this very informative address. Comrade Don Ridley presided at the piano for the sing song.

A hearty vote of thanks was extended to Mrs. Dorothy Rashotte and Mrs. Hope Begley for the very fine dinner supplied by the Ladies Auxiliary, in their usual splendid way. The next public speaking contest will be held early next spring and it is hoped that many more contestants will take part in this worthwhile project.

Lisbon Floods Kill 250

LISBON (AP) — Grieving Portuguese buried their dead and dug away today at the muck and mire left by heavy weekend rains and floods that killed more than 250 persons and destroyed thousands of dwellings in heavily-populated Lisbon and surrounding villages.

Hundreds more were injured, and many are missing under tons of debris and mud. Mudcake bodies were still being recovered in slums of Lisbon's suburbs and nearby villages.

The poor, living in flimsily constructed dwellings, suffered most. As the downpour collapsed house after house, there were relatively few casualties in better-built buildings.

Most of the dead and injured were in the low-lying Lisbon suburb of Odivelas, where more than 60 bodies had been counted by sundown Sunday, and in the village of Quintas, about 30 miles north of Lisbon, where more than 80 were reported dead.

Interior Minister Alfredo Rodrigues dos Santos said "approximately 250" were dead but indicated the final toll was expected to be much higher. He directed municipal officials to bury the dead quickly because of the danger of disease and infection.

Residents of the affected area were warned to boil water before drinking it. There were reports health authorities would conduct a vaccination campaign against typhus.

A dike broke in Odivelas, sending water gushing through the small town. The swirling torrents crumbled houses and swept up people, pets, livestock, automobiles and debris of all kinds.

Minor Hockey

Following are pewee and bantam results from Saturday's BMHA schedule.

PEEWEE

Pirates nipped Bisons 3-2 with Menard scoring two, G. Hamilton the other and Mancebo assisting on all three. Bateman was the standout for Bisons' goals, Meisz and Belanger assists.

H. Meens had two goals and an assist as Amerks topped Barons 3-2. Holway scored the other goal with Masterson assisting on one each, Wallace on one.

Hornets and Amerks tied 4-4. B. McCreary, J. Gervis, A. Whitney and D. Gay scored for Hornets, B. Hooper, J. Hawkins and Garvin assisting. Amerks' marksmen were J. Sprecket, J. Dunnigan, J. Chapman and G. Ellis. Callaghan, Brett, Parmakesian, Donovan and Vanderbeek had assists.

Wings defeated Dukes 4-1 as Dales scored two, Clairmont and Lepore the others. Burnett had assists, Buchanan on one. Mayes was the Dukes' scorer, aided by S. Empey.

A last-gasp goal, one-assist effort by S. Farrell paced Leafs to a 7-6 win over Canadiens. D. Jones and D. Sandor each had a goal and three assists, W. Andrews a goal and Burley's helper. Reid notched both Canadiens goals, Bourgaw helping each time and Ford once.

Rangers doubled the score against Bruins, 6-3. Richardson fired three goals, Joudrey two and Connor one. Hiscox had two assists, Cook, Cochrane and McDowell losers. Brain goals were by Harrington, Boardman and McKenna with Walt helping on one.

Whitby Rink Wins 3 In Row

WHITBY, Ont. (CP) — Bill LeGrow, president of Whitby Curling Club, Saturday led his rink to three consecutive wins in the third week of the Ontario bonspiel to qualify for the first event finals in the month-long provincial curling invitational bonspiel next Saturday.

LeGrow, a secondary school principal and chairman of the second annual Ontario bonspiel, won a cliff-hanger over Toronto Avon Lea's Gerry Robert, 8-8 in an extra end.

Giles said he had been informed six cities are interested in expansion but none of their presentations would be heard during these meetings.

26 CONVICTED

SALONIKA (AP) — A military court Saturday convicted 26 persons of plotting to assassinate the civilian premier in Greece's military dictatorship, Constantine Kollias. Two defendants received life sentences. The five-member tribunal handed down the stiffest penalties of any of the six mass trials held in Greece since the army takeover last April 21.

Bisons Close In On Barons

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

When Camille Henry gets a shot on goal in the American Hockey League, he doesn't fool around.

The nimble little centre, who once played nine years with New York Rangers of the National Hockey League, scored on his first two shots Sunday to pace Buffalo Bisons to a 5-2 triumph over Cleveland Barons in the Roadrunners of the Western Hockey League.

It was the Roadrunners' second defeat at their eastern swing and moved Buffalo within three points of first-place Cleveland Barons in the AHL's Western Division.

Fred Revoll, who have 22 points on an 11-6-1 record, were surprised 8-2 by Providence Reds, last-place club in the Eastern Division.

In other Sunday games, Baltimore Clippers and Quebec Aces played to a 7-7 draw and Rochester Americans downed Springfield Kings 4-1.

OMHA Teams Five-for-Five

Belleville minor hockey teams chalked up a clean sweep of OMHA league and exhibition games over the weekend.

The high-flying Kinsmen bantams, who nipped Peterborough 4-3 in an exhibition last Friday, won their seventh straight, 3-1, over Gananoque in OMHA action Sunday.

In other scheduled games, Novice All-Stars whipped Picton 10-2, Workers' Five Juveniles blanked Port Henry Heights 8-0 and Ellis Print-rest midgets nipped Kingston 3-2. Smith Fuel peewees whitewashed Napanee 7-0 in an exhibition.

The Kinsmen got a goal a period in down Gananoque with Danny Dauphinee, Rod Meagher and Dennis Cone the triggermen. Dave Smith helped Cone, Mark Rollins, Doug James, Phil Kirby and Chuck Foster on losers. Jerry scored in defeat.

Miles Mocker paced the Novices with four goals and a helper while Eric Powell and Mike Crawford each collected two and two. Ross MacLeod had a goal and assist, Mike Kirby and Bob Crawford the other goals. Mickey Whalen helped on three, Tony Meagher two, Randy Hutchinson, Andy Lapenette and Larry Waite on losers. John Woodward and Curtis Stone had Picton goals.

MARCH FOR CHARITY

VICTORIA (CP)— More than 12,000 persons marched for charity Saturday over a 26-mile route in the biggest parade in Victoria's history. The marchers were raising funds for Project 100, a scheme to provide blankets, mosquito nets for Guyana and Tanzania. Another 20 per cent of the money was to go to Oxfam, the world-wide organization for famine relief.

The Diary of Anne Frank Fine Production and Good Acting

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP) — The big question about programs such as Johnny Belinda and now The Diary of Anne Frank is why they should be remade for television when there are good motion pictures of the same stories available.

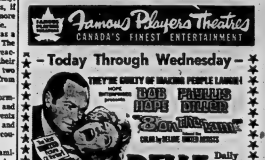
In fact, in some of the cases, the film already has been shown on television.

David Susskind, the producer who is the foremost practitioner of turning old movies into new TV shows, says he does it for casting purposes primarily. He thinks the audience enjoys the show for the show's sake, but a - likes to compare--In the case of Johnny Belinda--the performances of Jane Wyman and Mia Farrow in the same role.

Sunday night there was the television debut of young actress named Diana Davila playing Anne in The Diary of Anne Frank. An engaging performer, she brought to the story a homecy, vibrant Pollyanna quality. Millie Perkins and Joseph Anes, if memory serves, seemed more on the spiritual, ethereal side.

The two-hour ABC show was a workmanlike production. The focus of the story was the reaction of a family and their friends when cooped up for two years in an attic hiding from the Nazis.

There were excellent performances from Max Van Sydow and Lilli Palmer as Anne's parents and from Thetdore Bickel and Vivaca Lindfors as another couple.



Perhaps because of the familiarity of the story, but more because Miss Davila's Anne was such an unlikely sunny little optimist, it seemed difficult to reconcile the character with the sensitivity shown by the writer of the diary.

Recommended tonight: Can You Hear Me? ABC, 9:30-10 EST, documentary on the training of a child born deaf.

Giles Urges Caution

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Warren Giles, president of baseball's National League, still advocates cautious expansion to 12 teams and warns against hasty action just to match the American League's plans.

"I doubt very much if we'll set any definite timetable for expansion here," said Giles Saturday.

Expansion is expected to be one of the major topics of the annual winter meetings of the minor and major baseball leagues running from today to Saturday.

CLAIMS LIVES

Accidents in gold mines claimed 294 lives in South Africa during the first six months of 1967 and a total of 767 fatalities in mining industry accidents in 1966.

Mammoth Aircraft Used at CFB Trenton

TRENTON — Existing mammoth aircraft literally "eat up" tons of freight and passengers in annual air force operations.

And winged freighters with even larger appetites are being planned for future Air Transport Command duties.

R.C.A.F. spokesmen say the 21 heavy-duty aircraft (19 C-130 Hercules and a dozen Yukons) now operating in the Command may be joined in 1970 by a quartet of giant, U.S.-made newcomers.

Four C-141 Starlifters are now on order from the Lockheed Aircraft Company. The aircraft were first flown in 1963.

In addition to increasing the per-plane lift capability, the C-141's are being touted for their re-fuelling role, expected to increase the mobility of Canada's CF-5 supersonic strike fighters.

The Starlifters will carry more cargo faster and further than the Hercules or Yukons that are now each familiar handmaiden at Air Transport Command bases like Trenton.

Here's how the transport trio size up:

Freight capacity Starlifter, 68,000 lbs; Hercules, 45,000 lbs.; Yukon, 35,000 lbs.

Troop capacity: Starlifter, 150; Hercules, 92; Yukon 130.

Maximum speed: Starlifter, 500 m.p.h.; Hercules, 340 m.p.h.; Yukon, 400 m.p.h.

The Starlifter can weigh up to 318,000 lbs. on takeoff, meaning at least 50 tons more cargo and/or fuel than either of its "competitors".

And it can airlift near-capacity cargoes for 4,000 nautical miles, or 1500 miles further than the freight range of either the Yukon or Hercules.

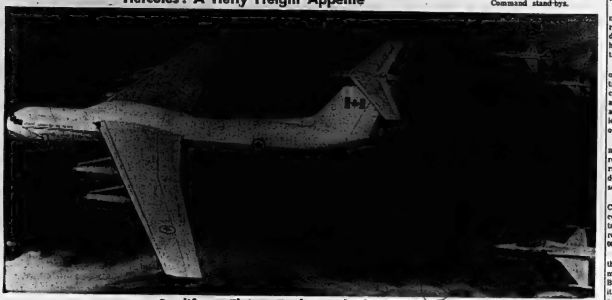
Passenger - carrying is the Yukon's forte, and its capability to carry its full complement of troops well over 3,000 nautical miles is an invaluable asset on any air base.

And the Hercules proved its mettle in the recent "Operation New Horizon" performance when four C-130's airlifted 450 troops, 138 vehicles, and all general stores from Trenton to New Brunswick in 32 round trips.

Aircraft are only the vehicles to put complex Air Transport Command flight formulae into practise.



Tasks such as maintaining the vital liaison between ground forces fall on the shoulders of units like CFB Trenton's Air Transport Operation Centre, and the Operational Training Staff.

ATOC keeps tabs on such factors as a - called "load integrity."

For example seeing that an aircraft engaging in an airlift mission doesn't carry all of the guns without say bullets.

Hercules: A Hefty Freight Appetite

Starlifter: Flying Fuel Supply for Fighters

Mead Johnson Extends Plant

Mead Johnson of Canada Ltd. is extending its production into a new field — the processing of instant milk products. Construction of the 55,000 square foot of space essential for this production began in November of 1966 and the building is now completed.

However, since new equipment was needed for the new products the production has not yet begun. Around 90 per cent of the necessary machinery has been installed, Gerald Wishart, manager of the plant, expects that the new wing will be in full scale operation by January.

The largest industrial capital investments in Belleville this year have resulted from expansions made by established companies.

The Mead Johnson addition was built by the Hollenhauer Construction Company Ltd. of Toronto.

The project required an investment of $1,000,000, split evenly between the building and the new machinery. The company will have to hire between 12 and 15 new employees," said Mr. Wishart.

There were no real problems in putting up the building, although Mr. Wishart said that slow delivery of the specialized equipment is delaying things. "There are very few companies in the world that make this equipment (sterilizers) and none in Canada," he commented.

Out of the 55,000 square feet, only one third will be used for actual manufacturing. The rest will be utilized for warehousing and shipping.

Mr. Wishart said that there are no definite plans for any immediate further expansions but "we can see it coming in two or three years." There will be an official opening of the plant in the spring.

Businessmen Can Afford Use of Computer Service

TORONTO (CP) — The fastest-growing facet of the multi-billion-dollar computer business may cost a customer as little as $50 a month.

That's what a small business man can pay one of the mushrooming data service centres to do his computer calculations for him on a fee-charging, part-time basis.

By renting the time he needs on a central computer in a centre, rather than renting his own computer, he can save himself a multitude of managerial headaches and pay only for the service he gets, the service centre operators claim.

Some customers pay much more for their computer time-renting, of course. A bill can run as high as $15,000 a month, depending on time used and service performed.

But business is burgeoning for Canada's 50-odd data service centres strung across the country. One estimate of their current annual billings is $30,000,000, and growing fast.

Data service is nothing new to the giants of the office equipment business. International Business machines Inc. opened its first centre for adding machine calculations in 1934. Today IBM has 18 data service centres across Canada. Its Toronto centre alone is expected to do $8,000,000 in business this year.

But the quick-growing computer industry has brought a host of smaller operators into the service field in the last three years.

One firm which until last July was essentially a one-gun operation, serves customers by getting them time on a computer it knows of that isn't used full time by its own owner. This firm had billings of about $75,000 last year.

Because the new computers are not only faster and more complex but also more expensive than their predecessors, more and more businesses are using them on a part-time basis.

A computer rents full time for anything from $5,000 to $80,000 a month.

However, a large company, with its own programming staff, and perhaps a computer on its premises, can rent time for extra work on a service centre calculator for as little as $75 an hour, paying only for the time it uses.

Some firms calling themselves data service centres provide only a programming service. Others simply rent time on their computers with the client responsible for his own programming and processing.

But the most comprehensive offer is a package service, which includes collecting data from the client's office, programming and processing it, and returning the information to the client in the form he requests it, whether a payroll or specifications for a bridge.

Stockbrokers, school boards, government departments, municipal districts and engineering firms, as well as large and small businesses are among computer-service clients.

The newest wrinkle is time-sharing, made possible by new computers into which up to 175 clients can plug from any distance, through a desk terminal and a long-distance telephone line.

Clients get the service for a minimum fee—about $150 for the terminal—and a minimum monthly charge of $200 for the computer's services.

IBM estimates that time-share is still only about one per cent of its data service business, but predicts it could grow to half within a few years.

If so, it will mean larger and fewer data centres, with hundreds of terminals all over the country plugged into a few central processors at key points.

To Your Good Health

Itch May Be Caused by Soap

By Dr. Joseph G. Molner

Dear Dr. Molner: I am like the girl who was allergic to her engagement ring. My trouble is a gold watch bracelet. Is hot weather my wrist breaks out and itches. Can I do something for it? — Mrs. F.C.

I've known of people having trouble with watchbands of various metals in summer. (When the skin is warm and moist it is more subject to irritation.)

One successful answer has been to change watchbands in the spring and fall, wearing the metal in cool weather, a fabric band in the summer.

A Georgia reader and another in Oregon say they had success with rings by painting the inside with several coats of clear nail polish. It is worth trying.

Finally, a jeweler in Mississippi makes a very valid suggestion on a point I had overlooked. He writes:

"The trouble is caused not by the ring but by soap which she leaves between the ring and her finger. She will have trouble with any ring until she learns to get all the soap out when she washes her hands."

This is sometimes the answer, although not always. It is quite true that skin can be sensitive in varying degrees to soaps and detergents. Some folks are not bothered at all; some have a good deal of trouble and have to resort to such expedients as wearing rubber gloves when washing dishes.

Thus a very small accumulation of soap or detergent under a ring can, indeed, be irritating. Thorough rinsing may be a sufficient answer. Removing the ring, when washing, may be better.

But it is also true that the irritation can be sensitivity to metal, not to soap.

Dear Dr. Molner: What Co you advise for hot flashes. I am 56 and they are about to kill me. —Mrs. L.D.

They won't kill you but they can make life miserable. Judicious use of hormones as well as other medications can relieve the flashes and often stop them entirely. I gather that you haven't read my booklet "Make Menopause Easier," and I suggest that you do so. Just send 25 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, unstamped envelope to Dr. Molner in care of your newspaper for a copy.

Dear Dr. Molner: What causes red moles? They look like brown moles, only bright red. Some are small as pin heads, others large — M.B.

Probably red moles but tiny accumulations of very small blood vessels (capillaries). They are usually pin-head size or slightly large, tend to appear on the trunk as one gets older. They can be covered with cosmetics or destroyed by cautery but actually no treatment is needed.

Dear Dr. Molner: Is it harmful to drink a cup of coffee on an empty stomach every morning? I'm never hungry until I've been up at least an hour. How many cups can a person drink and be safe? — Mrs. A.P.

There's no harm in a cup of coffee as an eye-opener. (If you had an ulcer I'd perhaps answer differently, but I assume you to be in reasonably good health.)

There is no fixed amount that can be stated for a person. Signs of too much are nervousness, fast heart or irregular heartbeat, sleeplessness. If you experience any of these, I'd try cutting down on coffee, but unless you notice such signs, let your taste be your guide. Two cups of coffee will bother some people who are sensitive to caffeine, other folks can handle a dozen cups with no trouble. Most of us are best off somewhere between.

Dr. Molner welcomes all mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer readers' letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

CORPORATION OF THE CITY OF BELLEVILLE

SCHOOL GUARDS

Applications will be received at the office of the Personnel Officer, City Hall, Belleville, Ontario for the position of School Guard for the 1967-68 school year during the week begining November 27th, 1967.

CITY OF BELLEVILLE — LOCAL IMPROVEMENT NOTICE

TAKE NOTICE THAT:

1. THE COUNCIL of the Corporation of the City of Belleville intends to construct as a local improvement the following sanitary sewers, complete with private drain connections where required; and intends to specially assess a part of the cost upon the land abutting the work and the balance against the Corporation at large as follows:

Street	From	To	Estimated Cost	Corporation's Share	Owner's Share	Estimated Cost Per Foot Frontage	Estimated Annual Cost Per Foot Frontage	Estimated Rate Per Service Connection	Estimated Annual Payment For Service Connection
Sidney St.	Tracey St.	Hanna St.	$66,800.00	$32,746.37	$44,053.63	$9.22	$0.95	$157.00	$16.18
Hanna St.	Sidney St.	One-ft. reserve at west end of Hanna St.
Davy Rd.	Hanna St.	One-ft. reserve at west end of Davy Rd.

50' x $9.22 — $461.00
It paid over a period of 15 years at 5½% per annum, the cost would be:
50' x $0.95 — $47.50

2. The Special Assessment is to be paid in fifteen equal annual instalments.
3. Application will be made by the Corporation to the Ontario Municipal Board for its approval of the undertaking of the said work and any owner may within twenty-one (21) days after the first publication of this Notice file with the Clerk of the Municipality his objection to the said work being undertaken.
4. The Board may approve of the work being undertaken, but before doing so it may appoint a time and place when any objections to the work will be considered.

Walter Weir Chosen by PCs To Succeed Roblin in Manitoba

WINNIPEG (CP) — Walter Weir becomes officially the fifth Progressive Conservative premier in Manitoba history today, taking the post that went with the party leadership he won Saturday.

A. The 1, quiet 38-year-old highways minister beat three cabinet colleagues, by nearly 100 votes on the third ballot, for the job Duff Roblin gave up to enter federal politics. Mr. Weir will be sworn in this afternoon.

Mr. Weir defeated Attorney-General Sterling Lyon, 40, Provincial Secretary Stewart McLean, 47, and Education Minister Georgs Johnson, 47.

His is an orthodox Conservatism, advocating hold-the-line fiscal policies and balanced budgets.

"We must exercise self-discipline and only increase our expenditures as the tax base expands," he said in accepting his nomination.

It contrasts sharply with the administration of his predecessor. During his decade as premier, Mr. Roblin spent large sums of money to build roads, schools and hospitals as he attempted to bring a backward province up-to-date.

His policies brought the premier national recognition and to the brink of the national Conservative leadership in September. Mr. Weir, on the other hand, is a virtual unknown outside government circles although he was considered a strong man in the Roblin administration.

One of Mr. Weir's first official duties, the first expected to be the naming of his cabinet, is to travel to Toronto to attend the Confederation of Tomorrow conference.

In an interview after his election, Mr. Weir said he probably would go to Toronto Tuesday and return Thursday. Provincial Treasurer Gurney Evans earlier was named Manitoba's official representative to the conference.

The junior contender in age and experience in the leadership race, Mr. Weir's victory made him the third Conservative premier of the century and the fifth since party politics appeared in Manitoba in 1878, 18 years after it became a province.

The Minnedosa undertaker joined the Roblin cabinet in 1960 as I rapidly attracted caucus support with his easy-going but decisive nature.

Russia's Rocket Edge Assumes Significance

WASHINGTON (AP) — Russia's long-held superiority in large booster rockets has given the Soviets an advantage over the United States in terms of protection for nuclear warheads, defence department sources say.

This edge is becoming significant both offensively and defensively at a time when both countries are developing anti-missile defenses designed to destroy incoming warheads in outer space with intensive x-ray emissions.

With more powerful rockets the Soviets have only a relatively simple task of adding more shielding materials around nuclear warheads to halt bombardments created by U.S. anti-missile blasts.

U.S. scientists, on the other hand, find themselves limited in the amount of weight which can be added to missiles propelled by lower-thrust rockets.

Pronunciation Lessons

By SYDNEY J. HARRIS

Why don't the radio and TV announcers tell us that

— "Geisha" rhymes with "Aisle," and not with "seesaw."

— There is no "wine" in "grouine," there is no "mid" in "comfortable"; and there is no "fur" in "for example."

— Spirits are "exorcised," and bodies are "exercised."

— There are three, syllables, not four, in "momentous"; there are four syllables, not three, in "actually"; there are four syllables, not three, in "miniature."

— The crime of "misprision" has no "prison" in it, and has nothing to do with prisons.

— There is no "pote" in "impotence"; there is no "vague" in "vagary"; and there is no "i" in "raffment."

— There is no "Sasty" in "Santa Claus"; there is no "vow" in Tchaikowsky; and there is no "rib" in the Caribbean Sea.

— There are four syllables, not five, in "arcompasiat"; there are three syllables, not four, in "disastrous"; and there are four syllables, not five, in "electoral."

— There is no "oh" sound in "occasion," "offense," or "official."

— "Ogle" rhymes with "mogul," and not with "gaggle."

— There is no "hew" in "gudumous"; there is no "teen" in "protein"; and there is no "turn" in "tournament" (a tourney, if not already fought, is a battle.)

— "Cache" rhymes with "rash," and not with "hatch"; "bona fide" rhymes with "on a Friday," and not with "Mona died."

—There are three syllables, not four, in "barbarous"; there are five syllables, not four, in "initiative"; and there are — as every schoolchild should be forced to repeat a hundred times — two syllables not one, in "poem."

— There is no "noise" in "holsome," which comes from "nosy", and not from "noise," and means "offensively or disgustingly odorous."

"Robust" should be stressed on the second syllable, not the first; "preparatory" should be stressed on the second and fourth syllables, not on the first; and "maniacal" is stressed on the second syllable (with a long "i"), not on the first and third syllables.

— There is no "eye" on "Italics," any more than in "Italia"; there is no "grim" in "grimace" (the words look alike, but have no connection); and there is no "haw" in "hauter" — which is commonly mispronounced because of an erroneous association with "haughty."

Astrological Forecasts

By SYDNEY OMARR

ARIES (Mar. 21 — Apr. 19): Bells of harmony may ring today. One who is aggressive tries to upset equilibrium. Prove ability to take care of yourself. Today you gain if patient, observant.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 — May 20): News received concerning job, work, assignment. Key is originality. Break through to new ground. Emphasize independence of thought, action. Lead rather than follow.

GEMINI (May 21 — June 20): Could be costly to fulfill your emotional desires. Revision of your needs may be necessary. Your intuitive feelings are valid. Don't be shy about crediting yourself with accuracy.

CANCER (June 21—July 22): Action in areas involving public. Don't press too hard. Avoid excess speed. Highlight self - control. Some want you to move in all directions at once. Utilize common sense.

LEO (July 23 — Aug. 22): You may be restrained from travel, due to work commitment. Don't fight it. Actually, works to your best interest. You may hear from relative who seeks unusual advice.

VIRGO (Aug. 23 — Sept. 22): Be sure of safety measures at home. Means avoid carelessness in familiar surroundings. Overcome tendency toward accidents. Gain shows if you take one thing at a time, no rush, fuss.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 — Oct. 22): Cycle high. But there is undercurrent of opposition to basic plans. Know this in advance. Dig for allies. Means be one step ahead of game. Be aware. Anticipate. Be wide awake.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23—Nov. 21): Some who work with you design aggressive action. Better judgment dictates that you lie low for now. Today you confound bugaboo of indecision. Wait. You will get signal.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 — Dec. 21): Decision necessary in area of what to keep, discard. Review expenses. Find out what is essential, expendable. Be true to your own desires. Avoid self-deception.

CAPICORN (Dec. 22 — Jan. 19): Don't let impulse run away with logic. Applies especially when dealing with superiors, influential members of community. Don't invite trouble. Take it easy. You eventually win.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20 — Feb. 18): Definite request made by one who disappeared from your life. You are surprised, perhaps flattered. Maintain poise. Use intuitive intellect. Means follow hunch.

PISCES (Feb. 19 — Mar. 20): Dispute over someone else's money could highlight day. Reserve value judgments. Don't praise or condemn. Be flexible. Realize that what concerns you is not rightly your worry.

If today is your birthday, . . . you are dynamic, original and creative. People imitate and envy you. At times you express opinions in too blunt a manner. Try a bit of diplomacy. You've come through a meaningful cycle and now events level off. Tie loose ends. You may be traveling and won't have time for endless details.

General Tendencies: Cycle for Libra, Scorpio, Sagittarius. Special word to Aries: if single, use ease to you drops an obvious hint.

De Gaulle Demands Quebec Sovereignty

PM Flies Home To Find Crisis

OTTAWA (CP) — The text of another verbal blockbuster by French President de Gaulle was handed Prime Minister Pearson Monday night as his first problem on return from a week-long visit to England.

External Affairs Minister Martin brought the text aboard the prime minister's RCAF Yukon aircraft and they talked for several minutes.

Mr. Pearson finally appeared and told reporters he will meet his cabinet first and reply, as necessary, in the Commons today to de Gaulle's calls for a "sovereign state" of Quebec.

It had been a 19-hour day for the prime minister, during which he received the Freedom of the City of London and delivered a hefty swipe of his own in the direction of France.

Mr. Pearson made his remarks in a speech at London's Mansion House. President de Gaulle made his at one of his rare Paris news conferences.

De Gaulle said there must be a transformation of Canada's political system to project Quebec "in the level of a sovereign state with mastery of its national existence." The Ottawa government had put French-speaking Canadians "in a position of inferiority."

For his part, Mr. Pearson told his warm British audience that France has fallen back "on the old and discredited doctrine of national defence by national action," repudiating collective security through the North Atlantic alliance.

Without specifically mentioning France, he said it was "shortsighted and wrong" for any European country to oppose or put unnecessary obstacles in the way of British entry to the European Common Market.

As for Canada's own problems of federalism and national unity, they would be solved "by us and not by outside intervention is our domestic affairs," Mr. Pearson said to loud applause.

In the Commons, Mr. Martin said the de Gaulle and Pearson remarks were coincidental. The prime minister would study the general's remarks in the light of the government's declared responsibility "not to allow any intrusion into Canadian affairs."

Acadian Spurns General

TORONTO (CP) — Premier Louis Robichaud of New Brunswick said Monday Gen. de Gaulle should resign as president of France because of "intervention at Canadian rights."

The first French-speaking Acadian premier of the Maritime provinces was commenting on President de Gaulle's comments at a press conference in Paris today.

Mr. Robichaud told reporters: "I think it's an intervention of Canadian rights. If France wants to declare war on Canada, we'll find ways to defend ourselves."

Oh, Rodney, You Shouldn't

OTTAWA (CP) — Conservative back-bencher Rod Webb was rebuked by Speaker Lucien Lamoureux in the Commons Monday for a question he asked concerning President de Gaulle of France.

Mr. Webb, MP for the Ontario riding of Hastings-Frontenac, asked Health Minister MacEachen whether "he would confer with his counterpart in France to have the French president committed to an institution."

Quebec Would Return

MONTREAL (CP) — Jean-Luc Pepin, federal minister of energy, mines and resources, said Monday a politically independent Quebec in association with the rest of Canada on a common market basis would eventually return to the federal fold.

In a strong defence of federalism in a speech to the Montreal Reform Club, Mr. Pepin attacked Rene Leveque's thesis that a "sovereign" province could survive if it were linked to the rest of Canada in an economic union similar to the European Common Market.

Using the example of the ECM itself, he said all such economic unions, with their trade and tariff agreements, essentially involve political unity as well.

Hence, a separate Quebec linked to Canada in a loose economic union even of a type completely different from the ECM would eventually return to the federal structure.

Britain Wants China in UN

Britain, U. S. Also Assailed

PARIS (CP) — Charles de Gaulle has heaped new harsh words on targets from Ottawa to Tel Aviv.

Britons, anxious for entry into the European Common Market, also were dealt the back of the French president's hand at a glittering Monday press conference, while the United States was bluntly told the present duress of the dollar only shows that gold should be the basis for a new and transformed international monetary system.

Calling for "complete change" of Canada's political system, de Gaulle contended that "Anglo-Saxon" preponderance in Canadian economic life has linked up with the "partial" attitude of the federal government to make the French-Canadian "language, substance and character" increasingly jeopardized.

Transformation of the Canadian constitution which was "bestowed by the Queen of England 100 years ago," should project Quebec "to the level of a sovereign state with mastery of its national existence."

"Of course, this suggestion of Quebec, freely and in equality, must work out with the rest of Canada the details of their cooperation in order to master and exploit a very difficult nature, in its immense directions and also to face up to the United States invasion."

De Gaulle said "it flows from this also that France is completely ready—once Canada takes on this aspect, this character—to develop with its totality the best possible relations."

No Pussyfooting

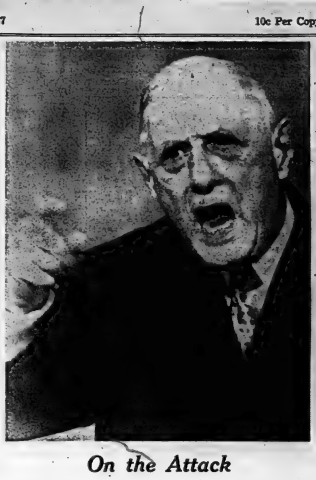
OTTAWA (CP) — John Diefenbaker said Monday Prime Minister Pearson used the "pussyfoot again" by reacting mildly to the newest statement on Canadian affairs by French President de Gaulle.

Shippers Must Hire Dockers

MONTREAL (CP) — All 2,000 Montreal longshoremen were expected to resume work today and tackle huge piles of cargo left abandoned last Friday.

The paralysis of the port Friday culminated a five-week-long dispute between the International Longshoremen's Association and the Shipping Federation of Canada over terms of a binding federal government report.

Mr. Justice J. C. Desrosiers granted an injunction Monday ordering the shipping federation and 26 member shipping lines to provide a minimum of eight hours work for all the longshoremen today or pay them for "standby duty."



It also ordered both sides to submit to arbitration if they cannot agree on the provisions of the federal report within two days.

Cyprus Showdown Predicted Today

NICOSIA (CP) — Turkish warships circled off the Cyprus coast for two hours today, then disappeared in a fog. In Athens, a Greek foreign ministry spokesman said the crisis between Greece and Turkey over this island will be clarified before the day is out with either an agreement or possible war.

The statement by the spokesman merely said: "The situation will be clarified within the day. Either affirmatively through an agreement or negatively. In this case, very dramatic developments cannot be excluded, including war."

His comment was made as all three international negotiators striving to get Greece and Turkey together assembled in Athens with reports on their talks in Ankara and in Cyprus.

Ankara and Athens appear to be near agreement on measures to avert a war between them over Cyprus. Foreign observers in the Turkish capital suggested that the naval ships were manoeuvring off Cyprus to put pressure on the Athens government.

Turkish Air Force jet fighter jets flew over the island 40 miles south of Turkey for the 11th successive day and for the first time appeared directly over Nicosia, the capital. Two RF-84 jets flew over the city at about 1,000 feet and circled it three times.

At tensions rose again on Cyprus, U.S. special envoy Cyrus Vance flew from Ankara to Athens after an all-night session of the Turkish cabinet, taking with him the latest exchange in the Greek and Turkish proposals and counter-proposals.

Irfan Akna, chairman of the New Turkey party, said Greece has agreed to the key Turkish demand to withdraw 8,000 to 12,000 Greek troops on Cyprus.

...so, without further ado, I'll hand the chair over to Madam FIFI!"

News Briefs

BUFFALO, No. (AP) — Two bodies found in a soybean field south of Buffalo may be those of two Montreal college students who were hitchhiking home from a summer vacation in Mexico, authorities said. Montreal officials said Bertram Kidd, 20, and Marjorie Sharp, 21, students at McGill University, were last seen Sept. 16.

TORONTO (CP) — Premier Daniel Johnson of Quebec today rejected the resolution of the Estates-General of French Canada calling for an end to English-language training in his province.

Attaches Drugged Beware the Wine When It Is Red

MOSCOW (AP) — The British and American military attaches in Moscow were attacked and searched after they were allegedly served drugged wine while on a trip this month to the Romanian border, the two embassies charged in protest notes to the Soviet government.

An American spokesman said today the Soviet reply "was not considered satisfactory" and that further protests are being considered in London and Washington.

The U.S. embassy and the British foreign office said the incident occurred Nov. 17 when the British attache, Brig. C. A. Harper, and the U.S. Col. William J. Spahr were visiting Kishniev, capital of Soviet Moldavia.

The attaches toured an experimental wine-making farm in the area. The suggestions of their Soviet guide, sampled its wines and sherries and ate food. On returning to their hotel room they became ill, vomited and had to be treated, a statement from the British foreign office said.

"A subsequent medical examination gave material evidence for suspicion that the wine had been tampered with," the British statement said.

About four hours later, the British said, five or six men broke into the rooms, "forcibly held the attaches down, tore open their clothes and removed their money belts which contained personal papers."

The papers were returned after about an hour and the attaches did not suffer serious injuries, the U.S. spokesman said.

The intruders broke glasses and an ashtray and tore down a curtain, then ordered the attaches with the property damage and said there had been complaints of noise in the room, the British said.

Canadians Disenchanted with Peacekeeping

KYRENIA, Cyprus (CP) — Deep disenchantment with United Nations peacekeeping straddles the ranks of 900 Canadian soldiers guarding a mountain pass behind this north Cyprus resort town as part of their job separating Greek- and Turkish-Cypriots at a time when invasion from Turkey is feared.

"We still are unsure whether we are supposed to stand or run," said a sergeant of the Canadian Black Watch Tuesday. "One thing we do know after previous experiences, we do absolutely nothing to prevent Greeks and Turks fighting."

Canadians who patrol the mountainous region between this seaside town and Nicosia—which includes the biggest enclave of the Turkish-Cypriot minority—are emphatic in saying that the UN mandate plus the pattern of the UN yielding to Greek- and Turkish-Cypriot violations since the UN force took over in 1964 makes serious peacekeeping impossible.

Two members of the armored car squadron of the Fort Garry Horse from Calgary recall with disgust their sense of helplessness during the Greek-Turkish clash Nov. 25 when 25 Turks and two Greeks were killed in villages south of Nicosia, the capital.

"We called on the village of Kophinou and found the Greeks advancing," a troop commander said. "I proposed placing our vehicles astride the road to prevent invasion, but we were ordered to stand aside while the villagers were blasted.

"We found two Turkish Cypriots shot when we finally were allowed to take over the area we could have prevented.

"Four days before the fight we reported Greek armored cars heading for Kophinour and requested permission to interdict, but it was denied because some cowardly politician was unwilling."

Greek armored cars and troops filter through the western port of Boghaz Jetty, near Famagusta, which everyone knows but the United Nations fails to prevent.

On the other hand, Turkish gun emplacements along the UN road between Nicosia and Kyrenia violate the rule against guns within 100 yards of the road.

No action has been taken despite repeated reports from Canadians on patrol.

In the meantime, Kyrenia is a ghost town compared with a fortnight ago. Its Greek occupants fear invasion from Turkey and war jitters increased when two bomb explosions occurred Monday night.

Some members of main force believe any major new fighting would mean withdrawal to the main Canadian camp near Nicosia or staying in the mountains without any mandate to disarm or intervene against the battling factions.

Ellis Stands on Record; Scott Wants End to Scandals

A renewed interest in the municipal election scene was indicated last night as an overflow audience jammed its way into the Corby Public Library auditorium for the annual Chamber of Commerce candidates' night.

The meeting saw mayoralty candidates Jack R. Ellis and Dr. J. Russell Scott present their election platforms, while all 18 of the aldermanic hopefuls also made their pitch for votes in the December 4 election.

Mayor Jack Ellis based his plea for votes on his record of the past four years while Dr. Scott called for an end to investigations and scandals in the city and an end to the dictatorial administration at city hall.

And with but few exceptions all speakers voiced approval of a new community centre for the city and for the construction of the proposed river bridge as the first phase of the Dundas Street roadway and bridge project.

In a question period following the speechmaking program, Mayor Ellis explained if it was true that he owned a portion of the proposed sites for Loyalist College west of the city.

Mayor Ellis emphatically denied the charge.

"That's been one of the more vicious rumors about me during the election campaign," returned the mayor. "It's an absolute lie."

Another questioner asked Dr. Scott what he had meant when he stated on a recent radio program that he would use family contacts to bring industry to Belleville.

Dr. Scott said he would use any and all kinds of contacts to get industry. "If you use family contacts, business contacts and friends, you get industry," he said.

Chamber of Commerce vice president Jack Ireland presided over the candidates' meeting and expressed his appreciation for the good turnout. The turnout, he said, indicated that the ratepayers, like the Chamber, were interested in good civic government.

Making a pitch for votes on the past performance of council, Mayor Ellis said that no person should try to take the credit for all the actions of any body such as city council. He did feel, however, that it was only fair to say that the leadership given and have some bearing on the outcome.

He said that Belleville had moved ahead in the four years that he had been mayor. Two promises made in each of his two previous campaigns had been fulfilled.

First of these had been the formation of an industrial commission and the setting up of the body now known as the United Community Services.

Grow to West Trenton Advised

TRENTON — This community's potential for growth lies to the west and north, away from Belleville and Hastings County.

W. Douglas Whitley, one of seven candidates seeking five school board seats, told last night's local ratepayers' meeting a rapport should be established between Trenton and her western neighbors, to avoid becoming "a satellite of the area to the east."

Premier Robarts' plan to reduce the number of Ontario school boards to 100 by 1960 on a county basis should give Trenton the impetus to act before it is too late, said Mr. Whitley.

Mr. Whitley is seeking his third two-year term as a local school trustee.

Other candidates for four two-year terms and a one-year seat vacated by council candidate E. M. Parker are: Georges Grwer (incumbent — 10 years on board), Mrs. Jean Hotchkiss (incumbent — two years on board), T. S. Ketcheson (incumbent — 10 years on board), George Lewis, Lewis Phinney (previous five years' board experience), and Rev. David Minor.

Each candidate addressed last night's meeting except Mr. Minor, who was called out of town at the last minute.

The candidate receiving the lowest vote total in next Monday's election will serve the one-year term.

Six Month Term Given

Alexander Manjuris was sentenced to six months in the common jail today by Judge J. C. Anderson on two counts of uttering forged documents. Manjuris was sentenced to six months concurrent on both charges.

He had been found guilty of uttering forged medical receipts and a charitable donation receipt with his income tax return for two successive years, 1955 and 1956.

Manjuris was convicted after a four-day trial last week. The jury had deliberated about an hour and a half.

Candidates and Crowd at Library

Sixteen City Candidates Outline Aldermanic Stands

An almost 100 per cent approval of the Dundas Street river bridge project and also for the proposed community centre, was voiced by aldermanic candidates at last night's Chamber of Commerce candidates' meeting.

Lower Bridge in downtown ever, wanted only the river bridge and connecting roadway and were strongly opposed to the grade separation "skyway" over the C.P.R. tracks which they felt was unnecessary.

With few exceptions, candidates favored the community centre project which they felt would be a decided asset to the city.

Alderman Jack Allin

Alderman Jack Allin as the first of the 18 aldermanic speakers said he favored the Dundas Street bridge project but was opposed to the suggested phasing calling for construction of the "skyway" as the first stage.

He said the Dundas Street bridge would relieve the pressure from all walks of life could do wonders in helping to secure new industry.

"We should not just sit down and wait for government help, but should be persistent in our approach until they give us grants which Belleville requires and deserves to draw industry . . ." he said.

Mr. Brown didn't agree with the first stage planning for the railway overpass and approach ramp over Zwicker's Island. The Dundas Bridge should be built first, he said.

Dr. Scott said he would use any and all kinds of contacts to get industry. "If you use family contacts, business contacts and friends, you get industry," he said.

Chamber of Commerce vice president Jack Ireland presided over the candidates' meeting and expressed his appreciation for the good turnout. The turnout, he said, indicated that the ratepayers, like the Chamber, were interested in good civic government.

Making a pitch for votes on the past performance of council, Mayor Ellis said that no person should try to take the credit for all the actions of any body such as city council. He did feel, however, that it was only fair to say that the leadership given and have some bearing on the outcome.

He said that Belleville had moved ahead in the four years that he had been mayor. Two promises made in each of his two previous campaigns had been fulfilled.

First of these had been the formation of an industrial commission and the setting up of the body now known as the United Community Services.

Alderman Douglas Boyle

Alderman Douglas Boyle pointed to his record of diligence and action as city council and his chairmanship of the welfare committee and the council TV committee. Also he had served on the administration of justice committee, the CAS board and welfare committees.

Candidate George Brown

George C. Brown said new industry was needed in Belleville to bolster the city assessment and without which there would be an increasingly heavy tax burden on residential properties.

He said a committee of citizens from all walks of life could do wonders in helping to secure new industry.

"We should not just sit down

Alderman Thomas Carruthers

Alderman Thomas Carruthers defended the record of the city industrial commission, of which he was a member.

During the past three years four new industries had been located in Belleville, existing industries had expanded and industrial assessment had increased considerably.

He said that urban renewal and wait for government help, of the downtown area was needed to re-vitalize the commercial tax assessment.

He said he was vitally concerned about the success of urban renewal and stressed the importance of industrial expansion, a property planned community, a home nursing care program and water pollution control in the Bay of Quinte.

Alderman Enos David

Alderman Enos David defended his council record, stating he had given careful consideration to all problems. "You may not agree with my stand but 'you cannot challenge my integrity," he said. He said he was in favor of a pre-engineered type of smaller risk for the Belleville fairgrounds and an open air artificial ice surface for the east end of the city.

He listed industrial expansion, construction of the Dundas Street river bridge, and urban renewal as the three most pressing city issues.

Candidate Richard Ellis

In his appeal for votes, Richard Ellis pointed to his experience on the city parks and recreation commission.

He said he was in favor of a new community centre for the city and for anything else which would cause Belleville to go ahead.

"And we need to have Bridge Street hill fixed," he said.

Candidate Norman Hickson

Norman Hickson admitted he was a newcomer to municipal politics but assured his listeners he was offering himself for alderman with an open mind.

Declaring that taxes were too high, Mr. Hickson charged this was caused by unnecessary spending.

He said he was in favor of the Dundas Street bridge but was not for the "skyway". He also favored the new community centre which would serve many uses and could be a money maker.

Resting at the Thompson Funeral Chapel. The funeral takes place Thursday.

IN MEMORIAM

ROSS — In loving memory of a dear husband and father, Robert May Ross who passed away November 25, 1956.
Memories are wonderful things,
They melt through the years untold,
They never wear out, they never grow old,
And are ever precious.
To some you may be forgotten,
To others a name on the past,
To us who loved and lost you,
You'll be remembered last.
Sadly missed by wife and family.

HAW — In loving memory of our dear grandson Paul who left us three years ago, Nov. 28, 1954.
The years are quickly passing,
Though still we can't forget,
For in the hearts that love him,
His memory lingers yet.
Sadly missed by grandma and grampa Haw.

HAW — In loving memory of our dear grandson Paul who left us three years ago, Nov. 28, 1954.
Gone from our home,

Industry Steals Spotlight From Politics at Ratepayers' Forum

By MAURICE SWITZER

TRENTON — Local ratepayers had industry coming out of their ears last night.

The annual ratepayers' meeting presents a pre-election forum for municipal candidates to state their platforms, but industrial expansion stole last night's show.

It all started with industrial committee chairman Paul Tripp's report to the taxpayers.

Councillor Tripp confirmed rumors of two new industries — one medium and one large class — that he said would be announced before year's end.

Ground has already been broken for the first of these, both of which will be located on Sidney St. in north Trenton.

Mr. Tripp confirmed that the industry will employ about 60 persons initially, and as many as 100 later.

As the industrial committee chairman hinted that a major industry for the town, in the 600-employee category, would also be announced in December.

Councillor Tripp also gave the first public airing to the expansion of two local industries.

He said that an addition presently being built at Trenton Cold Storage will house a new food processing operation to employ upwards of 20 persons.

Co-owner Eben James, in attendance at last night's ratepayers' meeting, confirmed the report.

"We have been negotiating with a new industry to establish in Trenton which required fast freezing services, and are pleased to announce we have been successful in obtaining it," a written statement from Mr. James read in part.

The addition to the cold storage plant is the second within a year.

An addition to Knox-Gelatine Ltd. at Trenton's southern extremity will increase that firm's operations by the transferral of the company's packaging plant from Montreal.

Mr. Tripp said the expansion would be made possible as soon as the town is able to increase their sewer services to the southeast area of town.

Trenton received Ontario Municipal Board approval earlier this year, with consent of Knox Gelatine officials, to annex that part of the plant site, which did not lie within town boundaries.

The next step in giving full rein to Trenton's industrial growth is the report of a special co-ordinating committee to study the feasability of annexation, said Mr. Tripp.

The report, to be tabled in council by March 31, will be drawn up by the existing industrial committee and additional industrial and advisory appointees.

Challenger Fraser

Priorities Will Produce A Growing Community

TRENTON — This year's mayoralty race will be based on questions of priorities and methods, challenger D. R. Fraser told last night's annual ratepayers' meeting.

In his first campaign for mayor, Mr. Fraser set down two priorities — additional town residents and increased accommodation — to produce the new assessment vital to a growing community.

Among the methods he proposed would be formation of a company to give industry a place to start.

"Industrial Estates Ltd." would be funded by an annual council grant and would finance the construction of factory shells, and the acquisition and servicing of factory sites.

But the dividends of increased employment, and population growth that would follow industrial expansion would have to be met by the encouragement of rental accommodation, he said.

D. R. FRASER

"We cannot deal with the financing of private investment, but we can create a climate which will encourage the construction of apartments and multi-unit dwellings."

A councillor for four years, Mr. Fraser said the immediate need for low accommodation is also becoming acute.

"More industrial payroll — more people to make Trenton grow — more new assessment to ease the tax burden, we must dedicate our selves to these items of basic importance," said Councillor Fraser.

This year's mayoralty race between Mr. Fraser and D. J. MacDonald is being predicted as a close one.

Mr. Fraser last night indicated it would also be a congenial one.

"The one result of this coming election of which I am confident is the continuation of our friendship."

"If Jim and I differ, it is mainly on priorities and methods."

At the conclusion of his address, however, Mr. Fraser told his listeners: "Rather than having three mayors every 27 years, the town deserves twice that many to utilize the energies and potential of its young and able leaders."

Mayor MacDonald has been in office for the past eight years.

Council Candidate Attacks Fraser

TRENTON — Town council candidate Gerald Weaver contributed the only sour note to last night's campaign serenade.

The former nine-year councilman veteran accused mayoralty candidate D. R. Fraser of preaching "family compact" tactics during his four-year stay on council.

Speaking to a crowd of 200 at last night's annual ratepayers' meeting, Mr. Weaver said that this was while asking for your vote as mayor" saw to the appointment of two first cousins and a business partner to municipal bodies during his council term.

Mr. Weaver never once referred to Mr. Fraser by name.

The former councillor said council virtually "gave" Mr. Fraser's relatives a 200-foot-long strip of town-owned waterfront property.

He again refrained from mentioning any names.

From the floor, Eben James asked chairman O. W. Larry for permission to reply to the remarks made by Mr. Weaver. Mr. James and his brother M. F. James are first cousins of Mr. Fraser.

"I'm surprised he didn't mention my wife — she was appointed to the town Centennial Committee this year," snapped Mr. James, who was permitted to take the platform after candidates' speeches had concluded.

Mr. James is a two-year member of the court of revision and his brother is a member of the parks' board.

Hugh O'Neil, a partner in Mr. Fraser's realty firm, is a member of the parks' board.

Mr. James produced a deed and figures indicating his Trenton Cold Storage firm had purchased some town land for plant expansion, on the condition the firm built a dock wall and extended a sewer.

He said the one-sixth of an acre had thus far cost his firm $17,251, to develop, as considered on an acreage basis, $110,642 an acre.

This was over 1,000 times more the price charged to prospective industries.

Last night's audience also learned an addition being built on the property would soon be filled with an industry employing about 40 people.

Chairman Mr. Larry refused to allow Mr. Weaver to make further comment on the subject.

"This could go on all night," said the town clerk.

Incumbent MacDonald

Capital Works Pause Makes Good Sense

TRENTON — After the current boom in town spending, council should pause before considering new capital works other than those which are basic requirements.

In a two - way contest for the job he has held for the past eight years, Mayor James MacDonald laid his campaign out in specifics last night.

The mayor told the annual ratepayers' meeting he is standing firm on one of the most controversial local issues — the fate of the former post office building.

"My views have not changed since I proposed that the old post office be removed and the area be made into a town square."

He criticized Councillor D. R. Fraser's (his mayoralty opponent) plan to renovate the old post office for $180,000 to house municipal offices.

"Granted, it would be cheaper than building a new city hall, but I feel our present location will do for another five years, at least, with no capital cost.

Before adventuring into other expenditures, Mayor MacDonald said consideration should be given to a few local programs.

"Those areas in town which are not at present served by mains, water and sewer, should receive extra consideration.

"We should set a per-foot rate which is payable to all areas in town, and not penalize those who are on land that is not easily serviced," the mayor said.

Mayor MacDonald's address before an audience of about 200 had to double as a campaign speech and his annual report to the people.

For the future, Trenton must look to the nearby air base and industrial development, predicted Mayor MacDonald.

"In some cases, a community's economical slack may be taken up by the fact it is a distribution centre, an area for district offices, or a site of government agencies.

"Unfortunately, this does not apply to Trenton — Belleville has them all."

A report to be tabled by the recently-appointed special industrial co-ordinating committee should be invaluable in assessing the town's future growth, he noted.

Meanwhile, Trenton taxpayers are getting their money's worth of government, said the mayor.

"The department of municipal affairs tell us the average per capita cost of general government for similar towns and cities is $8.85. The cost in Trenton is now $5.83."

Trenton Council Candidates Summarize Election Stand

TRENTON — The candidates for town office in next Monday's election put their platforms before a larger-than-anticipated ratepayers' audience last night.

Some 200 local residents heard the annual reports from council committee chairmen, the board of education and the Public Utilities Commission.

But they were really there to hear what the six candidates for three vacant council seats had to say:

C. V. Graham (incumbent) — "Our most important accomplishments in public works have included the rebuilding of Front St. and extensive work on the Centennial Park.

J. D. Kinsey (incumbent) — "I solicit your vote in order to carry through negotiations regarding a home for the aged and to introduce day care nurseries."

Ross Bartt - "If my knowledge gained in 21 years as your councillor and six years as your mayor will be of service to you, I ask your support next Monday."

E. M. "Ted" Parker - "I believe my 16 years combined service on municipal bodies such as the board of education could stand me in good stead on Trenton's council."

Gerald Weaver — "This town's problems needs to be solved by more sense, and less nonsense."

Richard Whitley - "Our council must pull together — there should be no more split action on issues of concern to the taxpayers."

Appeals Made to Aid Family After Home in Read Burns

READ — An appeal has been launched to aid a family of 11 left homeless last night when their home burned to the ground on Prendiana's 8th concession near here.

The Catholic Women's League of Read today issued a call for help to local residents and the neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Golden and their nine children.

"They lost everything — so any clothing and furniture will be welcome," said Rev. Walter Hamilton, parish priest of Read today.

The Golden children are Michael 17, Leona, 16, Patsy, 14, Edward, 15, Walter, 12, Francis, 10, Paul, 8, Tony, 5, Jean, 4, and Douglas, 2.

Belleville firefighters, made a 15-mile dash in a fruitless attempt to save the Golden home.

The call came in just before 11 o'clock and on the way the new fire trucks could see the sky lit up. "The house was gone when we arrived," said Fire Chief Ted Poste.

The loss of the home and most of the belongings was caused by a faulty coal stove in the kitchen. The firemen used portable pumps but it was not until a few minutes before six a.m. when they were able to return to Belleville.

Although no official damage estimate is available Chief Poste said the home was fully insured.

Another call yesterday afternoon took the firemen to 66 Great St. James St. where a bed fire was caused by "careless smoking in bed" according to Chief Poste.

The bed in a room rented by R. Brushie was destroyed but no other damage was reported.

The chief has again cautioned the public about the dangers of smoking in bed and the necessity of checking heating units during the winter to prevent fires.

Drama Group From Collegiate Wins Award

PICTON—Prince Edward Collegiate's drama group has returned here jubilant from the Eastern Ontario Drama League's one-act play festival in Lindsay.

Their presentation - Sophocles' Antigone - won awards for the best classical play, the best high school play and as runner-up to the winning play.

The high school students played against veterans from long-established theatre groups in Peterborough, Kingston, Lindsay, Brockville and Smiths Falls.

The Real Canada

Canada is a vast land. It is the world's second largest land mass after the Soviet Union. Yet many Canadians have seen only a fraction of its area, let alone moved around much in their immediate environment.

Even today's generation of seasoned travellers often are more familiar with Europe than with this country's ten provinces stretching some 3,000 miles from Atlantic to Pacific.

The younger set — the teenagers — seem overawed when someone suggests they might take off and see a bit of their native land. And anyhow they spend that they regard as prohibitive. Yet, is it not just a question of relative values? After all, the purchasing power of the younger generation has long been recognized.

Teenagers today have their summer jobs and many of them earn good money. They have their cars and they buy the things their generation "dig," as the saying goes. Cars or motorbikes for the boys. Clothes, records and cosmetics for the girls. Over the months, in aggregate, this mounts up. And if the young people can afford to spend money on items such as these they can afford to see something of the country.

Where better to start that right here in Canada. As we have mentioned, there is many an adult who has not strayed far beyond his immediate region. And yet, for not much more than a couple of hundred dollars one can see Canada coast-to-coast.

Here one sees the Canada of time immemorial — the lakes that now are close to the northern treescup, the lonely vistas and far horizons, the quiet still awaiting the hand of man, the regions that have never heard of the flight from the farms or urban crowding because they have known neither.

This is the Canada where sight of a hunting bear is an event. And the Canada where a train rolling by, if not an event, to the few inhabitants, is at least a matter of interest, particularly for the young. And that is the way it was recently somewhere on the Manitoba-Ontario border area. The train rolled east, and there on a roadside, in the lonely vastness, were a small boy and girl and their German shepherd. As poet William Allingham would have said: "What a thing to remember for years — to remember with tears."

Study in Contrasts

Consider two familiar images of the economic scene: on the one hand, the last resting place on city outskirts (Belleville's is on the Canniton Road) of automobiles that have served their turn and had their day; on the other, the tallcar or long trailer loads of new models just off the assembly line and en route to display rooms across the country.

In this contrasting scene is the essence of our 20th century materialist world and of our dependence on the automobile. North Americans know it as "planned obsolescence."

And then consider a recent way-to-work encounter of two Bellevillians. "Where's your car?" one asked. "Oh, it's at home — I like these early morning walks."

"And so do I," countered the first chap.

What does this suggest? Simply that if circumstances allow — if a fellow lives close enough to work — he will walk. Indeed this, and the journey on foot back home in the evening, is often the only exercise he gets during the day.

The invention of the wheel remains the greatest single triumph of economic man. It has never been surpassed in terms of its influence on civilization generally, forming the basis of all classes of machinery and modes of transportation from the oxcarts of Latin America to the sleek products of Detroit.

But when all is said and done a man likes the outdoors, where he can sense the lift in the air, hear the sound of the wind in the trees barely yet bare, and feel close to nature. It is too easy to lose sight of these things, and yet in their rediscovery we come close to the inner meaning of life.

Bad Grooming

Attention has been drawn of late in this column — not for the first time — to the untidy state of Belleville public parks.

The city can be faulted on two levels in this respect. There are places where litter may be disposed of, but people ignore them. And sometimes we wonder just to what extent the city works do provide elaborate cleanup equipment is used. Cracked sidewalks is the other blight of the city scene.

Out west, in Edmonton — a city with a shining new image of swift advancement, new buildings, and downtown cleanliness — the parks have receptacles for litter like anywhere else. On them is the legend: "Stow it — don't throw it." And this seems to impress people for the city looks spotless.

Here in Belleville we need to show a little more respect for good city grooming.

Spunky Judy Puts Rabid Bite on Costly CBC

By RICHARD JACKSON

OTTAWA — "Thank God for Judy LaMarsh!"

Clear above the babble of the Commons it sounded.

And the House, Liberals, Conservatives, Socreds, Creditistes, independents, French and English alike — just about all parliamentary hands except for the New Democrats — applauded, hammering their desk-tops in enthusiastic endorsation of Lady.

It could have been a turning point in Judy's often troubled relations with Parliament.

For she long has been far too abrasive for the sensitivities of most of the Conservatives and even some of the Liberals.

When she has leered it in the Opposition with the sharp edge of her tongue, Prime Minister Pearson has been seen to cringe and sigh in the frustration of ever hoping to persuade her to cool it.

So the be-wigged Judy never has been in much danger of being voted Parliament's pin-up girl.

And now, suddenly she was. The instant sweetheart.

For she had spoken up for Parliament in its long-troubled relations with the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation.

Bluntly — was there ever any other way Judy has spoken? — she told the CBC president Alphonse Ouimet, his board of directors and his producers, that not they, but Parliament is "boss."

It marked not only a turning point in her relations with Parliament, but Parliament's with the CBC.

For until now, down through all the "costly and enraging years," as Judy so aptly phrased it, very often it has seemed the CBC was master and Parliament its servant.

The heartfelt cry: "Thank God for Judy LaMarsh!" came from John Matheson, Liberal MP for Ontario's Leeds constituency.

What made the House all but stand up and cheer was that John Matheson is no ordinary backbench MP, but rather somebody quite special as Prime Minister Pearson's parliamentary assistant, frequently designated official spokesman a nd his chief advisor in such Commons' crunches as came with the birth of the new Maple Leaf flag.

But Jud ded done far more than tell CBC who is "boss."

And had she done only that it would have been a great deal more than any other federal cabinet minister — Liberal or Conservative — ever had done before.

Other cabinet ministers "responsible" to Parliament for the CBC, as it has been so ludicrously phrased have done little more than serve as defenders and apologists for the publicly-supported broadcasters all through the years.

But now Judy had gone on to tell the CBC what a wildly one-t.avagant disaster it has been, informing its management that "notion" was the word for it, and advising rebellious producers that they were not to be allowed any longer to use the public's tax money and the public's networks to destroy the nation.

She put it so sweetly, too: "It is not Parliament's responsibility latterly to provide Canadians to finance the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation to break up their country."

The CBC, which never assigns one to one or even three high-paid hands to a job when it more uselessly can employ a dozen, a score or even several hundred, must have got the message — and first-hand.

For its executives, it has 11 vice-presidents — packed the official gallery of the Commons and the Senate committee, hastily taking notes, emitting little sounds of disapproval and generally making it plain they considered the MPs and Judy were beyond hope of reason.

This time, through the five swinging days of what even La-Judy, amazed, described as "free, wide-swinging debate," the MPs were unanimous — all but the New Democrats — in their condemnation of the CBC as an agent of destruction of all that is decent in Canadian life and of Canada itself.

It was so savage, this "condemnation," as she called it, it even stunned her — and she doesn't stun easily.

Maybe now, with Parliament working as a unit, though broadcasting act and the government ready to move in the new tough men of its management team, CBC will have to behave as a responsible Canadian institution or run the risk of being taken apart, studio, station and network.

As they say, "Thank God for Judy LaMarsh."

Senator O'Leary's Emphasis on Responsibility

Ottawa Journal

The lead editorial in this newspaper on Saturdays sometimes takes the form of a sermon — one of ours or someone else's which has been preached.

Usually it is the public that's being preached at.

Today we turn the pointer at ourselves, at the faults of the press.

When Senator Grattan O'Leary addressed the National Press Club this week on the launching of the club's anthology of a hundred years of Canadian journalism, he refrained from saying what a great bunch we all were. Instead, with that vigor of heart and clarity of language that is his, he told the newspapers of Canada to look to their responsibilities.

The Journal's present editors have frequently in recent years regretted the seeming lessening of responsibility in journalism, but in his few remarks Grattan O'Leary makes the charge with a fair that should be preserved in black and white.

He began by saying that he had become doubtful of the respect now being shown "venerable and sanctified cliches about press freedom." He quoted Milton:

"Give me the liberty to know, to utter and to argue freely according to conscience above all other liberties."

And O'Leary smiled, wondering whether the press today was reading Milton right. Did Milton mean "Give me the right to libel"? The right to blazpheme? The right to shout fire?"

The time had come to remember the whole community, he said, not just the Fourth Estate.

"Press freedom is only an extension to the printing press of general intellectual freedom. There is no such thing as absolute press freedom, nor absolute freedom of anything. All freedoms must be qualified.

"A great constitutional doctrine cannot be degraded into a mere journalistic convenience. The danger to press freedom comes from within, from newspaper people.

"The people of a nation have a right to know, it is said. But what is the meaning of this meaningful? Do we have experts to write on subjects requiring expert knowledge, and have the people to understand, to interpret? It all brings you back to integrity. The press will have its rights when not only a nose for news but who have the feel of the news, and of the context in which news is made. You can't just pick up some boy in the street."

Senator O'Leary was also outspoken in favor of Canadians keeping control of Canadian newspapers. The Canadian in recent years has disagreed with many Canadian newspaper publishers who have said the Government had the right to limit sale of Canadian newspaper companies to Canadians. Said Senator O'Leary — a former head of the Royal Commission on Publications:

"A country must control its banking, its transportation and its communications. Only a press owned in Canada by Canadians, largely financed and written by Canadians, assures us that criticism, discussion and opinion will be indispensable in a free society."

It is significant that the Press Club — which invited working journalists — invited Senator O'Leary to speak to it about responsibility. It is also significant that Senator O'Leary addressed his criticism not so much to the working journalists as to the employers and owners. Only a great constitutional doctrine should not be degraded into a commercial convenience." Senator O'Leary so means he fears it can be.

One Car for Every 2.9 Persons

Ottawa Journal

In Canada there is a licensed motor vehicle for every 2.9 persons and in China one for every 2,801 people.

Anyway, no red-blooded North American can resist car talk and there is an interesting lot of it in a little book published annually by the Canadian carmakers, the Motor Vehicle Manufacturers' Association.

They produce reams of information like the above and if anyone wants to pursue this lode they'll learn there's a vehicle to every 2.3-people in the United States, 45 in Venezuela, 4.9 in Britain, 53 in Russia, 589 in Indonesia and 709 in Nigeria.

The number of licensed vehicles in Canada in 1968 increased by five per cent over 1965 to 7,035,261. In the same year 62 billion vehicle miles were travelled and an estimated 4.3 billion imperial gallons of gasoline were consumed.

Canadians racing out to buy new passenger cars to a total of 683,639 registered last year gave their preference thus, the carmakers revealed:

Chevrolet 88,336; Pontiac 83,374; Ford 65,354; Dodge 43,682; Plymouth 39,382; Meteor 33,118 and so on down to M.G. 2,027, Fiat 1,908 and Thunderbird 1,854.

In 1904 the earliest Ford plant in Canada produced and sold 117 vehicles and in 1965 retail sales in Canada totalled 694,820 passenger cars and 132,611 trucks of all makes. Overseas it manufactured cars accounted for 67,834 of total passenger car sales.

The booklet reminds the older car fans that four-wheel brakes appeared on popular makes in 1923, safety glass was offered in 1926 and synchronized transmission was introduced a year before the stock market crash ushered in the depression in 1929. Business was so poor then that even the general availability of steel car bodies in 1935 didn't mean great sales.

Alcohol Is A Factor In 50 Per Cent of Fatal Highway Accidents

(Canadian Highway Safety Council)

New studies show that drinking is involved in as many as 50 per cent of fatal traffic accidents, warns the Canadian Highway Safety Council.

"These estimates," says P.J. Farmer, executive director of the Council, "involve no special time of the year; so during the season of parties and celebrations, the implications are even more frightening."

The Council, which is sponsoring Safe-Driving Week, December 1 to 7, suggests drivers who have a sense of responsibility observe the following rules:

1. Since even one drink may impair some facets of the individual's driving behavior the only way to be sure is not to drink at all.

2. Those who do take a drink should allow time for the alcohol to be absorbed by the body — one hour for an ounce of liquor or bottle of beer; two hours for double this amount, and so on.

3. Those who drink heavily should not drive. They are a menace to themselves and to others.

The Council adds: "Alcohol dulls the senses and deadens the restraints that usually govern human behavior. In short, liquor influences people to take chances and do things they would not normally do. Play it safe! If you drink moderately, allow ample time for most of the alcohol to be used up before driving. Better still, let a non-drinker do the driving."

Australia Decides Not To Devalue

Montreal Gazette

When Britain devalued the pound in 1949, Australia followed immediately. But things have been changing steadily for Australia since then.

This time, Australia has decided not to devalue. And Australia's currency unit is no longer the pound, but the Australian dollar, valued at $1.12 U.S.

New Zealand has devalued its dollar by 19.45 per cent, considerably more than the British devaluation rate of 14.3 per cent but this figure was chosen as that the New Zealand dollar now matches the Australian.

Prime Minister Holt, in a broadcast explaining the cabinet decision up the matter, explained that Australia, since 1949, has diversified its trade and strengthened its economy on a broader base.

"The Cabinet recognized that the effects of devaluation would fall unevenly on the Australian economy, as some industries — particularly some primary industries — were more closely linked with the British market than others. The general result would have been inflation, it was feared, inflation which would demand severe government restraints, so the Cabinet decision" was made.

Exports were diversifying rapidly, said the Prime Minister — particularly of manufactured goods widening the old range of exports.

Australia, he said, is now Australia's largest market.

Hippies as Aircraft Passengers

Winnipeg Tribune

Commercial airlines may find they're playing with fire — literally — in entering the hippie controversy.

The airlines, according to reports from Washington, have entered public debate as to whether they should bracket hippies with persons under seven days old, the mentally defective, those with contagious diseases, and drunks. There's nothing personal in this, it must be understood. These are the categories of people the airlines don't want as passengers.

Despite the debate the hippie status remains unresolved. One airline spokesman says passage should be refused those who don't meet cleanliness standards. But the only firm decision is summed up by one airline's spokesman: "We now require shoes." Often hippies show up without shoes.

The airlines are then courting the danger that their boarding, at terminal or even on planes, resembles draft-card burning as the symbol of protest.

From Scotland to Belleville for Interview

By DONALD MacKENZIE
Staff Reporter

From the east coast of Scotland (Dundee) to Belleville is a long, way to come for a job, yet Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Walker arrived in Belleville just a few days ago for that reason.

Mr. Walker, a skilled linotype operator, came to Belleville to check the possibility of working for the Tweed News.

The scope of Manpower's duties is perhaps best illustrated by the way it helped Mr. and Mrs. Walker and its program of Immigration Resettlement. This is a relatively new responsibility for Belleville's office since last July the settlement of immigrants in this country was handled by the Immigration division of the Department of Citizenship and Immigration.

The purpose of the new program, according to the bulletin released by the government agency, is "providing these people with some sense of security while they are becoming established in a new environment."

This is what Jim Stavely, officer in charge of immigration, and his alternates, Jim Fraser and Miss Collins, attempt to do — the operation naturally begins with a welcome at the train station or bus terminal.

Jim Stavely was at the Station to welcome the young couple to Canada and especially the Quinte area—Bill Hanna, publisher of the Tweed paper, was also there to extend his greetings.

After the prospective Canadians have passed the port of entry there are many aspects of life that they are offered help in. Besides finding the man a job there is also the problem of accommodations, the universal perplexity of the economic situation as well as advice on living conditions and credit buying.

Quite a few of these things are more particular to Canada and the U.S. than they are in European countries and it can be quite a change for newcomers if they do not have somebody to turn to for advice.

This is where Manpower comes in — they know not just concerned with finding jobs for people but offer advice in all aspects of Canadian life. . . to anybody. "It's quite regrettable that more people do not realize all the services available to them through our organization," said a representative of the Belleville office.

Almost all of the immigrants that come into Canada are skilled tradesmen for job vacancies that cannot be filled from our present source of manpower.

Criticisms of the Canadian immigration policy are often based on the false assumption that new-comers are taking jobs that Canadians could fill. This is not the case as more often than not these people add to our well-being rather than detract from it.

Taking the specific case of Mr. Walker, Manpower attempted unsuccessfully to fill the Tweed job locally first and then from other offices across Canada. Bill Best, who handles the machine trade applicants at the office pointed out that there are still four linotype jobs open at various Manpower offices that cannot be filled.

Mr. Hanna had looked around Tweed for accommodation for the couple in advance and as it turned out Mr. and Mrs. Walker and the Tweed News hit it off — he started work immediately.

Of course, there was still a lot to do. Mr. Walker would have to come in to Manpower to register and also check in with immigration. Odds and ends such as social insurance, things have to be taken care of, but the major job was over, Mr. Walker had found a job, a place to live and most important, he liked both.

A 3,000 Mile Interview

After being up to Tweed and accepting job with the Tweed News Bruce Walker returns to Manpower to register with Bill Best to take care of details like social insurance. Mr. Walker was pleased with Tweed, his job and even the living accommodations that were found for him.

The Campbells Are Comin'..

Well, maybe not Campbells, but Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Walker have just arrived from Dundee on the east coast of Scotland. They are being met at the train station by Manpower Immigration Counsellor Jim Stavely and Bill Hanna, publisher of the Tweed News.

TORONTO STOCKS

Golds continued to slide but less than Monday when the group index dropped 11.89 to 163.07.

The drop followed an announcement by major national banks they will continue to support the U.S. dollar at the present rate.

Dome Mines declined ¾ to 52. Kerr Addison ¼ to 10¼ and Giant Yellowknife 10 cents to 7.70. But McIntyre, which jumped 8 last week, advanced ½ to 83.

In industrials, Inco was off ¼ to 125¼ and Domta ¼ to 10¼ after selling at a low of 10¼. Goodyear and Union Oil were down 1 each to 125 and 52.

Noranda and Shell Canada gained ¼ each to 52 and 30½ and Imperial Oil, Massey-Ferguson and M. Loeb ¼ each to 67¼, 13½ and 14½, respectively. Levy Industries jumped 1¾ to 20½.

In base metals, Denison declined ¼ to 80 and Roman Corp. ¼ to 27½. Pyramid Mines gained 25 cents to 3.65.

Among western oils, Scurry-Rainbow was up 1¼ to 47¼ and Pacific Petroleum ¼ to 18¼.

On index, industrials slipped .19 to 162.26, golds 1.81 to 177.52 and base metals .40 to 105.21. Western oils advanced 1.97 to a record high of 215.50.

Golds dropped sharply on Monday.

Dodo Mines and Campbell Red Lake were down 4 each to 23¾ and 23 and Giant Yellowknife 85 cents to 7.80. McIntyre dropped 4 to 83 on sales of about 200 shares.

Industrials were fractionally lower. MacMillan Bloedel declined 1¼ to 24¼, Noranda ¾ to 51¼, Bank of Montreal and Simpsons ¼ each to 11¾ and 23¾, Canada Cement ½ to a low of 30¼ and Algoma Steel ¼ to 20¾.

CPR advanced 1¾ to 69¾ and Inco 1 to 126. Ocean Cement jumped 2¾ to 21, Union Oil 2 to 53 and Superinst 1 to 28.

In base metals, Denison fell 2 to 80½, Endako ¾ to 12½ and Hollinger ¼ to 27. Rio Algom gained ½ to 34½.

3 Proposed For Reeveship Of Frankford

They were Reeve Ray Moran, Councillor W. F. Rose and Councillor Rabel, a former reeve.

Any of the three seeking the office in the Dec. 4 election will still sought in quality.

Elsewhere, three newcomers were named in contest the four council seats against incumbents Carman Mikel, E. B. McGeachy, Paul Spurrell and W. F. Rose.

The new nominees were Mervin Dafoe, Mrs. Muriel Rabel and Kenneth Lawrence.

Neil Roote, Carl Smith and Jerrold Vasey were acclaimed school trustees and George Montgomery returned, unopposed, to a two-year term as public utilities commissioner.

Deputy Reeve Qualifies for Higher Office

BRIGHTON — Reeve J. E. Solomon, a veteran of this village's local government, had not qualified by noon today to seek re-election.

Mr. Solomon noted to a nomination meeting here last night he already had a lengthy record of municipal service — four years as councillor and the past three as reeve.

Deputy reeve G. I. Rose, who was nominated along with Reeve Solomon, immediately qualified to run for election if there is a contest.

Councillor Gilbert Ward was acclaimed as deputy reeve, but an election has shaped up for council.

Lloyd Powsail and Norman Roberts will challenge sitting members Howard Sharp and Frank Pearsall for the three council seats.

Acclaimed public utilities commissioners were Douglas Haig and Perry McIntosh.

Nominated to seek three school trusteeships were James Buck, E. B. Parks, John Martin, S. Nesbitt, G. J. Spencer and H. Bonisteel.

Hungerford Council Acclaimed

The entire council and school board of Hungerford Township is back for another term by acclamation.

The council, consisting of Gerald Gaffney, Standish Cassidy and Lorne Gunning is headed by Reeve Clarence Graham and Deputy Reeve W. S. McCrea.

The school board will again consist of Lawrenean Gunning and Manley Meeks and clerk for the township is James Kinkle.

The nominations were held at the end of last week at the Hungerford - Tweed Hall.

Service Club President Takes Issue Over Park

The president of the Belleville Kiwanis Club, John Trafford is angry — at Alderman Arthur Keegan.

Mr. Trafford claimed this morning that at a public meeting last night Ald. Keegan took credit for the development of a park at the junction of Highways 37 and 401. "The development of this piece of land known as the Fry property was and is a joint effort of the Belleville Kiwanis and Rotary Clubs," Mr. Trafford said.

"The land for the park was willed to the clubs by Mabel Duffett Fry and we sold it to the city and then handed the money to the recreation committee for development of the project."

Ald. Keegan made his remarks on the park project at a public meeting at Corby Public Library last night. The meeting for candidates seeking office in Dec. 4 municipal elections was sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Trafford said half the property had been turned over to the city while the service clubs were in the process of completing the project." The money from the sale of the property must be used in the development of the park," he emphasized.

Mother: "Jim took a load of bone out in the country yesterday, and the car is so muddy and dirty, I'll have to have it washed, before I take Miss Joons to lunch."

Father: "He brought it home with the gas tank empty, too."

Jim: "I'll wash and clean it every week."

Father: "Jim, now that you're old enough to drive the car, you should help keep it clean and take time to have it filled with gas after you use it."

OUR THANKS

TO THE PEOPLE OF BELLEVILLE AND DISTRICT

It was our pleasure to serve over 6,000 persons to "Expo 67". On many occasions not only were our drivers taxed to the limit but also our equipment.

This of course was the problem with all bus companies. Unfortunately with a project of this magnitude it was impossible to personally supervise each of our tours, which left room for complaints.

However we did receive many pleasant compliments.

Now that Expo is over we hope that we have made many friends we will see again on our tours.

We guaranty you good comfortable coaches anywhere in Canada or United States.

We hope that you enjoyed Expo 67 as much as we did in serving you.

Weight Problem Stems From Sex Repulsion

ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: The reply to the enormously overweight man was an eye opener. You said, "Now that you have examined yourself with a fine-tooth comb of flesh, try to learn, if you can, what you are hiding from!"

I have long been convinced that there is something more to obesity than the fact that people enjoy food. My sister-in-law was a slender, beautiful bride — 12 years ago. She was also deeply religious. Shortly after her marriage she told me in the strictest confidence that sex was repulsive to her and she no longer let that she made up a series of excuses which she uses regularly.

The woman now weighs 240 pounds (she's 5' 4") and it makes me sad to look at her. I told my husband I believe his sister has made herself fat as a cow so she will be physically unattractive to her husband in the hope he will leave her alone completely. He says I am crazy. What do you say? — AMATEUR SHRINKER.

DEAR ANN: I say you might be right? And I should say something else. It was rock bottom to pass on information told to you in confidence. You should be ashamed of yourself for betraying your sister-in-law.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: The letter from Wabash Blues is very much like my story. I also married a divorced man whose wife had walked out and left a little boy nearly three years old. If Wabash thinks she's a nervous wreck now, tell her to wait a few years.

My husband always took the boy's part against teachers, neighbors, me — anyone who criticized him. He never saw anything wrong with Denny.

When we began to get calls from the juvenile authorities, I took the boy for counselling. Three different counsellors said the same thing. "There is nothing wrong with the child, it is his dad. He is ruining the boy by giving in to him, fighting his battles and making excuses for him."

I tried to get my husband to see what he was doing but he accused me of being jealous of the child, so I gave up.

Today Denny is in prison. He starts the second year of a five year term in Kingston next June. The boy is only 17 and his life is already ruined. Please keep hammering away at foolish parents who think they are being good to their kids when they let them have whatever they want. — TRIED BUT FAILED.

DEAR TRIED: Thank you for your letter. The sin of this father is indeed being visited upon his son.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am a secretary who discovered by accident that my married boss is having a torrid affair with a woman in this office. When I learned what was going on I lost all respect for him.

This situation has not affected my work, but every time I see them working together it makes me sick to my stomach, even though I realize it is none of my business.

My boss is not aware that I know what's going on and I wouldn't dream of telling him. Should I stay and pretend I am deaf, dumb and blind or should I leave? — MISS INBETWEEN.

DEAR IN: Unless you can persuade your stomach that it is none of your business, my advice is to leave. It's not worth slivers, Dearie.

Canadian Club Speaker Accuses Government of Double Dealing

A charge of immorality was laid against the Canadian government last night by the national director of the United Nations Association in Canada.

Speaking to a Canadian Club audience at Sir Winston Churchill School, Peter Trueman of Ottawa, accused the government of double dealing in its refusal to recognize Communist China.

"While the government refuses to admit the existence of a country containing one - third of the world's people, the Department of Trade and Commerce had no trouble finding it as a market for wheat. Our jails are full of people who similarly flout rules as long as it results in making money," he said.

Reason for Canada's failure to grant diplomatic recognition to Red China was given by Mr. Trueman as the disappearance from External Affairs of the "old Asia hands" among the diplomatic corps. They saw the need for recognition at the time of the Communist coup in 1949. Their opinions have been ignored for 17 years because of American pressure and politicians' fears that the electorate might mistake recognition for approval and reject at the polls the government granting such recognition.

"There is no doubt which party, the Conservative or the Nationalists, rules the real China," Mr. Trueman said. There is no room in the world for the Hon. Paul Martin's two - China, one Taiwan' policy. Red China should replace the Nationalists in the U.N."

Canada opposed seating Red China in the UN for 15 years and last year abstained from voting. Her vote in favor would influence enough uncommitted nations to see China seated in the world today within one or two years, Mr. Trueman suggested.

"Taiwan's existence has been guaranteed by the presence of the American 7th Fleet and it would continue to receive the same protection if Red China joined the UN," he said.

"Communist China would have a disruptive influence in the UN," he admitted. Her sweetness and light in the General Assembly is not preferable to rude reality. With China's presence at the conference table, the route to communism and negotiation would be open."

The UN has scored more failures than successes in politics, the speaker admitted. Its victories rested in the economic and social fields. It has made a big contribution to world sanity by introducing a new standard of international morality. One example the speaker cited was the UN's refusal to declare self-determination the sole right of the white races.

The UN's chief advocate in Canada ended his talk by giving his rule of thumb for judging how much governments and individuals really want peace.

"How much money, energy, and time, are you willing to spend on peace?" he asked.

His address was heard by an audience of about 30 Canadian Club members.

Awards Presented At Music Recital

Presentation of awards for highest aron marks obtained in 1967 Royal Conservatory examinations highlighted the annual recital of the Bellerville Branch, Ontario Registered Music Teachers' Association. The event was held at Sir John A. Macdonald school Nov. 25.

Past-president, Miss Marjorie Woodard, acted as mistress of ceremonies and Mrs. G. H. Reesie, president, presented the awards.

Winners were: grade 3, Penny Barber, student of Mrs. E. Scott; grade 6, Evelyn Caswell, student of Mrs. J. VanOsten; grade 7, Linda Noakes, student of Mrs. E. Veley; grade 8, Sheryle Cretney, student of Mrs. E. Veley; grade 9, Carol Aitchison, student of Mrs. H. Reesie; grade 10, Ronald Twiddy, student of W. Vance.

Successful Living

In-law Hostility Spans Atlantic

Dear Doris: We visited my in-laws in England last year. His mother complained all the time. She told me to go back to Canada just because I asked her to sit down and eat a meal with me.

I always got her a gift or flowers for looking after the boys when we went out. She would never let me help with the housework or get any meals ready.

My husband's sister writes dirty letters to me and says that blood is thicker than water, so I said that love is deeper than blood and that my husband said these letters wouldn't break up us.

Some day we will be moving back there so I would like your advice on what to do to get things better. — In-Law Trouble.

Dear Trouble: It does happen that folk who are friends at a distance cannot survive a stint of living in each other's pockets.

Swallow all your hurt, write saying you have been sorry misunderstandings between you; that you treasure their friendship and hope you can all bury the hatchet.

If it is still so go, let your husband carry this strained correspondence from now on.

Dear Doris: About two years ago I heard an interview over CBC with a lady doctor who performed enlargement operations on women's breasts.

If possible could you please advise me of her name and address. — Hoping

Dear Hoping: Your own local doctor or local academy of medicine can direct you.

But this is done mainly for persons whose living depends, to some extebt, on a beautiful figure — such as dancers, female entertainers, etc. The surgeon inserts a type of inert material which is like foam rubber, under the skin. Then sews it up.

Gay deceivers are still doing a big job of making dresses hang nicely. Posture counts, too. Want my leaflet about check development?

Dear Doris: I recently broke off with my boy friend; then I wrote him a note of apology which included something about his girl friend. He showed it to all his friends and his girl friend. I thought I could trust him but I guess I can't.

If I forget the whole thing and pretend it never happened, is it possible that he will accept me as a friend again, or should I apologize to him? I really would like to get him back but don't know how I can face him after this.

The last time I talked to him he said he loved me. Now I wonder why he did this to me if he loves me. — Sorry and Worried.

Dear Sorry: You can't spend your life apologizing. But I gather the note contained something a little less than complimentary?

Forget it — and him. No point in lying down and being walked on. He doesn't love you.

Football Fans Request Grey Cup Menus

By MARY MOORE

T'ree of you stole my thunder. On two occ'~ 'tve days 'i opened letters from readers ~he are football fans in C·lgary, Regina, and O'lawa asking for Grey Cup victory buffet menus for December 2nd.

Here I am, a hopeful voice in the wilderness of Tiger Cat fans, having to submerge my enthusias.s in the interest of "public service."

We have given this celebration ... careful nudders. The Chicken Wings for Swingers that I gave here ,es.terday, could be doubled to serve ten people and is one of my top choices. Baked Canned Beans with Frinkie Bacon and Boston Brown Bread or Honey Muffins is my friend Fr, ,tribution. Cabbage Rolls is Wyn's offer·ng but she added that my Sweet 'n Sour Pork given here in 1962 should be mentioned. My niece-in-law Dea is d: I certain Lasagna would steal the s' w, Pea'~ says nothing can beat ~ickzn legs. Shirley thinks all would enjoy pizzas Doris says that as long as you end up with Lemon Meringue Pi the stingers will be ta'~n out — if y·ur team loses.

Baked Beans (from cans) jazzed up to comfort the exhausted viewers and lucky spectators in Ottawa and gently bubbling in their ov·ens while the excitement is at its peak, is my selection. You see, it is accompanied by a huge platter of wafer thin slices of sm·ked bacon or ham.

TUESDAY

Dinner Menu

CANNED BAKED BEANS WITH FRIZZLED SMOKED BACK BACON OR HAM
(Serves 12)

To two 28-oz. tins baked beans add: ¼ cup catsup, ¼ cup molasses, ¼ cup brown sugar, ½ to 1 tsp. dry mustard, ¼ cup bacon drippings, 2 tbsps. minced onion and mix well. Turn into medium roasting pan (or two bean pots) with lid, and bake covered at 250 deg. Fahr. for 3 hrs.

Have on hand wafer thin slices of sl·cked back bacon or boneless smoked ham. Ask your butchey to set his slicing machine at thinnest setting. You need one - third pound for each guest. To serve 12, buy ·- pounds. After the game is over and we all know who ·ow ·ump the bacon or ham, very whichway, on to your broile pan and bake it at 425 deg. Fahr. stirring it every 5 minutes, until it is cooked and frizzled and golden. Tip off excess fat and pile it high on Lizzy preheated platter and carry it to the buffet flanked by the baked beans. Serve with Boston Brown Bread or Honey Muffins and Cole Slaw. Dessert: Lemon M··ingue Pie — two large.

Dairy foods go with good living

Do you wish you could store up spare time now for the coming holiday season? You can, if you take time soon to prepare some special Christmas goodies.— Later you can pull them from the freezer when time is scarce.

Butter cakes stay fresh! What a good feeling to be able to produce your best Chocolate Fudge Cake or Maple Pecan Layer at a moment's notice. Cakes can be frozen, iced or ready to serve. Quick-to - make butter frostings stand up best.

Angel cakes make pretty party desserts when layered with luscious fillings. For an easy eggnog-flavored filling, beat ½ cup soft butter gradually beat in 3 cups sifted icing sugar, 1 egg, 1½ teaspoons vanilla, ½ teaspoon brandy extract, ½ teaspoon nutmeg and 2 tablespoons milk. Fill a large angle cake which has been split into 4 layers. Frost with sweetened whipped cream. Before serving, decorate with green coconut and cherries. We call it a Christmas Wreath Dessert.

Plates of gaily decorated cookies are a must at party time. Whatever new recipes you try, you can't bake too many of these crisp flaky shortbreads.

2 cups soft butter
1¾ cups sifted icing sugar
4½ cups sifted all-purpose flour

Cream butter, gradually beat in sugar. Add and beat in flour, part at a time. Wrap and chill. To bake, preheat oven to 300°F. Let dough stand at room temperature to warm slightly; knead 1 minute. Roll on lightly floured board or canvas to ¼ inch thickness and cut with cookie cutters. Bake on ungreased cookie sheets about 20 mins. (Makes 5 doz.)

Note: Sandbakkelse rounds can not be obtained unless baster is used.

Victory for Turks in Cyprus Would Not Topple Army Junta

LONDON (CP) — A London lawyer who has been investigating events in Greece from the inside said Monday that a military victory for the Turks in Cyprus would probably hit the ruling Greek junta "catastrophically" but would not restore democracy.

"The effect probably would be the removal of the present top-line ministers," Cedrol Thornberry said. "But they would be replaced by the people who really wield power, the faceless men of the revolutionary council."

Thornberry, 31, has been in and out of Greece several times in the last six months, making observations for a group of democratically - minded London Greeks and writing unflattering articles about the military regime for The Guardian. He left there eight days ago, when the Cyprus situation was blowing up into a storm.

He is assistant secretary of the Society of Labor Lawyers, a right-wing group in the Labor party, and has been a member of the National Council for Civil Liberties for the last three years. A former legal researcher in the foreign office, he now teaches at the London School of Economics.

Thornberry has come up with considerable inside information on maltreatment or prisoners by the regime but said in an interview he has not been molested by the authorities except for one threat of deportation.

This happened in September after he filed a story about the whereabouts of Greek composer Mikis Theodorakis, who was promptly produced in captivity by the authorities.

Theodorakis, who wrote the music for Zorba the Greek, is in prison on charges of plotting the overthrow of the regime, which has banned his music.

Thornberry said the deportation threat was soon withdrawn and added: "That's the only time I've ever been leaned on."

Ten days ago, on his last visit to Greece, Thornberry managed to see Theodorakis, who has not been permitted to talk to the press.

Tipped off by some friends of the composer, he went around to a barred window of a prison hospital and called to Theodorakis, who came to the bars and talked for several minutes. The talk ended when Theodorakis, told about testimony at trials of colleagues, rushed to a balcony to get closer to the interviewer.

"Two men in green with guns advanced and offered to shoot us," Thornberry said. "I made my excuses and left."

Water Supply Tops Tweed Council Told

TWEED — Tweed's water supply is in first-class condition according to a report received by council.

The Ontario Water Resources Commission reported on locations of the sewage stabilization pond and pumping station. Letters were also received regarding air and ground surveys for the location of storm and sanitary sewers. Estimated cost of sewers is $90,000.

Clerk G. D. C. Morton told council members he favored a pay-as-you-go policy on sewers until all cost estimates were available. He said interest rates are at an all-time high and if the proposed installation could be postponed until at 1971 a large percentage of Tweed's debenture debt would be retired.

Council discussed purchase of a new truck. Councillor C. Sinclair said that since the present 14-year-ole vehicle is in need of extensive repairs a new truck would be the best solution.

Council received news of the closing of the local Canadian Pacific Railway station. Reeve Barbara Allen said the news was received with regret, but there was little use opposing a decision already made by the railway company.

Two Injured In Mishap Near Kaladar

Two Pembroke men were taken to Belleville General Hospital following an accident on highway 41 Saturday night. The incident occurred two miles north of Skootamatta Lake Road, 18 miles north of Kaladar.

Injured were James Germaine, 33, the driver of a 1961 Meteor, and a passenger, Thomas Foran, 36. The driver of the other vehicle, a Department of Highways three-ton truck was uninjured. There was $2,500 damage to the car.

Believed Man Stepped in Front of Car

James Berdingo, 63 of North Front Street was taken to Belleville General Hospital Sunday night after he was struck by a car on North Front just south of Donald Street.

Berdingo is being treated for lacerations to his elbow, head and other parts of his body.

A police spokesman stated that Berdingo was crossing the street and stepped in front of an automobile driven by Bruce Coulter of R. R. 1 Foxboro.

Behind the Glass

The Quinte Curling Club, ladies section, held their first invitational bonspiel of the 1967-68 season on Thursday. A day of good curling, fun and fellowship was enjoyed by thirteen out-of-town rinks and three local rinks.

A trophy presented to the ladies section for annual competition by The French Salon of Belleville was won by a Kingston Rink - Ruth Chapman, skip, Cleo Durant, Barbara Lemmon and Deed Elliott. The runner-up rink was skipped by Helen McCorquodale of Belleville. Mrs. Lila Bierworth's rink of Bancroft was third and Mrs. Eva Webster's rink of Kingston was fourth. The one-game high points winner was Mrs. Phil Fisher's Catarqui rink and the runner-up rink was skipped by Mrs. Phyllis Starnaman of Kingston.

Brother, Sister United

Mrs. Laura Brouse of 122 Dundas Street East was united with her brother Tunmon Allen of Perth on Saturday, after 17 years of not knowing each other's whereabouts. Mrs. Brouse was adopted at the age of nine years and her first family has not seen her since. On Sunday they journeyed to Kingston where they were united with her son Sheila Georgeson and her family after 14 years and is now waiting to see Mrs. G.K. Smith of Edmonton, another sister and her family.

ANAF News

A large crowd gathered at the Duke of Edinburgh Unit's club rooms last Thursday evening, for a combined initiation and stag night. The Unit was honored to have Dominion President J. C. Lundberg conduct the ceremony at which upwards of a score of new members received their berets and lapel buttons, and were heartily welcomed into the club by the old members. The membership, beverage and entertainment chairmen and their committees really excelled themselves.

Under the expert supervision of Cde. Mario Dracup and Ron Baker, they cooked the delectable Jiggs Special and served it up in great style. That superlative host sometimes eccentric Ac pianist, Cde. Don Grass did a man-size job on the ivory keys while Cde. Bill Salter acted as MC. For a change of pace, Cde. Harry Latham and his electric mouth organ was introduced, it was the first time a number of the members had seen this musical instrument but the Scotch and Irish melodies were thoroughly enjoyed and he also joined in with the piano on some of the old wartime songs of both wars. Another pleasant surprise was when Cde. Ben Burley was persuaded to sing a couple of his favorite songs. These chairmen and their committees are to be highly commended for their excellent work and it is hoped that another similar evening can be arranged in the not too distant future.

Owing to a previous, commitment made before the new entertainment chairman took over, the regular dance that was scheduled for Saturday night has been cancelled and the next dance will be Sat. Dec. 16. This will be the last dance before the New Year Ball. Also remember the turkey rolls on Fri. Dec. 1 and 15. Help out the children's Christmas Party and maybe win yourself one or more good prizes. Tickets will soon be available from the stewards for the New Year's Eve Ball. As these will be restricted to 50 couples, get yours early and avoid being disappointed.

The following is a report from the sick chairman: In Belleville General, Cdes. Bert Hernerton, room 210; E. C. Wood, room 317; J. Johnson, room 211. Cde. Bill Hurd is still undergoing examinations at Sunnybrook. Cde. Johnny Foran is confined to his home. All sick have been visited or looked after.

Put a ring around the date Thurs. Dec. 14, and turn out to nominate the candidates of your choice for the 1968 executive.

YMCA Starts Fund Drive

The second phase of a campaign to raise funds for the expansion of the Belleville YMCA will begin next month.

The addition to the YMCA building will consist of a fitness centre or gymnasium, four meeting rooms and outdoor playing fields. The campaign goal is $437,400.

General secretary of the YMCA, Bert Messacar said today about $275,000 will be used for the expansion project. "We need about $200,000 to retire existing mortgages and loans," he said.

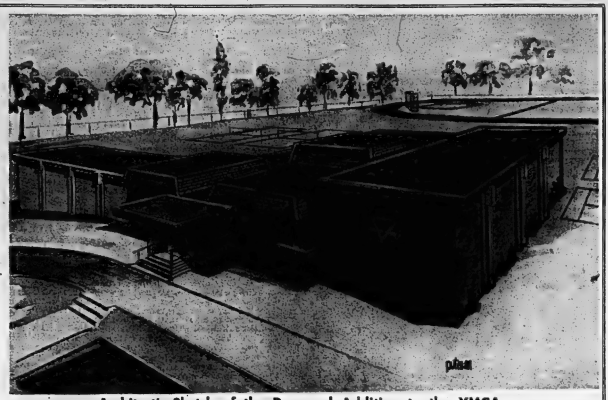
The new building will be 70 by 80 feet and will include a jogging track around the upper section of the floor. It will be completely equipped for fitness training.

Other changes include the provision of four club meeting rooms, two specialized activity rooms and extensive work on the grounds. "We'll be providing a multi-purpose sports pad for volleyball, basketball, children's games and tennis, Mr. Messacar claimed.

It was pointed out that Belleville is growing and that expanded YMCA facilities can add to the progress of the city.

Officials claimed in a news release the value of the addition cannot be overestimated.

To a prospective new industry recreation facilities such as those provided by the YMCA can be important both for the businessman's family and for his employees.



Officials claim parents can have the knowledge that their children have an opportunity to develop physically, mentally and socially in a healthy atmosphere. The family group activities will be extended further with the new facilities, a spokesman said.

To visitors to the community a YMCA is a sign that residents have a conscience for the caring and happiness of its inhabitants.

For the boys, girls, men and women users the YMCA provides enjoyment of vital activities in fine facilities under trained leadership.

For the public authority in the city the knowledge that the young have a place for constructive activity in their leisure hours is important. "No child is turned away for the inability to pay all or part of the YMCA membership fee," an official stated.

Mr. Messacar said the YMCA was advised by a group of community leaders on the financing. "They told us we could hold a campaign this year," he emphasized.

Swim Tests Given

The Belleville YMCA is offering a free program of swimming instruction to students in grades five and six.

General secretary of the Belleville Family YMCA, Bert Messacar, said this morning the program for non-swimmers is offered as a service to the community.

"Last week we tested 600 pupils from public schools to see which students couldn't swim a minimum distance of 60 feet. Those who didn't pass become eligible," he said.

He claimed the program would also be offered to students attending classes in the separate school system.

Mr. Messacar said the swimming program will begin early in the new year and will last for a period of 10 weeks. Each child will attend twice weekly.

Instructors for the course are Mrs. Nancy Jackson and Mrs. Enid Rowe. They will be assisted by a group of volunteer leaders.

Arrangement for the swimming program were made by physical education supervisor for Belleville public schools, Walter Cochrane. YMCA program directors Valerie Slater and Glen Manthorne are in charge of the testing and instruction.

Mr. Messacar said he feels the association can make a significant contribution to the safety health and enjoyment of all boys and girls by offering the program free of charge.

Dec. 4 Candidates

Candidate Robin Jeffrey

Mrs. Robin Jeffrey, the lone woman aldermanic candidate, home economist and former teacher at Quinte Secondary School, said she had a keen interest in civic affairs and felt a woman's point of view could be useful in city council.

She felt that women would take more interest in civic affairs if there was a woman on council.

"I think I could help to calm troubled waters and bring about more dignity in council," she said.

As a housewife she assured she was familiar with budgeting and would watch the tax dollar.

"Look for the misuse on the ballot," she urged.

Candidate Gerald Joyce

Gerald Joyce said he and his family moved to Belleville 15 years ago and had never regretted the decision. "This part of the province has a great future with many opportunities for our young people . . . I would like to see your children and mine share this opportunity. I would like to see Belleville get its share of growth and prosperity."

He called for a fresh and optimistic approach to Belleville's future, noting that the same amenities that attract new industry and commerce also attract young people.

But to have full employment opportunities there must be an industrial expansion—and tightening between city council and the industrial commission will not give Belleville the needed results. Servicing of industrial land was an immediate "must," Mr. Joyce said.

He said he was concerned about the proposed community centre complex and also the Dundas Bridge project but urged that the issues be faced "head-on" and without guesswork. Let us not have government by guesswork, he said.

"Let's be a Belleville booster, not a knocker," he urged. "There is no place at city hall for those who spell doom."

Alderman Arthur Keegan

Ald. Arthur Keegan listed a number of accomplishments which he said were promises fulfilled. He referred to sewers and lights for Foster Ward, lights and water for Hillcrest, all of which he said were now a reality.

He said he had been the only candidate two years ago who had promised to work for a community college for the city.

The alderman also referred to the development of Zwick's Island Park, Fry Park and Corby Park.

He promised more honest consideration for city problems if elected.

Candidate E. Arnold Orr

E. Arnold Orr said his motivation in offering himself as alderman was the desire to render conscientious service, and to give leadership to Belleville's march of progress.

If elected, he assured he would give the same full time attention to city affairs that he had given to education in his former roles as high school principal and superintendent of secondary schools.

He said he would give realistic assessment to city needs in order of priority and within the city's ability to pay.

Candidate Ian Reilly

Ian Reilly called for more new industry to bring tax dollars and provide needed jobs in the city.

New industry would encourage businessmen to remain in business and expand instead of vacating stores as was the case along Front Street.

Going out and looking for it was the best way to find new industry, he said. The city industrial Commission, while it seemed to have worked hard, had not produced too much, and Mr. Reilly doubted that a commission not responsible to council would ever do the job the people of Belleville wanted.

Is Belleville "we can abolish the industrial Commission by cutting off its grant and using the grant to finance a commission appointed by council and responsible to council."

Mr. Reilly said he favored both the Dundas Street bridge project and also the community centre.

Candidate Paul Russell

Paul Russell said he was a native Bellevillian in law practice for the past 23 years.

He felt that priorities were needed when planning work projects at city hall but stressed these must be established with due consideration for the tax burden.

In his opinion the No. 1 priority was the new community centre project, followed by new industry. Council should work with the industrial commission and council committees with the city manager.

Candidate Bruce Smith

Bruce Smith felt the community centre was a must. "We mustn't let them bring a cowstable from Kingston and put it on the fairgrounds," he said.)

The Dundas Street bridge was also considered a necessity but he felt the city could do without the skyway over the CPR.

He said that Council should also give consideration to a pedestrian bridge across the Moira — at the north end of Pinnacle Street.

Alderman Kenneth Soden

Ald. Kenneth Soden assured that he had given 100 per cent attention to city business during his three years as alderman.

He felt that if the city was to progress as it should there must be a new community centre of which the city could be proud.

A new community centre would provide an opportunity for Belleville people to stay home and enjoy such as the major sporting events, skating carnivals, drama and big name bands.

Such a centre would not be for drama or sports alone, but would be for all the cultural phases of the community and for all age groups.

"We are told by the opponents of a community centre that we cannot afford it right now, but that is nonsense," he said.

"When could we ever afford it?" he asked. "Are we forever to have only sewers, bridges and roads?"

"We must be doers, not talkers," he said.

Alderman Donald Williams

Ald. Donald Williams also called for the construction of a new community centre which could be used for many different activities.

He reviewed his work as alderman over the past four years and his chairmanship of the parks and recreation committee and also the arena committee.

He said future development of the city's park system should include the east side of

Scott: Poor Streets; Ellis: City Moving Ahead

In his second he had promised a special committee to bring to the district post secondary school education and another committee, which he had personally chaired, to bring about Belleville's participation in the Centennial Year.

"I leave the success of these ventures to your judgment," he said.

Other accomplishments listed by Mayor Ellis included the rebuilding of Dundas Street and North Front Street, paving of many residential streets in the East end of the city, and sewage treatment plant, storm and sanitary sewers, and water for Hillcrest.

But despite the accomplishments, Mayor Ellis said Belleville enjoyed one of the lowest tax rates in the province. And equally important was the fact that the city's tax rate increase compared favorably with other municipalities in Ontario.

Mayor Ellis commended the local industrial commission for its success, noting that two industries had been brought to Belleville this year.

He felt that even greater success could be achieved if his recent proposal to form a stock company to erect industrial buildings was carried out.

Mayor Ellis referred to the recent trend toward regional government and said that Belleville must be prepared to take her rightful place when these new government units are formed.

"If Belleville is to take her rightful place . . . you must have the leadership of one who is interested and trained and has studied these methods and not one who refuses

Mayor Ellis referred only briefly to the proposed arena-community centre project, stating that he had always been in favor of the project and had not been like others in council who changed their minds as the political climate dictated.

He said he would like to see a community centre of which the whole Belleville area could be proud.

Dr. Russell Scott was sharply critical of council inactivity on many matters, claiming the city's streets and sidewalks had never been in worse condition.

Turning to city financing, Dr. Scott said the city debenture rate and tax rate was climbing without corresponding increases in new building and population. Taxes, he said, would be up five to six mills next year without any more spending.

"At one time we may have had a low tax rate, but we will not have now," he said.

Dr. Scott said he was in favor of a community centre.

"No city is complete without centre comprising auditorium, swimming pool and ice surface area," he said.

However, he said it had been obvious that the Ontario Municipal Board would not approve a large expenditure for an ice arena in Belleville without approval of the people.

He felt, however, that Belleville could have a community centre with special grants and in a location propertie chosen and planned. With public support council will get the approval of the people to present the project to the OMB.

Dr. Scott said the county health unit was overreserved in its rented quarters at the recreational centre on Pinnacle Street. He felt the unit should move to new quarters and make the space available for a teen-age youth centre.

Again turning to city hall, Dr. Scott said we must rai the administration of the dictatorship at city hall and replace it with the city manager form of government for which the ratepayers voted.

"We can return to harmony in council chambers and the Friendly City with administration for East, West, North and South," concluded Dr. Scott.

Given two minutes for rebuttal, Mayor Ellis said he had no intention of taking that amount of time.

"We're talking to an audience which knows the facts," said Mayor Ellis, chiding Dr. Scott for his derogatory statements regarding the city.

"I have never made a derogatory statement about Belleville in my life," he said.

Later in the question and answer period Mayor Ellis explained why it was necessary for the grade separation over the CPR as the first phase of the proposed Dundas Street project.

He said he was prepared to accept the recommendations of experts in the field (consulting engineers Damas and Smith) who say the overpass should be the first stage of the three phase project.

He said the overpass could be built first with no disruption of traffic over present streets.

He noted there would be little point in constructing the river bridge first and then try to direct through traffic up over the Devil's Elbow Hill.

And finally, there would be little point in retaining the present dangerous level crossing.

It's like this," said the man with the Massachusetts accent and a Kennedy face, "If the Boston Red Sox and the Boston Bruins had lived 100 years ago and joined the admen-men, Paul Revere would never have had to make his cross-country run on the family mill-horse."

"Down in Brantford," he seemed to say, "I get the Celtics cavorting after the cage crown; the Bears pawing the ground itching to get in training camp action and now the Bruins who've been in the cellar so long they hibernated in preserve jars, threatening to claw the Stanley Cup."

Isn't it a trifle early to make any predictions about who's going to win the Stanley Cup?, someone asked.

"Consistency, nah, all we Bostonese need is consistency and if we get that, the Cup will be in Boston come spring," he said.

"And consistency we have nah," he went on. "Haven't the Bruins won eight of their last twelve starts against the so-called Mighty Millionaires of the Eastern Division? The only trouble is they don't get mad enough against those nice boys of the West-ern Division."

"What's got the lobsters cracking smiles and the cod coddling the beans, is the showing the Bruins are making against the Big Six," he said.

"These are the clubs who used the Bruins for doormats, so to speak, and kept us in the cellar so many years they use to offer to decorate the janitor's quarters in Boston colors every spring."

"Why they tell me that up here in Canada the supporters of the so-called hitherto Montreal Canadiens; the doughty Detroit Red Wings; the proud Toronto Maple Leafs and the high-flying Chicago Black Hawks would draw lots of their teams only for the league championship and cup finals. Boston and New York were always considered showcases and never in the playoffs money."

"At the start of the season the Big Four were classed New York and Boston on a par with the six NHL division neophytes."

The man has a point. The Bruins apparently tired of being kicked around in the basement have growled and clawed their way to the top of the National League heap with three of their players rating second, third and fourth spots in the league scoring race.

They stopped into Montreal Saturday night and with their fangs bared, greased the skids under the faltering Habs. Sunday night they took on the Detroit Red Wings and slapped a 7-3 setback on the Howe-Abel crew.

John McKenzie, Boston sharpshooter will likely have a lobster thermoeter manned after him. He potted four goals over the weekend, one against Montreal and brought Boston's tenth full house in eleven games to its feet with a sparkling hat trick.

And Johnny Bucyk hoisted a move-over warning to Bobby Hull as he racked up five assists to take over second place behind the Chicago ace with 24 points. Hull has 27.

Tied for third spot are a pair of Bruins, McKenzie and Fred Stanfield each with 23.

True, the Bruins may not win the league title or the Stanley Cup but right now they're having a helves lot of fun beating the can off the proodles of the east who have been kicking them around for 16, theng many years.

Spying Days Over

HAMILTON (CP) — The highly sophisticated eye of the movie camera has taken the espionage out of football.

General Manager Jake Gaudaur of Hamilton Tiger-Cats says no specific precautions will be taken to shield his club's practice sessions from would-be spies during the final days before the 1967 Grey Cup.

"Ten or 12 years ago we used to take on special security guards and try to hide from the other team's spies during practices, but these highly sophisticated game films have done away with that," Gaudaur said Monday.

"We have miles of film on Saskatchewan, including their three Western final games. Oh, we aren't going to allow people to sit in the stands and watch us work out.

"But if anyone wants to find a vantage point and spy on us from long range with high-power glasses, ye aren't particularly concerned."

Kite Flyers Meet

A fall slate of officers for the 1968 season was named when the Canadian Kite Flyers' Association held its annual meeting at Deseronto this past weekend.

"Only Ontario members attended, apparently other provinces feeling the distance was too great to travel," said a Deseronto spokesman, "but we feel we have a strong executive elected."

Rollie Bonesa, Brighton, is the body's executive manager; Mrs. D. Gall, Napanee, secretary-treasurer and John Leckie, of Collins Bay, vice-president. Dave Grier, Toronto, and Sharon Garrison, Deseronto, are directors.

Stop Reed And We Stop Riders Says Barrow

HAMILTON (CP) — Hamilton Tiger-Cats are preparing a little roundup that they hope will make George Reed—the tough-est Roughriders of all—sorry he left his home corral in Saskat-chewan.

"He's only a man with two eyes, two arms, two legs and a football uniform," said linebacker Ron Brewer Monday. "This club will stop him. There's no question about that."

The Ticats will have a chance to try Saturday when they meet Saskatchewan Roughriders in Ottawa for the Grey Cup. The game is scheduled for 1 p.m. EST and will be televised by both the CBC and CTV national networks.

Other Hamilton players agreed with Brewer Monday about Reed, but Ticat coach Ralph Sazio was more reticent.

"We'll concede him the 100 yards in the game and try to compensate by scoring more points than Saskatchewan. It's no use trying to stop Reed's blockers. He'll go through without blockers, he's that good."

Hamilton tackle John Barrow compared Reed's ability to an earlier threat the Ticats faced successfully this season—quar-terback Russ Jackson of Ottawa Rough Riders. The Ticats defeat-ed Ottawa 37-3 in the Two-game, total-point Eastern conference final and earned the right to meet Saskatchewan.

"Our big problem with Ot-tawa was that we had to contain Jackson, who could also run and keep his receivers under con-trol.

"We also had to stop Bo Scott and Ron Stewart from running. Those two with receivers Mar-gene Adkins and Whit Tucker made it tough.

"You have to consider that Reed makes up about 60 per cent of Saskatchewan's attack. We stop him and we stop Sas-katchewan."

Hamilton wasn't able to stop Reed Oct. 9 this season when the Saskatchewan fullback gained 166 yards and the Rough-riders edged the Ticats 23-21 in an East-West Shrine hocking game.

"But there was a very good reason for his success," said Barrow.

"We had played Calgary Stampeders two days before and we had geared our entire defence to stop the passing at-tack of quarterback Peter Liske.

"So less than 48 hours later we go into a game against a team with a strong running at-tack. We had absolutely no time to react our defensive align-ment."

The Hamilton club took the day off Sunday and watched game films for an hour Monday before taking to the field for a 15-minute warmup.

The club will practice again today and Wednesday before leaving for Ottawa by chartered plane at 3 p.m. Thursday.

Quarterback Joe Zagar suf-fered a broken nose late in the game and rookie Allen Smith twisted his knee. Smith said the knee was fine later and he has no problems with it now.

Gaudaur Considers Top Job

HAMILTON (CP) — Jake Gaudaur, general manager of Hamilton Tiger-Cats, says he is "prepared to think about" be-coming commissioner of the Ca-nadian Football League.

Senator Keith Davey resigned early this year and a CFL com-mittee has been searching for a new candidate. There has been speculation that a choice will be discussed when the club presi-dents convene in Ottawa this week for the Grey Cup.

Ottawa Players May Quit

OTTAWA (CP) — The collapse of Ottawa Rough Riders in Saturday's Eastern Football Conference playoff against Hamilton Tiger-Cats has left behind it a mounting pile of debris and recrimina-tion.

High among the reports are those that quarterback Russ Jackson, halfback Ron Stewart, and defensive half Dog Sutherin are retiring and corner lineback Jim Conroy wants to be traded.

Ottawa lost the game 37-3 and the two-game, total-point final 37-3 for the right to enter the Dec. 2 Grey Cup final against Saskatchewan Roughriders back here.

For Jackson and Stewart, the reports are not new. The two veterans, who have been mainstays in the Riders' offence for most of their 10 seasons with the club, were late signing their contracts this season and were report-ed considering retirement even before the season start-ed.

But the two players say they will not make any de-cisions immediately.

Angie Mother-in-Law To Guard Ron Atchison

REGINA (CP) — The whole Hamilton Tiger-Cat football club is a mother-in-law.

People like 275-pound Angelo Mosca, a mother-in-law? Or even the smaller ones like 198-pound Tommy-Joe Coffey?

He was only joking, of course, but that's the way Ticats will look Saturday to middle guard Ron Atchison of Saskatchewan Roughriders.

A defensive player once cracked that the reason he hit so many quarterbacks so hard was that "I imagine the quar-terback is my mother-in-law."

Quipped Atchison Monday: "The only way I can improve on that is to say the whole team looks like a mother-in-law to me."

Atchison, a 16-year veteran with the Riders who never saw a professional football game until he played in one, will be in his second Grey Cup game Sat-urday, against Hamilton in Ot-wa.

Win or lose, 36-year-old Atch-son says, "I'm still looking for-ward to another year of foot-ball."

Before that, defence of the Riders 1966 Grey Cup title. The Roughriders started preparing Monday by running through films of Hamilton's games this season.

Saskatchewan coach Eagle Keys could see "no reason why the (Ticats) can't play three good games in a row" and to Atchison that forms "the big question" for the annual Grey Cup classic.

"Actually, I think the team that wins will be the one with the most desire. You would think they'd be the same in a Grey Cup game but it doesn't work that way.

"Look at last year, when we got the jump on Ottawa (and defeated them 29-14 in the Grey Cup). They'd shot their bolt when they beat Hamilton with that fantastic score (12-12 in two games)."

Atchison left school at 16 to work on a farm near Saskatoon. He never played football until he was 19 and never saw a pro game until he came off the bench in one.

"It's unusual, I guess. I never had time for organized sports because I had to work. I was just a big strapping kid. I start-ed with Saskatoon Hilltops and got the ball beat out of me."

Since then, he's been beating a lot of ball players. He won all-star honors in 1956, 1961, 1962, 1963 and 1964. He stands six-three and tips the 240 pounds.

Tiger-Cats are Atchison's next target. He gave this assessment of the Ticats:

"I would still think that we probably have a better offence, a better balanced offence. Of course, they have a bigger de-fensive line than we have: Mosca, (John) Barrow, (Billy Ray) Locklin.

"But we have a good offen-sive line I think it equals or is as-handling anyone. They handled (Don) Luzzi against Calgary and Luzzi is as good a player as there is."

Roughriders defeated Calgary Stampeders two games to one in the best-of-three Western Foot-ball Conference finals while Hamilton was down Ottawa in the two-game, total-point Easi-ern conference final.

Saskatchewan's coaching staff was quick to get back to work Monday and the players fol-lowed. A lightweight workout was scheduled for tonight and the club leaves by air for Otta-wa Wednesday.

Riders defeated Hamilton 22-21 in their only game this year, in Regina Oct. 9.

Bruins in First Place On Strength Of Production Line

MONTREAL (CP) — While most bears contemplate hibernation at this time of year, Boston Bruins have no such notions.

The Bruins—last-place team in the National Hockey League for six of the last seven seasons and out of the playoffs for eight consecutive years—are in first place in the East Division today. And three Boston linemates are challenging Bobby Hull's individual scoring lead.

Statistics released by NHL headquarters show Hull, Chicago Black Hawks potent left winger, in first place with 18 goals and nine assists for 27 points in 21 games.

However, Hull finds himself hotly pursued by Bruins' John Bucyk, John McKenzie and rookie centre Fred Stanfield.

Left-winger Bucyk, off to the best start of his 13-year NHL career, is three points off Hull's pace with 11 goals and 13 assists. His 24 points have come in 19 games.

McKenzie and Stanfield are locked in third spot, each with 23 points.

Right winger McKenzie has seven goals and 16 assists; Stanfield six goals and 17 assists. Stanfield's 17 assists lead the league along with Alex Delvecchio of Detroit Red Wings.

The Boston trio has accounted for 34 of 70 goals the Bruins have scored in reaching first place.

Stanfield, acquired by Boston in an off-season trade with Chicago, has already passed his best previous NHL output—17 points in 58 games—with the Hawks in 1964-65.

Gordie Howe of Detroit, runner-up to Hull a week ago, scored just one assist last week and slipped into a fifth-place tie at 20 points with veterans Andy Bathgate of Pittsburgh Penguins and Ivan Cournoyer of last-place Montreal Canadiens.

Bathgate is the West Division's leading scorer.

Although Canadiens are in the cellar in the East, one point behind Chicago, veteran goaltender Lorne (Gump) Worsley is the shutout leader with two. His 1.82 goals-against average is the best individual mark in the NHL.

Bernie Parent and Doug Favell hold the team leadership with a 2.18 average for Philadelphia Flyers. Worsley and Rogatien Vachon have combined for a 2.25 average for Montreal.

Noel Picard of St. Louis Blues —last-place team in the West— heads the individual penalty list with 57 minutes, while Philadelphia is the team leader with 276 minutes.

Rangers Get Stewart In Trade With Blues

Rumored on his way to New York several times during his 16-year National Hockey League career, Stewart finally became a Ranger Monday in a four-player trade between New York and St. Louis Blues.

The Rangers sent centre Red Berenson and Barclay Plager, a minor league defenceman, to St. Louis for Stewart, the Blues' top goal scorer, and centre Ron Attwell.

"Stewart gives us added depth on the right side," said Emile Francis, Ranger general manager and coach who announced the trade. "He's a valuable addition."

Stewart has 327 career goals —seven of them this season with the expansionist Blues. He played 13 years for Toronto Maple Leafs and two for Boston Bruins before being drafted by St. Louis last June.

Attwell, 32, playing his first NHL season, had one goal in 18 games with the Blues.

Berenson, scoreless in 30 games with New York last year, has spent parts of six NHL seasons with New York and Toronto. He had two goals in 19 games this season.

Plager joins his younger brother, Bob, on the St. Louis defence. He was acquired by New York from Springfield Kings of the American League during the summer.

Mahovlich Back At Team Workouts

TORONTO (CP) — Frank Mahovlich practised with his Toronto team mates Monday for the first time since Oct. 21 and looked good.

The star left winger appeared in good spirits and was moving well, as on Nov. 1 when he scored a goal and set up two against Montreal Canadiens in a 5-0 victory. The next day he was admitted to hospital suffering from depression and tension.

He left hospital Friday and may play Wednesday against the Canadiens at Maple Leaf Gardens.

Mahovlich has played nine games this season, scoring four goals and assisting on nine. He has missed 21 games.

Monday's practice lasted 70 minutes, but Big M and most of the Leafs stayed on the ice an extra 10 minutes.

Regal Welcome

Mo-Hawks Plan Lineup Changes

Mo-Hawk fans will get a look at a revised hometown lineup here tonight in an OHA Senior "A" tussle with "Butch" Martin's Guelph Regals.

Coach Floyd Crawford said yesterday: "I'll stick with two of the lines and the defence we used in Collingwood but beyond that there may be some changes."

He was quite sure of one key change. Larry Holmes will make his first start in the Belleville goal, replacing Joe Junkin.

"Joe is pretty young and with the club in a slump, he has been under constant pressure. The switch may help both Joe and the club and we'll see what Larry can do", Crawford said.

Holmes is a Wellington boy who played with Picton's junior "C" teams before going up to Junior "A" at St. Catharines in the Chicago Black Hawk chain.

The will also be the hometown fans initial look at defenceman Bernie Gould, who paired with Greg Marchen in Collingwood, and also at Crawford this season. Floyd dressed for the first time last Friday to add some beef to the Mo-Hawk defence.

Her Lalonde will centre "Weiner" Brown and Dave Jones on one unit with George Godson going between Minnie Menard and "Shaker" Baker. Crawford is undecided about the third line.

Ralph Plane, recovering from a kidney injury, suffered a severe cut above the eye in Sunday's practice, requiring quite a few stitches but if he is able, will likely dress. Mickey Cherevaty, Wayne McConnell, Bob Taylor, Eddie Marineau and Bob McAlpine provide Crawford with a wide field to choose from for his third front line.

The Regals, with such veterans as playing - coach Martin on right wing and Harold "Boat" Hurley in goal, have a fast - skating club with a rugged defence. This will be their first trip here this season and Guelph needs a win to stay near the league leaders.

And the Mo-Hawks need a win, period. Game time is 8.30.

Meagher Scores Four Over Picton

A four-goal performance by Terry Meagher powered Belleville Ellis Printers to a 7-2 OMHA victory over Picton Legion, in Picton, last night.

Meagher scored twice in the first period to match Picton's output. MacCormack and McKenzie notched Belleville goals in the second for a 4-2 lead, then Hall added another before Meagher's final pair closed the scoring. Moore drew three assists, B. Buchanan, Meagher and Bonnet honors.

M. Woodward notched both Picton goals, R. Ferguson and D. Ferguson drawing single assists.

Minor Hockey

A pair of tight 3-2 battles featured the Belleville Minor Hockey Association's juvenile division games last night.

Amodeo's Aces nipped the Tigers while Melrose squeezed past Ontario School for the Deaf.

B. Beecher triggered two of the Melrose goals and assisted on the other, scored by B. Pascoe, to sink OSD. Pascoe and McLaughlan also had assists. D. Wojcik and M. Perry were OSD marksmen. N. Frappier and S. Depencier collected assists. The winners drew all four of the game's minor penalties.

Kingston Teams Lose

In the Eastern Junior "B" circuit, Cobourg Cougars shaded Kingston Frontenacs 4-3 in Cobourg.

In the intermediate grouping tonight, first place Picton Merchants entertain Belleville Ol' Kings in an 8.30 game.

Baseball Takes Strong Stand On Eliminating Spit Ball

MEXICO CITY (AP) — "If a pitcher is clever enough he can throw anything he wants. We are just trying to make sure he doesn't want to throw a spitball."

That was the way Paul Richards, general manager of Atlanta Braves, reasoned the latest changes in baseball rules, a change designed to put some teeth in the ban against the spitball.

The playing rules committee amended Rule 8.02A Monday, to prohibit a pitcher from touching his mouth or lips or spitting in his hand, glove or on the ball. The first violation brings a warning from the umpire, the second automatic expulsion from the game.

Richards, who proposed the change said: "It is too late when a manager complains after a pitcher has thrown a spitter. It's all over then and there's no proof. So it must be stopped sooner, at the mouth, where 85 per cent of the foreign substances come from."

The rule applies at the start of next season even to those pitchers who touch their mouth in nervous habit, even if they've never thrown a spitter in their lives.

Spitballs were banned at the start of the 1920 season but 19 pitchers who were throwing spitters then were allowed to continue the practice until retirement.

But pitchers kept up the practice on the sly. Almost every team in the major leagues has at least one weltball pitcher although Cal Koonce of New York Mets is the only active hurler to make it public admission that his pitches have something on them other than natural effort.

Charles Segs, president of the playing rules committee, announced the change on the first day of the annual winter baseball meetings. It was suggested during an unprecedented meeting of managers and general managers of the 20 major league clubs.

The managers and general managers also acted on ideas put forth by commissioner William D. Eckert to speed up play and improve the game's image.

These included giving the umpire sole authority to determine if a ball is in play, enough caution to keep in the game and asking all clubs to use golf carts to haul relief pitchers and pinch hitters from distant bullpens.

In other developments, Joe DiMaggio, executive vice-president of Oakland Athletics, announced the appointment of Bill Cutler as vice - president in charge of public relations. Cutler has been an administrative assistant in the office of the American League president.

New York Mets acquired catcher J. C. Martin from Chicago White Sox and sent pitcher Bill Denehy to Washington Senators to complete deals made earlier.

Today's big business included the draft of minor league players but the pickings were slim.

Oakland had the first choice.

Richards Asks Pitching Distance Be Increased

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Paul Richards, general manager of Atlanta Braves and a veteran of more than 40 years in baseball, has a suggestion to improve spectator interest.

"Think what we'd have if we moved the pitcher's mound back five feet," Richards said.

"We'd get a lot more triples and doubles and guys would be running all over after the ball. It might be a lot more interesting."

Richards made his suggestion as part of a campaign among managers and general managers to speed up play and improve baseball's image. He made the proposal during a meeting of managers and general managers from the 20 major league clubs during baseball's winter meetings.

Richards' suggestion is to keep all other dimensions on the diamond the same but make the distance from the mound to the plate 45 feet, six inches instead of 60 feet, six inches.

"Where are the .300 or .350 hitters today? There are only two leagues in the world where a player can hit .330 and get a raise in America and the National. If a guy hits .329 in the Pacific Coast League they send him to the Carolina League."

Richards said five feet is just an arbitrary figure and he would be willing to compromise on the distance to move the mound.

By moving the mound back, Richards feels the hitter would regain an advantage over the pitcher.

"You can't find a ballplayer who, if he tells the truth, won't say he had to overcome fear of a pitched ball," Richards said. "It's natural to be afraid of a pitched ball. But moving the mound back might ease that and take some of the emphasis off defense."

What happens in a generation or two, when pitchers get used to throwing from 65 feet, six inches?

"We might have to move it back to second base if the pitchers grow another foot and get stronger," he said. "Right now it is a mismatch in favor of the pitchers."

Unanimous Choice

Harris Western All-Star 7 Years In Row

OTTAWA (CP) — For the seventh year in a row, the Football Reporters of Canada have named linebacker Wayne Harris of Calgary Stampeders to the Western Football Conference all-star team.

And it was unanimous.

FRC president Terry Kielty released the names of the best in the West today and his list showed Harris with lots of Stampeder company on the squad.

The vote, conducted among the men who cover the games, placed nine Stampeders on the team. There were eight from Saskatchewan Roughriders, four from Edmonton Eskimos, three from Winnipeg Blue Bombers, but none from British Columbia Lions.

The teams:

Offence: Quarterback—Peter Liske, Calgary. Fullback—George Reed, Saskatchewan. Halfbacks—Jim Thomas, Edmonton, Dave Ramsey, Winnipeg. Flanker—Ken Nielsen, Winnipeg. Centre—Ted Urness, Saskatchewan. Guards—Jack Abendschan, Saskatchewan, Bob Lueck, Calgary. Tackles Chris Rauck, Saskatchewan, Roger Kramer, Calgary. Ends —Terry Evanshen and Herm Harrison, Calgary.

Defence: Ends—Dick Suderman, Calgary, Bill Whisler, Winnipeg. Tackles—Ed Mc-Quarters, Saskatchewan, John LaGrone, Edmonton. Middle linebacker—Harris. Outside linebackers—Wayne Shaw and Garner Ekstran, Saskatchewan. Backs—Frank Andrunki and Jerry Keeling, Calgary; Joe Hernandez and John Wydareny, Edmonton, and Bruce Bennett, Saskatchewan.

Reed, Thomas and Ramsey were Western all-stars last year, but Liske replaces Ron Lancaster of Saskatchewan at quarterback and Nielsen replaces Hugh Campbell of Saskatchewan at flanker.

Urness, Abendschan, Brock and Evanshen are all returnees to the all-star team on offence; named again on defence were Harris, Shaw and Keeling.

Harris was not the only unanimous selection.

Members was everyone's choice, as was Reed and Abendschan. Evanshen got a split decision—all but two votes as an end and the two selectors who didn't vote for him there chose him as a flanker.

Dart League Results

RCAF Association and the Legion piled up lop-sided victories in the Belleville and District Dart League last night.

The Flyers tamed the Wildcats 10-1 and Legion trounced the Black Diamond by the same count.

In a tight battle Simpsons-Sears nipped Bob's Sports 6-5. Other action saw Gainshotos defeat Sawdusters 7-4, Temple Bobcats top ANAF Warriors 8-3 and Elks Printers scalp the ANAF Dukes 9-2.

P. Cornell, P. Rumleski, A. Brenton and F. Donovan turned in high three dart scores of 140, followed by D. Andrews with 135.

Clay Not Greatest

MIAMI BEACH (Reuters) — Cassius Clay is no longer "the greatest," according to a giant computer.

The computer gave a victory on points to Jim Jeffries, heavyweight boxing champion from 1899 to 1905, over Clay in a mechanical "dream fight" broadcast over 400 radio stations.

Hull Says He'll Quit

TORONTO (CP) — Bobby Hull — in a CBC-TV special on the Chicago Black Hawk star — said he will only continue to play hockey until he has earned enough financial support for him and his family. Hull said it's not his first love. He is looking forward to the day when he can turn full-time to his 500-acre farm near Belleville.

It will be shown next Monday at 7:30 p.m. EST.

Sport Miniatures

NEW YORK (CP) — Jimmy Mailleur, top-ranked Canadian middleweight contender, meets Danny Perez of Puerto Rico in the 10-round main event here Friday night. Mailleur, a native of Windsor, Ont., now fighting out of Newark, N.J., was defeated by Dave Downey of Halifax in a fight for the Canadian championship in Halifax last September. He has not fought since.

VANCOUVER (CP) — Mayor Tom Campbell said Monday an invitation to hold the Grey Cup football game here in 1969 will be extended to the Canadian Football League at a meeting in Ottawa later this week. The Canadian football championship game was last held here in 1966 and is scheduled for Toronto next year.

Montreal Considers Bid For Baseball Franchise

MONTREAL (CP) — Gerry Snyder, a member of the city of Montreal executive committee, said Monday a major league baseball franchise for this city is closer to reality than ever before.

"We can have a major league team here if we are awarded a franchise and if the people of this city show that they really want a ball team," Snyder said.

The executive committee member, who acts as sports adviser to Mayor Jean Drapeau, recently returned from a trip to Chicago where he met with baseball figures.

Snyder admitted he had made some overtures to getting Montreal into the big league picture, but he made it clear he was not carrying out any official bids for the City of Montreal.

Mayor Drapeau agrees with Snyder in trying to get major league sport in Montreal.

"He says we have a great hockey team and should have great teams in other sports," Snyder said. "He heartily endorses any moves to bring major athletic attractions here."

Robarts Tries to Walk Middle Road at Parley

TORONTO (CP) — Premier John Robarts, who piloted the Confederation of Tomorrow conference through its first two sessions Monday, said he was satisfied with initial results.

The premier tried to steer a middle road between the arguments of those pressing for a strong central government and those seeking more power for the provinces.

On one hand he attacked the idea that the province "acts in some way a nuisance and an impediment."

"By my mind there can be no more tragic misreading of the nature of Canada," he said. "Our triumph, our singular achievement, is that we exist in spite of our differences."

But he declared that Ontario has no intention of undermining the federal government's powers of primacy."

He made a case for a more flexible constitution which would meet changed circumstances. "We must be prepared to accept needed reform."

And he suggested reform, be in the direction of giving each province a unique "special status" within a reworked Confederation.

Mr. Robarts argued that since Confederation different regions have been dealt with differently, particularly in the granting of fiscal subsidies.

"In principle, therefore, the term 'special status' does not alarm us," he said. "To us the concept should mean a profound awareness that Canada is a country of disparate parts, each with its own combination of preferences and needs."

But he agreed the idea could be carried "to a point where it could destroy the federal government and the means of keeping our country together."

He questioned whether any region or province should be granted any special status "beyond that granted to any other."

Later in the conference, Mr. Robarts suggested that establishment of a distinctive Canadian history should be a primary aim of the country in view of cultural intrusions from the United States.

Ontario Liberal leader Robert Nixon, an observer at the conference, said after words he agreed with much of what was said but felt a lot of the arguments were wasted because of absence from the conference tables of the federal government.

Ottawa is represented at the talks by the four observers.

Johnson Woos English Canadians

TORONTO (CP) — Premier Daniel Johnson Monday used soft-spoken statesmanship in an appeal to the English-speaking provinces to help make French-Canadians feel at home in all of Canada.

The premier closed the first day of the Confederation of Tomorrow conference by telling fellow provincial premiers Quebec is in agreement on "the great objectives" of Canada.

But the French-speaking province wants control "over all that involves our socio-cultural life."

Mr. Johnson gently accused the federal government and the English-speaking province of making Quebec into "a sort of ghetto for the French" and directed a rebuttal of remarks by Premier R. C. Manning of Alberta.

Mr. Manning told the conference he opposed granting official status to the French language outside Quebec it would be necessary to do the same for 20 or 25 other language groups.

He said the facts show immigrants to Canada integrate into either the French- or English-speaking cultural community.

Even putting aside the historical reason that Quebec was one of Canada's two founding peoples, there was still the fact that 75 per cent of 1,500,000 students in Quebec were being educated in French.

"If this is an economic handicap, there resides the danger of the breakdown of Canada

Consumer Chief Opposes Efforts To Widen Powers

OTTAWA (CP) — Handsome John Turner may be known as "Toothless" after the debate Monday'is which the Commons gave third reading to a bill establishing a new department of consumer and corporate affairs.

In what sounded at times like the Great Dental Debate, five amendments were aimed at giving Mr. Turner more teeth. Having "teeth" to the new department and less ruled out of order.

"He doesn't want any real teeth," jibed Grace MacInnis (NDP — Vancouver-Kingsway) as Mr. Turner fought off the proposed changes.

Now required — in general, Mr. Turner will head the new department once the bill is enacted. It still must receive Senate approval.

Before the Commons today will be a resolution to amend the Post Office Act to increase by one cent the rate for letters mailed in Canada for delivery within Canada.

An amended rate structure for newspapers and periodicals and administrative changes related to tenders and contracts also are proposed.

Details haven't been announced and won't be known until the resolution has been dealt with and the bill setting out the changes has been given first reading.

Detailed study of the consumer and corporate bill stalled on Clause 6, which sets out the powers of the department, as the NDP proposed three amendments, the Conservatives one and the Creditistes one.

The first by Erik Nielsen (PC — Yukon) would have given the minister power to investigate price increases. It was defeated 41 to 33,--Conservatives getting support from the NDP and Creditistes.

Mrs. MacInnis was the author of second proposed amendment, a move to set up a prices review board under the department. It went down 45 to 11.

"We are now trying again to provide teeth for a very reluctant St. Lawrence-St. George as he goes out to battle for the consumers," she said.

Mr. Turner, MP for the Montreal riding of St. Lawrence-St. George, flashed a sparkling smile.

He said the prices review board would be constitutionally invalid and "useless" if it attempted to control prices.

He also said producers might use such a body to justify price increases based on cost increases, something that wasn't always easy to do now.

A third amendment by Max Saltsman (NDP — Waterloo South) to establish a Crown corporation to manufacture, distribute, promote and sell drugs was ruled out of order.

Creditiste Alcide Simard (Lac St. Jean) also was unable to get past the chairman a proposal for a national credit board to pay retailers to reduce prices.

Mrs. MacInnis moved a fifth amendment to empower the new department to get information from others to help deal with consumer complaints. It was defeated 43 to 36.

She said the food and drug directorate had tried without success for 10 years to get the federal agriculture department to amend regulations for labelling cans of fruit juice.

Only after the Canadian Association of Consumers had publicized a study showing that the content of many cans fell short of the amount on the label did the agriculture department acted.

David Orlikow (NDP — Winnipeg North) asked what the new department would do about the recent Noranda copper price increase, which he said will be matched by other producers and further increase the cost of living.

Mr. Turner said Finance Minister Sharp already has told the Commons he is inquiring into the copper price increase.

Rush Able To Walk

TORONTO (CP) — Myer Rush, the 43-year-old stock promoter whose throat was pierced in a bombing attempt on his life 18 days ago, was walking and talking in the private patient's pavilion of Toronto General Hospital Monday night.

Rush still is under 24-hour police protection since the bombing which wrecked his hotel room Nov. 14.

Mr. Bazos is defending Rush in a $100,000,000 stock promotion fraud charges.

An anonymous caller tipped off newspapers, radio and television stations that Rush, his wife, would be holding a press conference in the lobby of the pavilion at 10 p.m.

Mr. Bazos said he would withdraw from the case if Rush made any public statement. He met newspaper men and photographers at the hospital Monday night.

"This is all a dirty hoax," he said. "There's no press conference."

He said neither Rush nor his wife have anything about the phone calls but "we have our own ideas."

Remarkable Work of Teaching Deaf to Talk Seen in Special

NEW YORK (AP)—Can You Hear Me? was a short special program on ABC Monday night — brief, enlightening and hopeful demonstration of the remarkable work of teaching the deaf to talk.

What could easily have dropped into sentimentality—showing a class of young deaf children learning to communicate—was actually a picture and word story told with understatement and enormous understanding.

Lester Cooper's 30-minute documentary centred on 2½-year-old Beth Ann Bull and her mother from the moment the child entered a clinic in Los Angeles until, weeks of intense work later, the little girl finally spoke her first word—first step out of her "world of silence," as narrator Ingrid Bergman called it.

One of the most moving sequences caught by the camera was during a preliminary testing period when some high-pitched electronic sounds pierced Beth Ann's consciousness. Her little face first looked startled, then puzzled and finally pleased.

Shown too were the gentle, patient members of the clinic staff as they worked with both the children and mothers, demonstrating the techniques of teaching lip reading.

Mrs. Bull and Beth Ann's tutors worked for weeks to get the child to say her first word. The narrator explained that it was sometimes necessary to place a single word more than 10,000 times before the relationship of lip movements and word is established.

Recommended insight: American Star—Celebrity Soft Ball Game, NBC, 8-9 EST, an off beat comedy outing shot last August in Dodger Stadium with sports stars and theatrical stars playing and Jerry Lewis commenting; Eisenhower and Bradley on Vietnam, CBS, 10:30-11, with the two generals discussing the war, taped at former President Eisenhower's Gettysburg home.

With The Trotters

WINDSOR (CP) — Ace Spirit took the lead at the quarter-mile point and led the rest of the way to win the featured eighth race Monday at Windsor Raceway.

The six-year-old gelding won the one-mile test by seven lengths over Rita Rodney and paid $4.70, $4.40 and $2.80.

Ottawa Still In Shock But Headache Pill On Way

OTTAWA (CP) — With the Grey Cup game still five days away, Canadian Football League officials started gathering here Monday in a city still getting over the shock of not being in the action.

What little action there was during the first day of Grey Cup Week was generally unadvertised and drew only passing interest from fans of Ottawa Rough Riders, unceremoniously bounced out of the national final Saturday by Hamilton Tiger-Cats.

The Ticats Saturday won the Eastern Football Conference two-game final by a total-point score of 37-3 after beating Ottawa 26-3, and 11-3 a week earlier.

Saskatchewan Roughriders, Western Football Conference champions and defending Grey Cup titlists, are in for a second straight shot at the crown after ousting Calgary Stampeders in a best-of-three Western series, 11-15, 11-9 and 17-13.

The Cup game is scheduled for Lansdowne Park at 1 p.m. EST Saturday, Dec. 2 with national television coverage by CTV and CBC.

The main event Monday was the arrival of the nine Miss Grey Cup contestants, one representing each CFL club, and the official kicked to the planned festival week by Mayor Don Reid.

From here on in, including a mammoth party at the Ottawa Coliseum following the game, there are three planned events per day for attending fans.

Meanwhile fans are coming in by nine special trains from Western Canada, a multitude of cars, buses and vans and CFL executives are rolling up their sleeves for four of the toughest days of the year.

The big item today is the meeting of the constitution committee at which most talk will centre on the Committee On Cess League (C.O.C.L.), which has caused friction for several Ayoh meetings.

The idea is to join the Eastern and Western conference into one homogeneous league with gate equalization, a balanced schedule, more local governance and equalized television contracts.

Indications before the meeting are that most problems have been solved with the exception of television returns and that could be solved further later.

While there are more games in the West on television during the season, Eastern clubs get a bigger return for their game television rights because they are in a larger market area — even with blackouts for home games.

Owners of Eastern clubs, who are not concerned about possible losses from gate equalization, are concerned about giving up part of their return from the lucrative Eastern television area.

No decision is expected from today's meeting. That will be left for the 1970's annual meeting Thursday.

Between the two, the EFC and WFC will meet independently Wednesday and there will be discussion about the players' pension fund started this season.

Meanwhile, the Lansdowne Park field is getting special attention for the Saturday game. Workmen were busy Monday replacing and near the sidelines on the north and of the field.

The plastic tarpaulin was down on parts of the field Monday to protect it against scattered showers while the re-padding operation was in progress. The field itself still is soggy from recent snow and rain.

Times Changing in Hollywood Says David Niven on Return

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—That astute observer of Hollywood flora and fauna, David Niven, has returned for another of his periodic expeditions. He concludes that while the flora is flourishing, the fauna is not.

Niven has been coming to these shores since 1934, when he arrived in search of gold. After a couple of starring roles, he began succeeding as an actor. But the golden period didn't come until he returned from six years of wartime service and was elevated to top stardom as well as oscarden—Separate Tables 1958.

In recent times he has been an infrequent visitor, all the better to gain a perspective on conditions. He was in town to play a bewildered parent in The Impatient Years for MGM, and he paused for some observations on Hollywood today.

"It's sad, really," he remarked. "When I first came to this town, MGM was crawling with activity. The stars that were here in those day! Gable, Garbo, Tracy, Crawford, Shearer, Beery, MacDonald and Eddy, Powell and Loy, Dressler. Plus a great company of character actors like Lewis Stone.

"And down in the schoolhouse were a bunch of youngsters training to be stars as well as learning their arithmetic—Judy Garland, Lana Turner, Mickey Rooney, Ava Gardner. And later, Elizabeth Taylor.

"And today there is only one picture shooting on this lot!

"This kind of situation naturally causes insecurity, and that's what is so sad: To see all these able and talented people living in uncertainty about the future."

Niven, whose home now is in Switzerland, finds the social atmosphere less changed. He has attended dinner parties at the homes of chums, and observes that it's much the same as the golden '30s, though the parties are smaller and less formal.

Niven's outlook on Hollywood isn't at all pessimistic, despite the depressed working conditions he has found.

"I think the greatest days are ahead for Hollywood," he said. "Movies are still the greatest entertainment there is, and movies can only be made as well as they are here. The only danger is if the studios believe they can turn out any kind of product, aiming at the television market."

Gets 12-Year Term

TORONTO (CP) — Michael Buckley, 21, of Toronto was sentenced Monday to 12 years in prison for the armed robberies of a jeweller and brewery retail store almost two years ago. The sentences will run concurrent. He also was sentenced to concurrent terms of three years for possessing burglar's tools and four years for having stolen goods.

Germany Strongest Country In Europe Rotarians Told

For all its warlike background Germany derives great strength from its cultural traditions. This is the impression Toronto Rotarian F. Roger Tumeson carried home to Canada from a visit to Germany with a study group of young Rotarians from this country.

Mr. Tumeson told Belleville Rotarians yesterday that every community of 5,000 or more population in Germany supports its own theatre. They have ballet, opera and concerts — and while the country has television, every evening people are to be found at the local theatre. He contrasted this with the furore in Toronto over establishment of a new centre for the arts.

"While we are making complete fools of ourselves," said Mr. Tumeson, the Germans just set aside from five to 10 per cent of community budgets for local theatre.

After the war German cities were rebuilt, often in the same architectural tradition of the past. Mr. Tumeson said this was because of the German's sense of history. With the nation in ruins they wanted something familiar to remind them of what went before. It was this same spirit which enabled the Germans to rebuild their country so that today it is the strongest in Europe.

In a country of 55 million people crowded into an area only a quarter the size of Ontario, Mr. Tumenson found that every piece of land is used. There is no brushland or wasteland. However, farming methods are relatively backward and farm operations uneconomic because the farmers live in the villages instead of on the farm holdings which may be 15 miles away.

Nevertheless, the country at large is prosperous and the people geared to hard work from management on down. There is a good understanding between management and labor and consequently strikes are conspicuous by their absence. One-third of the directors of public companies must be elected by the workers.

On the educational scene students start high school at the age of ten, at which time they also commence the study of English and other languages. For the first three or four years the emphasis is on conversation, and on grammar afterwards.

Universities in Germany have more freedom in their mode of study than in Canada. Students can study for two years before taking an exam, then study for another five years without writing an exam.

Mr. Tumenson said the drawback to this is that a student might find after this time that he had been studying the wrong subject. However, it does mean the student is more than adequately prepared for his chosen profession.

Tweed

TWEED — Miss Jane Thompson, North Westwego, St., sustained a fractured wrist and a fall in front of her home.

Mrs. Aubrey Reid, R.R. 1, Tweed, is a patient in Belleville General Hospital following surgery.

C. Edward Way, who underwent surgery in Belleville General Hospital recently, has been moved from the intensive care unit.

OPP Reports Rescue By Transport Drivers

NAPANEE — Second thoughts of transport driver Ken Gray of 3333 Lakeshore Blvd., Toronto, probably saved the life of 28-year-old Provincial Police Constable Evelyn Brown of R.R. No. 8, Kingston last week.

At approximately 8:30 p.m., Gray was driving west along 401 Highway just past the Amherstview Road overpass when tail lights of a vehicle in the median ahead of him seemed to disappear. At first he thought it was an illusion, or possibly a jail-mobile, as he saw nothing else in his way when passing the approximate spot. But when about half a mile beyond the spot he decided to investigate. He stopped his vehicle on the shoulder of the road and a second transport driven by Wally Verge of Toronto pulled to the side and stopped behind him.

On reaching the spot where the lights had seemed to disappear, the two men found Miss Brown pinned behind the wheel of her car, which was in an eight-foot deep culvert in a ford and a half of water. The driver had had a passing motorist, and had him notify the Napanee detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police, also call an ambulance. They waded into the cold water, and it took about half an hour to free the trapped woman, who was taken to the Kingston General Hospital. Here she was found to have a broken thigh and facial lacerations.

Had it not been for Gray's second thought, it is quite possible that Miss Brown would not have been discovered at least until the following day, in the opinion of the investigating officer. Possibly the accident would not have been discovered until much later, as the spot is completely out of view of traffic on 401 Highway.

Miss Brown has since undergone surgery, but is in fair condition.

The officers of the OPP were loud in their praise for such transport drivers as Ken Gray and Wally Verge, who assisted at the accident scene.

Church Groups

ST. MARK'S GUILD

DESERONTO — There was a good attendance for the November meeting of the Church women's Guild of St. Mark's Church, when many answers expressed that the banner project was so favorable. The proceeds were given to the wardens.

Plans were made for the December meeting, which will be in the Christmas vein. An exchange of gifts was arranged, and each member is to assist with refreshments and is to contribute to the program. Each was asked, also, to bring a toy or an article of clothing to be used in making up Christmas boxes for the needy.

Announcement was made of a corporate communion service for members of the Guild and of the Woman's Auxiliary. These organizations are to combine and the new body will be known as the Anglican Church Women.

Mrs. A. F. Dowdell conducted a survey on a comparison of the information gained on Anglican Church world missions at home and abroad from the church calendar, from "The Living Message," and from "Horizons". Mrs. Robert Tucker and Mrs. Frank Toppings assisted by reading extracts.

During the social hour refreshments were served by Mrs. Toppings and Miss Alice Jackson.

NOMINATION MEETING

VILLAGE OF WELLINGTON

Notice is hereby given that a meeting of the electors of the village of Wellington will be held at the Town Hall, Wellington, on Monday, December 4, 1967 between the hours of 7.30 and 8.30 p.m. for the purpose of nominating candidates for the office of councillor (one to be elected) for the year 1968.

J. A. Clemlinson,
Village Clerk's Office,
November 28, 1967.

Contest For Reeve In Seymour

CAMPBELLFORD — Electors in Seymour Township will go to the polls Dec. 11 to elect a reeve and three members to the township council.

Candidates for reeve are incumbent Kenneth Parr and former reeve Morden McMillan.

Four men are seeking the three council seats. Running against the incumbents, Neil McCulloch, Alec Rutherford and James Goucher, is Maurice Brunton.

Two public school trustees, Carl Free and Ray Pollock, were re-elected by acclamation for a two year term. However, under the proposed new Robarts plan, their term will probably end when the new county school board system goes into effect in January, 1969.

Campbellford Gets 50-worker Industry

CAMPBELLFORD — Campbellford has gained a new industry.

Officials of Golden Gate Industries Ltd. of Scarborough were in town last week to complete plans for construction of a new building. The firm has purchased 16 acres of the industrial property and plans to erect a $100,000 factory facing highway 30.

William J. Shields said the firm might start construction within a month and be in full operation by spring. A few key persons, experienced in stitchering, will be brought to Campbellford, but 35 to 50 employees will be recruited from the local labor force.

Mr. Shields intimated another Toronto firm might be interested in locating in the town.

Spreading Meals Cuts Weight Gain

By Dr. Joseph C. Molner

Dear Dr. Molner: Does it make any difference how many times a day I eat if I don't eat any more than I would eat in three regular meals? Also would a person gain weight by having a quarter-cup of ice cream between meals? — J. V.

Yes, it makes a difference — although I am not prepared to say just how much difference. Experiments have shown that there is a greater tendency to gain weight from the same number of calories if the food is eaten all at one meal. Dividing the same amount of food into several smaller meals results in less weight gain.

Thus, technically, you could divide your food into say, six meals, and would gain less weight from it.

Practically, however, some other questions enter into it. The person who is trying to reduce by skipping a meal, say breakfast, or lunch, usually tends to eat more at the next meal or two, and thus doesn't succeed in shedding weight.

A different trap often fools people who try to eat numerous small meals. It is not easy to keep track of the true calorie value, and it is doubtful if you can hold your food to the same total amount unless you resort to careful measuring and weighing. The eyes don't always agree with the stomach, and there's a temptation to eat more than you think you are eating.

If you are trying to reduce your weight, I think it would be more practical to plan three meals a day with a low-calorie snack at bedtime.

Or if, rather, you are trying to gain, then eat three solid meals a day with some high-calorie snacks.

What's this about ice cream between meals? If you are reducing — no! If you are trying to gain, yes, because ice cream is high in calories. I don't happen to have the figure for a quarter of a cup, because a more or less average serving is figured at 3½ ounces, or something under half a cup, and that is figured at 130 calories. A quarter of a cup would work out to perhaps 85 calories or so, for vanilla, and somewhat higher for chocolate or sweeter flavors.

Dear Dr. Molner: My husband, who is about 25 pounds overweight, tells me that wherever he catches a cold he should "feed it". He believes the old adage, "Starve a fever, and feed a cold." I say he is wrong. Who is right? — Mrs. G. K.

You are. But if he is 25 pounds too fat, he obviously likes his victuals, and the old and long-discredited wheeze about "feeding a cold" is an excuse. Best rule is rest and rather light nourishment for either cold or fever.

Dear Dr. Molner: Is it good for us old people to drink milk? I am 79 and was taught that it was one of our best foods we could work out to perhaps 85 have been told it is wrong. — Mrs. N. N.

I have never been able to find out why there is this criticism of milk which we hear from time to time. Milk is a nourishing food and furthermore is very rich in calcium. There are many older folks who don't get enough calcium either for their bones or to prevent easy bruising. A glass or two or three a day depending on how much you like it, is good for you at 79 or 99.

Dear Dr. Molner: I have your booklet on diverticulosis and found it very informative. But just what is a mineral degree of diverticulosis, and can it be overcome? — Mrs. D. H.

Would you look again and see if it didn't read "minimal" instead of mineral? Minimal means slight, and chances of overcoming it are, therefore, very good. To receive a copy of "Don't Let Diverticulosis Throw You," write to Dr. Molner in care of the Chicago Sun-Times Syndicate, P. O. Box 158, Dundee, Ill., enclosing a long, self-addressed unstamped envelope and 20 cents in coin plus 5 cents for postage.

Reeve Acclaimed

STIRLING — While Reeve Donald Rodgers has received an acclamation for another term, council candidates are readying for an election here.

A ratepayers' meeting last night nominated seven candidates to bid for office on the four-man council.

By this morning five had qualified, assuring an election which this year, for the first time, is for a two-year term.

Reeve Rodgers' acclamation came when Councillor Robert Anderson refused a nomination for the reeveship. Reeve Rodgers has served three one-year terms.

Mr. Anderson also was nominated for another council term but had not qualified by this morning.

Councillors Bruce Glendenning, Maurice Faulkner and Robert Hollis qualified last night as did newcomers Allen Lawes and Charles Trumble.

The third newcomer nominated, Elwood Bateman, had not qualified earlier today.

Acclamations also went to school trustees Allen Mills and Rev. Bruce Small with nominees Dr. Peter Briggs and Donald Williams withdrew.

Acclaimed public utilities commissioners were Harold C. Bird and Robert Hatton.

Views of Tax Experts Differ At Parley on Carter Report

MONTREAL (CP) — Opposing views are being tossed about at the Canadian Tax Foundation conference as delegates give close scrutiny to the proposals of the royal commission on taxation.

The three-day conference opened Monday and heard praise for the recommendations by Harvey E. Brazer, professor of economics at the University of Michigan, who said he'd like to see all the suggestions implemented.

"I have not the slightest doubt but that their implementation would produce for Canada a tax system which ... would be superior to that of any other major nation in the world," said Prof. Brazer during a panel discussion.

But Montreal lawyer Philip F. Vineberg, a former chairman of the foundation, argued that the adoption of the report at the present time "is unthinkable."

However, he added, "we shouldn't reject the entire report ... there's a great deal of weight and importance in the report."

The recommendations for radical changes in Canada's tax structure were tabled in the House of Commons last Feb. 24 following a four-year study by a commission headed by Toronto accountant Kenneth Carter.

They call for the integration of the tax system by combining a proposed capital gains and other taxes with individual income tax, removal of special tax privileges now granted to the oil and mineral industries, income tax based on the family unit and other measures.

Mr. Vineberg, who lectures in company law at McGill University, said the Carter report would have a much greater chance of being adopted if it had not asked so much.

There is a natural reluctance of people to adopt new ideas, he said, and too many ideas reduce the chances of their adoption.

Mr. Vineberg said also that more consideration should have been given during the preparation of the report to make it adaptable to people rather than trying to make people adapt themselves to th ereport.

Prof. Brazer said that if the commission's report "is to be attacked in its particulars, that attack should focus on its sin of omission."

David Y. Timbrell of the Toronto firm of McDonald, Currie & Co. backed Prof. Brazer's argument and said that it is about time Canada had a tax system.

"The comprehensive tax base does reflect a systematic approach to tax legislation, and until now I have not seen anything better," he added.

Another Toronto accountant, J. Kerr Gibson, said non-residents should be treated as fairly as residents regarding corporation taxes.

He said the Carter proposals would virtually repeal the corporation income tax so far as resident shareholders are concerned—while retaining it for non-residents—and this could hardly be described as representing a major improvement in the tax system.

"I do not think full integration of personal and corporation rates is required to achieve a fair distribution of the tax burden among Canadian residents, and it would be highly inequitable to non-residents."

French Broadcasters Hit Estates General

MONTREAL (CP) — A spokesman for the Canadian Association of French-language radio and television said Monday the organization does not believe it was shown at meetings of the Estates General that French - speaking people would be better served if the province of Quebec had more exclusive jurisdiction over broadcasting.

Jacques Filleau, director of public relations for the private - station organization, known in French as L'Association Canadienne de la radio et de la television de langue francaise, was an official delegate at the weekend meetings of the Estates General of French Canada which discussed Quebec's constitutional future.

One of the resolutions adopted urged that Quebec be given exclusive jurisdiction within the province over broadcasting, now under federal government control.

Mr. Filleau said is a prepared statement that ACRTF deputies and other Quebec delegates were asked to pronounce themselves on such an important question on the basis of purely theoretical ideas.

Mr. Filleau, official representative of ACRTF at the meetings, said he and other French - language private broadcasters who participated felt that the organizers of the Estates General had abused the good faith of delegates who dealt with the broadcasting question. They had been presented with a "definitely oriented" working document. No real debate was permitted and no amendments were permitted to proposals submitted by the organizers.

Members of the ACRTF in the meetings were joined by many other delegates in various workshops had openly complained that the procedure prevented them from making their views known, the statement said.

"Under the circumstances, the ACRTF is convinced it is impossible to consider the Estates General as a valid spokesman for the French - language Canadian population," said Mr. Filleau.

$6 Million Profit Predicted For Exhibition at Montreal

MONTREAL (CP) — Lucien Saulnier, chairman of Montreal's executive committee, said Monday night the proposed permanent exhibition on the site of Expo 67 would make an estimated net profit of $6,000,000 a year.

Assets worth $225,000,000 on the fair site are being offered to the city free of charge, he told a city council meeting.

The size of these assets warranted efforts made to conserve them in a permanent exhibition.

The profits from such an exhibition, he continued, would cover the interest on Montreal's $73,000,000 debt, the cost of its participation in Expo 67.

On the basis of an expected attendance of 20,000,000 next summer, revenues would total $34,153,000 at the new exposition while expenses would total $28,155,000.

A total of 78 countries and companies had offered their pavilions to the city and 55 of three already had offered to continue a partial or complete presentation in the pavilions if the annual exhibition is held.

Next week, city council will be asked to adopt a resolution authorizing the executive committee to organize a 1968 exhibition, adopt a bylaw authorizing the executive committee to accept all pavilions, buildings and facilities at Expo that are offered and adopt a budget for the exposition.

Mr. Saulnier said the federal and provincial governments had agreed to the city's proposal for an exhibition and that it now was possible to envisage a distribution of Expo assets on the following principles:

The federal government would retain assets on Cite du Havre—the mainland part of Expo—with the exception of the Expo art gallery, which would be taken over by the provincial government.

All assets on the two Expo islands would be transferred free of charge to Montreal. The fate of the Expo Express, the mass transportation train which carried passengers over the Expo site, is still to be negotiated, however.

The city would take over the responsibility of maintaining the island section of the site as a permanent exhibition.

Femme Fatale Is A Myth

By SYDNEY J. HARRIS

A reader in San Francisco writes to say that sometime within the last few years, I wrote a column about the Femme Fatale type of woman. "This type of woman, according to the column," the letter went on, "has a heart of stone, and is cruelly beguiling. She has the power to cause men to fall into her trap time after time."

The reader asks that I send him the date of that column so that he might look it up in the files and make a photocopy of it. But he has me confused with someone else — I never wrote such a column, because I don't believe in women who have "the power to cause men to fall into her trap time after time."

As some Frenchmen said long before me, what we call woman's "irresistibility" is merely man's susceptibility. The spider always sits and weaves her web; it is the fly that voluntarily comes into her parlor.

There are, of course, women who would like to be femmes fatales; but they are relatively only to men who are natural born victims and losers. For every murderer, Aldous Huxley once remarked in a novel, there is a murderee — and the men who are ground to dust by women with "hearts of stone" are willing murderees looking around for some misfortune to befall them.

The irresistibly enticing female is one of the male legends that men perpetuate in order to justify, rationalize, and explain their susceptibility and their need to be hurt and rejected. There are no innocent bystanders in matters of the heart; the unconscious goes after exactly what it wants—and if it wants to be cruelly beguiled, it will find an expert to do the job.

Moreover, the femme fatale is a pitiable object herself. She is incapable of loving men, of sustaining any person - to - person relationship with them, and her need to hurt is merely the obverse side of her deeply buried desire to find a man who will dominate her. Her cruelty is that she despises the men who love her (for she knows how little she deserves it), and resents those who are not beguiled by her.

Nobody has a heart of stone, though many persons build stone fortresses around their hearts, for they desperately fear their own vulnerability. And anyone who spins a trap for another is deeply enmeshed in a lifelong trap of his own making. Both the spider and the fly are involved in a deadly symbiosis.

The reader in San Francisco apparently feels sorry for himself, and wants to carry around a clipping to salve his wounds. But such wounds are self-inflicted, and nothing can heal a man who remains stonepronе.

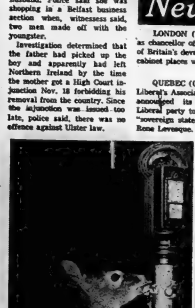
Break Is Not Likely

PARIS (Reuters) — Prime Minister Pearson's statement describing President de Gaulle's remarks on Quebec as "intolerable" intervention in Canadian affairs is not expected to lead to a rupture of diplomatic relations with France, diplomatic quarters here said today.

"France-Canadian relations are going through a crisis, but by no means heading to a breaking point," they said.

Reports that Canada may break off relations with France were described as "foolish" by French government officials and Canadian diplomatic circles.

Canada's Ambassador Jules Leger was constantly in touch with Ottawa, a Canadian embassy spokesman said, but there was no indication at this stage of his being recalled home, let alone a severance of relations with France.



Canadian Grabs Son In Belfast

BELFAST (CP) — Northern Ireland police said today they have been informed that a baby boy taken from its pram outside a Belfast shop Nov. 16 has been traced to Toronto.

However, they said they have no grounds for prosecution and the matter appears to be one for straightening out between the parents of nine-months-old Anthony Bertola.

The boy was brought here this fall by his mother, Belfast-born Mrs. Anthony Bertola, after a separation from her Canadian husband. Police said she was shopping in a Belfast business section when, witnesses said, two men made off with the youngster.

Investigation determined that the father had picked up the boy and apparently had left Northern Ireland by the time the mother got a High Court injunction Nov. 18 forbidding his removal from the country. Since the injunction was issued too late, police said, there was no offence against Ulster law.

British Leave Aden

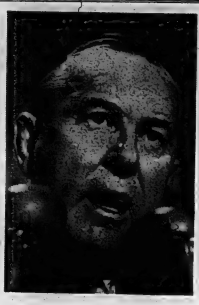
ADEN (Reuters) — The last British troops silently slipped out of Aden today.

There was no ceremony, no band played and no flags flew.

British military presence, stretching back 128 years, ended when a helicopter carrying a detachment of Royal Marines took off from Aden golf course.

The People's Republic South Yemen was due to come into being at midnight tonight when Britain hands over authority to the National Liberation Front.

Britain lost 57 troops killed and 669 wounded in Aden during a four-year emergency which started Dec. 10, 1963.



Another 76 British soldiers were killed and 235 wounded in fighting elsewhere in South Arabia.

The Rerun

Prime Minister Lester Pearson was cheered in the Commons yesterday as he called General de Gaulle's interference in Canadian affairs "intolerable." Then he gave a repeat performance outside the House before cameras and tape recorders.

Foot and Half Of Snow Falls On Muskoka

ORILLIA (CP) — The worst November storm in 15 years has dropped 10 inches of snow on Orillia and up to 18 inches in outlying areas since Monday night.

High winds and snow squalls were reported in the Georgian Bay and Muskoka areas during the same period. More snow and winds up to 30 miles an hour were expected to continue today in these regions.

QUEBEC (CP) — The executive of the Young Liberal's Association of Charlevoix riding Tuesday announced its withdrawal from the Quebec Liberal party to join a movement supporting the "sovereign state" theory for Quebec advanced by Rene Levesque.

Party Leaders Unite To Rebuke de Gaulle

'Intolerable' Snaps Pearson

OTTAWA (CP) — Prime Minister Pearson, with support of all party leaders, has rejected President de Gaulle's latest statements on Quebec as "intolerable" interference in Canadian affairs.

In a crisp statement Tuesday that brought cheers in the Commons, Mr. Pearson used his toughest language yet in Paris - Ottawa feuding that started last summer.

He said de Gaulle's statement to a Paris press conference Monday misrepresented and distorted Canadian history and recent developments. It had recommended a course of action which would destroy Canadian Confederation. It was an attempt to dismiss a united people, a call to set free Canadians who have long fully exercised their freedom.

But the prime minister led party leaders in urging Canadians to exercise restraint and not allow the blast from Paris le Quebec libre" and caused the general to cut short his Canadian visit.

The prime minister concluded by turning some of Gen. de Gaulle's own words against him.

He said a "gallant and illustrious head of another state" visited Ottawa in 1960 and said then that Canada had "found the means to unite two societies very different in a solid and stable state."

Only then did Mr. Pearson identify the source of the remarks. He said:

"Mr. Speaker, I agree with the words of Gen. de Gaulle in 1960. I disagree with his words in November, 1967."

Opposition Leader Stanfield said de Gaulle's "intrusion" would meet objection, but Canadians should be mature enough to prevent it from affecting relationships with one another.

The incident must not "poison the climate in our own country or make it more difficult to arrange our own affairs satisfactorily."

Creditiste Leader Real Caouette also won a warm hearing. He said Quebec has had more sovereignty within Confederation than any country attached to France has ever had.

He also echoed Mr. Pearson's statement that Canada's future will be decided by Canadians.

"From one end of Canada to the other, the French part is accepted as never before."

New Democratic Leader Douglas said he did not think French Canada would be enlisted by any "nostalgic appeal for a new form of imperialism."

French - speaking Canadians "are not having a foreign head of state tell them how to run their affairs.

"Oh dear, what did de Gaulle say now, Lester?"

to chill English-French relations within Canada.

President de Gaulle told his press conference Canada should give sovereign status to Quebec, protecting its "language assistance and character" from Anglo - Saxon and federal - government influences.

It was not clear whether Ottawa's response would stop with one show of unanimity in the Commons.

Mr. Pearson said he will confer with cabinet and external affairs advisers on whether any further action is warranted.

The prime minister put more bite into this statement than the one of July 25 that reacted to de Gaulle's Montreal cry of "Vive

Viet Cong Overruns District Headquarters

SAIGON (AP) — Waves of Viet Cong troops assaulted a government district headquarters near the Cambodian border for 5½ hours today and overran some of the 200 defenders before jet fighters strafed and bombed the Viet Cong into retreat.

A South Vietnamese spokesman said 65 Viet Cong bodies were found inside and nearby the perimeter of the district headquarters compound at Ba Dec, 80 miles north of Saigon.

He said 15 government soldiers were killed and 19 wounded.

Simultaneous with the ground attack only three miles from the Cambodian border, the Viet Cong shelled a government outpost four miles to the south and U.S. Special Forces camp 10 miles to the south. Government casualties were reported light in those attacks, and there was no report of U.S. casualties.

THE WEATHER

Synopsis: Some sunshine is expected in most regions of the province and winds should decrease during the day. There will be snowflurries across northern areas and the squall activity in the lee of the lakes should diminish this morning. A new storm taking shape in southwestern states should reach the Great Lakes Thursday. Snow associated with the storm will likely cover the southern half of the province Thursday.

Greece, Turkey Agreed On Cyprus, It Is Said

ATHENS (AP) — Informed diplomatic sources said tonight Greece and Turkey have come to agreement on the Cyprus problem and simultaneous announcements to this effect will be made later in both Athens and Ankara.

Terms of the settlement also are to be divulged later though it may be some hours before the machinery of the two governments is geared for the widest distribution of the information.

The first concrete evidence of an agreement was an order in two Greek armed forces, calling off their combat alert and reducing them to a simple state of readiness."

U.S. envoy Cyrus Vance paid his first visit to Cyprus today for talks with Greek-Cypriot leaders on their opposition to virtual war or peace conditions set by Turkey for the protection of the island's Turkish minority.

Vance flew to Nicosia from Athens after a long day and night of consultations with the Greek government. Foreign Minister Panayiotis Pipinelis described the situation as "delicate and dangerous" but said he thought war with Turkey was "less of a possibility now."

Vance and President Makarios, the leader of the Greek-Cypriot community, met for an hour at the presidential palace while Turkish Air Force jets screamed overhead. It was their second day over Nicosia and their 12th successive day over Cyprus.

U. S. Is Being Sued For Million Million

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — Spanish-Americans have sued the United States for damages that could total $1,000,000,000,000—a figure too large to be comprehended by most—over their claims on 19th century Spanish and Mexican land grants.

The suit was filed in federal court here Monday by 38 descendants of Spanish-named Americans who held the grants in what now is the United States at the time the land was ceded to the U.S. in 1803, 1848 and 1898.

The suit contends the land was taken by force, trickery and through violation of their ancestors' civil rights, and asks that the land be returned or damages of $1,000,000 be awarded to all descendants of the land grant holders.

Charles S. Vigil, the former U.S. attorney for Colorado who filed the suit for the 38, said a rough estimate would place the number of those descendants today at 500,000 to 1,000,000. At $1,000,000 apiece, that would add up to $1,000,000,000,000.

Vast acres of the United States, touching both coasts and both borders, are involved.

The suit mentioned specifically lands in Colorado, New Mexico, Florida, Texas, California, Arizona, Louisiana, Georgia, North Carolina and South Carolina, along with the Louisiana Purchase as a whole.

Postal Rate Boost Defeated in House, 25-11

OTTAWA (CP) — The opposition got back from dinner a little faster than the government Tuesday night, and defeated a government resolution aimed at raising postal rates on letters within Canada by one cent.

This increased the chances that the present rates, five cents for out-of-town letters and four for local letters, will remain as they are until after Christmas. If the government brings in a reworked resolution and gets it accepted, it can then push enabling legislation through Parliament.

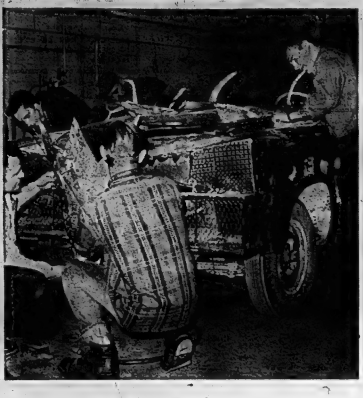
The defeat, by 14 votes to 11, did not come on a confidence motion, and therefore put the government under no obligation to resign.

When the House of Commons resumed its sitting at 8 p.m., after the dinner break, nobody got up to speak on the resolution, which had been under debate most of the afternoon.

The chair therefore called a vote and Conservative House Leader Michael Starr, counting the House, quickly agreed.

The 13 Conservatives and two New Democrats present joined forces to beat the 11 Liberals. The total of 25 members was five above the quorum required to transact business in the 265-seat House.

The opportunity to inflict a surprise defeat on the government might not have occurred, however, had not Max Saltzman (NDP—Waterloo South) also been a few minutes late getting back to the Commons. Mr. Saltzman had been scheduled to speak at the 8 p.m. resumption of business.



Postmaster - General Cote was in the Commons at the time. He or anyone else could have risen to talk on the resolution, stalling for time while more Liberal MPs returned from dinner, but no one did.

"This is awful," Government House Leader MacEachen said when he heard the news. He immediately telephoned Prime Minister Pearson, whose reaction was not disclosed.

Meanwhile, there is some doubt as to whether the government can introduce a reworded resolution with the same intent at the current session, which could extend well into the new year.

Santa Claus Is Coming to Belleville

Santa Claus is coming to town Saturday for sure —and maybe for the last time, as far as Belleville's Christmas parade committee is concerned. Worried organizers of the gala annual event — believed the biggest in Ontario outside Toronto — last confirmed the parade which officially welcomes Santa here is in danger of marching into oblivion.

The reason: Public lethargy — a lack - lustre response which pretty reflects the scintillating spectacle that has charmed thousands of Quinte youngsters for 13 successive Christmases.

"I don't know what's the matter in the city. Nobody wants to see this fold up," says Fire Chief Ted Poste, committee chairman. "It involves children — and this is what hurts."

"This parade is a tradition," reminds Emergency Measures Organization co - ordinator Col. Angus Duffy, who has the job of organizing the parade's displays and personnel. "And the tradition has been built up by a very few people who are no longer able to carry it on."

"Our difficulties have been increasing — through lack of interest, "concurs committee secretary George Rutledge.

In fact, the situation now is so rough that the committee already is seeking some community group for a commitment to carry on the tradition.

If there is no response to the appeal by Dec. 30, all the parade paraphernalia assembled in 13 years — and costing thousands — will "be disposed of," says Mr. Rutledge.

"What we need is a firm commitment from some organization that will carry this on with our assistance," emphasizes Col. Duffy.

At the moment, the 1967 parade is almost ready to roll and it's as big as ever —more than 30 floats, eight bands and hundreds of personnel.

"It was the biggest of its kind when it started — and it's still the biggest and best," claims Col. Duffy.

However, it didn't look that way at first when the organizers met in early September to map the monster marchpast.

In fact, it was at that first meeting problems became apparent.

Just 13 people turned up — five of them veterans of the parade organization.

At that time I said that then was the time to ditch the parade," recalls Mr. Rutledge. "As far as I was concerned there wasn't enough interest to put the show on."

However, the committee decided to stay with the tradition and sent out appeals to various city groups.

"We got some help from some of them — we got no help from others," says Mr. Rutledge.

Most urgent problem was space for construction of parade floats.

Almost since the parades first started the task of construction had been done by firemen at city firehalls, cramped behind tools and equipment.

With the expansion of services through the years these locations were ruled out this year.

"These men are operating as emergency services," points out Col. Duffy. "The projects not only cause turmoil in the fire halls but it would be hazardous."

Top priority was given to alternative sites for fixing the floats — and the Belleville Real Estate Board called in to help.

The results were the first big indication of how little public response there really was for the parade.

"We couldn't come up with one building," says Mr. Rutledge.

The fire department came up with a solution to the slightly - dangerous situation. The floats were taken to familiar quarters for another year — once more behind the reels at the city fire halls.

Firemen once more gave up their spare time to ready the big mobile displays.

Finding vacant floor space for the floats is no new problem. For years, the parade committee has been unable to find storage for equipment between parades in the city.

As a result, it was a barn in Sidney township after each parade.

Each year the floats must be trundled into town for remodelling — then returned as soon as the parade halts for another Christmas.

"But this year has to be the end," admits Fire Chief Poste. "We can't cope with it from the fire stations any longer."

Other community groups and individuals contribute much to the mobile displays that have always been a sparkling hallmark of the parade's success.

However, without the giant-size contribution from Chief Poste's department, the parade would lose its continuity.

Already the call is out for 200 walking personnel — costumes are now being assembled at the West Moira Street fire hall for distribution Friday.

"This one goes on — just as big and bright as ever," says Mr. Rutledge, already lining up the 50 people he needs for candy sheltests along the route.

The rest of the parade will have a bitter-sweet flavor.

Once more its success is positive — but its future indefinite.

Finishing Touches

Despite helping hands from willing groups like these individuals, Santa Claus parade could fold after this year for lack of support, organizers warn. Above, postal workers at Adult Education Centre ready entry in Saturday's marchpast — replica of batmobile.

Keegan Asks Trafford For Public Apology

Alderman Arthur Keegan has demanded a public apology from the president of a Belleville service club over criticism of the councillor's speech to a ratepayers' meeting Monday.

The city councillor — now seeking re-election — called statements by Kiwanis president John Trafford "partly a slur on my character."

In Tuesday's Intelligencer Mr. Trafford took exception to Ald. Keegan's mention of the Fry park development, claiming the councillor took credit for a project which was a joint effort of Kiwanis and Belleville Rotary.

Last night, Ald. Keegan retorted to Hillcrest Ratepayers Association: "When a deliberate lie like that is quoted in the press I think that Mr. Trafford should make a public apology."

Later Mr. Keegan said he had never assumed personal credit for the project in his speech Monday night at Chamber-of-Commerce meeting.

He said his "true" remarks — in which he included local individuals and organizations — were in a text and had been taped.

Exemption Thought

TORONTO (CP) — Dalton Camp, president of the Progressive Conservative Association, said Tuesday donations to political parties should be tax-exempt and MPs should receive research bonuses. Mr. Camp, speaking to the Advertising and Sales Club of Toronto, said political parties should have access to their own facilities.

Campbellford Cheesemaker Show Winner

Glen Anderson of R. R. 2, Campbellford is the top cheese maker at the British Empire Dairy Show being held this week in Belleville.

Mr. Anderson's open class September cheese scored a total of 98.35 points of which 49.40 points were for flavour—the highest marking in the show.

As the grand champion cheese maker of the show Mr. Anderson wins the T. Eaton Company award, along with a host of other trophies and cash prizes.

The reserve champion and winner of the Simpsons Sears Ltd. award, is J. J. McDonald of St. Andrew's West, of Stormont county near Cornwall. Mr. McDonald won the open June and July class with a score of 98.30.

The grand champion maker won the September and October open classes, while Grant Hughes of Selby, a previous winner of the show, was high in the August class.

Another previous show winner, Harold Montgomery of Moniaard was the British Empire class, while the special Centennial Class was won by William Gibson of Chesterville.

The stilton class was won by C. and B. Millhead of Millbank, and the manufacturers' class by Terry Baxter of Lansdowne.

Immediate Belleville area makers placing high in the open classes included Ted Foley of the Foxboro Cheese Factory, and Carlyle Rollins of Harold.

Winners in the Hastings county council special class were Ted Foley, Corbyville; Don Deline, Ivanhoe; Carlyle Rollins, Harold; Delbert Rowe, Plainfield and Ivan Sine of Eldorado.

The cheese show being held today and tomorrow in conjunction with the 45th annual convention of the Central Ontario Cheese Makers' Association, at the Sun Valley Motor Inn on North Front Street. Cheese to order is being sold both days at the cheese show.

The cheese show and convention will end Thursday night with the annual cheese makers' banquet and dance at Club Cataraqui.

Three Communities to Have Elections for Council Monday

TRENTON — Council vacancies will be up for grabs at three Quinte communities in Monday's municipal election.

Qualifications for candidates closed last night in Frankford, Brighton and Stirling.

Dr. G. Edward Green, son of Mrs. Green, R. R. 1, Belleville, and the late Mr. E. G. (Ted) Green, has successfully passed the recent fellowship examinations held by the Royal College of Surgeons, in Orthopedic surgery. At the present time, Dr. Green is employed by the Workmen's Compensation Board in Edmonton, Alberta and will return to Belleville in June to establish a practice in orthopedics.

In Frankford W. F. Rose will oppose the return of Reeve Ray Morna, who has been in office for the last three years.

Mervin Dafoe, Mrs. Muriel Rabel and Kenneth Lawrence will challenge incumbents Carman Mikel, E. B. McGeachy and Paul Squirrell for four one-year council terms.

At Brighton, Deputy Reeve Gerald Ross was acclaimed reeve replacing J. E. Solomon, who declined to seek re-election.

Seeking three council seats are Howard Sharp, Frank Pearsall, Lloyd Powsall and Norman Roberts.

Acclaimed school trustees were Edward Parks, R. S. Neabitt and Harder Bonisteel, all newcomers.

In Stirling six candidates will fight for four council seats, the remaining local government representatives were acclaimed — including Reeve Donald Rodgers.

Incumbents Robert Anderson, Robert Hulin, Bruce Glendining and Maurice Faulkner will be challenged by Allen Lawes and Claude Trumble.

Mayorality Race Set For Campbellford

CAMPBELLFORD — Campbellford residents will go to the polls Dec. 4 to vote for a mayor and deputy reeve. There will be no contest for the reeveship, council, public school board or public utilities.

Contesting the mayoralty are incumbent Morley Tanner and Reeve George H. Free. Two councillors, Douglas Sharp and Harold Dunk, have entered the race for deputy reeve.

Following Monday night's nomination meeting only five men qualified for council. They are William Carter, a high school teacher and newcomer to municipal politics, and incumbent councillors Dante Pace, A. C. Newman, David Wilson and William R. Nicholas.

Another nomination meeting will be held to select one more member for the six-man council.

Ralph J. Locke was acclaimed reeve. Also receiving acclamations were public school trustees W. H. Murray and C. V. Johnson and members of the public utilities commission J. O. Benor and Everett Steele.

Questions Centre on Industry Move

Rumored loss of a Belleville industry to Trenton lit a blaze in the lap of city elections last night — drawing reaction from both bidders for why hall's highest office.

Reports that Vagden Mills was shifting its plant focused as a new issue as city hall candidates went before ratepayers in Hillcrest — the second of three successive ratepayers meetings scheduled as public highlights of the Dec. 4 election campaign.

The issue saw mayoralty candidate J. Russell Scott invite the move might involve about 30 per cent of the Vagden workforce. Mayor Jack Ellis said the city had been trying to match the firm's expansion needs for more than a year.

The topic was first given thorns by council candidate Ian Reilly when he said the public had been "scooped" by Trenton boasting of a new industry.

"The full blame for the loss of this expansion falls squarely on the shoulders of the mayor and the industrial commission," he claimed.

"Oh come off it," retorted Mayor Ellis from the floor as the charge drew a mixed response from the audience.

Dr. Scott rekindled the issue later when he said he'd had a call today" and his informant told him 50 per cent of the Vagden force were leaving the Belleville operation.

"The Trenton move," he said, "was not a case of Vagden building a warehouse."

The topic was raised a third time during a question period when the mayor was asked if any firm was leaving Belleville.

"An industry is not going to leave the city," answered the mayor.

Would you elaborate on this?" queried a ratepayer.

Mayor Ellis said for the past 18 months "we have known of Vagden Mills desire for extra space" and city authorities had made various proposals to the company.

"We tried everything conceivable and just couldn't satisfy their needs," added the mayor. "They were able to find exactly what they wanted in Trenton."

After that, there was no more reference to the issue.

However, both mayoralty candidates later differed verbally on another topic — city hall's administrative environment.

Dr. Scott renewed his appeal made Monday to rid city hall "of the dictatorship we've had."

Queried a ratepayer: "If this city was run by a dictatorship where were the other 10 votes?"

"The record stands for itself," retorted Dr. Scott, mentioning voting line-ups in council.

"I'm getting a little fed up with dictatorship and one-man rule of council," he added later.

Mayor Ellis replied that votes on city council "indicate only a difference of opinion."

"It's awfully nice to have a whipping boy and I guess I have broader shoulders than most," he countered.

No one person rules city council but "there are times when leadership is necessary and I try to give it," he added.

20,000 Pounds of Cheese, Factory Destroyed in Fire

Mountain cheese factory on the second concession of Tyendinaga township just east of the Shannonville gravel was completely destroyed early this morning by a fire of still undetermined origin.

In addition to the factory and equipment approximately 200 ninety-pound cheese and the same number of pound cheese were lost in the fire.

The fire was spotted about 2:30 this morning by a motorist on 401 highway who turned in the alarm. Belleville firemen raced to the scene but the blaze was too far advanced to save the structure.

The factory cheese maker, Roly Jackson, his wife and four small children were wakened from their sleep in their home situated only about 20 feet from the burning factory. Firemen were able to save the house.

Mr. Jackson said that when he was awakened the entire upper part of the factory was a mass of flames and no one was able to get into the building.

Approximately 35 district farmers supplied milk to the factory which was scheduled to close for the winter on Nov. 30. Last summer a fire in a cheese waxing machine caused smoke damage at the factory.

Commission Unable to Match Offer

The bid to keep expansion of Vagden Mills in Belleville lost out to a highly competitive challenge from Trenton, it was revealed today.

The Belleville Industrial Commission, which indicated it has been striving for months to contain Vagden's expansion in the city, confessed: "... we were unable to compete with the Trenton offer of completely serviced land at a fraction of our cost with no charge for local improvements."

The announcement was contained in a formal press release today favoring a hurriedly - called commissioners meeting yesterday afternoon at the move was revealed in the midst of city elections.

The commission said it had been aware of the Vagden project "for many months."

Local investors willing to construct a building to meet Vagden's requirements had been approached. City-owned land was offered to the builders "at a nominal price on the condition that rentals would reflect the low land cost."

The city was approached and is now arranging to service land in northwest Belleville near the Macdonald-Cartier Freeway "which we presume would best suit this firm's needs."

However, "due to developments" at Vagden the matter "recently became more urgent," says the commission's statement.

The company "required space and completely-serviced industrial land immediately" and picked up the Trenton bid.

Concludes the commission: "Officials of Vagden Mills Ltd. make it quite clear that the acquisition of this space in Trenton will in no way alter the present operation in Belleville."

Vagden Statement

Vagden Mills plans to divide its operations between Belleville and Trenton by early 1968.

The company hopes to have finishing, shipping and warehouse processes ready by next March in Trenton, Vagden president John Denton said today.

The clothing producer will continue manufacture of its products at its Belleville plant.

Mr. Denton's statement clarified mid-election rumors in the past 24 hours that the city was losing the industry to Trenton.

Vagden, in operation for the past 10 years, employs slightly more than 100 workers.

Mr. Denton said about 25 workers are involved in the Trenton move and will commute to Trenton.

De Gaulle Again

Criticism by innuendo is an old political ruse. It involves telling the other fellow — or country — his policies are unacceptable, without naming names or accusing him directly.

Thus while Prime Minister Pearson in a speech in London attacked Gaullist policies on NATO, international finance and Britain's application to join the European Common Market, he did not name President de Gaulle in person.

This is the diplomat in Mr. Pearson, going back to his days in External Affairs. But it is questionable whether this approach has the bite necessary to say to de Gaulle what should be said with regard to the French president's further meddling in Canada's internal affairs.

It is true Mr. Pearson made his speech shortly before President de Gaulle's press conference in Paris, during which he called for the elevation of Quebec to "the level of a sovereign state with mastery of its national existence." However, since the subject of debate between Paris and Ottawa has remained the same since de Gaulle's celebrated "Free Quebec" call last summer, Mr. Pearson in his London address could have been equally blunt in his rebuttal of Gaullist policies.

Not that anything said in rebuttal would have any effect on President de Gaulle. The French leader as he gets older is trying to bolster a political image that other countries associate more with shock tactics and instransigence than with any serious attempt to display responsible leadership.

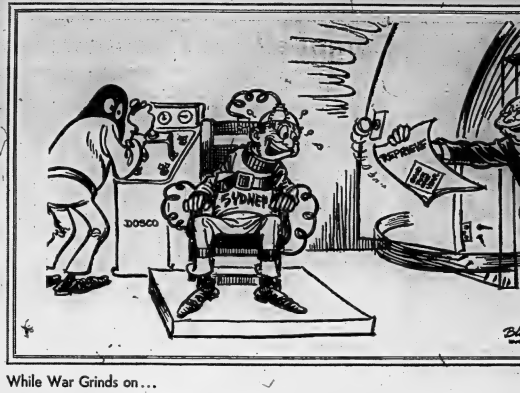
De Gaulle will not be around for ever, and when he goes it is difficult to imagine a successor emerging in France who would have the effrontery to speak to "our people across the Atlantic" — a manner in which he included not only the Quebecers but also the 250,000 Acadians in New Brunswick "who, too, have kept for France — in language and spirit — a very moving fidelity."

One wonders what the Quebecers and Acadians think of all this. Even Premier Johnson has a right to feel embarrassed by de Gaulle's extraordinary posturing. For, as Mayor Drapeau of Montreal pointed out during de Gaulle's Expo visit, Quebec is what it is today despite the own efforts as part of Canada, part of confederation, and owes little or nothing to France.

Mr. Johnson and Quebecers at large may come to appreciate the remark of Winston Churchill. It went something like this: "I have two, cousins to bear — my race, and the Cradle of St. Lorraine." Even in those early days of the last war, when de Gaulle (and no one disputes this) rallied Frenchmen to fight on, he was a difficult man with whom to deal.

Quebec one day may attain some political status other than its current form. Constitutional changes may come eventually, affecting all the provinces including Quebec. But Canadians cannot afford to lose sight of the concept of confederation under which this country has prospered for so long.

Gold Rush



The huge purchases of gold that followed devaluation of the pound sterling may be no more than a flash in the pan, if readers will pardon the pun.

To be of any value to the buyer the purchases of gold presuppose that the price of the commodity, for long pegged at approximately $35 an ounce, will rise. Any increase in this price would be tantamount to devaluation of the United States dollar on which the fixed rate is based.

Washington shows no sign of permitting a course that would be bound to rock the world financial system to an even greater extent than the recent British move. Thus, if gold remains at the level of about $35 an ounce the current run of purchases will be of little avail to speculators.

One who is probably watching the great gold rush with a certain amount of amusement is former Toronto coroner Dr. Morton Shulman who in his book "Anyone can make a Million" advocates just such a course of action to the sophisticated investor.

Gold and other valuables such as works of art Dr. Shulman regards as of greater longterm benefit than such traditional mainstays of the family man as insurance policies and savings plans which tend to suffer from the ravages of inflation.

McNamara May Be Scapegoat for U.S. Problems in Vietnam

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Is the departure of Defence Secretary Robert McNamara from his post the first in a series of dramatic events involving the war in Vietnam?

While the White House would neither confirm nor deny Monday night that McNamara was on his way out—although other sources did confirm it—it always should be remembered President Johnson not only has a strong political sense but also a vivid dramatic one, too.

It should be no surprise if 1968 turns out to be a dramatic year.

Johnson and the thorny Vietnamese, out of the same set of circumstances, have exactly the same reason for wishing for exactly opposite results in the war next year.

The reason is the criticism piling up around Johnson for his conduct of the war from all directions, including many within his own Democratic party. Because the criticism can have a tremendous effect, it is not far-fetched to expect startling events in the months ahead.

Johnson sees his popularity and public confidence in him at a low level. Already some forces are at work within the Democratic party to keep him from being renominated in 1968.

No one knows better than Johnson that his chances for renomination and re-election to the presidency are in jeopardy if the war drags on through all of next year and the criticism continues to grow.

Only Monday it was learned that Charles F. Frankel, assistant secretary of state for educational and cultural affairs, resigned, according to the Columbia Broadcasting System, in protest against Johnson's Vietnam policies.

The fact that he is president is reason enough for Johnson to get the war over as fast as possible. His political future gives him an added reason for wanting in.

Nothing could possibly help Johnson as much politically as a smashing defeat for the North Vietnamese before next August's Democratic nominating convention or, at the least, some weeks before the November election.

On the other side of the coin are the North Vietnamese. Even if they felt themselves slipping badly in 1968 it is not hard to imagine they would try to drag the war on through the whole year in the hope Johnson would be eliminated from politics and his successor would be anxious to make concessions that outright defeat for them could not obtain.

Johnson and his two closest advisers on the war—McNamara and State Secretary Dean Rusk—have been on the receiving end of the criticism dumped on the administration for the war.

The president has been firm in his refusal to bow to the critics and take a safer stand in Vietnam. Both McNamara and Rusk are reported tired from their efforts which began when President John F. Kennedy appointed them in 1961.

But if the two men should step aside within a relatively short time of each other it is almost certain to be interpreted as an effort by Johnson to pacify his critics; bit while still continuing the war.

The municipal elections: With the time limit on Saturday night, three qualified for the office of mayor: 19 for alderman; 15 for Board of Education; Morley P. Duff was re-elected Public Utilities Commissioner by acclamation. He has been a member of the Commission since he retired as mayor in 1929. There are to be elected 12 aldermen and nine school trustees. Public school trustees will be elected this year by a general vote of public school supporters instead of by the ward system which has been the custom for many years. Of the nine to be elected the first five will serve for two years. The electors will also vote for or against daylight saving time for a period of two years from the last Saturday in May at midnight to midnight on Labor Day.

Is Toronto About to Go Separatist!

Ottawa Journal

From a rave review in the Toronto Globe and Mail of Petula Clark's recent performance at the O'Keefe Centre:

"This brings up the main lack in her Toronto program. Miss Clark is a star in Paris, as much as in London or in Las Vegas, but here she sings only one number in French; and I strongly suspect that her French chansons have much meatier emotional content, and make more use of her abilities, than the songs we heard."

Poor Petula. She must wonder about this mixed-up country.

When she sang in Ottawa last year, there were outraged cries that she had insulted English listeners by daring to sing too many songs in that strange language, French. In Toronto, good old English Toronto, she is criticized for depriving the populace of the beauties of French.

Don't worry Petula. Don't sack your advisers. This one you couldn't win no matter what you did.

Now-Courses On Filling Tax Forms!

Windsor Star

Perhaps it had to come, as a consequence of the mounting turbidity of income tax forms. At any rate, a school to teach the run-of-the-mill taxpayers how to fill out their income tax forms with some degree of accuracy has been opened in Chicago.

That a school of this nature should be found necessary, however, will leave many perplexed. It would seem that the place to begin correcting matters would be on the income tax form itself, because that's where the bewilderment has its origin.

It's announced from time to time that a "simplified" income tax form is on the way but as often as not the test shows that the new form is even stickier than the old ones.

The conclusion is invited that those tax people who concoct new forms are (1) incapable of simplicity or (2) are working off some ancient grudge that they have against non-professionals.

Affluent Society Breeds Boredom and Tension as "Quality" of Life Declines

Pat Whelan in
The Windsor Star

Having arrived at that happy state of national affluence where we can afford to worry about inflation, Canadians are beginning to fret about what's called the "quality" of life. And about time, too.

Paradoxically, it's the great advances which were invented to make life easier that have begun to crowd us out. We have them now in quantity, and they're menacing the quality of life.

The automobile, once every man's goal, now is every man's worry. Radio and its successors, which brought entertainment into the home, now fill the home with terrible, inescapable sound. The aircraft, designed to get people from here to there quickly, now gets them there so fast that their souls can't catch up with their bodies.

Even the great increase in leisure time, which should be an unalloyed blessing, is developing into frantic activity or sheer boredom in too many cases.

How to spend the extra leisure? Easy. In the home. You can have a hobby, or you can just sit back and relax, with your choice of television, FM or AM radio, or records, for entertainment. But it isn't that easy. There's a growing social pressure for color television — after all, you can get one for six or seven hundred dollars, so why not? No need to get rid of the old black and white set. Just move it to another room.

And instead of sitting back relaxing, you're driven outdoors by two television sets, a radio, and a hi-fi all competing with one another in a small, thin-walled modern house.

So you go for a drive to ease your nerves. Right there you've compounded your — you shouldn't drive when you're nervous. Besides, the real drives for pleasure these days? Where can you go where freedom isn't as heavy that driving is a nerve-jangling chore?

As cities grow, even the pleasure of a quiet walk are denied most Canadians. Where in a city can you get away from the noise of traffic? Even if you find such a secluded spot, you can't be sure to be there with a transistor radio.

So the modern miracles crowd us in more and more, using up all that extra leisure time that we're supposed to have.

The solution? Who knows? But here's a suggestion; turn off the color television, the black and white television, the FM radio, the AM radio. Turn down the hi-fi, put on a record of some soothing soothing, perhaps simply a recording of rain on a roof. Settle down for a nap.

Then the phone rings.

French in Public Schools

(Ontario Dept. of Education)

Education Minister William G. Davis today has announced the establishment of the minister's committee on French-language public secondary schools. The committee will advise the minister on the procedures required to provide adequate opportunities in the public education system for students who are primarily French-speaking.

Mr. Davis noted that considerable progress has been made following the announcement last August that the government had accepted the principle of extending the availability of part of studies now in effect in public secondary schools to include French as a program for French-speaking students where the numbers of students in a particular area make it feasible.

"Many secondary school boards have indicated that they are planning early implementation of this program, and the prospects for equalizing the educational opportunities for French-speaking students are indeed encouraging.

"While we have had, for a number of years, public secondary schools which provided a part of the instructional program in French, the Department of Education is anxious," said Mr. Davis, "to find a solution to the problem of French-speaking students who have been scattered through a number of schools where the instruction is entirely in English.

"These students should not be denied the advantages of secondary schools because there are severe handicaps in relation to their English-speaking counterparts. As a result, many of them leave school either in discontinue their education or fail to go to private French secondary schools where the parent must pay a heavy fee in addition to his taxes for support of the regular secondary school. Even then, few private French secondary schools offer Grade 13 so an additional handicap to further education arises."

It is anticipated that the new policy regarding the provision of a complete program for French-speaking students in public secondary schools will go a long way towards overcoming these difficulties.

We're Only Second Best

Regina Leader - Post

Parity wages are the only real and expansion and may eventually cause reduction in operating costs. Before then will have secured a point.

There is the great danger that people will lose the goal of unions with strong international affiliations. The argument on paper is logical. A carpenter, a plumber, an electrician, a logger—all of us in our various jobs—do much the same work as our counterparts in the United States. But, again, the similarity ends there.

Being second best in the world isn't a bad position to be in. The ambition to be equal to first, if it persists, will lead us to ruin.

Titles Honors Et Al

The Globe and Mail

It is rumored that the Canadian government may announce its readiness to permit Canadians who are offered British titles to accept them without losing their Canadian citizenship as a result. This seems reasonable, particularly since Canada has an honors system of its own in the Order of Canada.

Of those who have opposed the granting of titles to Canadians, or their use in Canada, the most unyielding have been the Liberals, or perhaps the New Democrats, generally on the ground that this kind of thing is undemocratic — creating divisions among our citizens.

It is possible, however, that since Liberals and some New Democrats might be persuaded to change their attitude if they thought that the first of these new titles might be the Duke of Algoma or the Earl of Burnaby-Coquitlam.

Saint John Mulls Over An Anthem

Saint John Telegraph-Journal

There is no doubt it would be a fine thing for Saint John to have its own civic anthem. And there is no doubt My Own Canadian Home, written by two Saint John men, is a fine anthem which has not received the lasting recognition it deserves.

But it does not necessarily follow that Saint John should adopt the anthem, holus-bolus, as its own.

Nowhere in the six verses of this grand old patriotic song is Saint John mentioned by name.

It is not unlikely it never could. The only places it refers to specifically are Niagara, Queenston's Heights and Lundy's Lane, all of which are in Ontario.

The New Brunswick Branch of the United Empire Loyalists Association has recommended to the Common Council that My Own Canadian Home be made the city's official song. The SaintPaul Society at their last week endorsed the suggestion, but not without at least one member of the society who says the lyrics omit any reference to the city.

This point is well taken. If the song is adopted — and it is a good, stirring, majestic refrain which lends itself admirably to choral harmony—the words will have to undergo revision and addition. Others will have to be rejected as the city's anthem.

Conciliation Asked By Railway Firemen

OTTAWA (CP) — Locomotive firemen have gone to the conciliation board stage in their efforts to wrest a better wage offer from the railways.

The labor department said Tuesday it is meeting a request from the Brotherhood of Locomotive and Enginemen for a federal conciliation board to study the union's dispute with the CNR.

During negotiations in Montreal the CNR and CPR refused t. extend to all firemen the 24-per-cent wage increase included in earlier agreements signed with non - operating workers, conductors, trainmen and engineers.

The railways offered the 24-per-cent package for passenger firemen but would not go beyond eight per cent for freight and yard service firemen, who account for 2,700 of the 3,100 firemen still at work on Canadian lines.

Ten years ago, following a royal commission and a three-day CPR strike, it was decided that the introduction of diesel locomotives had made firemen unnecessary on freight and yard engines. But the railways agreed to keep existing firemen on the job until they retired, died or were promoted to engineer.

Now the railways contend that they should not be asked to pay redundant workers the same increase as those holding productive positions.

Air Pollution To Be Studied Says Mayor

Mayor Jack Ellis says he will request a provincial government team to probe air pollution in Belleville and determine the extent of the problem in the community.

Mayor Ellis says that the Ontario government now has established a branch within the Department of Health to probe the situation in the province.

"I firmly believe we must satisfy ourselves that the air we breathe is safe. I want Belleville to be among the first communities in Ontario to know where it stands," he said.

The mayor discussed air pollution with Quinte Kiwanis Club Monday night and repeated his remarks last night to Hillcrest Batepayers' Association.

Bellevillians were aware of the effects of water pollution and the city must keep pace with the problems of development.

"I believe that we're not too late to take many small steps, and not only keep pace with the growth of air pollution, but to eventually overcome it," he said.

ETV Clinic Scheduled Tuesday

The most revolutionary classroom concept of modern times — educational television — will be explored in Belleville next week.

And it's expected to draw a record attendance as teachers, parents and the public at large will be on hand to sift the benefits of electronic-age education.

Scene of the preview is Nicholson Catholic College, where ETV goes on display Dec. 5 at 8 p.m., sponsored by the Catholic Parent-Teachers' Association of Belleville.

An error timed the event for Dec. 4.

Members of public, elementary and high school staffs and boards have been invited to join parents and public for the viewing.

The program includes sample demonstrations by closed circuit, and displays of ETV sets and video-taping equipment.

To better acquaint the viewers with the medium a question-answer period has been scheduled on ETV programming.

Locating Industry Outlined

TRENTON — Don't high-pressure prospective industries to locate in your community, says a provincial government trade-and-industry spokesman.

Donald E. Holland, deputy director of Ontario's Trade and Industry Branch, told this week's Rotary Club meeting.

"Industrial commissions are often held responsible if companies don't locate in their communities," he said. "This type of promotion is a frequently - frustrating and disappointing task. Often the best that can be accomplished is a realization of your community's shortcomings."

Mr. Holland said 178 new companies had chosen locations from among 400 Ontario municipalities operating some form of industrial development program in 1966.

"A realistic goal for any average community," said Mr. Holland, "would be one new industry every three, four or five years."

"It's a mistake to entice any industry into an area for which it's not suited," he said.

He had these suggestions for industrial development: Recruit citizens prepared to work for five years for industry, free from political influences; complete and update all unfavorable — as well as favorable — data on the promoting community.

Mr. Holland advocated area promotion programs to replace the efforts of individual communities vying for industry.

Hi-C Church Group Holds Cleaning Bee

DESERONTO — The newly formed Hi-C group of the Deseronto United Church put in a busy Saturday. Promptly at 9.00 a.m., 16 young people gathered at the church, all in work clothes, armed with all sorts of cleaning materials, to give the church a good house cleaning.

By four o'clock all the dirt was gone, from walls, floors, woodwork and windows. Everything which could be washed had been washed. Everything which could be polished afterwards had been polished, including all the pews. All the carpeting had been vacuumed and the gallery and choir loft received the same treatment. The only part of the sactuary left untouched was the part that could not be reached by the longest ladders the young people could find.

At the completion of the work the hungry crowd trooped into the parsonage next door where Mrs. Hendry had a hot supper ready, including home made rolls and cakes. Later all attended a movie in Belleville.

During the service the following morning Mr. Hendry said the young people were a credit, not only to themselves and to their parents, but also to the whole community.

Safety Car On Display

NEW YORK (AP) — Motor Vehicle Commissioner Vincent L. Tofany has displayed a New York state-financed scale model of a "safety sedan" that he says would withstand a front or rear end impact at 50 miles an hour.

The model, developed at a cost of $385,000, was shown at a press conference Tuesday.

Among the score of safety features are:

—A periscope that juts up from the roof, with an eye mirror to the left of the steering wheel, giving the driver a panoramic view to the rear and sides without having to take his eyes off the road for long. The device has a wide-angle viewing lens of 180 degrees.

—A hydraulic energy-absorbing bumper that extends 12 inches and operates automatically as soon as the car goes over 37 miles an hour.

TORONTO STOCKS

TORONTO (CP) — Oil refineries and western oils headed the advance as the Toronto stock market edged up fractionally in moderate activity today.

Imperial Oil gained 1¼ to 69, BA Oil ¼ to 38¼ and Shell Canada and Texaco ⅛ each to 21¼ and 22.

The western oils index advanced 0.38 to 217.18. Central-Del Rio was up ⅛ to 2¼, Dome Petroleum ¼ to 37½ and Canadian Delhi 15 cents to 4.60.

Golds rallied in light activity, interrupting a slide that reversed last week's boom following the devaluation of the British pound and a resulting rush on gold bullion.

Kerr Addison gained ⅛ to 10¾ and Campbell Red Lake ¼ to 22½. Dome Mines and McIntyre fell ⅛ each to 51 and 53.

In base metals, Rio Algom and Denison ⅛ to a low of 19¾, picked up ⅛ to 20¼. Trading was delayed briefly to match buy and sell orders in shares of Meta Uranium which gained 2½ to 30 cents in a 96,000-share turnover.

On index, industrials edged up .17 to 183.25 and golds 1.03 to 164.64. Base metals slipped .02 to 105.31.

Golds fell on Tuesday.

The gold index declined 4.91 points to 174.61, continuing a major reversal of last week's 10.70-point surge. The index stood at 179.64 before the stocks took off following the devaluation of the British pound and a resulting rush of gold bullion.

European markets.

The drop followed on announcement by major national banks they will continue to support the U.S. dollar at its present value. The gold rush was caused partly by investors' fears of a devaluation of the U.S. dollar.

Dome Mines fell 1⅞ to 51½, Campbell Red Lake ¼ to 22½, Kerr Addison ⅛ to 10¾ and Sigma 30 cents to 4.65. But McIntyre gained ¼ to 53.

Industrials were mixed. CPR advanced 1⅛ to 62¼, Imperial Oil ¼ to 67⅞, Massey-Ferguson ⅛ to 15¼ and Bank of Commerce and MacMillan Bloedel ⅛ each to 13 and 24¾. Goodyear jumped 3 to 130 and IMC 1⅛ to 79¾.

Noco declined 1¼ to 124¼, Union Carbide ⅛ to a low of 18 before it picked up ⅛ to a low of 19¼. Union Oil and Sow Valley fell 1 each to 53 and 9¼ and Dosco ⅛ to 10¾.

In base metals, Denison was down 1 to 79½ and Roman Corp. ⅛ to 17¾. Hudson Bay Mining gained 1¼ to 58¾ and Preston ⅛ to 20.

On index, industrials edged up .01 to 183.08 and western oils .36 to 214.49 after touching an all-time record close earlier in the day. Base metals slipped .28 to 105.23.

Volume was 2,868,000 shares compared with 3,183,000 Monday. Declines outnumbered advances 209 to 210 while 216 issues remained unchanged.

Little old ladies, that's who.

It's funny what you hear about Mellow 83. Like, it's the whisky for great-great-grandfathers. Or, only little old ladies drink 83. We know different. All kinds of people are drinking 83 these days—and for the best of all reasons. They like the mellow, mellow way it tastes. Who are these individuals? Well, they weren't born in 1883. And they certainly weren't born yesterday.

Successful Living

Man Shuttles Constantly From Wife to Mistress

Dear Doris: This man begged me to leave my husband and children for him. Well, I had a daughter by him. She is 11 now; he has never kept her a day in her life.

He has never lived with me more than two months at a time. He lives with his wife for about two months, and has been running back and forth like that for 13 years. He says he loves me and is going to stay each time so I keep on taking him back. He is gone now.

Every time he leaves I have to go to the doctor because of a breakdown. How can I keep him away from us? He is 44 years old and cries nearly all the time. — Always Let Down.

Dear Let Down: He breaks down and then you do; is that it? He must have a fatal fascination for you.

What percentage is there in tolerating a faithless, lip-livered Romeo? Because you need love and attention — but that much? There are ways of getting along with it such a male.

I'd suggest you talk it all over with a trained family counsellor at the Family Counselling Service of Belleville and Hastings County, 63 Moira Street West.

Dear Doris: Please explain what you mean when you say that you add espresso beans to the coffee beans in your grinder. Where could I buy these espresso beans? — Never Miss Reading You.

Dear Never: Buy your coffee beans in a market which grinds and sells them; but don't have them ground. Equip your kitchen with one of the little electric grinders now on the market.

Then grind beans into grains or powder — depending on method of coffee making — just before making it. This means all the flavor is retained.

Usually you find assorted beans and blends in a specialty tea and coffee outlet; has to be a fair-sized city. Buy a little of each, and experiment with your own mixes. I find that a mere tablespoonful of espresso adds zip to the pot.

Dear Doris: There is this boy I like. I am sure he likes me too, because he sits there and stares at me, and when I look at him he kind of smiles.

Some days I smile back at him. I think I'm kind of hurting him, the way I'm acting. Because some days I think he doesn't know what to do. Doris, what do you think I should do? — A Reader All the Time.

Dear Reader: Funny thing about that staring business. The people who do it may only be subconscious of the fact that the stares were obvious and the dying duck devotion only too transparent.

Treat him kindly, do not subject to cold drafts; he'll survive.

Ann Landers

Talk with Wife Won't Settle Matters

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Why, oh why, would a woman hang on to a man who doesn't want her? Greg has told me he loves me more than anything in the world. He says his wife means nothing to him and they have lived as brother and sister for three years. I believe him. He claims if it weren't for his children he would have left her years ago, even if he had not met me.

I've written registered letters to his wife. I've sent her telegrams. No response. I've called her on the telephone and her stock answer is "I have nothing to say to you. Talk to Greg." Then she hangs up. She is a selfish, unfeeling woman who is clinging to the man I love just because she doesn't want us to be happy. Greg has told me repeatedly that he will marry me when the time is right.

ANN LANDERS

Ann, I want to go to her home and talk to her in person. Then she will have to listen to me. I've been going with Greg for three years and I'm sick and tired of waiting. -Please tell me I'm right in wanting to get it settled now. — RSVP.

* * *

DEAR R.: Your story is such a tired one I'm almost ashamed to print it. You are not only wrong; but stupid if you think a talk with Greg's wife will settle anything. Your problem is not with her — it's with him, Dummy. Greg doesn't want to marry you — and why should he? He has everything just the way he wants it — the respectable facade provided by a home and children plus a side dish for entertainment. This arrangement is a lot easier and much cheaper for him than a divorce.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My husband and I have two good-looking sons. They are 20 and 22 years of age. Both boys have fine jobs. They live at home, pay no room and board, drive new cars, and they dress like English royalty with white shirts and cuff links. The incoming phone calls from the girls run me crazy. I feel like an answering service.

I am writing to ask you to please tell young, unmarried people to save some of their pay cheque every week. My husband is a hard worker but we can't put away a dime on account of those boys. They keep spending money of us and I am getting burned up about it. Please, Ann, straighten them out. Kids listen to you. — LOSING MY TEMPER.

DEAR LOSING: "As the twig is bent, so grows the tree." Your twigs were bent to be selfish, irresponsible spenders and I can't pass a miracle that will transform them into feet-on-the-ground citizens by printing a few lines in the paper.

The only thing you can do now is to stop dishing out $ $ $ to those leeches and get tough with them. Insist that each boy gives you 15 per cent of his salary for room and board, laundry and telephone service. If they think they can live cheaper elsewhere, invite them to try it.

Bringing Up Baby.

Words Collected by Mrs. Don Gerber, Mother of Five

THE A-B-C's OF APPETITE

Sure it's exasperating when your baby balks at eating. But babies' appetites have their ups and downs. And the reasons for the downs are understandable if you know what to look for. These are the times when your baby's appetite may wane a bit: (A) When he (or she) starts on solids. (B) During early teething stages. (C) At the year-end mark, when growth rate slows down.

If you take these basic causes into consideration . . . avoid forcing or fussing . . . serve favourite foods . . . chances are your little one's appetite will soon improve.

Appetite delight. Good news for a reluctant eater, happy change of taste for a willing one. Gerber Mixed Cereal with Banana is new and unique in baby cereals. Each tiny flake has the distinctive, delicate flavour of ripe banana. And how quickly this cereal stirs to creamy smoothness, stays smooth throughout the serving. Added enjoyment for baby!

Attitude study. It pays to remember that hurry and worry take the pleasure out of baby's meals. If you hurry the feeding, he'll miss some of the fun of enjoying each flavour. If you worry about how much he eats, your frowns will show, and he'll probably know instinctively that you're forcing him, even though unconsciously.

Teething Tale. Your baby's appetite may lag a bit attroublesome teething times. Favourite foods are in order then. Extra cuddling and comforting help in the soothing division. Frequent sips of cooling Gerber Fruit Juices are most welcome . . . Gerber Teething Biscuits, extra-hard, waffle - surfaced, will give baby the biting satisfaction he wants and needs. You'll be surprised at how much they help. Gerber Baby Foods, Niagara Falls, Canada.

The Experts Say

Pamper Leather Goods with Proper Cake

MONTREAL (CP) — Man has been using leather for about 600,000 years, says Beth Hammond, director of the Leather Bureau of Canada, but he's still finding new uses for it.

A pigskin floor for the businessman's executive suit, for example, or as multi-colored fashion accessories such as brooches, earrings, pendants and bracelets.

Aside from these innovations, a main reason for the continuing popularity of leather is its long-wearing qualities, especially if properly cared for.

"Most important is not to neglect leather if it becomes soiled or wet," Mrs. Hammond says. "Shoes, when wet, should be dried immediately both inside and out and put on shoe trees. If no shoe trees are available, stuff tissue paper into the toes and let the shoes dry in normal room temperature.

"Never place shoes on radiators or direct sources of heat. This will dry the leather and cause it to break."

Suede shoes should be brushed frequently. "Should they become soiled in spots, gently pass a fine piece of sandpaper or emery board over the area. This will raise the surface of the leather and allow you to clean the spot."

Suede clothing can often be cleaned with a dry sponge to remove surface dirt.

"Most women wear scarves inside their suede garments to eliminate a dark necktire caused by hair oil, makeup and just plain dirt. It's vital that suede be kept from becoming too soiled, otherwise it will lose its beauty, especially after repeated cleanings."

Light spots can be removed by wiping the surface with a soft cloth dampened in lukewarm water. Greases in suede and other leather garments can be removed by placing a dry cloth on the area and using an iron with heat control set at nylon.

Handbags retain their lustre if polished lightly before they're used the first time. A thin film of neutral polish or one of the new spray-ons will protect leather bags from gathering dust that clogs pores of the skin.

"Women in this climate require a boot wardrobe," Mrs. Hammond says. "One boot just can't see them through the various winter conditions."

She recommends an unlined boot for early winter's cold dry days and a shearling-lined shoe-boot in suede or smooth leather for severe cold, dry days.

"For late-day wear a kid, fine calf or suede boot is ideal and for wet slushy days rubber or vinyl boots are best."

Boots with seamed down the centre front are the driest.

"This year's winter boots have special rubber linings between the outside leather and inside lining to prevent water from seeping through. But boots must be siliconed regularly to prevent dirt and calcium deposits from eating through the leather."

Hard-to-erase calcium stains can be removed by cleaning the boot with a mixture of vinegar and water. "If you wait for several days after the boot has been dragged through slush and calcium, don't expect perfect results. Immediate cleaning is imperative to preserve leather."

Oils and silicones should never be used on boots which require stiffness of leather. Apply ski-boot wax instead.

For ski boots there are some excellent waterproofing compounds available.

Mrs. Hammond still finds many women are unfamiliar with the terms used to describe leathers. She offers this glossary:

—Kidskin, made from imported goatskins, is light, strong, highly porous, soft and fine-grained. Chief use is in fashionable shoes.

—Pigskin, with faint pores, is smooth or buffed and used mostly for casual shoes.

—Sheepskin, soft but loose-textured, used mostly in uppers for slippers and for linings. Lambskin refers to leather made from skin of young sheep.

—Calfskin, from the skins of calves, is the elite of shoe leather, soft, supple, strong and fine-grained, and turns up in fine shoes for men and women and in handbags.

—Cabretta, from the skins of sheep, is soft, pliable and fine-grained. Used for gloves, handbags and shoes.

—Suede, the velvety nap finish on the flesh side of skins, is made from calf, goat, sheep, pig and deer skins.

—Nubuck, a relatively new leather, is a calf skin with a velvety nap finish on the grain side.

Blade Roast Makes Excellent Gourmet Dish

By MARY MOORE

The label read "Blade Roast - Bone-in Pot Roast - 89 cents per pound".

After I bought, pot-roasted and served this 4-lb. roast I weighed the bones: 5 ounces.

Because a blade roast is British I honed the carving knife extra sharp to make cutting easy.

If you find other "pot roast" cuts equally low in cost such as lean brisket point, cross rib or rolled shoulder you may follow my method below.

GOURMET POT ROAST With Vegetables

NOTE: To serve dinner at 6.00 p.m. start this at 2.00 p.m.

4-lb. blade roast (or other "pot roast" cut-see above)
2½ teaspoons flour
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
½ teaspoon curry powder (do not omit)
½ cup tomato juice
1 ozo cube
4 medium onions, peeled and halved
4 medium carrots, scraped and halved
4 medium potatoes, pared and halved
4 outer stalks celery, scrubbed, trimmed and cut into 3" pieces

In a small bowl mix together the flour, salt, pepper and curry powder. Rub half of this upon surface of blade roast. Curry roast is pressed at bottle with fat in it, turn it over as floured side is down on the rendered out fat. Rub remaining flour mixture over and into top surface as well as you can. Sear bottom surface over high heat until dark brown - at least 10 minutes. Turn roast o-n and sear other side until dark brown. Now add tomato juice and ozo cube. Arrange halved onions, carrots and potatoes around edges and place celery on top of meat. Cover and reduce heat to simmer for 3½ hours longer, turning roast and all vegetables over at halftime. Overall cooking time is 4 hours.

If you can do so easily, slip out blade bone before transferring meat to preheated platter. Arrange vegetables attractively in border or at one end of platter. Pour gravy into preheated saucebowl and pass at table.

NOTE: If desired potatoes may be left out of roast pot and cooked and mashed. Many ladies like their rich pot roast gravy on mashed potatoes.

Points for Parents

By MARY REYSON

Mother: "Dinner's ready."
Father: "I have to wash my hands."
Son: "I'm right in the middle of gluing this plane together."

Mother: "I'll set this timer every evening so it will go off about 15 minutes before dinner is ready. That will give everybody time to get cleaned up."

A little planning will eliminate that annoying delay just when a hot meal is ready for the table.

TWEED KINETTES

TWEED — Tweed Kinette Club held a dinner meeting at the Tweedsmuir Hotel Nov. 20 with Miss Dianne Gunning as guest speaker.

Miss Gunning, a grade 11 student at Tweed-Hungerford High School, presented a re-velcgue of her summer trip to Ottawa, Expo, New York and Niagara Falls.

Marion Little, president, welcomed Mrs. Sharon Ostman, a new member. Tickets on a draw for a doll were distributed for sale. The Tweed Kinette cook book is to be advertised for sale. Sharon Ostman offered to convene the snow queen contest this year. Marion Cope, Marion Little and Carole Bleecker will assist. The Christmas party will be held at Stoco Lake Dec. 7 and the Christmas meeting will be held Dec. 11. Eileen Hunter and Margaret Morton will be in charge of Christmas baskets and donations of canned goods are solicited. Unused children's books will be collected for Tweed Public Library.

A donation of $100 was made to Tweed-Hungerford Community Centre. The Tweed Teens equipment was lent by the Club to a youth club meeting in the Anglican Church Hall. The program of visits to shut-ins has begun under the convenership of Eileen Hunter. The door prize was won by Carole Elle Bleecker.

Episcopalians Hold Homosexual Acts 'Morally Neutral'

NEW YORK (AP) — A group of Episcopalian priests from the New York area generally agreed at an exploratory conference Tuesday that homosexual acts between consenting adults should be classified by the church as "morally neutral" instead of condemned outright.

Canon Walter R. Dennis said Christians must "rethink the usual position that has turned homosexuals into lepers."

"A homosexual relationship between two consenting adults should be judged by the same criteria as a heterosexual marriage—that is, whether it is intended to foster a permanent relationship of love," he said.

Long Copper Strike's Impact On U. S. Mining Towns Is Harsh

By JACK LEFLER
Associated Press Staff Writer

"I've been through them all since 1952 and this could be the worst. But I don't care if it lasts from now 'til kingdom come, we'll hang on."

That's Delmus Knadle, a veteran Magna, Utah, miner, talking about the strike that has throttled the U.S. copper industry since July 15.

The strike has cost many millions of dollars in copper company revenue and miners' wages.

But it drags on with the companies and a coalition of unions, headed by the United Steelworkers of America, apparently just about as far apart as at the beginning.

The strike's impact on individuals and communities has been harsh. Most of the mines and smelters are located in small Western towns dependent on a one-industry payroll.

While the strike has shut down 95 per cent of the U.S. copper mine production, 80 per cent of its copper processing capacity and 95 per cent of its copper fabricating capacity, there has been no severe copper shortage. The losses in production is estimated at 650,000 tons of refined copper.

The ability to maintain output of copper products to meet the needs of private industry and the Vietnam war is due to two factors:

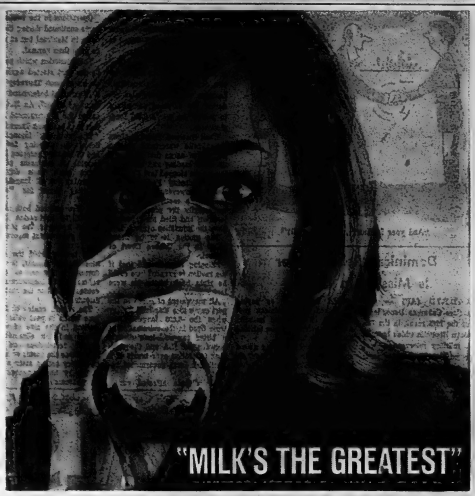
By last June, mills and foundries, anticipating a strike, had built their inventories to a record 641,003 tons. And they have been buying foreign copper at premium prices and passing on the extra cost to consumers.

Although builders and automobile radiator manufacturers were reported starting to feel the pinch, an industry source said:

"There's no copper shortage if you want to pay the price."

Negotiations in the bitter dispute that has made idle about 50,000 workers have been at a virtual standstill since the walkout began.

The companies estimate their offer to the unions at 50.6 cents an hour more than the old wage scales during a three-year period. The Steelworkers Union and 21 smaller unions demand a boost of 99 cents an hour. Each side disputes the other's computations.



The U.S. labor department has reported that the averages hourly wage in the copper mining industry last July was $3.38.

Companies officials say negotiations are at a standstill because of two inflexible union coalition demands—insistence on a highly inflationary wage and fringe package with uniform industrywide wage scale and expiration date, and companywide bargaining which is not feasible for such dissimilar industry operations as exist in copper mining, lead-zinc mining and copper and brass fabricating.

The unions accused the companies of trying to exhaust surplus copper supplies to force governmental intervention, set the stage for a substantial copper price increase, and so "starve the strikers into submission."

Most of the U.S. copper is produced in Arizona, Montana, Nevada, New Mexico and Utah.

The long strike has hurt those states through loss of wages, sales and taxes. In Utah it was estimated that the loss to the state's economy by mid-November was $47,000,000.

Dominican Rebel Leader Is Missing in London

MADRID (AP) — Col. Francisco Caamano Deno, leader of the 1965 revolt in the Dominican Republic which brought U.S. military intervention, was reported Tuesday missing from his diplomatic post in London.

His wife, Paula Acevedo de Caamano, was quoted by a Madrid newspaper as saying she asked the Dominican government to find her husband who, she said, has been missing since mid-October.

His disappearance caused speculation in Santo Domingo, the Dominican capital, that some new revolutionary move there might be in prospect.

Montreal Dockers Are Back on Job

MONTREAL (CP) — Montreal's longshoremen returned to work Tuesday under the terms of a provisional injunction, but the port could shut down again today if another legal action is granted.

The Superior Court Monday granted a request for an injunction filed by the International Longshoremen's Association ordering the shipping companies to reshire the port's 3,000 longshoremen.

Work resumed Tuesday along the 11-mile waterfront on the backing of cargo that had piled up since loading and unloading operations stopped last Friday.

The Shipping Federation of Canada, however, Tuesday filed in court a motion to suspend temporarily the provisional injunction and filed an appeal to have the injunction overruled.

The motion is to be heard today in the Quebec Court of Appeal.

Shipping sources said that if the motion is granted "we could be right back where we were last Friday."

All movement of cargo in the port came to a standstill Friday when the 3,000 longshoremen were fired in the culmination of a bitter two-week-long dispute between the ILA and the shipping federation over terms of a binding federal government report.

The dispute affected cargo-handling operations in the ports of Trois-Rivieres and Quebec City, also covered by the report.

Operations in the two smaller ports continued during the shutdown in Montreal but at a slower pace than normal.

The injunction which got work in the port started again is to expire at noon Thursday unless it is annulled beforehand by the Court of Appeal. An ILA application for a permanent injunction is to be heard Thursday.

The provisional injunction ordered the shipping federation and 26 member shipping lines to provide a minimum of eight hours work each day until Thursday for all longshoremen or pay them for "standby duty."

It also ordered both sides to submit to arbitration if they cannot agree on the provisions of the government report within two days.

Its terms forbid the companies or their agents, the stevedoring companies, to fire or refuse to hire longshoremen for causes related to the matters in dispute.

The report, centre of the dispute which in part calls for reduction in the size of working gangs and the elimination of weight restrictions on sling loads, was the result of a federal inquiry set up after a 79-day strike by St. Lawrence River longshoremen in 1966.

There Will Be No Handshakes As Aden Becomes Independent

LONDON (AP) — There'll be no royal presence and no warm handshakes when the Union Jack comes down for the last time in Aden at midnight tonight.

The Republic of South Yemen was officially born, in fact, Sunday morning when the Arabs awoke to find the last of 12,000 British troops had pulled out before dawn.

Britain has not just given independence to the colony it held for 128 years at the southern entrance to the Red Sea. It has cleared out.

High Commissioner Sir Humphrey Trevelyan left Tuesday. Unlike other transfers of British colonial power in the last 20 years, no member of the Royal Family will hand over the instruments of power.

The National Liberation Front is taking over, and in Geneva a NLF delegation worked with British negotiators under Lord Shackleton, trying to draw up a formal agreement for an orderly transfer of power.

A plane was standing by to fly NLF leader Qahtan Al Shaabi and his 24 associates back to South Arabia for celebrations marking the birth of their nation.

Sources in Geneva indicated the main stumbling block was the amount of financial aid Britain would give the new Arab republic. Britain wants to give far less than the £60,000,000—now worth $15,120,000 — it promised when Egyptian troops in neighboring Yemen were a threat.

No matter how much the British give, said Al Shaabi, they won't get any land concessions, on the peninsula or on the islands at the entrance to the Red Sea. This is bothering Israel since Al Shaabi has promised to block Israeli shipping if he can.

Al Shaabi said his government's first acts would be to apply for membership in the Arab League and the United Nations.

The British first moved into Aden in 1839 to use it as a coaling station en route to India. Then it had about 200 people; now it has about 250,000 and the neighboring feudal sheikdoms have about 750,000 more.

South Yemen's primary income came from serving British troops and ships, and from tourists who stopped over on their way somewhere else. Until Egypt reopens the Suez Canal its prospects of revenue are slim.

McNamara's Move Is Pentagon Victory

WASHINGTON (CP) — Word that Defence Secretary Robert McNamara is quitting has shocked Washington, credited the military hierarchy with a clear victory and fed expectations of even harsher blows against North Vietnam.

Bombing or mining the port of Haiphong, long opposed by McNamara, now is deemed much more likely. Even some sort of direct invasion of the North or surrounding Cambodia or Laos is regarded as possible.

McNamara's departure, the exact date still unspecified, would remove the last major obstacle to military pressure President Johnson might desire to force the kind of war progress he wants before facing re-election next November.

McNamara's shift to the backwater of the World Bank presidency could also signal a significant shift within the Democratic party already torn by Vietnam, some quarters suggest.

Liberal Senator Eugene McCarthy of Minnesota is scheduled Thursday to announce he will oppose President Johnson over the war and seek the 1968 Democratic presidential nomination.

The McCarthy move has put some pressure on Senator Robert Kennedy of New York to say where he stands. Kennedy recently has revived and sharpened his criticism of the war, charging peace opportunities were passed up last February and the war's objectives have been switched to containment of a toothless China.

Monday night, aft reports swept the capital of the McNamara departure, Kennedy spent an hour with McNamara, named nearly seven years ago by the late president John F. Kennedy to the post he has held longer than any other. He remains close to the Kennedy circle.

Expectations of a tougher war against the North now are freely expressed among congressmen.

"His (McNamara's) departure will be considered a triumph for the hawks and widely interpreted as a signal that all-out escalation is about to begin," says political columnist Marry McGrory of The Evening Star.

Democrat Mike Mansfield of Montana, Senate majority leader whose moderate views on Vietnam have weakened any influence he has with the president, said he hopes "sincerely that his (McNamara's) departure will not mean an escalation of the bombing or the widening of the war."

McNamara suffered another rebuff recently with the decision to go ahead with a $6,000,000,000 start of an anti-missile system ostensibly to defend against a Chinese threat in the mid-1970s.

McNamara is the former head of the Ford Motor Co. who has been something of an enigma most of his career in Washington. His computer mind and terse manner have ruffled many feathers among the military hawks in Congress.

Some suggest he is going as a political liability, others that he is simply exhausted from seven years of running the world's largest military machine whose annual budget now exceeds $80,000,000,000.

McNamara was tackled head on earlier this year by the military chiefs urging an end to bombing restraint. They used congressional mouthpieces, disagreeing with the McNamara theory that bombing can slow but not halt aid from the North and is not decisive in itself.

Subsequently air strikes were sharply stepped up. The capital of Hanoi and the city of Haiphong have been pretty well battered although Haiphong's port facilities have been spared, say travellers back from North Vietnam.

The disregard for former precautions indicates growing U.S. conviction that it can do just about what it wants to the North without drawing any direct Chinese or Soviet retaliation.

Tough Winter Ahead

Conservationists are gathering their resources this winter to help save the diminishing numbers of Rocky Mountain bighorn sheep. About 3,000 such sheep roamed the East Kootenay district of British Columbia three years ago, but today there are only about 650 left. Naturalists say the sheep die due to lack of food in their tradi tional feeding grounds despite more bountiful supplies nearby. (CP Photo)

Dr. Murray Will Retire Ere Controvesy Over

TORONTO (CP) — Dr. Gordon Murray's controversial spinal cord operation probably will still be under investigation at the Toronto General Hospital after he has retired.

A few years ago the hospital decided to retire consulting staff at 70.

But rather than abruptly terminate the admission and operating privileges of doctors already approaching 70, a clause was included deferring their retirement until 1968.

Dr. Murray now is 72. If the hospital decides to pursue evaluation of his concept of severing and rejoining the spinal cord, research is likely to last at least two more years.

A committee set up by the Toronto Gengral now is reviewing the situation.

Denis' Lawyer May Ask for Mistrial

OTTAWA (CP) — A defence lawyer for Raymond Denis said, fled the court Tuesday he may ask for a mistrial because of the examination of a police officer at Denis' trial for attempted obstruction of justice.

Louis Assaly, Denis' chief counsel, protested about questions asked partly by Assistant Crown Attorney James Fontana and partly by Judge Bruce Macdonald of Windsor.

He maintained the questions and the replies of former RCMP sergeant Joseph McLeod were improper.

Mr. Assaly told the court that if Mr. McLeod were asked further similar questions he would want to submit arguments for a mistrial.

The incident blew up near the end of the 12th day of Denis' second trial on charges arising out of the 1964 affair of narcotics smuggler Lucien Rivard.

The first trial ended in a mistrial after seven weeks of hearings on an indictment charging Denis with attempting to bribe Montreal lawyer Pierre Lamontagne not to oppose bail for Rivard.

The current trial is on the second count of the same indictment, charging that Denis attempted to obstruct justice by trying to dissuade Mr. Lamontagne from opposing bail.

Judge Macdonald told Mr. Assaly "you can do so if you wish" when the defence lawyer raised the possibility of asking for a mistrial.

He said Mr. Assaly's associate counsel, Leonard Max, had opened the door for the kind of questions asked Mr. McLeod. He could 'not see that the questions were particularly useful but "I can't see that they are ic-gally objectionable."

He said the jury would know what weight to give the opinions requested of Mr. McLeod, who was being questioned about RCMP interviews with Denis that took place in August, 1964, at RCMP offices.

Mr. Fontana asked what would have happened if Denis had refused to reply to questions and walked out of the police office.

The defence sought an explanation of the reason for the question and Mr. Fontana told the court he plans to ask Mr. McLeod his opinion as a veteran policeman about Denis' guilt or innocence.

He noted that under defence questions, Mr. McLeod was asked by Mr. Max for his opinion as a veteran policeman whether Denis was telling the truth at the interviews.

Irregularities Charged

OTTAWA (CP) — The 17-member national executive board of the Canadian Union of Public Employees has been called into emergency session here Dec. 7 to deal with charges of voting irregularities at the union's convention in Montreal last week.

Stanley Little, re-elected president by a margin of 19 votes over William Black of Vancouver, announced the move Tuesday in a statement issued jointly with Mrs. Grace Hartman, CUPE's new secretary-treasurer.

They said the board will be asked to investigate "serious and damaging public statements" about the conduct of the union elections.

During the weekend, Ben Coffey of Ottawa, a paid official of the 131,000-member union, issued a press statement claiming more than 30 voting delegates were seated illegally.

City Buys O'Keefe Centre

TORONTO (CP) — Metropolitan Toronto council agreed Tuesday to take over the financially - troubled O'Keefe Centre, now controlled by Canadian Breweries Ltd.

Metro Chairman William Allen rejected a bid by council to obtain a full financial statement on the operation of the 3,200-seat theatre.

He said council might not want to acquire the theatre if it took this action and sent the proposal back to the Metro executive committee.

Metro will negotiate with Canadian Breweries on the basis of the $2,750,000 paid by the firm 10 years ago for the theatre's site.

"Hot Pursuit" Answer In Vietnam; Eisenhower

NEW YORK (AP) — Former president Dwight D. Eisenhower said Tuesday night he would approve of invading the demilitarized zone in Vietnam and of engaging in "hot pursuit" of Communist ground forces into Laos and Cambodia and by air even into China.

Eisenhower said he believes in hot pursuit by both ground and air forces, and he discounted the possibility of major intervention by the Soviet Union or China.

He said another 100,000 men should be sent to Vietnam "to just clean this thing up more quickly."

He spoke in a taped interview on the CBS television network.

The former Republican president and Allied commander in the Second World War appeared with the only other living five-star U.S. general, Omar N. Bradley.

Question of Fetal Life Abortion Key: Lawyer

OTTAWA (CP) — The assertion that members of the Commons health committee, studying proposals to liberalize abortion laws, must decide whether fetal life is human life, drew sharp objection at a committee meeting Tuesday.

David Dehler, an Ottawa lawyer, submitted a private brief to the committee and said the "essential problem" facing the committee is "either fetal life is human life or it is not."

If the committee found fetal life is human, then it must tread cautiously. If it found it was not "there is no moral problem and the legal problem becomes relatively simple."

Stanley Knowles (NDP — Winnipeg North Centre) accused the witness of oversimplification. No committee or royal commission could determine such a question factually and the committee was not faced with this decision.

He suggested to Mr. Dehler there could be committee members who feel the fetus is not a human being but who oppose broadening abortion laws for other reasons. Other members might feel the fetus is human but favor liberalizing the law.

Mr. Dehler said he could not follow such reasoning.

"You're going to have to decide in your own minds on this question . . . the decision will be made in each man's mind" and he will then vote accordingly, he said.

The committee is studying three private bills proposing broadening of abortion laws.

Vending Operators Are Unhappy With Switch in Coinage

TORONTO (CP) — The Canadian government, and a lot of economists, are heralding as a good move the new all-nickel coinage due to start circulating next year.

By replacing the silver and copper of present coins, the cost of minting should be reduced and free these metals for sale on a soaring market.

But about 100,000 small vending-machine operators across the country wish it wouldn't happen.

They estimate the cost of converting their machines to accept the new coins at up to $22,500,000.

"We feel victimized," says William Swift, general manager of Versatheods Ltd., who claims he speaks for small people as well as his own firm.

"We didn't want the coinage change, or ask for it. We think it would be reasonable if the government stood the cost of converting the machines."

Coin-accepting mechanisms for dimes and quarters on 90 per cent of the country's 200,000 coin-operated machines work on a magnetic system, accepting coins with certain magnetic properties like the present silver-copper mix, and rejecting nonmagnetic or very magnetic metals.

Since nickel is far more magnetic than silver or copper, nickel coins will slow or stop the machines unless the coin mechanism is changed.

The slots for five-cent coins are not affected, since most work mechanically.

A new coin-accepting mechanism has been developed which will accept all-nickel coins, as well as the present ones, and rejects slugs, although some operators say it hasn't yet been tested sufficiently to warrant installing.

But the real problem is cost. The Canadian Automatic Merchandising Association, with about 200 vending machine company members, estimates mechanism and installation costs at up to $30 a machine.

"Without help a number of small operators will go out of business," says CAMA coinage committee chairman George Carter.

The CAMA has been meeting with the federal finance department since a change in Canadian coinage was first talked of three years ago. They have been trying to persuade the government to bear at least part of the conversion cost.

Another meeting is planned next week.

"We'd like distribution held back at least until the middle of 1968," says Mr. Carter. "Otherwise, things will be chaotic."

Besides machines which dispense such items as food, soft drinks, and cigarettes, the coin change will hit some automatic laundry equipment, juke boxes and some pay telephones.

The Bell Telphone Co. has already started changing about 800 telephones in Ontario and Quebec to mechanical coin-accepting.

If new coins begin circulating before the machines have been converted, operators say they have two choices:

—"Open up" machines to accept any coins of a standard size, leaving the way open to the slug merchants;

—Leave things as they are, and hope people have a sufficient supply of nickels to operate machines with the five-cent slots, or enough old coins to keep them in business.

"Any way you look at it, we'll build up resentment among the public and lose customers and money," says Mr. Swift.

Canadians buy about $1,500,000,000 worth of goods through vending machines annually, and the operators net about $300,000,000 of it.

They are determined not to see it drop down the rejector chute.

A&P

It isn't easy to buy bean coffee!

Nowadays, very few stores offer you bean coffee.

Why does A&P still offer coffees in the bean?

Basically, because "We Care."

Specifically, because we know these facts:

The coffee bean is nature's seal that holds the flavour.

Once that seal is broken by grinding, flavour fades...

NO MATTER HOW IT'S PACKAGED.

The shorter the time between grinding the beans and brewing your coffee, the greater the flavour.

So if you want the finest cup of coffee you've ever tasted, buy and brew one of A&P's three Bean Coffee blends... Eight O'Clock, Red Circle or Bokar.

Not every store can offer you custom-ground bean coffee. A&P can and does.

Shouldn't A&P be your store?

Separated Quebec Would Respect English Minority: Johnson

TORONTO (CP) — Premier Daniel Johnson of Quebec said Tuesday he is convinced that even a separated Quebec would continue to respect the rights of the province's English-speaking minority.

Mr. Johnson made the comment before the Confederation of Tomorrow conference, where in the same breath he packed separatism and French - language unilingualism into one sentence.

The task of tackling these tender Quebec questions resulted in French sentence which translated said:

"We want to say very clearly to this conference that the province of Quebec, even if it should separate—over which I have no control but which I will try to oppose not by words but by making Quebecers feel a bit more at home outside Quebec—but even separated I am convinced that in a modern world of communication Quebec could become an extremely interesting international centre and, in order to play this role, Quebec would continue to respect the rights of those who are not French-speaking."

Mr. Johnson later held up a copy of the Toronto Star to object to the emphasis the evening newspaper placed on a portion of his remarks in a front-page headline story.

The premier read the first paragraph aloud. It said: "Premier Daniel Johnson told the Confederation of Tomorrow conference today that Quebec could prosper as an independent state."

Mr. Johnson asked: "When did I say that?"

He read a statement made by the former (Quebec) minister of revenue, Mr. (Eric) Kierans, in 1964, and I've read his opinion to the contrary since and if you think I'm going to put my finger in this kind of thing you're wrong.

"I'm sorry to see it has been blown up this way, very wrongly. This is the kind of thing that doesn't help Canadian harmony."

An aide close to the premier said Mr. Johnson was trying to state the view that there would be advantages for even a separate Quebec to be bilingual.

This would help it "become an extremely interesting international centre," the aide said. Mr. Johnson rejects French-language unilingualism.

Premiers Push Quebec for Specific Proposals

TORONTO (CP) — Premier Daniel Johnson may tell the Confederation of Tomorrow conference today what specific changes Quebec would like to see in Canada's constitution.

When the four - day dialogue entered its second day Tuesday, Premier Alex Campbell of Prince Edward Island asked Quebec to explain a number of statements about the constitution contained in its preliminary brief to the conference.

Mr. Johnson said late in the session he would reply, but by that time the conference had turned to other matters and the chairman, Premier John Robarts of Ontario, had recognized another speaker.

Canada's youngest premier at 34 wanted to know what role Quebec sought in international affairs, monetary and fiscal matters.

And he wanted details of Quebec's proposals for a "constitutional tribunal whose composition would reflect the federal character of our institutions and the Canadian cultural duality" and a reformed Senate with "a bilingual character."

The Island premier and Premier Louis Robichaud of New Brunswick both expressed concern about resolutions passed by the Estates General of French Canada in Montreal last weekend.

The Estates General adopted a separatist rtiitude.

Mr. Johnson said that he has no control over separatism moves in Quebec but that he plans to oppose separatism with words and by trying to obtain rights for French - speaking Canadians so they will feel at home in other provinces besides Quebec.

Mr. Robichaud called Mr. Johnson a "real Canadian" because "he wants Quebec to remain in Confederation."

"It seems to me that too many of us do not recognize the problems Premier Johnson has to face in his own province," he said.

"He was putting his head on the block when he said what he did."

Mr. Robichaud said the Quebec premier had said in effect that he was a Canadian and proud of it, and suggested the words were courageous in view of the current wave of separatist feeling.

The New Brunswick premier quoted newspaper headlines telling of Gen. de Gaulle's call for Quebec to achieve full sovereignty and declared:

"A foreign country wants to take over our province of Quebec."

He also expressed concern at suggestions made at the recent meeting of the Estates General of Canada that Quebec take over northern New Brunswick.

The Estates General took no formal action on the suggestions.

The Acadian premier said he didn't think the Estates General represented public opinion in Quebec but it was "a force to be reckoned with."

Mr. Robichaud also lashed out at French President Charles de Gaulle's call for an independent Quebec.

He urged the other provinces to help Mr. Johnson combat separatism and the "threat" of annexation by France.

"We must not leave him alone."

Premier E. C. Manning of Alberta said in an interview all 10 provinces must have to agree to any constitutional amendment guaranteeing French language rights everywhere in Canada.

He said previously in a letter to Prime Minister Pearson and at the Confederation conference that he opposes such a change.

Attorney - General Robert Bonner of British Columbia—the only province not represented by a premier—told a reporter it would be "remarkable" if such a recommendation received unanimous approval.

There have been indications in Ottawa that the federal government may try to press ahead with the constitutional change and allow Alberta and British Columbia to opt out.

But other delegates agreed with Mr. Manning that civil rights come under the jurisdiction of the provinces and any changes would need their unanimous consent.

Mr. Campbell and Premier G. I. Smith of Nova Scotia reaffirmed their willingness to work for a new constitution in view of Quebec's complaints about the old one.

Premier Joseph Smallwood repeated his stand that Newfoundland would consider constitutional changes if the wealthier provinces would work toward ending Canada's economic disparities.

Mr. Bonner asked for an examination of the economy to determine Canada's ability to achieve its goals.

He urged the delegates to examine per capita income—"the measure of Canadian capacity to do things"—across the country.

At one point, Mr. Smallwood expressed concern that constitutional problems would bury economic problems, his prime concern.

Johnson Claims Pearson, de Gaulle In Private Fight

TORONTO (CP) —Premier Daniel Johnson of Quebec said Tuesday Prime Minister Pearson is involved in "what seems to be a private fight" with President de Gaulle of France.

The premier told reporters at the Confederation of Tomorrow conference he had been asked earlier to comment on a statement by Mr. Pearson in the Commons that Mr. de Gaulle's remarks about Quebec independence were intolerable.

Mr. Johnson said:

"My answer is this: Should I get involved in what seems to be a private fight between Mr. Pearson and Mr. de Gaulle on two subjects?

"One, the opportunity of admission of the United Kingdom into the Common Market and two, the opinion of Mr. de Gaulle on the constitutional evolution of Canada."

A reporter interjected: "Should you?"

"No," said the premier, who spoke with reporters following a picture-posing session with other premiers and leaders of provincial delegations.

Mr. Johnson said he was pleased with the progress of the meeting.

"I have a good indication the other provinces are learning things about our provinces and our problems."

Alberta Premier Needled

TORONTO (CP) — Some gentle inter-provincial needling—and some not so gentle —occurred Tuesday at the Confederation of Tomorrow conference.

Premier Alex Campbell of Prince Edward Island in effect asked Premier E. C. Manning of Alberta at least to consider a constitutional change desired by Quebec.

Mr. Campbell also said Premier Daniel Johnson of Quebec should get down to specifics on its proposed constitutional changes.

Attorney - General Robert Bonner of British Columbia said it was not up to one province to cross-examine another.

Mr. Bonner later compared Canada's standard of living to that of Arkansas, one of the poorest U.S. states.

Mr. Johnson said Canada is more than a standard of living. If some Canadians did not like the Canadian standard they could join the U.S.

N.B. Premier Says 'Stop Separatism'

TORONTO (CP) — Premier Louis J. Robichaud of New Brunswick said Tuesday Quebec Premier Daniel Johnson was "exceeding his own thoughts" when he said he could not stop separatism.

Mr. Johnson earlier had told reporters "it's the rest of Canada that has to stop" separatism.

At a press conference, Mr. Robichaud said he believes the separatism movement can and should be stopped.

He said the Quebec premier now is able to tell his people how harmful separation from Canada would be, but this task would become much more difficult if the other provinces said they wanted "nothing to do" with Quebec.

"There would be a lot of people telling him to separate," he said.

Studies on the effects separation of Quebec would have on the Atlantic provinces were not needed because the effects were obvious. Residents of the four provinces would have to cross another country to get to other parts of Canada.

Mr. Robichaud said it was "quite possible" the Atlantic provinces would join the United States if they ever became a sovereign state, but he did not believe that would ever happen.

Joey Didn't Threaten Walkout

TORONTO (CP) —Premier Joseph Smallwood of Newfoundland was absent when the Confederation of Tomorrow conference resumed after the lunch break Tuesday.

The premier was making a radio broadcast and rejoined the conference an hour late.

Mr. Smallwood's absence was observed with more than usual interest in the light of a Toronto Telegram headline saying he had threatened a walkout in a speech at the morning session.

In his morning remarks Mr. Smallwood said:

"I'll go along with any discussions you want to have about constitutional change. I'll go along with it. But I intend—or I'll go home—I intend at every point while I remain here to keep pressing home . . . that what really matters is the standards of private living and public service."

When asked about the newspaper headline, he said:

"It's too funny for words. You couldn't dynamite me out of here."

He said his reference to going home was a general comment that if constitutional matters were to be the only subject discussed, everyone should go home.

Top Newsmaker

All Listen When Quebec Premier Speaks

TORONTO (CP) — Premier Daniel Johnson of Quebec clearly has become the newsmaker at the inaugural Confederation of Tomorrow conference.

Within 48 hours he has calmly established his role with his replies to challenges from other provincial delegations opposed to entrenching within the constitution the linguistic and cultural aspirations of Quebec.

When he speaks all within the conference room listen. Outside, others are glued to closed-circuit television sets, armed with battery-powered translators, to note what he is saying.

While Premier John Robarts of Ontario, who called the conference, stressed before it began and on a number of occasions during discussions that no positive answers will be reached during the meetings, what Mr. Johnson says and does is interpreted as specific answers.

Nine premiers are at the conference—Premier Walter Weir of Manitoba arrived Tuesday after being sworn into office Monday—while Attorney-General Robert Bonner heads the B.C. delegation.

Until the Tuesday afternoon session only provincial leaders participated in discussions, though Premier Robarts emphasized that any premier could allow a public member to speak on specific topics.

Mr. Robarts was the first to take advantage of this procedure when he asked Education Minister William Davis to detail Ontario's education system as it applies to the French-Canadian minority.

However, the tenor of talks so far indicated the leaders will continue to be the main spokesmen.

There have been some sharp divisions of thought—especially in minority right—in the first sessions of the four-day conference despite the informal nature of the talks.

Nevertheless, the 32-year-old Quebec premier has faced the challenge to answer in specifics just what it is that Quebec desires and what it expects from English Canada.

He bristles from a strong television image. He moves from English to French with ease and accurately times his statements to end as the last speaker or the answers themselves end that phase of discussion.

Between sessions the premiers have an opportunity to meet in private, but as far such between-group talks have been limited to advisers.

Seven of the nine premiers attended a Monday night banquet for delegates. The size of the gathering prohibited any deep personal discussion. However, Wednesday night they will have an opportunity for more intimate talks when they attend a private dinner held by the host province.

The informal and broad-natured debate so far has made it impossible to crystalize feelings except on the role of Quebec and the need for economic balance in the years ahead.

Premier Joseph Smallwood of Newfoundland has faced his arguments with humor and a contrast to the reserve and judicial air adopted by Mr. Johnson who has hands and points his forefinger as he emphasizes a point.

The informality of the sessions is exemplified by one remark by Premier Ross Thatcher to Mr. Johnson just before the start of Tuesday's session. The Saskatchewan premier said that in the interests of national unity it has been arranged to have Saskatchewan Roughrider quarterback Ron Lancaster call half his signals in French and half in English during Saturday's Grey Cup football final in Ottawa against Hamilton Tiger-Cats.

While the New Democratic Party is the only major political group not having an official voice in proceedings, party repute indicates have been assigned places among the 100 official observers. This group also includes four federal representatives.

Among observers Tuesday were several members of Parliament, including Davie Fulton, an unsuccessful contender in the recent Progressive Conservative leadership convention.

The current conference is unique and cannot be compared with annual premiers' conferences in two aspects—it is open and is not limited to administrative matters outside provincial-federal areas.

Estates General Issue

TORONTO (CP) — Premier Daniel Johnson of Quebec disagrees with the resolution of French-language unilingualism endorsed by Quebec delegates to the Estates General of French Canada, a spokesman for the premier said Tuesday.

Mr. Johnson told the Confederation of Tomorrow conference he is certain Quebec would respect rights of Quebec's English-speaking minority even if separated.

The Estates General is a privately-organized forum assembled by Quebec nationalists to plug for constitutional change.

Its language resolution at a conference in Montreal last week says French should be the only official language and all organisms directly or indirectly under authority of the government, including school boards.

It calls for elimination of English teaching at the primary level in French-language schools and urges that English be made optional at the secondary level in French-language schools.

A spokesman for the premier said Mr. Johnson does not believe Quebec should abandon official bilingualism.

Premier Robichaud Lashes Out at de Gaulle, Estates General

TORONTO (CP) — Premier Louis Robichaud of New Brunswick, in an impassioned speech to the Confederation of Tomorrow Conference, Tuesday praised Quebec Premier Daniel Johnson as a "real Canadian" and lashed out at the activities of French Premier de Gaulle and the Estates General of Canada.

Mr. Robichaud said a speech Premier Johnson made to the conference earlier in the day showed "that he wanted Quebec to remain in Confederation."

Can the ball rushes of Roughrider Reed dent the armor of the Knights of Gibraltar that form the rock-ribbed defence of the Hamilton Tiger-Cats?

Can the wizardry of the Lancaster arm rockey strikes to receivers to smash a Tiger-Cat no touchdown record?

Is there all atmosphere of coolness in the Tiger hot after their humiliating defeat of the arch-enemy from Ottawa?

Can Zagar and his receivers match the pitch-catch artistry of Lancaster and Barlow as accomplished by the Roughriders third battle with the Calgary Stampeders?

These are some of the questions being handled around by the football faithful down Hamilton way.

The consensus of fans I have talked with favors the Tiger Cats although I'm told there is lots of Roughrider money ready for the taking.

One western buff came up with the prediction that the Roughriders will stop the Tiger-Cats with a broad arch style of football. His club's chiefwrite but he had a way of knowing look on his face when he made the prophecy.

But the back-room pundits, the boys supposed to be in the know have rated the Tiger Cats 3½ points favorites over the western crew. A fine field goal can win the game but it won't bring any lost in the wallets of the Cat fanciers. An extra point will, I'm told.

Meanwhile up Ottawa way the hotels and the bistros, the hotels and motels, the cabins and the cottages spare beds in attics and all available space within a fifty-mile radius of the capital awaits the big invasion.

The government "groceries" are stocked to the rafters. Hotel and motel larders are packed to the ceiling. And the cash registers all over the city and district are yawning.

The first serious symptoms of the fever that will rage the rest of the week were seen today when the Saskatchewan Roughriders arrived shortly after noon. They landed at Uplands airport just before two o'clock.

The Tiger Cats are scheduled to arrive tomorrow. On the day the big battle of football fanatics is expected to begin.

Latest reports indicate at least 2,000 Roughriders fans will be coming by train and plane from Regina. About 1,000 are expected to arrive from Hamilton by rail, air and road.

So far this week, the city has been fairly quiet outside of an official kickoff to the week of festivities at noon Monday. But owners of the new CFL team claimed their labors Tuesday, working all day and part of the evening to draw up a new constitution unifying the Eastern and Western leagues.

The constitution was approved in principle at a Montreal meeting last February, and team representatives now are going over a third draft to make sure there are no legal loopholes in rules governing equalization of gate and television receipts. "We want something that will stand up for a long time," said Allan MacEachern, president and acting commissioner of the CFL.

He said in an interview Tuesday no action can be taken on final approval of the new constitution until Thursday at the earliest when one of the CFL's two yearly meetings is scheduled...But the constitution is not expected to be presented to the CFL until the February meeting. However, after team executives have had a chance to examine it.

Provisions of the new constitution will be retroactive. But if it has to be delayed until the February meeting.

He said terms of the arrangements for gate equalization have not changed from the agreement last February. Individual teams whose net gain receipts, including closed-circuit television, are above the league average will contribute one-third of the excess to a pool. Teams with receipts below the average will receive benefits from the pool on the same proportion.

The equalization payments will include two pre-season exhibition games for each club.

Score Was 4-4

Nats Tie E. Germany

WEISSWASSER (Reuters)—The eastern division of Canada's national hockey team and East Germany played to a 4-4 tie in an international exhibition hockey game Tuesday night.

Canadian scorers were playing-coach Jack (Red) Bownass of Winnipeg, Derek Holmes of Kemptville, Ont., John Ferguson of Ottawa and Denis Picard of Montreal.

East German scorers were Wolfgang Nickel with two goals, R. Noack and Bernd Pruss. Pruss scored the tying goal with five minutes remaining in the game.

The Canadians leave for Leningrad and Moscow Thursday to play Soviet, Polish and Czechoslovak teams there. They already have one win and a loss behind them in games in Sweden.

Mo-Hawks Move Up; Nip Regals 2-1

By GARRY ALEXANDER
Staff Sportswriter

A scrappy Mo-Hawk hockey club scrambled into second up the OHA Senior "A" ladder here last night by slipping the Guelph Regals 3-1 before a paid crowd of 725.

The victory margin could easily have been larger.

Led by recently-arrived defenceman Bernie Gould who took a piece of every Regal within range in the early going, Belleville outshot Guelph 39-25.

They spotted Guelph a 1-0 lead, tied it by period's end and fired the winning tally at 1.36 of the second period.

Ralph Plane celebrated his return to the Mo-Hawk lineup by triggering the deciding marker. He scooted behind the Regal defence and blasted Mickey Chervenyk's fat rebound home from 12 feet out.

Over the remainder the homesters had the better of play and only some excellent saves by Jim Peters, "Boot" Hurley's backup goalie, prevented a bigger score.

The Mo-Hawks held a shooting margin in every period and doubled the count in the third, 14-7, while Larry Holmes came up with several key saves in his initial start between Belleville pipes.

RALPH PLANE

Holme's big stops came during a couple of wild scrambles in front of his cage late in the game and back in the second period when he blocked Jim Hunley and George Unitale labelled bids a minute apart.

Summary

GUELPH — Goal, Peters; defense, McCoskrie, Lacour; Chervenyk, Forward, Pole, Outlaw, L. Jones, Oliver, Monchamp, Mann, D. McMillan, Mahaffey, Hunt, D.

Referee - Keith MacDonald, Picton.

Linesmen - Don Hughes, Al Milley, Trenton.

SUMMARY

FIRST PERIOD

1. Guelph - Oliver (Martin, Chrvn) 8.52
2. Mo-Hawks - Jones (Marchen, Gould) 13.44

Penalties: Plane (trip) 1.53, Gould (elbow) 4.37.

SECOND PERIOD

3. Mo-Hawks - Plane (Chervaty, Mickey) 1.36

Penalties: Cotton (int.) 10.37, Taylor (hook) 19.37.

THIRD PERIOD

Scoring - none.

Penalties: McCoskrie (hold) 3.35, Oliver (open check) 3.44, Pole (hold) 11.47, Marchen (hold) 13.20, Oliver (slash and rough), Mowatt (slash and rough) 16.14, Martin (game misconduct), Lacour (game misconduct) 20.00.

SHOTS ON GOAL

By Guelph ..... 9 7 — 25
By Mo-Hawks ... 13 13 14 — 39

Mo-Hawks controlled play to prevent Peters leaving for a sixth attacker. The Regals screamed over what they thought should have been an icing call against Belleville at 19:48 and continued the argument at game's end.

Fans near the Guelph dressing room expressed their opinion of the Regals and suddenly sticks were flying and one fan was hauled down into the alleyway and severely beaten. When peace was restored referee Keith MacDonald assessed game misconducts to coach "Butch" Martin and defenceman Dave Luciuk. A third offender, Rick McCoskrie, was missed.

The clubs clash again in Guelph Friday.

Beaten By Players

Fan Given "Regal" Treatment

By GARRY ALEXANDER
Staff Sportswriter

At least one young Belleville hockey fan paid a high price for being in the wrong spot at the wrong time last night.

17-year-old Don Lomax, 22 Plaza Square, was grabbed by a Guelph player, hauled down into the alleyway leading to the dressing room when fans clashed with the Regals following the game.

Lomax was cut and battered about the head and face with one eye blackened and closed. "One of them just kept hitting me in the face", he said later as police attempted to obtain details. Lomax said he was not "sure which player did it but some of the other people near me knew his number". Another bystander claimed "it was number two." Defenceman Rick McCloskie was number two.

Referee Keith MacDonald picked out Butch Martin and Dave Luciuk for game misconducts as two of the main stick - swingers, later telling this reporter: "I don't know exactly what started it, you have a better view from where you are".

A Guelph club official told OHA President Jack Devine, who was in attendance: "One of the fans threw a cigarette butt but I think the boys got the wrong fan, (Lomax) It wasn't him."

From the press box, several other fans also appeared to be hit by the vigorous stick swings of the visiting players. Mrs. Irene Young children were in the area and one unconfirmed report was that one boy managed to get a stick and swung back as the battle disappeared from view in the alleyway.

A phone call to the city police department around midnight disclosed no developments are being taken now but we don't know yet if charges will be made.

A police constable at the game was on the opposite side of the rink, near the penalty box, when the trouble erupted.

From this viewpoint, it appeared that several Guelph players had connection with the fans' riding and created the dangerous situation with over-zealous retaliation with hockey sticks.

Picton Stops Oil Kings

"Moe" Hit For Four!

Murray "Moe" Hunter, a hard-digging forward, calls Belleville his home but wears a Picton hockey uniform and didn't let his city buddies forget it last night.

MOE HUNTER

Hunter scored four goals to lead Picton Merchants to a 6-4 OHA Intermediate victory over Belleville Oil Kings, in Picton.

Picton padded its lop lead with the victory while the loss was the Oil Kings' third in succession.

The teams split first-period goals and Belleville jumped ahead 3-1 at the game's halfway mark before the Merchants rammed home four in a row. The Oil Kings stayed close in the third before Hunter's final tally wrapped up the win at 19:40.

Hunter scored once in the first period, once in the second and added Picton's final pair in the third. Jim Gournacy and Roland Berry were the other Picton goal - scorers.

For the Oil Kings, Jerry Jones clicked for a pair of second-period tallies while Chuck Rowbotham notched the first and Ralph Boomhower cut his club's deficit to 5-4 in the third.

Picton held a wide shots-on-goal margin in every period as the losers' Bill Moxon faced 46 shots to Tom O'Halloran's 25.

Penalties were plentiful with the losers taking 13 of 20. Included was a miscoudoct to Oil King Jud Semark and fighting majors to Ralph Boomhower and Picton's Syd Faulkner.

City Teams Win Cage Tilts

Belleville entries stood up and were counted in a pair of Quinte Basketball League games last night.

The Aces travelled to Cobourg with only five players and surprised even themselves by downing Cobourg 68-64. It was their initial victory of the schedule.

Belleville Teachers also won on the road as they came from behind to nip RCAF Flyers 69-65 at Trenton air station.

The Aces, who jumped ahead 45-32 at the half, maintained a slim lead most of the way against a strengthened Cobourg club which included ex-Toronto Argo football player Lynn Bottoms and university boopster Bill Scribe. Scribe led the Cobourg scorers with 18 points followed by Dennis Clark with 12 and Doug Daye with 11.

Clair Leahy dropped in 22 of the Aces' points while Don and Bob Smith each sunk 13. Jack Vickery, with 11, and Dave Hurst, with 10, completed the scoring.

At the air base, the Flyers held a narrow lead most of the game before the Teachers pulled out the nod.

Scoring star Bruce Faulds continued his hot pace with a 27-point performance for the Teachers. Doug Irvine bagged 15 and Karl Neismith had 14.

In defeat, Paul Hargreaves and Ernie Clarke hit for 21 each and Don Brennan added eight.

League games will be played on Mondays instead of Tuesdays for the remainder of the schedule.

Juveniles Defeat Napanee 3-1

Belleville Western Tire built a 2-1 first-period lead and added the clincher in the third to defeat Napanee 3-1 in an OMHA Juvenile game, in Napanee, last night.

The winners got first - period markers from John Hall and Mike Coughlan to offset Wayne's goal for Napanee. It stayed that way until Scott Fitzgerald the wrap - up counter in the third.

Randy Lambert earned assists on all three Belleville goals. Wayne Storms, Al Jones and Cal Wilson had one each.

The game, while hard - fought, was cleanly played with the teams dividing minor penalties.

Tiger-Cats Slight Favorites To Park Cup In Jungleland

HAMILTON (CP) — Hamilton Tiger-Cats, anticipating freezing temperatures and a frozen field, are taking precautions to offset the weather prediction for Saturday's Grey Cup at Ottawa.

"We'll use running shoes, special football shoes with corrugated rubber cleats and specially-designed and covers," coach Ralph Sazio said Tuesday.

Hamilton-quests Saskatchewan Roughriders in the annual classic between the top clubs from the Eastern and Western football conference at 1 p.m. EST. The game will be televised by both the CBC and CTV national networks.

The weather is Hamilton's greatest concern, although the players should be accustomed to it by Saturday.

The Ticats practised Monday and Tuesday evenings in swirling snow and 25-degree temperatures. Tuesday's 1½-hour session was held on stream field with the players in running shoes.

"We've never played in weather this cold," said Sazio.

"It's going to be especially tough to hold onto passes."

Dr. C. C. Hopmann, the club's orthopedic consultant, has come up with an invention that might solve the problem.

It's a hand covering made of a metallic-like material, similar to the substance from which astronauts' uniforms are made. The players shove their hands into the covers and the material traps the body heat.

"I tried it by sticking my hand in the refrigerator and shoving it into the mitt after it was cold," Sazio said. "My hand was sweating in seconds."

The covers, enough for each member of the club, were stitched together by Dr. Hopmann' staff of secretaries and nurses.

Meanwhile, the Ticats have been established as 3½ point favorites to win their first national meeting with Saskatchewan since 1932 when they defeated the Westerners 25-6.

There are mixed feelings among the members of the Ti-cats as to where Saskatchewan's strength is concentrated.

Tommy Joe Coffey, who joined the Ticats from Edmonton Eskimos of the WFC this season and won the EFC scoring title with 107 points, says Saskatchewan is stronger offensively than Ottawa Rough Riders.

"Saskatchewan has a better passing attack than Ottawa, but that's only my opinion," Coffey says.

Defensive halfback Barrie Hissner, who came to Hamilton from Winnipeg Blue Bombers this season, said the Roughriders' strength lies in their ground attack spearheaded by George Reed and in their defence.

Angelo Mosca, a defensive tackle completing his eighth season with Hamilton, says Reed is the man to stop.

"And we'll stop him," said Mosca, who weighs 275 pounds and is considered one of the meanest and hardest hitting men in Canadian football.

Tackle Bob Steiner is the only doubtful starter in Saturday's game. He suffered a shoulder separation in Hamilton's 36-9 victory over Ottawa in the second of the two-game, total-points EFC final series last weekend.

"He's being fitted with a shoulder brace and we'll try it in practice before going to Ottawa," said Sazio.

The Ticats will hold their final home practice tonight and leave by chartered plane for Ottawa Thursday at 3 p.m.

With The Trotters

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP) — A popular daily double paid $9.40 at Windsor Raceway Tuesday as Lively Kid, owned by Adrien and Gerard Miron of St. Augustin, Que., won the first race and Patty Mist the second.

Patty Mist is crowned by Miss Novick Jr. of Northville, Mich., who was in the sulky.

Count Bates beat Salky Boy in the fifth for a quinella return of $15.70 and Monny's First defeated Prince Khan in the seventh for a $28.80 quinella before a crowd of 3,200.

BATAVIA, N.Y. (CP) — Avon Girl, a four-year-old Tar Boy mare owned by Margaret H. Morrow of Pittsford, N.Y., was the featured $1,100 conditioned pace at Batavia Downs Tuesday. She paid $4.80 for the 2:07 effort.

CAMPBELLVILLE, Ont. (CP) — Vital Victory, a gelded son of Victory Song-Jessie Abbey, owned by Gerald Robinson of Orono, took top honors in the featured Methuselah Purse Tuesday at Mohawk Raceway.

The affair, restricted to trotters 14 years'old, brought together a field of seven.

Vital Victory, driven by Robinson, took the advantage at the start and was never headed. He finished 1¼ lengths ahead of Danny K. Peters. Hava Joleg showed.

The time was 2:14 3-5 in Vital Victory's 72rd lifetime triumph.

Pat's Lightning and Silktar Direct returned a $6.10 daily double.

Grey Cup Queens!

Beauty On Parade!

OTTAWA (CP) — The nine Miss Grey Cup contestants delighted an audience of more than 1,000 people including six judges here Tuesday night at a festive prejudging show.

Wearing their brief, fitted costumes in bright tosin colors, the girls paraded across a stage to music and later stepped to the microphone for short interviews.

Several named their favorite football players.

Miss Edmonton Eskimo chose Randy Herbuy; Miss British Columbia Lion, Leroy Sledge; Miss Saskatchewan Roughrider, Ron Lancaster and Miss Hamilton Tiger-Cat, Joe Ruger "because he's knocked too much and he doesn't deserve it."

One of the most articulate contestants was 19-year-old Miss Toronto Argonaut, picked from among 250 girls to represent her club.

Miss Montreal Alouette gave the audience an unexpected laugh when she mentioned she had been picked to enter the contest by the American Girl Watchers Society.

Society members have to follow regulations when watching girls, she said. "You can't turn your head . . . only use your eyes. You have to exercise your eyes every day."

The final judging in the Miss Grey Cup contest is Thursday.

The judges are: Alderman Macy Harrison, Ottawa; Madeline Duhamel, television personality, Hull; Roger Pilon, Conservative MP for Argenteuil-Deux-Montagnes; Harvey Jay, head of the Ontario Quebec and Maritimes district of Kiwanis International; Charles Lynch, chief of Southam News Services, and Mrs. Jack Arthur, official hostess.

Quebec Batters Baltimore

Rosaire Paiement fired three goals and assisted on two others and Jim Johnson scored once and set up four other goals as Quebec Aces battered Baltimore Clippers 8-5 in an American Hockey League game Tuesday night.

In Tuesday's only other AHL action, Vancouver Canucks of the Western League turned back Springfield Kings 3-1 in an interlocking league game on the West Coast.

Johnson had assists on all three of Paiement's goals and Paiement set up Johnson's tally. Other Quebec scorers were Keith Wright, who hit twice, Simon Nolet and Guy Gendron.

Dick Mattiussi and Jean Cusenzie scored two goals apiece for Baltimore and Bob Rivard had the Clippers' other goal.

TORONTO (CP) — You've all heard of the "look-in" pass in football—that's where the receiver runs downfield about 10 yards, then cuts sharply back toward centre to gather in the ball.

Well, Mel Profit—former movie extra who plays football for Toronto Argonauts and writes a column for The Telegram—has come up with a new expression which he calls the "lookout" block.

"This occurs when a lineman misses his block and turns to yell 'look out' to his quarterback just before he gets hammered."

Sagging Blues Bolster Attack With Stewart; Big 'M' Is Back

By DAVE MILLER
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Emile Francis, that little, old lionmaker in charge of New York Rangers, has gone back to the drawing board.

After three games of juggling Bob Nevin around the lineup like a yoyo, Francis has suggested a trade with St. Louis Blues to plug a big gap on the right wing.

The name of the plug is Ron Stewart and Francis will probably fill the hole with Orland Kurtenbach and Larry Jeffrey tonight when the Rangers play host to Detroit Red Wings in one of six National Hockey League games.

In other action tonight, Montreal Canadiens visit Toronto Maple Leafs, Minnesota North Stars meet the resurgent Boston Bruins, Philadelphia Flyers are in Chicago against the Black Hawks, Oakland Seals meet Pittsburgh Penguins and Los Angeles Kings are in St. Louis.

Nevin, one of the Rangers' top right wingers, has been moved from line to line lately as Francis tried to find a winning combination. The latest was Nevin playing with Kurtenbach and Jeffrey and Bernie Geoffrion moving in with Phil Goyette and Don Marshall.

But that combination fell flatter than a hide's breakfast biscuits.

"You never know about these matchups until you try them out," said Francis. "It didn't take long to realize that Phil and Don lose something when Nevvy isn't skating with them."

Stewart was top scorer with the Blues' and had seven goals and five assists in 19 games. In 16 years in the NHL, he has 227 career goals and has played with the Leafs and the Bruins.

"Stewart gives us added depth on the right side," explained Francis. "He's a valuable addition."

But Stewart wasn't the only player the Cat got from St. Louis. In exchange for Red Berenson and Barclay Plager, a minor league defenceman, the Rangers also got Ron Attwell, who has 13 points this year on one goal and nine assists at centre.

And Francis can use both of them. The Rangers have a dismal record of only three victories in their last nine games after burning up the league in the early part of the season.

"Every hockey team runs into streaks like this," said Francis, "times when nothing seems to go right. We had it happen to us last season, but it was even worse at that time because it struck in the final weeks.

"It not only cost us second and third-place money, but that skimp helped eliminate us four straight in the playoffs against Montreal. At least now we have time to make adjustments, because it's still early enough for us to recover."

But still and all, Francis isn't that worried. The Rangers have 21 points and a share of third place in the East with Detroit and Chicago. Boston leads the division with 26 points and Toronto has 24.

A bright spot for Toronto tonight is the return of Frank Mahovlich, out since Nov. 3 suffering from depression and tension. But Toronto coach Punch Imlach has other problems.

Dave Keon, his starry little centre who has been among the missing since Nov. 8 with a leg injury, will not play tonight because team physician Dr. Hugh Smythe says his leg is still not right.

And Gary Unger, the rookie who came up from London Nationals of the Ontario Junior series, is on his way to Talon Oilers of the Central League to make room for Mahovlich.

"Mahovlich is ready to play," said Imlach Tuesday, "which means the emergency condition he was up here on has been terminated. It'll help him move to play regularly."

Meanwhile, coach The Blake of Montreal has his own problems. Centres John Beliveau and Henri Richard and defenceman John Ferguson are all on the Canadiens' injury list.

Habs' Knees Hurt!

MONTREAL (CP) — Montreal Canadiens, currently at the bottom of the National Hockey League's Eastern Division, appear destined for a year of knee injuries.

Latest victim Tuesday was rookie defenceman Carol Vadnais, who was dismissed early from a rib-scorning workout by coach Toe Blake and sent to a doctor for examination.

Vadnais had fallen in Monday's workout, but had shrugged off the injury as a bruise. Tuesday, he found the joint stiff and sore and his movements hampered.

Jean Beliveau skated for the first time in more than three weeks Tuesday. The Canadiens' captain suffered torn tissue in his left knee Nov. 4 in a game here against Philadelphia Flyers.

Another centre, Henri Richard, is still receiving treatment for a knee injury picked up last week in St. Louis in a game against the Blues.

Score Was 5-1

London Upsets Flyers

LONDON, Ont. (CP) — London Nationals of the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A league struck for two goals 14½ minutes apart midway through the second period to break a 1-1 deadlock and set the stage for a 5-1 upset victory over Niagara Falls Flyers Tuesday night.

Second-period goals by defenceman Don Culbert and Glen Shirton started London on its way to its sixth home victory in 10 games. London tied one other.

A power-play goal by Darryl Sittler midway through the first period gave London a 1-0 lead. Defenceman Rick Ley tied the game at 9:45 of the second.

Brian Murphy scored at 12 seconds of the third period and Paul Scherer tallied with two minutes left in the game to close out the London scoring.

400 Winners

Jockey Eyes Record!

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — If jockey Jorge Velasquez rides only three-quarters as well today as he did Tuesday, he'll become the third rider in American racing history to boot home 400 winners in one year.

The former Panamanian 26-year-old racked up four victories at Tropical Park Tuesday to move within three winners of the 400 mark.

The only others to do it were Bill Shoemaker, who won 485 races in 1953, and Bill Kartack, who won 417 in 1955.

Velasquez came to the U.S. in 1965 and has finished in the money on nearly half of the 3,753 horses he has ridden.

Velasquez, who said he learned to ride by straddling a cottage tank with a bridle in his native Chepo, says his success came:

"Maybe because I try hard. Could be because if I ride a horse that looks like he has no chance, I try even harder."

Lancers Defeat Gryphons

GUELPH (CP) — University of Windsor Lancers defeated University of Guelph Gryphons 107-79 in an Ontario-Quebec Athletic Association basketball game Tuesday.

Bob Navetta, with 28 points, was top scorer for the Lancers, last year's champions. Jim Rudzevich and Gord Delahe had 17 points each for the winners.

However, the top scorer in the game was Leigh Hammond, a first-year man with the Gryphons, who counted 34 points.

Has 5-Year Contract

Clair; Centre Of Ottawa Storm!

OTTAWA (CP) — Coach Frank Clair is reported to be in hot water again with Ottawa Rough Riders but unless there is a sudden change in thinking by the team directors his job should be safe for the present.

Clair has weathered several storms in his 13-year career as head coach of the Ottawa team, especially in recent years when the Riders have been eliminated from Grey Cup competition by Hamilton Tiger-Cats in the Eastern Football Conference finals.

But last year, when the Riders broke a string of four consecutive second-place finishes behind the Ticats, and playoff losses to the Hamilton team, Clair was given a five-year contract calling for an estimated $85,000 a year. With four years to go in the contract, it would cost the team about $160,000 to fire Clair.

There have been several reports of dissension on the team and general manager Red O'Quinn, one of the 13 team owners, said Monday they would be dealt with "in due course."

O'Quinn added that the team has all winter to sort out any problems, and any decisions probably would not be made for some time.

Two years ago, when Ottawa lost to Hamilton for the fourth straight year, there were reports that Clair was about to be fired and replaced by Bill Smyth, the Riders' defensive coach who moved there 12 years ago with Clair. Smyth died last fall just before the RFC playoffs.

But the reports disappointed last year when Ottawa finally beat the Ticats, winning the two-game, total-point series 73-17.

The Riders' fortunes changed this year. They finished second in the season standings and beat the playoff round by a 37-3 score.

Riders had been picked by most observers to win the RFC title and return to the Grey Cup play this year, with the Grey Cup game in Ottawa Dec. 2.

One director said that any possible change in coaching staff would not be made unless there was a concrete indication that the team was facing a serious loss of income.

Twins, Dodgers

Baseball Deal Shocked Players

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Minnesota Twins have grabbed a No. 1 catcher in John Rosebore and ballpeon strength in Ron Perranoski and Bob Miller in a major player deal that gave Los Angeles Dodgers a former most valuable player and regular shortstop in Zoilo Versalles and an ex-31-game winner in Jim Mudcat Grant.

The five-players swap Tuesday night was as startling to the Dodgers' Don Drysdale, arriving for a player representatives meeting, that he asked a reporter to repeat it several times before he would believe the news.

Minnesota thinks it has solidified its bid for the 1968 American League pennant by bolstering its relief pitching with a proven left-right combination in 29-year-old Perranoski and 26-year-old Miller.

Hunting for a top receiver since the retirement of Earl Battey, the Twins believe they have found the man for at least nine years in 24-year-old Rosebore, who hit .273 last season.

The Dodgers, desperate for a shortstop after trading Maury Wills to Pittsburgh Pirates a year ago, count on 27-year-old Versalles — most valuable player in the American League in 1965, but a .200 hitter last season — to fill the job that was too much for Gene Michael last season.

Grant, of course, could be a big man in the starting rotation if the 32-year-old right-hander could come back from a 5-6 year to that 21-7 season in the pennant-winning season of 1965 when he beat the Dodgers twice in the World Series.

In other trades announced Tuesday, Pittsburgh sent reliefer Dennis Ribant to Detroit for another relief specialist, Dave Wickersham.

Ribant formerly played hockey for Hamilton Red Wings of the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A series before signing a professional baseball contract.

And Baltimore Orioles let Eddie Fisher, a 31-year-old knuckleball pitcher, go to Cleveland Indians for John O'Donoghue.

The Orioles also acquired from the Indians shortstop Gordon Lund for their Rochester farm and possible utility use.

The busy trading day also included the conditional sale of outfielder Sam Bowens by Baltimore to Washington Senators.

Walter Alston, veteran manager of the Dodgers, said: "We needed a shortstop and feel we have come up with a pretty good one who is sound and has proven himself."

Alston said he would have to depend on his young boys—Jim Campanis and Jeff Torborg—as replacements for Kranepool whose passing left Drysdale as the last of the old Brooklyn Dodgers.

Grant, only 32 but unhappy in Minnesota, had asked to be traded during the season. He pitched only 87 innings, finished only two of 14 starts and had a 5-6 record.

Commenting on the Orioles-Indians deal, Manager Hank Bauer of the Orioles said of O'Donoghue: "We had needed a left-handed relief pitcher for a long time."

According to Bauer, the Orioles wanted Lund from the Indians in case Mark Belanger, help apparent to the shortstop job, went into service. Veteran shortstop Luis Aparicio has been involved in many trade rumors.

Top Curlers Compete In Dunlop

The final weekend of the month-long Ontario Dunlop Invitational Curling Bonspiel at the Whitby Curling Club gets underway Friday with the cream of Ontario's curlers in action.

The fourth and final weekend of qualifying will be held Friday with top names like Joe Gurewka of Dixie, Bob Main of Kingston, Mel Sjerven of Trenton RCAF and 1966 inaugural Dunlop winner Alfie Phillips, Jr., of Toronto in action.

The finals in the second annual 'Spiel will be held Saturday, the next day.

The Dunlop, one of the earliest and most highly competitive bonspiels of the season, has produced some excellent curling again this year with no less than six crucial games going into extra ends. Confined to Southern Ontario last year, the Whitby event has gone Provincial this year and Bill Grosell's Northern Ontario champs from Haileybury will be in the thick of it on Friday.

Bonspiel Chairman Bill LeGros of Whitby reports his people are not for a weekend of top curling as the finals will fill Saturday right after final qualifying.

Harold Motley Wins Big Buck Award

Harold Motley of Amelias-burgh won the first prize award in the Belleville District Fish and Game Club's annual Big Buck Contest.

Mr. Motley was presented with a $25.00 cheque at the regular meeting of the club held in Club Canara last night.

The winner of the second prize $15.00 cheque was Frank "Junior" Day, R. R. 1, Foxboro.

Alec Slaughton of Foxboro submitted a third entry.

The winning buck weighed 205 pounds and was shot near the camp of Lou Harvey at Brown Lake.

The second - place deer weighed 195 and was killed in the outskirts of Foxboro.

The Slaughton kill weighed 174 pounds,and was also shot near Foxboro.

Harry Wilson, 304 North Park Street won the main prize at the meeting a complete hunting outfit.

A large crowd was in attendance and enjoyed outstanding motion picture films.

Balding Team Leads Tourney

FREEPORT, Bahamas (CP-AP) — A team from Markland Woods Golf Club in Toronto, headed by professional Al Balding, led the second annual King's Inn Golf Club four-ball tournament Tuesday with a best-ball low gross of 66 after the first day's play.

Forty-one teams of golfers from Canadian golf clubs, each including one pro and three club amateurs, teed off Tuesday in the second annual tournament.

Second was a team led by Joe Rice, also of Markland Woods, with 68.

Tied for third at 70 were two groups: Alex Shields, Bowmanville, Ont., Country Club; and Alan Ogilvie, Summerlea Country Club of Dorion, Que.

There also were three ties for low net at 66—Jim Shields team, and those headed by Ray Pallard, Seigniory Club of Montebello, Que., and Jim McKetterick, Islington Club of Toronto.

Minor Hockey

Three games were played in the Belleville Minor Hockey Association's novice division last night but only one scoresheet was available.

Bruins whitewashed the Aces by a 3-0 score.

Denny Yates and Bruce Collins were the Bruins' marksmen. Richard Murray and Martin Brain had one assist each.

Memphis, Hawks Tie 1-1

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Dallas Black Hawks and Memphis South Stars battled to a 1-1 tie Tuesday night in a Central Hockey League game witnessed by 1,301, the season's smallest crowd.

Kerry Bond scored a goal with 35 seconds left in the first period to put the Hawks on the scoreboard.

With 6:06 left in the second period, Germain Gagnon beat Hawk goalie Jack Norris with a short shot from the left to deadlock the score.

Suez Closing Aids South Africa

7,000 Ships Detour Around Africa

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — About 7,000 ships have made the long detour around Africa since the Suez Canal was closed six months ago by the Arab-Israeli war.

Nearly 2,000 have stopped in Cape Town for fuel, water and provisions. More than 900 vessels put in at Durban on the Indian Ocean.

Many pause offshore only long enough to pick up mail, newspapers and fresh fruit from a launch. Others bypass South Africa completely.

Charter rates for oil tankers have risen and marine insurance costs have increased, but the effects of the closed canal on South Africa are almost entirely favorable.

"The Suez impasse means a tremendous economic and strategic boost for South Africa," says a government report.

Ports are jammed with diverted ships. Shipping agents, suppliers of food and fuel, department stores, restaurants, curio shopkeepers and marine facilities in Durban, Cape Town, Port Elizabeth and East London are counting windfall profits.

Bunker fuel bought by ships visiting Cape Town averaged 30,000 tons a month before Suez closed. Now it averages about 100,000 tons a month.

The long Cape haul is taking its toll on the hulls and machinery of many older ships. Drydocks and repair berths are full.

Cape Town harbor has trebled its income because of detoured shipping. The 14 Cape Town pilots handled ships of 8,306,000 gross tons during August—a record for one month. During the previous closure of Suez in 1956 the pilots averaged 1,000,000 gross tons a month.

It has been estimated that 15 per cent of the world's ocean trade used the Suez Canal. Britain received about 30 per cent of its fuel and handled 27 per cent of its total seagoing trade through the canal.

Economists said the oil industry alone has had to absorb about $1,000,000,000 in added shipping costs because of the Suez closing. Tankers from the Middle East to main oil ports in Europe require an additional 25 days to steam the extra 8,500 miles around the Cape.

Nearly 4,000,000 tons of oil bound for Europe and North America go the Cape route each week. This estimate includes known volume which formerly used Suez, plus that in giant supertankers which must take the long way around because they are too large to transit the canal even if it were open.

Some South Africa officials clearly hope that political instability in the Middle East and the economics of giant new tankers will not diminish the Cape route's value after Suez is reopened.

They point out that studies by British and Japanese shipbuilders indicate tankers carrying 500,000 tons of oil are technically feasible and may be a better financial proposition than tankers which are small enough to navigate the canal.

The sugar industry reports one of the few drawbacks resulting from the Suez crisis as far as South Africa is concerned. It is difficult to find sufficient tankers to ship record molasses exports of some 400,000 tons.

Questions and Answers On Highway Travel

Ontario Motor League

Eastern Ontario Club

QUESTION: We are driving to Los Angeles in December and returning in February. Please give me a fast route back that will avoid the snow as much as possible in February. What are the main attractions including tours of movie studios, and temperatures in December and January?

ANSWER: If you are a member of Ontario Motor League we will supply you with detailed maps, trip tickets, books listing all prices of motels and hotels for your entire trip. This is very necessary for such a long journey. The best route down in December, if there is not too much snow, is as follows: Take 401 to Detroit; 94 to New Buffalo, Mich., 39 to Northern Indiana Toll Road or 90; 80 or Tri-State Tollway, bypassing Chicago, to Route 66; Route 66, to Springfield, Mo.; 44 Toll Road to Oklahoma City; Route 66 to Los Angeles.

Return Route: Route 66 to Oklahoma City; 40 to Little Rock, Arkansas; 40 and 70 to Memphis; 40 to Nashville, 31W and 65 to Bluegrass Parkway. Take this to Lexington, Ky.; No. 25 to Cincinnati, Ohio; 71 to 90; 90 to 21; 21 to Ohio Turnpike; take this toll to Syracuse, N.Y.; 81 to Ivy Lea Bridge and home.

Attractions: Los Angeles has many attractions for tourists. To list the more important ones, we will start with the lovely beaches, Marineland, Forest Lawn Cemetery, Disneyland, and the movie studios.

Show place of the film industry is that section of Los Angeles known as Hollywood, particularly Hollywood boulevard with its movie theatres, stars' footprints and gaudy trail of famous names.

But the heart of the industry is out on the studio lots spread around the countryside. That is where the business takes place; that is where the action is. For years that didn't do the public much good. Sadie just didn't want people around.

Now Universal City Studios in particular has recognized the public represents a gold mine and has started to cash in by running tours. On a good day it handles some 1,500 people at $3.25 a head for adults. Not to speak of the publicity and good will, it is good for business. Universal, the world's largest studio with 600 acres, is well worth seeing.

The drive around takes more than two hours, and you see outdoor street and sets from famous movies, such as the Monster's house, the Paris Opera House built for Phantom of the Opera, Beau Geste's Fort, sets from Around the World in Eighty Days and many others. You are shown a sound stage and a make-up technician at work. You can watch stunt men do their tricks and see a naval battle in miniature.

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer also has tours as extensive as Universal Studios.

Another favorite pastime is looking at the homes of stars. They have maps showing the locations if you wish to drive yourself, or you can take a sightseeing trip on a bus. Of course Disneyland is a must for adults, as well as children.

NEW FICTION HIGHLIGHTS

LEMON IN THE BASKET

ARMSTRONG, Charlotte — The prominent Tyler family of San Marino, California is entrusted with the life of a young Middle East prince who comes to America for a crucial operation. The repercussions of his presence with this family creates a novel of suspense in the true Armstrong tradition.

CATHERINE AND ARNAUD

BENSONI, Juliette — Fifteenth century France with all the turbulence and upheaval of the Hundred Years' War provides the backdrop for this continuing story of the young heroine, Catherine, Countess of Montsalvy, and her struggle against the corrupt forces of government. Similar to this book in the series of Angelique books by Sergeanne Golon. Miss Golon's books have the golden age of Louis XIV for their setting and there is much more historical background in these books than in the serials by Miss Benzoni. In The Countess Angelique, the heroine faces the rigors and adventures of the New World with the same resourcefulness as she did in her native France.

THE LONG PURSUIT

CLEARY, Jon —A band of people, soldiers and civilians, have to overcome prejudices and personal antipathies in order to escape to Australia after the fall of Singapore in 1942. Not only a well-constructed story, but also an excellent commentary on the dichotomy between oriental and occidental viewpoints.

THE CAMERA ALWAYS LIES

HOOD, Hugh — One of Canada's foremost writers creates an extremely well - developed story about the contemporary theatre world. Handled with the sensitive touch evident in his previous novel White Figure, White Ground this novel probes into a world which is rarely reported in its true perspective.

CALL BACK THE YEARS

SHANK, Margarethe — Emigration to America in the early decades of this century is the central theme in this story of a young Norwegian girl, Siri Gabrielsen, who, after hardships in her native country, comes to the land of opportunity to seek her fortune.

REX

STRANGER, Joyce — The author of a favorite animal story The Running Foxes, again creates a warmhearted and endearing story of a boy and his dog and the wonderful relationship they share, a relationship so strong that Rex is almost killed as he saves his young master from being seriously injured in a tragic automobile accident.

MR. GALLION'S SCHOOL

STUART, Jesse — Although an ill man, Mr. Gallion returns to his job as principal of Kensington High School because he feels he must try to restore this school to its former high standards. With a dedication to ideals in which he firmly believes, he gradually makes his students and the community at large aware of the importance of education. It is an interesting comparison to Braidwaite's To Sir, With Love, and Kaufman's Up The Down Staircase.

THE FIELDFOOTERS

Trevor, Ellestan — Three hundred and fifty soldiers of the British Army are ordered not to fight although innocent men and women are being slaughtered by the East African terrorist group the Vesdetu. Against such orders, a group of eight soldiers mutiny and desert. Their struggle through two hundred miles of hostile territory is one of gripping intensity.

THE WITNESSES

WARING, M. W. — This year is the fiftieth anniversary of the Russian Bangtsian and to commemorate this event many books have been published. One of the best novels is The Witnesses, a highly researched and detailed study of this period in Russia's history.

LEAFY RIVERS

WEST, Jessamyn — Ohio in the early 1800's is the setting for Miss West's new novel of pioneer life. The cast of characters is caught up in a increasingly taut situation which the author handles with expert skill.

OLDEST AND SMALLEST

San Marino is the world's oldest and smallest republic—the 24-square mile country surrounded by Italy was founded in 301 AD.

New Fire Control Mixture

Light Water, a new fire extinguishing medium being developed by a British company, is tested on a simulated aircraft crash involving an area of 10,000 square feet—of burning fuel. Pre-mixed in the proportion of 6 per cent concentrate to 94 per cent water, Light Water, gives expansion rates about equal to those obtained with protein foam. It is fire resistant, nontoxic and spreads a thin cohesive film of treated water over the surface of the fuel, vapor sealing the surface to prevent re-ignition. (CP Photo)

Increased Productivity Seen No Solution to Farm Problems

CHATHAM, Ont. (CP) — Increased productivity by farmers does not mean higher incomes, Paul Babey, president of the Farmers Union of Alberta, said Tuesday.

He told the annual convention of the Ontario Farmers Union the federal government should call a national conference on agricultural resources to help find solutions for farmers caught in the cost-price squeeze.

"Increasing production is not the answer. This approach only worsens the situation."

He referred to marketings of hogs in Alberta in April, 1966, and April of this year. Despite higher production, cash return was lower this year.

This pattern was reflected in all Canadian markets. Buildup of feed grain in Western Canada probably would mean increased beef production next year and "this is bound to lead to lower prices."

Ellard Powers, OFU second vice-president, said Canadian farmers last year increased production efficiency per worker by 22.1 per cent, compared with 1.8 per cent for industrial workers.

He said farmers helped maintain the economy, but none of the benefits of agricultural technology and harder work has been returned to farmers.

Walter Miller of Tara, Ont., scored an upset election as OFU president over John Dolmer of Corbetton, Ont., seeking re-election to a fourth term.

Mr. Miller, considered a militant, said he will ask all marketing board directors to join the OFU. "If they do this, an example will be set for all other farmers."

Federal Government Uses Castor Oil Policy: Hamilton

KINGSTON, Ont. (CP) — The should be replaced by a system federal government's "castor of selective stimulants and de- oil policy" of economic control prevents applied at the elec-tion of the finance minister, Alvin Hamilton said Tuesday night.

The former Conservative agriculture minister told students at Queen's University that if any one of Canada's 18 economic regions now has more work than it can handle, the whole country has to take anti-inflationary measures.

"And if there's a tummy ache in Toronto, they all get castor oil," he said.

The finance minister should always have ready several different programs applicable to specific regions, industries or problems, to be put into effect at the discretion of the finance minister who would be accountable to Parliament at the end of the year, he suggested.

As an example, instead of teacher shortages could be overcome if the government made it profitable for married women to go back to their former jobs. This could be done through tax exemptions on earnings for a period.

A system of counter-balance measures to ensure minimum unemployment and stable prices should be used to replace the government's present "stop-and-go program, usually a year out of timing."

In a conversation with students after his speech, Mr. Hamilton said Canada's foreign aid spending is a waste and most of it going "into graft and thrills of it into bellies."

He suggested a plan for "a bank of brains, sort of a mid-dle-aged CUSO—sponsoring men and women who have raised their families to work for foreign governments with a pension guarantee on their return (equal to anything they might have managed for themselves."

Such a plan would see 10 per cent of the civil servs nearing retirement age volunteering, he suggested.

Mr. Hamilton told students the provinces eventually will become only "book-keeping systems" with the real power lying

Airline Stewardess Sues Agency For Having Her Fired from Job

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A 23-year-old brunette who spent eight years as an airline stewardess before she was fired in July is suing a security agency and two of its agents for $2,000,000.

Carmelina Greene, in a suit filed Tuesday in circuit court, claims the agents maliciously had her fired and alleged that she was the victim of a "master plan" to weed out the senior stewardesses in favor of fresh young faces.

She named the Wackenhut Corp., and two of its agents, Dan Sifford and Julius Deitch, in her suit.

The two men told National Airlines, the suit alleged, that she spent an excessive amount of time in the cockpit on a July 11 flight from Las Angeles to Miami; that she was drunk during the flight and drank while she used illegal narcotics.

She was without a job five days later.

Miss Greene denied the charges and her lawyer said he has sworn statements from all other crew members backing her up.

Officials at the Wackenhut Corp., the Miami organization Governor Claude Kirk hired for his "war on crime" in Florida, said they preferred to withhold comment until they saw the suit.

An airlines spokesman said Miss Greene's services have been employed for about 19 years for security reasons that, "in a broad sense, extended to riding on the planes checking the welfare of the passengers."

Miss Greene's lawyer, J. B. Spector, said he "won't hesitate to add" national to the suit if he finds out that the Wackenhut agents acted on orders from National.

Attorney General

BC Wants Teachers From France for School System

TORONTO (CP) — British Columbia hopes to obtain teachers from France to improve French instruction in that province, Attorney-General R. W. Bonner told the Confederation of Tomorrow conference today.

Mr. Bonner said the problem of finding capable teachers is a stumbling block in improving bilingualism in B.C. He hoped, however, that with co-operation of the federal government the situation can be improved.

"We hope we can get some high teachers from France to take a sabbatical," he said.

Mr. Bonner said that according to statistics there are supposed to be 50,000 bilingual persons in B.C., but the fact he is listed among that number is an indication that the quality of bilingualism is questionable.

Premier Walter Weir of Manitoba and Premier K. C. Nanning of Alberta also spoke briefly as the conference returned to the theme of English and French language in Canada for the first 15 minutes of the morning session.

Mr. Weir said legislation relating to French instruction was approved unanimously in the province in this Centennial Year. Mr. Manning said he would make available to delegates copies of Alberta's School Act with amendments dealing with French instruction.

Snowstorm Hits Barrie Area; Orillia Gets Ten Inches

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

More than eight inches of snow have fallen at Barrie since Tuesday evening in the worst November storm in 15 years.

Snow continued to fall steadily today but police reported no accidents or traffic tie-ups.

The storm dropped 10 inches of snow on Orillia and up to 18 inches in outlying areas, causing students to be sent home from school and many service in rural areas to be affected.

No further snow has fallen in the Orillia area since Tuesday night and no accidents have been reported.

If calm weather continues, a search for two missing Toronto youths around Lake Simcoe will resume. The search was called off when the storm hit.

A second storm Tuesday raged between Elliot River, 30 miles east of Sault Ste. Marie, and White River, 200 miles to the northwest. The temperature dropped from the high 30's to about 19 degrees, and visibility was reduced to zero as strong winds drifted fresh snow.

The storm eased late Tuesday at Sault Ste. Marie, where 3.2 inches of snow fell in the last 24 hours.

More snow and winds of up to 30 miles an hour are expected today in the Georgian Bay and Muskoka areas.

Tweed

TWEED — The annual Santa Claus Parade will be held in Tweed on Dec. 9, the directors of the Tweed Chamber of Commerce decided at their recent meeting.

David Morton was named chairman of the committee responsible for the parade, while Robert Hanna and Glen Ritchie were requested to contact the merchants and ask for donations to cover the cost of treats for the children.

Local churches, organizations and merchants and manufacturers are invited to enter floats in the parade. Out-of-town floats are also welcome. Prizes will be offered for the best floats.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernie Rose, Vennachar, returned to the former's parents home recently after their wedding trip to the United States, Niagara Falls, Toronto, Deseronto and Napanee. The bride was the former Miss Carole Hodge.

The annual Santa Claus Parade, sponsored by the merchants of Tweed and the Chamber of Commerce, will be held the afternoon of Dec. 9.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Sedore, who recently sold their home on Minnie St. in Tweed to Mr. and Mrs. Gesore, and moved temporarily to the Ferrar home in Thomasburg, except to move to the Clarence LeBarge residence at the northern outskirts of Tweed. Mr. LeBarge expects to move to a newly built house about Dec. 1.

At the recent council meeting of Kaladar Township, it was decided to ask the Department of Roads and Travels about the responsibility of water on beaver ponds on private lands causing damage up to township roads.

More than 100 Senior Citizens enjoyed a dinner in Madoc Hall, Read.

Horticultural Group Views Interesting Films

NAPANEE — Whenever Mrs. Thelma Boucher speaks to a horticultural society meeting there is bound to be an excellent audience, and this was so last Wednesday evening when she spoke to the Napanee Horticultural Society members and friends in the Memorial building.

World traveller, (always with camera in hand), practiced as well as theoretical horticulturist, author, past president of the Ontario Horticultural Society, and a thoroughly charming person, Mrs. Thelma Boucher never fails to hold her audiences as she shows excellent pictures and comments on them in an informal manner.

Wednesday evening she chose old-fashioned gardens as her subject. These included the plantings in Upper Canada Village, for whose planning she was largely responsible; picturesque Dutch garden, many of them wild flowers; and some from gardens in New Zealand, one of the many countries which she has visited and photographed.

Mrs. Boucher was introduced by Lyon Crossman, and was thanked by Irene Dickel.

Coffee and doughnuts were served while those present exchanged garden lore and piled up the speaker with questions.

The Society is holding family night in January. All meetings are open to the general public without any admission charge, membership fee is small.

MOIRA VALLEY DISTRICT BANQUET

TWEED — The annual meeting of the Moira Valley District Scout Council was held at the Log Cabin, Actinolite, in the form of a banquet, and an old evening. Rev. J. H. Thompson, president, was in charge. Mrs. Hilton Hinds observed for the late Dr. George Mullin, who had been secretary for three years and had served 33 years.

After dinner, Mr. Thompson introduced new members of the district Scouting movement. Mrs. Gordon Russell led a singsong. Mr. Thompson announced his resignation, but said he would be taking an active role in another field. John Van Volkenburg resigned as vice-president. Treasurer, Sid Demorest remained in office. Mrs. Bernice Young was officially installed as secretary. Mr. Thompson introduced the newly appointed Provincial Field Executive, John Pelafer. In his remarks he spoke briefly on the new program for Scouts. He mentioned the Provincial Jamboree to be held north of Toronto.

D. C. Joe Irish spoke on the work accomplished in the past year, although two groups had ceased functioning, two new groups had been formed. He presented Part 1 Wood Badge to Robert Jeffrey.

Mr. Boucher was introduced by Lyon Crossman, and was thanked by Irene Dickel.

Coffee and doughnuts were served while those present exchanged garden lore and piled up the speaker with questions.

The Society is holding family night in January. All meetings are open to the general public without any admission charge, membership fee is small.

To Your Good Health

Wood Ticks Are Just Annoying

By Dr. Joseph G. Molner

Dear Dr. Molner: Until the last two years I had never heard of a wood tick, but in the summer and fall my little sister, who plays in the grass a lot, has had several of them.

We have heard of using a cigar, lipstick and fingernail polish and have tried them all, but the ticks never come out.

I have heard that if you leave the things in, they suck your blood and you will be poisoned from it. What should you do? —D.S.O.

Ticks (and chiggers) are an annoyance. They cause irritation, itching and a small welt and like anything else which breaks the skin, you should be on guard against infection entering.

But they do not "suck your blood". There is a tiny amount of poison in the bite of the tick, just as there is in the bite of other insects. The irritation continues until your system neutralizes the poison, which takes a day or so.

I have tried the nail-polish treatment on myself. The idea is that it "smothers" a tick or chigger. I am not sure that the treatment is worthwhile.

The better approach is to get rid of the ticks first. Obviously the grass where your sister plays is infested with the pests. You can spray the area with sprays which can be obtained at nurseries or hardware stores to eliminate the insects (don't let your sister play in the grass until the spray has dried.)

If you cannot pin down the area (although it must be somewhere around the house) a repellent containing a chemical called deet can be applied to the skin and clothing. It is also effective against mosquitoes.

Dear Dr. Molner: Is it normal for the breast to be sore about 14 days before my menstrual period? I have felt for a lump but could find none. What causes this soreness? — Mrs. C.

While some women have none of this trouble, some others do. The breast tissue is dynamic and responds to the presence of estrogen, the female hormone in the blood. This increases about mid-cycle, accounting for the tenderness. It should not cause alarm.

Dear Dr. Molner: I am confused as to the effects of cigarette smoking on the lungs and what happens when a person stops smoking. Will the lungs repair within the time it took to damage them? — M.

Not everything is known about the exact effects on the lungs, but a good deal is. If permanent damage has occurred, it can't be repaired by giving up smoking. However, tests show that disturbances in the surface cells stop occurring very quickly once the irritation of the smoke ceases. Heavy impairment in that sense comes very quickly in a week or two.

Dear Dr. Molner: I read about cataracts and contact lenses and want to know if there is anything else to do after the operation except these lenses. My doctor said first that I could have thick glasses and I was pleased. Then he changed his mind and said I should have the contact lenses which I don't want. My eyes are very bad and it worries me just to think of putting anything in my eye and taking it out. — L.J.

Contact lenses are so much better (give you much wider vision, instead of letting you see only straight ahead) that your doctor is just thinking what will be best for you.

You might ask him if you can talk to another patient who has contact lenses after a cataract operation — or perhaps someone who has had both glasses and then contacts. Such a patient can tell you how easy it is to use the contacts. But certain nervous individuals don't tolerate contact lenses very well.

Carter Plan Will Be Guide

MONTREAL (CP) — Revenue Minister E. J. Benson has promised federal government tax reforms that will be based to a large extent on recommendations of the Carter royal commission on taxation.

The minister told the 30th conference of the Canadian Tax Foundation Tuesday night the "next stage will be for the government to make public a white paper which will set out the general outline" of its proposals for tax reforms.

He spoke before about 1,000 delegates from across Canada as they wound up the second day of their three-day conference.

Mr. Benson said the federal government will give "careful consideration" to a number of recommendation of the Carter report which calls for the establishment of a board of revenue commissioners to administer all federal taxes.

The minister said he could give no more details immediately on the government's plan for tax reforms.

"However, I think that I can say two things to you. The first is that we will not be accepting all the proposals of the royal commission. . . . The second is that after reform the Canadian tax system is almost certain to be closer to the system proposed by the royal commission than it is now."

Strictly Personal

Names Are Important

By SYDNEY J. HARRIS

Who knows what trivial things can be responsible for a huge popular success? I thought of this seeing a newspaper ad announcing the return of the film "Gone With the Wind," at reserved seat prices.

Margaret Mitchell's first and only successful book was turned down by a dozen publishers, when Harold Latham of the Macmillan Co. read it and decided to take a chance on publication.

But first he changed its cumbersome title to "Gone With the Wind" — a line from Dawson's nostalgic poem "Cynara.' Next, he changed the first name of the leading character from "Pansy" to "Scarlett."

"Pansy O'Hara" is a silly and comedic name; "Scarlett O'Hara" is a dashing and dramatic name — one that many women could identify with. Since "Gone With the Wind" was barely a cut above most historical novels of its type, the title of the book and the leading female character must have had a lot to do with its runaway popularity.

It is not generally known that three Presidents of the United States abolished their true first names, and today are commonly known only by their second and third names, which they felt were more characteristic of their real personalities.

They are John Calvin Coolidge, Thomas Woodrow Wilson, and Hiram Ulysses Grant. Many a barroom bet can still be won by asking a person to give the first names of these Presidents.

And it has often been noted, of course, that Hitler's real name was Schicklgruber, which he shrewdly discarded for the sharper emotional appeal of "Heil, Hitler!" Somehow, "Heil, Schicklgruber!" smacks too much of the Marx Brothers movie, even in German.

Motion picture performers have long been aware of the psychological impact of names and have almost inevitably changed their names to conform to current standards of status or glamor or chic. Even the fan-dancer, Sally Rand, changed her name from a name during her debut at the 1933 Chicago World's Fair, by glancing at the cover of a Rand and McNally atlas.

The judicious use of initials is another common way to avoid an awkward or unlikable name — how many of the millions of delighted readers of the P. G. Wodehouse stories are aware that his formidable full name is Pelham Grenville Wodehouse? Or how many, cheering as he ran between the goalposts, knew that Y. A. Tittle was in truth Yelberton Abraham Tittle? There's a fitmat: for Pansy O'Hara.

Astrological Forecasts

By SYDNEY OMARR

For November 30

ARIES (Mar. 21 — Apr. 19): There is discussion concerning money inheritance, the way mate or partner plans budget. Don't be submerged in mood resembling self-pity. Shake it off. Accentuate the positive.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 — May 20): Opposing views seem unreasonable. Review your own desires, motives. Your friends tend to argue. But you're not likely to be convinced. Accent on marital ties, other partnerships.

GEMINI (May 21 — June 20): Contradictory views dominate where basic tasks, job, issues are concerned. Your mind boggles in various prospects. Confusion could reign. Take time. Picture becomes focused.

CANCER (June 21—July 22): Not wise to speculate. What you hear may differ from what actually exists. Be aware. Investigate. Don't be satisfied with superficial indications. Be true to basic convictions.

LEO (July 23 — Aug. 22): Your home base is centre of attention. There is discussion, decision. Adjustment appears necessary. Realize this. Avoid costly delay. Word to wise should be sufficient.

VIRGO (Aug. 23 — Sept. 22): Check rumors, messages, directives. At work an interoffice communication could be garbled. Don't fall into trap of antiquating decisions. If patient, you gain strength.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 — Oct. 23): Don't make money mistake. Judge with care. Means don't ask for too much or too little. Rely upon past experience. Your abilities are worth plenty. But don't get in over your head.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23—Nov. 21): Evaluate puzzling situation. Realize that today pride could be an obstacle. Strive for realistic view. Don't become victim of false flattery. Find out where you stand and why.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 — Dec. 21): Review past. Look behind scenes for answers. Be subtle in approach. Don't offend members of special group, club. Gain allies instead of losing them.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 — Jan. 19): Friends may be enthusiastic but could be misinformed. Talk time to be positive. Keynote caution. Element of deception appears strong. Protect yourself by gaining added information.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20 Feb. 18): Aim high. Stand tall. Means drive ahead but maintain dignity. Adhere to principles. Overcome temptation to skirt legal requirements. Promise by high-up could lack substance.

PISCES (Feb. 19 — Mar. 20): Defer journey until positive of directions, purpose. The more practical you are today, the better. Check details. Routine work could turn up exciting prospects. Don't skip essentials.

If today is your birthday . . . you often are more definite about the future than you are concerning the present. On the positive side, this makes you prophetic. On the negative side, you become a mere daydreamer. Achieve balance. Keep feet on ground and eye on future trends. You are a natural mimic, would make fine entertainer. Wonderful at parties.

Moore Business Forms To Build Trenton Plant

By MAURICE SWITZER

TRENTON — The largest producer of business forms in the world will establish a plant in Trenton.

Moore Business Forms Ltd., a division of the huge Moore Corporation international business complex, will locate its eighth Canadian plant on a 15-acre site at the north end of town, near the Macdonald-Cartier Freeway.

It is expected to employ 250 workers within five years, after the plant has achieved maximum production, a company spokesman announced here this morning.

J. C. Kinnear, vice-president and general manager of Moore Business Forms, eastern division, says the Trenton plant will cover 29,000 square feet and initial plant investment will top $2,250,000.

Ground will be broken early next year and construction will be completed in late 1968.

Mr. Kinnear said the Trenton operation will be the second largest in the Moore Business Forms Canadian division.

Acquisition of the enterprise was considered a scoop for local industrial promotion.

"You made a very fine impression on us and that's why we're back," W. M. Nichols, general production manager, told town and industry-promotion officials this morning.

Clerk-comptroller O. W. Larry said an Ontario government Trade and Industry Branch tour last December first brought Moore representatives to Trenton.

"If it hadn't been for the reception we received from Trenton council, the industrial commission and Mr. Larry we would have passed right through," added Mr. Nichols.

"We even had George Hees after us," said Mr. Kinnear. (Mr. Hees, former trade minister in the Diefenbaker government, now is MP for Northumberland and has the Conservative nomination in the redistributed riding of Prince-Edward Hastings, which includes Trenton).

The company's decision brought buoyant reaction from local government representatives.

Councillor Paul Tripp, industrial commission chairman, said it was the first major industrial acquisition in Trenton since World War II.

He expected the plant payroll would be at least as big as that of any existing town industry.

The plant will be built on industrial land owned by the town and sold to Moore.

The major item to be produced by the plant will be business forms used for computerized high - speed printing machines.

Moore was established in the United States in 1882 and the Canadian - owned company is reputed the largest of its kind in the world.

Its sales are counted in the multi-million dollar bracket — this year expected to exceed $200,000,000.

Company representatives termed the Trenton site an ideal choice, flanking the province's most important traffic link — the freeway.

Mr. Nichols said the company plans to bring in a plant manager, supervisory personnel and a nucleus of experienced staff to establish the core of the Trenton operation.

However, the majority of the plant's employees will be hired locally, he said.

A third company spokesman said Moore production is not an "assembling type of business" but relies on training employees in the necessary skills.

France Renews Attack Upon Monetary System

PARIS (Reuters) — France today launched a new attack on the international monetary system, describing it as disordered and harmful to the development of world economy.

Finance Minister Michel Debre made the attack at the annual ministerial meeting of the 21-nation Organization for Economic Co-operation and Development.

Debre told delegates: "For several years now our analyses of the shortcomings of the gold exchange standard have foreseen—but have not caused—the recent events which we have all been watching with consternation."

Debre said: "We draw no satisfaction from our clairvoyance. But we will not give up our efforts to make this generally accepted."

France long has sought a reform of the international monetary system based only on gold, as advocated by President de Gaulle since 1965 and reiterated only Monday. Under the present gold exchange standard the U.S. dollar and the British pound are reserve currencies, and the U.S. dollar is considered as good as gold.

Actually, the U.S. dollar is backed by only 25 per cent gold held in American reserves, but the U.S. sets the world price for gold at $35 an ounce and pays a dollar's worth of gold for each paper dollar that is converted. France wants to see the price of gold doubled, and in that way increase the monetary value of the world's gold stockpile.

Debre, speaking at the opening of two days of discussions here, said the work of the OECD in Paris underlined the two fundamental characteristics of the present world economy—one old and one new:

1. The disequilibrium in the balance-of-payments situation between the countries with reserve currencies on the one hand—the United States and Britain—and the European countries on the other.

2. The slow-down in world economic expansion.

The two countries with reserve currencies, the U.S. and Britain, suffered, or accepted, the situation, he added.

For 10 years, they registered an average annual deficit of about $3,000,000,000 for the U.S. and about $250,000,000 for Britain, Debre said.

These countries were only able to finance their deficits by running into massive debts, he added.

Britons, Canadians Stage Donnybrook

ISERLOHN, West Germany (Reuters) — Police arrested at least five servicemen and said many others were taken to hospital over a pitched street battle between about 50 Canadian and British soldiers here late Wednesday night.

A German police spokesman said the fight was apparently started by two Canadian soldiers who ran from pub to pub challenging British servicemen to a fight and hauling them into the street.

"It was a real out and out battle," he said.

The battle broke up when a German police car arrived on the scene.

"There were unconscious bodies lying about all over the place," the spokesman said.

"The soldiers must just have gone wild," he added.

He said the first thing the two-man patrol did was to radio for ambulances from the British Military Hospital nearby.

"One of the two men in the patrol car was knocked down and seriously injured when he tried to arrest one of the apparent instigators of the fight," he said.

His colleague called in other cars and British and Canadian military police.

"When the hunt really got under way we managed to arrest five men and the military police caught a number of others whom they took off in handcuffs," he added.

Beaten Oshawa Boy, Age 4, Dies

TORONTO (CP) — George McDonald, the 4-year-old Oshawa boy who was savagely beaten with a bottle and repeatedly kicked in the head last week died in the Hospital for Sick Children today.

The boy, found by police huddled in a railway car on a CNR siding a few blocks from his home, was treated at Oshawa General Hospital and then brought here for emergency brain surgery.

A 13-year-old boy, charged with juvenile delinquency in connection with the assault, Wednesday was remanded to the Ontario Hospital at Whitby for 30 days' observation.

Final Agreement Certain

Three Peace Envoys Fly Home From Cyprus

ATHENS (CP) — Cyrus Vance flew back from Cyprus today and a reliable source said he would return to Washington soon because he had completed his mission to avert a Greek-Turkish war over the Mediterranean island.

President Johnson's special envoy hurried into conference with Greek Foreign Minister Panayiotis Pipinelis, who later told reporters a communique announcing a final agreement with Turkey was being drawn up. However, he said he did not expect it to be completed today.

Vance came to Athens after seven hours of talks during the night with President Makarios of Cyprus.

Vance told reporters in Athens he was "very hopeful peace will be preserved."

A senior Greek foreign ministry official, talking with reporters after Vance left the ministry, said: "In essence we have finished."

With a peaceful settlement apparently in sight, UN Secretary-General U Thant's personal representative Jose Rolz-Bennett left for New York.

In a statement before his departure the Guatemalan UN undersecretary said his mission, based exclusively on appeals for peace made by Thant, was separate from other peace missions.

He said the only proposals he discussed in Ankara, Athens and Nicosia were those contained in the appeal by Thant Nov. 24, namely the phased reduction of non-Cypriot armed forces "now in hostile confrontation in Cyprus."

This withdrawal should lead to a complete removal of non-Cypriot troops except those attached to the United Nations.

Shortly after Rolz-Bennett left, another peace worker, NATO Secretary-General Manlio Brosio of Italy, flew to Brussels, remarking that the danger of conflict was averted.

He told reporters at the airport: "My mission is over . . . substantial understandings between the two allied governments has been reached and the danger of conflict is no more."

Semi-official Turkish reports said that under the agreement Greece would pull her troops out of Cyprus, Turkey would phase down its preparations to invade the island, Turkish-Cypriot victims of Greek-Cypriot attacks would be indemnified and arms illegally held by the islanders would be collected.

The operating procedure, known as a scleral buckling, fixes the detached retina.

The surgeons were Dr. William Callahan and Dr. Michael Shea.

Battle Renewed At Dak To

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnamese paratroops reported killing 130 North Vietnamese in a new battle near Dak To Wednesday while American forces flown in at halt repulsed an attack by Viet Cong and North Vietnamese regulars today near the U.S. Special Forces camp at Bu Dop.

American firepower stopped the human-wave assault in a cemetery 30 yards from the U.S. lines.

Something Dropped

A giant rock plug is obliterated in a great cloud of spray after it fell 60 feet into 15 feet of water to block a diversion tunnel bypassing a huge dam being built by Hydro-Quebec at Outardes Quatre, Que., 200 miles northeast of Quebec City. (CP Photo)

Hydro-Quebec Ingenious

Rock Plug Closes Dam Tunnel

OUTARDES QUATRE, Que. (CP) — Hydro-Quebec engineers covered a world first Wednesday when they dropped a 22,000-ton solid rock plug into the entrance of a power dam diversion tunnel.

But the feat, the first of its kind in the world, was short of complete success when about one-third of the plug broke away after falling 60 feet into swirling water gushing through the tunnel.

The project is estimated to have cost hydro-Quebec, a provincially-owned utility, about $600,000, a saving of roughly $750,000 from the more conventional method of closing diversion tunnels with finely - machined steel gates that drop into place.

Hundreds lined the 449-foot-high dam and snow-covered rocky hills surrounding this construction site on the Aux Outardes River, about 200 miles northeast of Quebec City to watch the engineering triumph in near-zero temperatures.

The huge plug was carved out of the roof of the 19,000 - foot-long diversion tunnel, which has the diameter of about 50 feet. About 450 pounds of explosives sheared off two 12-foot shoulders, holding it above the entrance to free it for the plunge.

The crowds, drawn from surrounding construction camps, cheered as the plug—63 feet wide, 40 feet deep and 70 feet high—hit the water, sending a spray 200 feet in the air. The echo of the dynamite blast sounded up the valley a split second earlier.

Water that had been racing through the tunnel at 14,700 cubic feet a second, began rising. Under the built-up pressure, the rock split along rock imperfections, despite reinforcing steel that had been drilled into it.

Some gloom spread among Hydro-Quebec officials, but two hours later they announced that the results were not too disappointing. The increased cost would be insignificant.

If the plug had remained intact, about 42 per cent of the tunnel entrance would have been closed. Some 100,000 yards of rock and other fill would have been needed to seal it off.

The drop Wednesday succeeded in blocking 79 per cent of the tunnel and how huge cement blocks will be slipped in to fill up the broken section.

Council Candidates Speak at Wharf Street Debating Club

By HARRY MULHALL
Staff Reporter

The Wharf Street Debating Club was at it again last night.

Look back in the mock of history and you'll probably find democracy began the same way.

Nobody knows for sure when the club began, but, in its murky atmosphere democracy hasn't changed a bit.

The spirit of free assembly rages so triumphant it's hard to distinguish it from anarchy as it rumblingly pursues its goal: The baring of political ambition in all its loathesome nakedness.

The club is Belleville's oldest political tradition and exists simply to annually rip and rend those with the temerity to seek city hall office.

For years, no city election has been complete without the annual pilgrimage by municipal candidates to the little wood building on South Front Street.

It's all-quite democratic — the young) of office, the presumption of personality means nothing here.

In fact, it's an old-fred democratic in its expression, women are not admitted without special dispensation.

Like democracy, the club's beginnings lurk somewhere back in time's twilight zone.

It's oldest living member, 78-year-old Maurice Gallagher, thinks it started 30 — or then again, maybe 40 — years ago. A framed subscription chart behind the chairman's dias is dated 1931.

Whatever it's pedigree, the club continues loyal to its tradition.

Like the scene last night, the club-house packed for another year with an expectant crowd, eager to scald the city hall office seekers.

Secretary Jim Matthews raps a gavel and chairman Harry Rollins tells the audience to get ready and see "democracy act in reality."

There's a line-up of city councillors and their challengers, along with mayoralty candidates before him.

Mr. Rollins introduces them: "Take these riff-raff that are trying to achieve office tonight — take them, and tear them to shreds."

Then the uproar begins and swells until the evening is littered with verbal carnage.

The campaigners must face it, some bravely, some foolishly.

One alderman is beaten before he begins. He must double over, forcing his way through the crowd.

"Here comes Father Time," someone calls.

"Gentleman," says the councillor scrambling erect, "I have been here a long time —

"Too long," retorts the voice.

"And I want to tell you the truth — "

"Tell us some lies," persists his persecutor.

Others are trapped by their own verbosity.

One candidate seriously bewails the lack of harmony on city council.

Blowing up his qualifications he claims later to be a fighter. If elected he'll "raise a little hell."

"And what happened to the harmony bit?" queries an anonymous tormentor. The unfortunate retires, his deflated self-esteem only emphasized by a desperate smile.

However, there are contrasts.

There's the gentlemanly reception given Mrs. Robin Jeffrey as she's permitted to enter the sanctum and receive a spiel for her council candidacy.

There's the sudden seriousness of Ald. Ken Soden riding out a tumult to appeal for support for the community centre he has sought city council.

But eventually, the riot breaks out again until the last of the candidates have been heard and the smell of cooking hot dogs wafts out from the kitchen.

It's time to be serious if the evening is to be wrapped up.

Chairman Rollins decides to impart a final message:

"I beseech you, do not betray your father and mothers. Do not betray . . . "

"Oh shut up," someone calls.

By that time the crowd also is calling for its hot dogs, and the Wharf Street Debating Club decides to call it quits for 1967 — its 40th year. Or maybe it was its 30th.

Anyway, it'll be there next time — no matter what year it is.

The Wharf Street set-to is strictly stag. However, when a woman is running for city hall she's usually granted a special dispensation to enter the debate. Last night, council candidate Mrs. Robin Jeffrey was a lone woman among the men.

The Enforcers!

Jim Matthews, (left), chairman of meeting, and Dave Blackburn, sergeant-at-arms, had job of maintaining order at last night's Wharf Street Debating Club uproar. They had little to do, or maybe wisely refrained from doing it. They were outnumbered 200-2.

Two Given Prison Terms

Ray Donald Woods, 48, was sentenced to two years and three months in the penitentiary after he and another man, Everett Clarence Raymond Hart, were found guilty of possession of stolen goods yesterday in a trial before Judge J. C. Anderson.

Hart was sentenced to four months definite and 18 months indeterminate in reformatory.

The verdict followed nearly a whole day of testimony by witnesses concerned with the incident.

Bernard Akey, of Point Anne told of the events of May 18, the night in question. He explained that he had stopped at the Canadian Hotel and had left about $100 worth of musical equipment in the back seat of his car. When he emerged it was gone.

Testimony by Sgt. Thomas H. Hall and Constable Douglas Martin of the Belleville Police Department related the spotting and arrest of Hart and Wood.

Hart and Wood, while they were on the stand, explained that they had found the articles, a guitar, harmonicas and other musical equipment.

The jury took about one half hour to arrive at its decision.

School Board Candidates Given Hearing

A 'Meet The School Board Candidates' night sponsored by Belleville and District Home and School Council was held Tuesday evening at the Harry J. Clarke School.

Invited to attend were the delegates for Public and Separate School Boards and open to all voters or interested parties.

Although all candidates did not appear, the ones that were represented stated their platform, hopes and aims for the future. Questions were presented from the floor and many interesting facts were discussed.

Although the attendance was not great is was commented that had more people turned out the meeting would have lasted indefinitely.

Of interest to the people present was the lack of interest for qualifying candidates for the Public School Board and general disinterest of the public in not attending in force to find out their answers to school problems which they seemed to have during the year. Council was pleased with the results of their first attempt at Meet the Candidate Night idea and are able to make favorable contact with the P.T.A. whose aims and objects are the same as ours, "Our Children."

IN MEMORIAM

WILSON — In loving remembrance of a dear mother Very Sadly Missed Nov. 30, 1965.

We often think of bygone days,
When we were all together,
The family chain is broken now,
But memories will last forever.
To us, she has not gone away,
For we can see her still,
Just sitting there with folded hands
And hear the gentle voice.

—Always remembered by daughter Grace, son-in-law Alf and family.

WILSON — In loving memory of a dear mother and grandmother Vera May Wilson who passed away Nov. 30, 1965.

Two dear hearts that knew no pain,
Two kind hands to God that fell;
One day parted, now a lifetime
Of memories we keep well.

A loving heart that knew no pain,
Two hands in God that fell;
One night,
Her joy to make some other bright.

It sits or suffering one she knew,
Some gentle act or love she'd do.
No fear of death of the last of sorrow,
Only
I know He said well done, dear mother.

—Ever remembered by daughter Shirley and son-in-law Bill and family.

WILSON — In loving memory of a dear mother and grandmother Vera May Wilson who passed away Nov. 30, 1965.

Days may pass and years may go,
But memory's treasure we shall keep it.
Because she was one of the best.

—Lovingly remembered by daughter Olive, son-in-law, Basil and grandchildren.

ADOPTIONS

HEITSHUSER. — George and Shirley are happy to announce the final adoption of their chosen daughter, Janice Lynn. Baby name for Heidi.

BIRTHS

LYNE — Gordon and Betty (nee Bayley) are happy to announce the birth of a son David Carl on Wednesday, November 29, 1967 at the Belleville General Hospital. Weight 3 lbs., 12 ozs.

IN MEMORIAM

REID — In Memory of Albert W. Reid who passed away Nov. 30th, 1966.

Just a year ago today dear,
All the days have been in tune,
But the days are growing shorter,
Until we meet it will be soon.

—Sadly missed by wife Hope, V. Reid and family.

WILSON, Vera May — In loving memory of our dear mother and grandmother who passed away Nov. 30, 1965.

Two kind eyes are sleeping,
Two hands are folded at rest,
A heart that was kind and loving,
Has gone to do its best.

It needed no words to tell us,
You never said goodbye to us,
You went when God at work
Without a word you said goodbye,
To one we loved so much.

Resting with she in remembrance sweet memories cling to her name,
Loved and remembered by her daughter,
Shirley.

Sadly missed by her devoted husband Ernest Wilson.

Lovingly remembered by daughters Jean and Helen and families.

Co-ordinator of this year's YMCA's campaign to raise $457,400 for expansion, Joe Douglas, gave a pep-talk to the campaign committee at yesterday's kickoff luncheon. To his left are Big Gifts Chairman John W. Deacon and General Chairman H. J. Fast.

'Y' Kicks Off Campaign

The "Kickoff" luncheon for the YMCA was held yesterday afternoon by the Big Gifts Committee which is rather appropriate as some big gifts are going to be needed to reach the $457,700 goal

The Board of Directors and Campaign Committee are confident however that the goal can be reached easily with everybody doing their part and good organization, Joe Douglas, who came up from the U.S. to handle the campaign, said "a city the size of Belleville can raise half a million dollars without trouble when it is for a good cause."

The luncheon meeting was headed by John W. Deacon who is Big Gifts Chairman. He introduced General Chairman Harry J. Fast.

Mr. Fast was appointed Tuesday as general chairman by the Board of Directors of the YMCA.

He generally discussed aspects of the campaign and emphasized the importance of Belleville's donations in relationship to contributions that will come from outside corporations and foundations. "The more we get here — the more we get outside," he stressed.

The goal (almost half a million dollars), will not only expand the present facilities of the "Y" but will also free the community organizations of all past debts.

The campaign is expected to be concluded by the end of February.

Dairy Producers Are Warned To Reduce Production Costs

Ontario dairy producers were warned yesterday that if they hope to remain in business they must learn to reduce production costs and not depend so heavily on government subsidies.

Speaking at the 60th annual convention of the Central Ontario Cheese Makers' Association in Belleville, Mr. A. M. Pearson, head of the dairy science department at the University of Guelph, said that too much effort was being put into increasing the price of dairy products and not enough effort into getting production costs down.

He said the government was subsidizing milk to the extent of $1.31 per hundredweight and that cheese was being subsidized to the tune of $131,000,000.

"These subsidies come from us — the taxpayer — and if we can't sell cheese without government subsidy then it is just no point in milking cows," Mr. Pearson said.

Without the government subsidy paid on butter the retail price would be $1.00 per pound and "who would pay that price?" he asked.

The speaker said there were increasing amounts of dairy substitutes on the market and governments were no longer prepared to legislate against them.

A Soy cheese had been developed in China, a vegetable oil cheese was being made in the United States, margarine was enjoying increasing sales, and synthetic milk was appearing on the market.

Mr. Pearson said there was no doubt the housewife would buy these products if they were cheaper. The Department of Agriculture and Food had already checked out their quality.

The dairy industry was given less than five years to gear itself for the changes which the speaker said were bound to come.

A further reduction in the number of milk producers and in the number of cheese factories was required to increase efficiency and reduce costs.

Mr. Pearson felt the problem was one for the Canadian Dairy Commission which he said was in position to set the pace. Dairy standards must be raised and a more uniform quality of production maintained.

The handwriting is on the wall and the only people who will save us is ourselves," he concluded.

Mr. Pearson's talk was one of several thought provoking addresses heard at yesterday's opening session of the cheesemakers' convention.

Mayor Jack Ellis and Hastings Warden W. A. Shannon, welcomed the delegates.

Trenton Men Plan Walk To Aid Santa's Work

TRENTON — Two local men will stage a "Santa Walk" next weekend from Kingston to help fulfill the Christmases of needy Belleville and Trenton children.

James Brennan, 28, and 22-year-old George Clark, plan far have over $300 in pledged support for their 60-mile hike, for which they are soliciting five cents a mile from prospective sponsors.

The men, both employed at Miller Brothers paper firm in Glen Miller, say the proceeds will be divided evenly between Belleville and Trenton Salvation Army services.

"We just realized how many families were having problems, with unemployment and all," says George Clark," and each year it seems the Salvation Army spends double than what they have set aside for Christmas."

The trek, which gets underway Friday evening, Dec. 8 in Kingston, should reach its conclusion on Highway 2 at Trenton about 30 hours later, predict the two men.

The" walkers have earmarked contributions for Christmas presents for children in needy families.

"I made the Kingston to Belleville walk once before, but that time it was on a bet," Jim Brennan said.

"Mark The Last Name First"
FIRST VOTE
ALDERMAN
DON WILLIAMS

RE-ELECT
SODEN | X
FOR ALDERMAN

Attention Trenton Residents

MONDAY, DEC. 4 IS A VERY IMPORTANT DAY FOR YOU.

JIM MacDONALD

Jim MacDonald is asking you to vote for his re-election as Mayor. He has been our Mayor — a job he enjoys — for 10 years.

Jim gained six years' experience as Alderman before that. He is a former Chairman of the Hydro and he has been getting things done ever since.

Aside from civic functions, his hobby has been assisting almost many other community activities.

The local Lions Club named Jim "Man of the Year" in 1957 for outstanding civic and youth work. He had been one of the United Trenton Memorial Hospital Project Committee members at its pitch.

During his 13 years' association with a Trenton sea cadet corps, the Ontario Navy League presented Jim with an award of merit.

He was a driving force behind the establishment of Trenton's Community Gardens, and was a member of the Trenton Rotary Club.

A former coach and manager of local hockey and baseball teams, he served on the town Recreation Committee.

He is a member of Branch 118, Royal Canadian Legion, which presented him with a Legion Citation in 1956.

That's the man — what about the job?

Jim first being elected to public office in 1953. Jim MacDonald has acquainted himself with every aspect of local government, serving on each committee.

During his term as mayor, town residents have seen development unprecedented in any similar period of Trenton's history;

—construction of the first municipal parking lot

—construction of the Trenton Memorial Hospital

—initiation of construction on a new curling hall

—plans for a gigantic marina to improve the harbor and draw four or Quinte tourist dollars into the local economy;

—establishment of a half-dozen major industries to boost Trenton's employment.

And Jim MacDonald headed up council's support for the variety of Centennial projects carried by various town groups during 1967, including the new Centennial Park site.

It sounds a one-man effort.

But the MacDonald-council record of co-operation and accomplishment for the past eight years has yielded great dividends for local residents.

You can't have too much of a good thing.

Vote MacDonald for mayor, for more of the same.

Devaluation of British Pound Lowers Price of Export Cheese

Devaluation of the British pound has created serious problems for the Ontario dairy industry, according to Mr. J. A. Johnston, director, cheese division, of the Ontario Milk Marketing Board.

Speaking at yesterday's cheese makers' convention here, Mr. Johnston said that devaluation of the pound would result in lowering the price of export cheese by between 5½ and 6 cents per pound.

Mr. Johnston said it was hoped the Canadian Dairy Commission would assist by increasing the cheese export subsidy to make up the difference, which, he said, would allow continuation of sales to Great Britain for the balance of the year.

If no assistance is forthcoming, only a lowering of cheese prices would allow a continuation of exports.

Mr. Johnston said that British cheese importers were showing a definite swing from the large round 90-pound cheese to the 40-pound block.

Price incentives were being offered to Ontario makers to encourage increased production of blocks, but the supply is still not as great as was anticipated.

The reason for the swing to blocks by British buyers is that this shape of cheese cuts to better advantage for pre-packaging.

English buyers also want a standard sight block with no bulging sides or ends to result in waste.

Mr. Johnston said the Canadian domestic market for cheddar has been firm with consumption continuing to increase. Domestic consumption during the first 10 months this year increased by 16 million pounds over 1966.

Cheese production in Canada for the first 10 months this year totalled 140.4 million pounds or a decrease of five per cent when compared to last year.

Stocks of cheddar cheese at November 1 were 95.5 million pounds or about 15 per cent more than on the same date last year.

Some of this increase in stock was caused by the dock strike in England.

Mr. Johnston said that the Ontario Milk Marketing Board cheese milk diversion program introduced last year to reduce the amount of "fodder" cheese had seen 48 million pounds of milk diverted to other plants.

The program, representing a reduction in losses to milk producers of from $100,000 to $150,000, would be continued this winter.

Mr. Jack M. Bain, director, milk products division, Ontario Department of Agriculture, told the meeting that so-called fodder cheese was creating an increasing problem for the industry as newer centralized plants are geared for year round production. The production of such cheese rose from 13 million pounds in 1949 to 26 million pounds last year.

Mr. Bain said British buyers did not care for fodder cheese despite the fact it was equally as good as so-called grass cheese. He suggested that additional coloring might improve marketing.

He said that new stronger hoops for square cheese were being developed which, it was hoped, would result in more uniform shaped cheese.

Mr. R. H. Gillan, Chief, Grading and Inspection Service, told of tests being done with the view of increasing cheese quality.

He reviewed the history of cheese making, noting that at one time there were 2,500 cheese plants in Canada.

The number had now dwindled to 137 with 80 of these equipped for both cheese and butter production. The number of cheese plants would be further reduced as more factories combined and new equipment was purchased.

During the past year the production of cheese had dropped about six million pounds with domestic consumption at a record high. Production of creamery declined for the fifth consecutive year, with consumption forecast at 327 million pounds — down 21 millions from 1966.

Thieves Enter Service Stations And Pool Room

Thieves smashed into two service stations and a pool room in the Belleville area during the night, vanishing after picking up a variety of groceries.

On Highway 2 at the Point Anne lane cigarettes valued at $30 disappeared along with bread, pies, doughnuts and milk.

The service station at Marysville was looted of about 300 packages of cigarettes, say police.

At Carrollton, the local pool room was damaged in a break-in but police reported nothing missing.

Premiers and Quebec

In the curiously equivocal manner of politicians beating around a delicate subject, the provincial premiers at the Confederation of Tomorrow Conference have expressed every emotion from injured pride and puzzlement to indignation.

Newfoundland's Premier Smallwood notwithstanding, the focus of attention has been on Quebec's Daniel Johnson. Mr. Smallwood wanted to know if there were nothing else of moment the premiers might consider? Was Quebec and a new constitution the only issue in Canada today? And why should Quebec be granted any concessions the other provinces were not enjoying? Of such was the burden of Mr. Smallwood's remarks, and to one degree or another of the other premiers who regard Quebec and the "French fact" with rather less than the respect Mr. Johnson would like.

The trouble with Mr. Smallwood's observations was that he had nothing of much substance to offer himself by way of subjects for discussion. He spoke vaguely of our "standard of living" and wondered if it were not an issue as great as that of Quebec. But this was no more than a red herring to distract attention from what surely must be regarded as the most serious problem in Canada today.

Significantly, Mr. Johnson said he was fighting against separatism. He said he was trying to save Canada but implied he was powerless to stem the movement toward separation himself. The other provinces, he said, could halt this movement by becoming more liberal in their constitutional thinking. But he went further by hinting that even if Quebec did secede he believed it could survive and grow in a separate national state. Meanwhile he warned that refusal to make Canada into a country where French and English have equal status turns Quebec into a ghetto and adds impetus to the growing separatist movement.

Mr. Johnson had an ally in Premier Robichand of New Brunswick who saw the Quebec premier as a man caught between two stools. On the one hand he wants to keep Quebec within Confederation, but feels that in view of the strong sentiment in his province he is powerless to do anything — unless the other premiers recognize Quebec's aspirations and agree to constitutional amendments that will grant Quebec a greater measure of equality.

Mr. Robichaud saw it this way: "He (Mr. Johnson) was putting his head on the chopping block when he said he was a separatist despite the fact a large number of people in his province feel differently and the fact that a foreign country (France) wants to take over Quebec culturally."

The New Brunswick leader warned that unless the others come to Mr. Johnson's rescue and recognize Quebec's problems for what they are then the province is headed for secession — and for all we know Canada for extinction as a political entity.

Hedged to the feeling among French-speaking Canadians in Quebec, Mr. Johnson's remarks are neither unreasonable nor inconsistent with the concept of a united Canada. And if Mr. Smallwood or the other premiers are so engrossed in economic issues that they cannot understand the strength of French feeling, and their desire for a more effective say in the management of their affairs, then such attitude can only have grave consequences for the future of this country.

Guns and the U. S.

Public order at the civilian level in the United States hangs on a tenuous thread.

Once apart from the periodic disorders connected with the civil rights movement, there remains the disturbing fact that no one is really safe from hoodlums, or even from fellow citizens who underneath a seemingly normal exterior occasionally manifest symptoms of serious psychological disorder.

Some weeks ago a teenage boy was shot dead in California, and a girl companion seriously wounded after being picked up by a couple of youths said to be on the run from their homes in Oregon.

Now word has come of the deaths in Missouri of two young Montrealers last reported seen in Mexico. Bertram Kidd, 20, a minister's son, and Marjorie Sharp, 21, also had been shot. They had been hitchhiking home to Canada.

Thus two more persons have died in a country which reports some 17,000 deaths a year from gunshots. In other words two more among the 50 or so who die in this way every day of the year.

Ottawa Offbeat

Premier Johnson Sells Americans on Quebec Investment

By RICHARD JACKSON

OTTAWA — What a smooth piece of political goods, this Premier Daniel Johnson of Quebec!

What an absolutely incredible operator, hypnotizing and manipulating to enjoy the best of both worlds.

Having beyond any shadow of doubt turned his back firmly on separatism, he still manages — on the line-tested basis that it is the squeaking wheel which gets the grease — to squeeze more, both in money and concessions, out of chronically nervous Ottawa.

In contrast to the separatist rantings here at home and their ravings in Paris, Premier Johnson sounds like the voice of reason.

As things seem to work out, the madness of separatism do his Ottawa arm-twisting for him, making some of his most outrageous demands sound almost reasonable in comparison.

So here at home, he demands and gets a favored place at the federal table.

But he appreciates his astonishing skill as a political negotiator — or, as some of the federal critics describe him, a diplomatic shake-down artist — you have to examine, and admire, it grudgingly, his recent astounding performance in New York.

He went there to convince international financier David Rockefeller, the mighty Chase Manhattan Bank, and the money-men of Wall Street that there is nothing to all that talk of separatism and that their investments are snugly secure in Quebec.

He not only reassured them, he sold them on the proposition that Quebec might be even a safer investment harbor for American funds than Canada — English Canada, that is.

He was able to remind the financial sleepers-and-shakers of Wall Street that Quebec had been doing many things — that the rest of Canada hasn't been doing — all calculated to please American investors.

Among them:

— Increasing domestic power rates to raise Hydro-Quebec's already high credit rating with U.S. investors.

— Cutting provincial spending to the bone and raising the Quebec sales tax from six to eight percent — the Canadian peak — to put his province's taxing and spending more in balance.

— Imposing stiff wage guidelines in the face of strikes by the province's public service employes.

— Curbing runaway social security costs by facing down demands of medicare.

This kind of government action has inevitably instilled confidence in the financial and investment community.

But Premier Johnson did far, far better than that.

He managed to put across the idea that Quebec better understood and appreciated the U.S. than does the "rest" of Canada with the latent suspicion of anti-Americanism of the federal government.

But has Ottawa actually been suspect of being anti-American? Well, a federal task force under Walter Gordon, a cabinet confidante of Prime Minister Pearson, is "studying" the advisability of restricting American investment in Canada and of "buying the country back" from the U.S.

Then the federal government refuses to consider sharing continental water resources with the Americans.

Additionally, Ottawa unilaterally is determining much wider limits of territorial waters.

And finally, Ottawa has been calling for an end to American bombing in Viet Nam; doing little to discourage anti-American demonstrations, often on a massive scale, on Canadian streets; and generally registering a vote of non-confidence in Washington's foreign policies at the United Nations.

In contrast to this latest anti-Americanism of the federal government, Premier Johnson in New York spoke of Quebec's pro-Americanism.

"You and your investments are welcome," he told the Wall Street bankers, "for we have no fear of you, no wish to restrict you.

"We realize that we in Quebec are part of the North American community.

"And realizing this, we appreciate that the United States (in Viet Nam) have assumed a wide world responsibility in halting the march of communism — for which we thank you!"

Those who were there say that while Premier Johnson did not mention Ottawa by name in contrast to Quebec City — he didn't have to — the American bankers got the point.

De Gaulle's Rantings Cloak for Anti-Americanism

By ARCH MacKENZIE

Canadian Press Staff Writer

President de Gaulle's blunt call Monday for Quebec secession was the single new element in his semi-annual press discourse.

Last summer in Canada he echoed the separatist slogan of "free Quebec." Now he has urged a "sovereign state, master of its national existence."

By accident or design, the timing coincides with the four-day premiers' conference in Toronto where Quebec's future is expected to be discussed.

The emphasis on Canadian domestic affairs accompanied repeated criticism of the U.S. for numerous faults, Israel for evils in the Middle East war and Britain.

The French president could have been displaying pique about the reaction to his premier-ively-ended Canadian trip earlier. He may be implied envy, visage as independent Quebec as a plus factor for the international future of France.

Or he may simply have been picking on what he regards as a weak chicken. De Gaulle has been quoted before as saying he does not really regard Canada as a country powerful enough to matter, or retaliate effectively.

From what he said Monday, that goes for Britain too.

These are the vulnerable links, de Gaulle may well think, in his pro-tent campaign against what he regards as an Anglo-Saxon plot.

His effectively blocks Britain's entry to the European Common Market and there does not seem to be anything anyone can or is willing to do about it.

His encouragement of total Quebec independence seems certain to stimulate separatist forces.

The U.S. long has held the view that all the French premier's efforts are best toward putting down Americans. Certainly American goals have been frustrated by de Gaulle from the disruption of NATO to nuclear agreements.

But the U.S. seems to have weathered any onslaught that France could encourage on the American dollar itself.

Despite the devaluation of the British pound and subsequent

Shadow Or Substance

The Manpower Training Program

The Globe and Mail

One of the saddest ironies of government is the perversion of good policies by bad administration. The federal Government's involuntary sabotage of its own excellent new manpower retraining program is such a tragedy.

Following the urgings of the Economic Council of Canada, Ottawa almost two years ago established "a labour market policy" in co-operation with the provinces to foster the training of workers and to assist in bringing into productive employment those who are now unemployed or inadequately employed." The program was then outlined soundly and intelligent, sensitive and enlightened.

Then last March 1, Manpower Minister John Marchand brought in requirements designed both to underline Ottawa's reservation in a hands-off policy toward education and to avoid possible abuses of living subsidies by persons not meeting the program's broad aim of assisting workers overtaken by technological or economic change.

Mr. Marchand argued through his parliamentary secretary J.C. Munro, that there was a fundamental difference between school education and retraining. Manpower living allowances were not designed to finance study normally given in the ordinary school system; they aimed to help men and women who had completed some formal schooling but who, through no fault of their own, were thrown out of the labor market by declining conditions. Training, in a word, was the affair of the provinces; retraining, with the cooperation of the provinces, the responsibility of Ottawa.

This reasoning contained a certain specious logic. It seemed neat, symmetrical, even sensible. Then Mr. Marchand explained how he would apply his logic, and it appeared that in aiming to prevent isolated abuses he was likely to prevent large-scale use of the program: federal subsistence allowances, he said, would go only to persons with dependents, or who had been working or seeking work for at least three years. This would exclude, he believed, teenage opportunists who form a drop out of high school (which offered education but no pay), then return to classes a few days later to draw an allowance for studying essentially the same material.

At the time, Ontario Government officials estimated the new requirements would not only plug the deepest loophole but block many other persons who deserved to benefit from retraining aid: up to 7,000 people in Ontario, they believed, migh. thus be cut off from useful training labor force.

Their predictions were far too optimistic. Mostro Toronto School Board Chairman Barry Lowes has drawn attention to a Board of Education report showing that in Toronto alone this year the drop in manpower trainees is not far off 8,000. Among those hardest hit are immigrants (admitted to Canada by Mr. Marchand's own decree) who need both technical skills and basic English. Another grotesquely cruel example strikes widows and separated women who, to benefit from retraining, must first go on city welfare.

Mr. Marchand introduced his retraining program because he believes profoundly in the dignity of workers as human beings and wanted to help them fulfill themselves in a fast-moving, vastly unstable market. He must very recognize that his purpose is being thwarted on a large scale because no one has been able to imagine a scheme for winnowing out misfits from the deserving.

This program is at the point of being administered to death. Mr. Marchand ought quickly to display the flexibility he has shown in the past, and create machinery able to screen applicants for retraining aid both fairly and rationally. Meanwhile to ensure that even a few will bother to apply, he ought to drop his iniquitous requirement of three years' indignity.

A definite decrease in the wolf death rate of Hastings County is noted in 1947 from that of last year, according to statistics released today by County Treasurer Ross Bailey. Only 46 wolves have fallen victim to the guns of hunters and trappers thus far this year, as compared to 70 shot or trapped in 1946. The county pays a straight bounty of $25 for each bona fide wolf pelt.

Ravages of Dutch Elm Disease

Windsor Star

A glance back will show that 1933 was a depression year, but that's the understatement of the century. For Canada and there are some who are getting ready to spend the Christmas vacation elsewhere. It sure is a busy time.

It was carried from Holland to New York in a shipload of infected lumber and from that point spread across the continent. It is fairly well under control in the Windsor area at present, for the reason that few if any elms are left to be attacked.

Toronto, however, is having a full-scale battle with Dutch elms and the plague that has seized them. Approximately 4,000 of the city's trees are diseased and the removal costs are high.

Here as elsewhere poison sprays were used at specified seasons but the beetles were more persistent than the sprayers and finally more drastic measures had to be taken.

Toronto's 80,000 elms would seem to present a formidable front to the beetles but they are given only a slim chance of surviving for more than six years.

Comic Strip Character In Spotlight In Grey Cup Parade

Snoopy Scores Greatest Triumph

TRENTON — Here's the World War I flying ace crawling into the cockpit of his trusty bi-plane — hot in pursuit of the Bloody Red Baron.

But good grief! — Snoopy and his perennial comic strip adversary are riding the high-ways instead of the airways!

The popular cartoon personalities are the central figures in a unique venture of CFB Trenton's Aircraft Maintenance Development Unit (formerly No. 6 Repair Depot) — a 46-foot float for this Saturday's gala Grey Cup Parade.

The float depicts Snoopy flying a vintage Avro 504K away from the wreckage of the Red Baron's Fokker triplane.

For those few who are not acquainted with the "Peanuts" comic strip character, Snoopy is an extraordinary canine who dreams of exciting World War I air battles with "The Bloody Red Baron," crack German pilot.

All this while perched atop his very down-to-earth doghouse!

From the time Warrant Officer Harry Tate and his seven - man crew from AMDU'S Museum Flight Section undertook the project, a scant nine days have elapsed.

Today, two flat trailers began the 160-mile road trip to Ottawa, carrying the components of the float to be entered in the Canadian Armed Forces contingent in Saturday's parade.

Even with the wings of Snoopy's bi-plane removed, for travel, AMDU personnel have had to give special consideration to related problems of size and traffic.

And Station Warrant Officer L. D. Kelly, who suggested the float entry, has checked out the entire parade route in advance.

With the co-operation of Ottawa traffic engineers, one traffic sign and a light standard will come down to permit clearance for CFB Trenton's 14-foot-high contribution to Centennial Grey Cup festivities.

Those watching Saturday's parade will be seeing an exact replica of a 1918 Avro, with a 36 - foot wingspan.

Classed as the finest training aircraft in the world in its day, the 504K could achieve sub - sonic speeds up to 90 miles per hour, and was in use in the Royal Canadian Air Force until 1936.

Three of these aircraft have been in AMDU's No. 3 hangar, following refurbishing by W. O. Tate and his staff, and 135 hours of flying time have been logged on two of them within the past year. Their record? — three crashes, none fatal.

Snoopy's aircraft rests at the front of the float, directly behind the doghouse where his "dog-fight" dreams are born.

Meanwhile, at the tail end of the float, the Baron shakes his fist over th. ruins of his brilliant - red Fokker, just-shot down nose - first by Snoopy.

Cpl. F. A. Whiteway will be the man behind Snoopy, donning a specially - made plastic head for Saturday's parade.

And Cpl. D. G. Jones will be in the cockpit of the Red Baron's aircraft, dressed in a dated German uniform replete with spiked helmet. The float's theme was suggested by Group Captain A. J. Pentney, AMDU Commanding Officer.

Its visual impact will be accompanied by appropriate "Mademoiselle From Armentieres" - type tunes to be blared out over a pair of public address systems on the float.

And the comical scene will be flanked by two airmen wearing First World War uniforms of the Royal Flying Corps.

This morning's trek to Ottawa began on Highway 401 but the trailer was transfer onto Highway 16 at Prescott.

One flat carried the Avro's wings, the other its fuselage.

Snoopy and the Red Baron will spend the night with their respective planes at CFB Uplands overnight, and Friday evening the wings on the 504K will be mounted in downtown Ottawa, in preparation for the Grey Cup parade the following day.

Saturday's "flight" through downtown Ottawa with Snoopy at the controls may mark the last "outside" appearance of this historic Avro 504K.

This particular aircraft will be dismantled and transported to the CFB Rockcliffe museum — its final resting place.

Man Attempts Break-out At Hastings County Jail

A 21-year-old man, awaiting trial for conspiracy in an armed robbery, was back in his cell at Hastings County jail today after police said they foiled a break-out attempt.

Acting police chief Inspector Harold Reid says his men were waiting for an escape attempt and the man walked into the arms of police stationed outside his cell block.

The inspector identified the man as Larry Wayne Morrison, and said he would confer later with the Crown Attorney's office on charges.

Jail officials were silent on the incident.

However, it is believed police were alerted when inch-thick bolts leading from the cell-block into a prison corridor were found sawed through.

He said police were waiting when the man walked through the damaged door about 8.45 a.m.

A general alarm was immediately turned in and brought police cruisers racing to the jail.

Insp. Reid said a hacksaw blade later was found in the cell block.

Morrison, a native of Belleville, has been 10 weeks in the county jail.

He was arrested in a Montreal suburb and remanded in the cells in Belleville, Sept. 14.

With a second man, Lawrence Schlaer, of Montreal — arrested later — Morrison was committed for trial Nov. 9 on charges of conspiracy to commit robbery.

Schlaer was freed on $15,000 bail. Morrison remained in custody, his bail set at $25,000.

The charges were laid after Sam Mulholland, manager of Food City store at the Glen Rite-Way shopping complex, was robbed of about $10,000 and abducted at gunpoint Sept. 1.

Mr. Mulholland was left bound and gagged overnight in nearby scrubland flanking the Bay of Quinte. Provincial police said they found him after they received an anonymous telephone call.

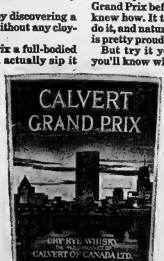
How Calvert found a new way to make rye incredibly smooth.



The name of the rye is Grand Prix. We made it incredibly smooth by making it dry.

And we made it dry by discovering a new way to make rye without any cloying sweetness.

This makes Grand Prix a full-bodied rye so smooth you can actually sip it straight. And like it.

Nobody ever made a rye as smooth as Grand Prix before because nobody ever knew how. It took Calvert ten years to do it, and naturally our Master Blender is pretty proud of it.

But try it yourself. In ten seconds you'll know why he's so proud.

Calvert Grand Prix. The world's first dry rye.

Principals' Express Opinions on Smoking in Secondary Schools

By STEVE BISHOP

Smoking lounges for students in the schools? Are they a possibility, or will students continue to flock to a spot off school property to smoke during lunch hours and recesses?

The principals of the city's four major high schools expressed their opinions on this topic last week.

Linden D. Rose, principal at Moira Secondary School said, "This is a possibility for the future. At the moment, all schools are faced with the same problem. That is accommodation, and ventilation. The rooms in the school are not set up to evacuate smoke.

"There is also the problem that some parents will feel that encouraging smoking, which we are not. We can't beat it, but we can't support it too heartily and also readily.

The idea of an after-school coffee house in the cafeteria has been put before the student council, and it this is properly handled it could become a smoking lounge.

We have also considered turning a book room upstairs into a lounge for Grade 13 students. In a year or so it may be a smoking lounge if this whole Grade 13 thing works out."

W. J. Musgrove, principal at Centennial Secondary School, stated, "We do not have a smoking lounge. There are two factors here. First, we have no spot available. Loyalist College has a smoking area for its students, but we don't."

"Second, in view of various official government reports on the effect of smoking on young people, I don't feel I can condone smoking on the part of high school students. In this area, I feel we are following what is a fairly common policy in schools across the province."

William MacKay, principal at BCI, expressed the following thoughts on the matter: "I don't anticipate a smoking lounge at BCI. I think it brings up more problems than it settles. The only thing it would settle is giving students a place to smoke. I can think of four problems that would arise.

"One is space. There are seldom enough rooms to go around in a school. Also, ventilation. We've recently had to install fans in the men's and women's staff rooms.

"The third thing is, should a smoking room for students be separate, one for boys and one for girls, or one room for both?

"Then, of course, there is the problem of caretaking for such areas.

"Outlaw smoking areas at some of the schools in the city have worked out very well, but as for having a lounge, I can't see it at all."

John Hayman, principal at Quinte Secondary School, had this to say: "This is the type of thing to be discussed by the superintendent, Mr. Stirling.

"We'd like to have lounges where the students can relax, primarily the Grade 13's. Space is the real problem. I wish we had more space for a lounge.

Smoking is allowed only at dances, in the cafeteria. As for an actual smoking lounge, the regulations, as I understand them, don't permit smoking in a school.

"We have an area on the school grounds where students can go to smoke, provided they keep neat and tidy. But, at the present time, we haven't given the idea of an indoor lounge of this sort any consideration."

The outdoor smoking areas on school grounds, mentioned above, are the only solution as far to the problem of students massing on the street just off school property, to smoke.

These areas are currently in use at Moira, where an area is marked off in the parking lot, and at Quinte, where a space between the school's two agricultural buildings is set up for student smoking.

But indoor smoking lounges for students do not appear to be a distinct possibility in the foreseeable future. And it's getting cold outside.

Dance Successful; Party Is Planned

By GWENDA DEYDER

STIRLING has had a busy fall schedule. To celebrate the end of exams, a dance was held in the high school gym on Friday night, Nov. 24. Music was provided by the "Pros and Wild" from Peterborough.

The Stirling Golden Hawks had a fairly successful football season even though they lost 11 players from last year's COSSA championship team. They started the season well as they defeated Nicholson 34-0 and Marmora 26-6.

Their first loss of the season was against Albert College by a score of 26-6. Injuries to key players were costly and cut down on the offensive strength. The next game was against Tweed. It was a defensive battle which wasn't decided until the final two minutes when Tweed scored to win 6-4.

The Hawks came back to score a convincing 35-0 win over the first place Madoc team in their best game of the season.

Gerry Bateman was leading scorer with 25 points, Ray Wellman second with 18, Lee Wyatt and Gary Richardson each scored 15 points.

THE JUNIOR and senior girl's basketball teams had a good season and played a lot of good, close games in spite of the fact that they were small in number. Everyone on the teams worked hard and deserves a great deal of credit.

Stirling boasted an exceptionally good soccer team. This was the first year we have had a team and they had a successful season.

Plans are underway for our annual Christmas Party and we'll be hearing more of that in a future column.

Dance Slated at NCC

By DONNA WHALEN

FLASH — The drama club and student council NCC are presenting the B.T.B.—4 (Big Town Boys) at St. Michael's auditorium on Friday, December 1. All Charlie Browns are obliged to wear shirts and ties and girls are expected to wear skirts or dresses.

Admission is only $1.25, with a student council card. This dance should be a big success because the B.T.B.—4 have always attracted huge crowds.

If you're a Mod Music-maker and you're "with it", you'll be at St. Michael's on Friday night.

SPEAKING of dances, the first dance that Nicholson sponsored this year was held at the end of October. For the first time, students from the Ontario School for the Deaf were invited to a school dance.

They mixed well with the other kids and everyone had a good time. Music was provided by that great local band "The Sands of Time."

For a few weeks everyone suffered from a bad case of "November slump" but most have recuperated by now with a few having a relapse after hearing the results.

I might add here that the noon-hour sport—floor hockey. Reports will be given on this later.

* * *

THIS SATURDAY afternoon at 4 p.m. tune in to Nicholson's Radio Club. Jim Peets and his co-members always have something up their sleeves to interest and amuse you.

Next week there will be a report on the drama club and its activities; so watch for it.

Moira Secondary

School Clubs Are Vital

By STEPHEN HUNTER

SCHOOL CLUBS are a vital part of education in today's secondary schools. Through these clubs the students have a chance to accept responsibility of leadership and the task of organizing a group to serve a useful purpose.

Student groups are varied, an opposite under no pressure from school officials. All this, combined with the enjoyment of belonging to and participating in a school organization, make student clubs an important part of any educational system.

* * *

AT MOIRA, there is a variety of clubs to choose from, and, with the exception of the letterman's club, the only qualifications are a sincere interest and the honor of being a Moira citizen.

The lettermen's club restricts entrance to those boys who have received an athletic crest or their "M" for any school sport.

The main purpose of the club is to aid major sports by contributing money for buses, referees, and officials.

The lettermen also bring in teams for exhibition games in an attempt to keep Moira's school spirit alive.

This year president Boy Crerar says there are plans to update Moira's athletic board and determine an outstanding male athlete.

THE KEY and keyette clubs have the similar function of serving the school and the community to the best of their ability. The key club under president Norm Gerow handles weekly UNICEF donations and help needy families at Christmas. Money is raised by selling books and brooms.

The library club is another extremely vital part of the school. Members maintain the library and obtain books for the students. Last year, they donated $100 to our centennial project and this year addressed envelopes for graduation.

According to president Shirley Maracle, paperback books will be sold three times a week to raise funds.

IN THE FIELD OF music, we have a very popular group, the folksingers. President John Campbell describes their purpose: "We are a musical group within the school to further school spirit and provide entertainment."

Other cultural groups include the French club under President Mike McLaughlin, and the German club with president Olivia Lang. These two clubs give students the chance to learn about countries.

* *

THE DRAMA CLUB offers an insight into the theatrical world and under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall are putting on two plays in January. The radio club, heard over CJBQ every second Saturday gives a chance for students to learn the inside story of a radio station and to develop their abilities in this field.

Finally, the geology club is an interesting club concerned with writing and identifying minerals. President Jerry Blackwell says field trips are made at least four times a year to collect samples.

Loyalist

Newspaper Conducts Survey in Local Schools

By PATRICIA BRIDGE

THIS PAST week students from the Loyalist Newspaper staff have been busy conducting a survey of the Grade XII students in the local and regional high schools.

The purpose of this survey is to provide ammunition for this column and material for the campus newspaper. The administration will find it helpful in knowing approximately how many people plan to attend Loyalist next year, and which courses they would like to see available.

The students were asked the following questions:

1. What is your opinion of Loyalist College being established in Belleville to serve this region?
2. Do you plan to attend Loyalist College when you graduate? Why?
3. Would you like to see offered at Loyalist College is?
4. Do you know anyone attending Loyalist College?
5. What courses would you like to see offere dat Loyalist?

The wide range of answers received was quite opinion only. The results will be distributed to all the schools involved as soon as they are compiled.

Cheerleaders Hold Party For Football Team

By TOM TERUSH

LAST FRIDAY Nov. 24, the cheerleaders at BCI held a party for the senior boys football team. The cheerleaders held a candy sale in the school previously in order to raise money for the party and for the club.

Each team member was presented with a small trophy in the form of a football. The COSSA champs held it proudly good being honored by some of the prettiest girls in BCI.

The boy club at BCI is planning an exchange week with members of a boy club in Montreal. The club is trying to organize the trip so that its members will spend a week at the home of a Montreal key clubber. The following week, they will have the Montreal member spend a week in the home of a Belleville member.

A WELCOME break in classes for some grade 13 English students of BCI this year . . . the students of grade 13 are studying contemporary ballads, songs and poems. Such tunes as Eleanor Rigby and Within You Without You by the Beatles have been studied.

Students, instead of skipping these classes and dreading the period, look forward to attending. When students want to learn it shows the school system has been improved.

* * *

ON WEDNESDAY students at BCI were entertained by the Belleville Theatre Guild with the poems and songs of Carl Sandburg. All the self-respecting students enjoyed the performance. This brings us to the question whether or not students who didn't enjoy the show should have attended, if they knew positively in advance they wouldn't enjoy the performance. They should have been excused.

CSS Plan Play

SINCE THE end of the fall exams, grade 11 students at Centennial have turned away from the daily routine of classroom procedure in English classes. From now until Christmas holidays, we repeat to class each day but quickly disperse to the library or other available rooms.

WHAT DO teachers do in their spare time? Why, some write poetry, of course! Here is a transcript: "The sea hammer smashed the anvil rock as the paper boat saluted in the massive jaws." The author's name cannot be revealed.

THE BELLEVILLE UTILITIES COMMISSION WILL OFFER

PRIZES

For Residential Outdoor Lighting at CHRISTMAS TIME

In order to qualify for a prize:

(a) The decorative display should be in operation from dusk until midnight each night from December 16 to December 31st inclusive and the judging will be done between 6 p.m. and midnight on a select night during this period.

(b) The display can be inside or outside the house but must be judged by its outdoor appearance as viewed from the street in front of the house.

(c) The display to qualify must be on the house or grounds that go with the house and owned by the resident or rented by him.

(d) Each individual house shall be considered as a unit and eligible for one prize in each class of lighted display.

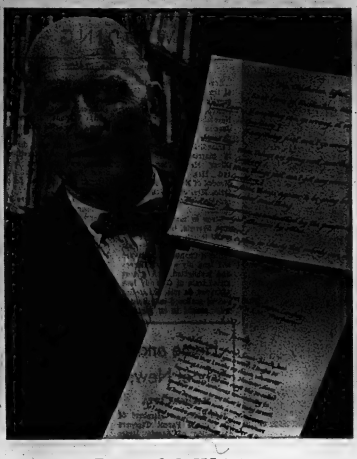
(e) To qualify for one of the prizes, the lighting display must be on a house that is not situated within the boundaries of the City of Belleville.

(f) No individual, having won the first prize for two consecutive years, will be eligible for a third year.

(g) Employees of the Commission are not eligible to compete.

The prizes are to be awarded on the following basis:

MOST SPECTACULAR DISPLAY and MOST ORIGINAL DISPLAY



A separate set of prizes will be provided for each area, that is one set for the east side of the river and a separate set for the west side of the river.

The prizes for the two classes of displays on each side of the river are as follows:

FIRST PRIZE: ELECTRIC BLANKET
SECOND PRIZE: STUDY LAMP

Honorable Mention: Electric Can Opener

Laing Opens Exhibit Of Eskimo Engravings

OTTAWA (CP) — Northern Development Minister Laing Wednesday night opened an exhibition of 42 stone-cut prints and copper engravings by Kenojuak, one of the Arctic's leading artists.

He also praised the diminutive Eskimo woman who last Friday received the Order of Canada's service medal from Governor-General Michener.

Amid the glitter of the national library's brightly lit foyer, Kenojuak and her husband, aided by an interpreter, sat and smiled as the minister paid them tribute.

Kenojuak's prints, done since 1958, are mainly of Arctic birds and animals, boldly executed in clear colors and strangely distorted, giving them a mystical quality.

Man Charged With Murder of Tailor

TORONTO (CP) — Frederick Steven Gushue, 20, of no fixed address, was charged Wednesday with capital murder in the death of Toronto tailor Morris Mayzel, 66, on Nov. 8.

Gushue, an unemployed laborer, was to appear in court today. He was arrested with Edward Thompson, 20, of no fixed address. Thompson was to appear today on a charge of possessing a dangerous weapon.

Mayzel was shot four times in his west end tailor shop. His wife died of a heart attack five days later.

Police later posted a $5,000 reward for information leading to the killer's arrest.

St. Andrew's Tea Is Held In Candlelight Atmosphere

St. Andrew's Presbyterian Women's Guild staged its annual bazaar and tea Wednesday afternoon by the glow of candlelight.

Candles provided the theme and candles of every variety were arranged by Mrs. R. Sine, Mrs. R. Michaud, Mrs. A. McCreery and Mrs. W. McCreary in the tea room. Opposite the stage red pillar candles tied with bows were arranged against the wall. On the stage wall was a green and gold tree of Christmas balls and a golden swag. In front of the stage a seven branched wrought iron pole candelabra held green and gold tapers.

Mrs. L. Sutherland, Mrs. V. Weir, Mrs. H. Elvidge and Mrs. W. Mantle received guests, Mrs. R. McLeese was in charge of tickets and Mrs. O. J. Reed, Mrs. G. O. Neil, Mrs. G. A. Bennett, Miss L. Burnside and Miss Helen Blair were treasurers.

The tea table was covered with a white lace cloth with red underlay and centred with fat red pillar candles decorated with gold. They nestled in net pouffes and holly sprigs. Each individual table was covered with a gold, red, or green cloth and centred with candle in a gilded glass placed on a golden doily.

Pouring tea were Mrs. S. W. Gentle, Mrs. G. Durno, Mrs. R. Jones, Mrs. C. Hinse, Mrs. E. Fraser and Mrs. E. Hall.

Mrs. J. Browning was in charge of the kitchen and a nursery was provided for children.

Booths and their conveners were: aprons, Mrs. F. McKeown; children's wear, Mrs. H. York; home baking, Mrs. A. Chaplin; novelties, Mrs. J. Robertson; delicatessen, Mrs. M. Davidson; candy, Mrs. W. Mantle; and white elephant, Mrs. M. Freeborn and Mrs. M. Miller.

WEDDING

MEADES — McFARLAND

Rev. J. A. Dunlop officiated at the ceremony in St. Margaret's — in-the-Hill Anglican Church, Belleville on Saturday, November 25 at 2 p.m., when Dianne Marie McFarland, daughter of Mrs. Eva McFarland, Belleville was united in marriage to Albert Neil Oliver Meades, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Langton Meades of English River, Ontario. Mrs. Julia Van Ochten provided traditional wedding music.

Given in marriage by Mr. Stan Sherwin, the bride wore a full length sheath style bridal gown of peau de soie featuring a Chantilly lace bodice and long illy point sleeves and highlighted with a coat styled train of Chantilly lace and peau de soie. A four-tier veil of scalloped tulle illusion was caught to an organza headdress studded with pearl drops and crystals. She carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations.

Miss Dianne McFarland, sister of the bride as maid of honor wore a floor - length sheath of aqua peau de soie featuring an embroidered lace bodice with matching headdress and accessories. She carried a bouquet of yellow mums.

Albert L. Meades was the groomsman.

For the reception at the Legion Hall, Belleville, the bridegroom's mother welcomed the guests wearing a three-piece knitted brocade suit of champagne and gold, black accessories and a corsage of yellow roses. The bride's mother was unable to attend due to illness.

Leaving on the honeymoon trip the bride chose a two - piece blue wool tweed suit, black accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

MARMORA CPTA

MARMORA — Members of the Catholic Parent Teachers Association of Sacred Heart School, Marmora, heard an address Thursday evening by Rev. Sr. Sheila McAuliffe of the Congregation of Notre Dame, Kingston, on the teaching of religion in the age of renewal. Sr. McAuliffe received her Master's degree in catechetics at Washington University last year and is assisting all parishes in the Kingston Diocese in their catechetical programs.

She said the new movement in Christian education aims to make religious study more meaningful for its learners. She asked her audience to be open to renewal and more consistent in study and work towards improving Christian education.

"Would it not be sad if the religion lesson were the dullest of the day?" she asked. "Parents and teachers must have ways of presenting God's word so that it is a joyful message. Whether we are a confused teacher or a baffled parent, we want to give our children an education that is sound and healthy."

She explained the Come to Father program now in use in the first two grades of elementary school, in which the child is helped to enter into a personal relationship with God.

Sr. McAuliffe was introduced by Rev. T. G. Scanlan and thanked by Mrs. E. F. McNamara.

Mrs. Bernard Doyle, vice-president, conducted the business meeting and said Christmas parties for pupils will be held in individual classrooms.

Miss Grey Cup Contestants Model Various Fashions

OTTAWA (CP) — Grannies, young men, matrons and mods came to see high fashions modelled by the nine radiant Miss Grey Cup contestants Wednesday.

The football flavor was lost in a Parisian array of fluffy furs, soft leather, sequins, silks and floating chiffons as the girls paraded in luxurious winter outfits.

Unusual costumes included a striped sequin sheat, an off-white coat with lynx sleeves and collar, and hostess pyjamas and coat in copper and black brocade.

Miss Montreal Alouette's dark-haired beauty was set off by a slim-lined gown of black lattice lace caught at an empire waistline by a bow of centennial rose satin.

Miss Ottawa Rough Rider, a blue-eyed blonde, provided a complete contrast in a long white sheath overlaid with silver lame and lace.

The silver motif continued as Miss Toronto Argonaut modelled a tissue lame pants suit and coat. Elbow-length slashes in the coat allowed it to float freely as she walked.

Spectators applauded as Miss Hamilton Tiger-Cat stepped onto the ramp wearing a tent dress of fluorescent-pink with a front zipper and large green collar.

Miss Saskatchewan Roughrider looked elegant in a trim coat of dark brown pony hide banded with white leather.

Coffee Club Wants to Have More Interesting Meetings

Dear Doris: The contributions of our Coffee Club (of 16 members) support a Korean child. We also provide a Christmas basket for a needy family, and collect a layette for the Children's Aid Society.

We would like to make our meetings more interesting. We have already had film shows. Being such a small group, it is difficult to get people to come to give lectures and the like. — Good Works

Dear Good Works: Glad to hear of a Coffee Club with some outgoing works in hand. For 16 people, you do a big job.

Your library has books full of meeting ideas; and can also give you leads for speakers who would come to a small group. Your local "Y" has a program director with ideas for you; and your Board of

DORIS CLARK

Education may have a community extension program to tell you about.

A series of "How To" meetings could include beauty ideas such as how to give each other facials; hair styling hints; manicure methods. Then there's flower arranging, elegant table setting, fashion following, to be explored.

Important hint: Make every other get-together a festive. My ten-cent list of games and skits is on its way to you.

Dear Doris: There is a married man who likes me and calls me his girl friend. He is old enough to be my father. The last time I saw him, he wanted me to kiss him but I refused, and reminded him that he was happily married.

When I told him that he answered, "So who cares?" I didn't mention this to my parents. What do you think I should do? — Worried!

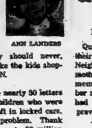
Dear Worried: Mention it to your parents. And keep on with the cold shoulder.

Dear Doris: This was not a wedding invitation but an announcement of the wedding and we received it two weeks after it had taken place.

Should we or shouldn't we send a gift? — Doubtful.

Dear Doubtful: No; unless you want to. A gift is a must when a guest accepts an invitation to a wedding; not otherwise.

Note to Confused and Mixed Up: Stop mixing things up with either of these boys. And if you really want an answer to a genuine question, sign your letter next time.



There are Canadian resources to help solve your problems. Write to Doris for direction, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope for private reply.

Ann Landers

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Your column urging people not to take dogs on shopping trips where they are left cooped up in locked cars prompted me to write a letter that might save a life.

This past summer a Minneapolis man went to visit his wife who was in the hospital. He brought their infant son along. The hospital authorities would not allow him to bring the baby into the hospital because of the rules. He took the child back to the car and locked him in. When he returned, he found to his horror that the child had died of suffocation.

ANN LANDERS

Please inform your readers that they should never, repeat, never lock children in a car. Rather take the kids shopping or leave them at home. — MINNESOTAN.

DEAR MIN: I was appalled to receive nearly 50 letters from all over the country reporting on children who were burned or suffocated after having been left in locked cars. I had no idea of the immensity of this problem. Thank you all for writing. You got the word over to 50 million people today.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Please don't throw this in the waste-basket because it sounds like a foolish problem. I know it's foolish, that's why I'm writing to you. I can't talk about it to anyone.

I'm a girl 18 who doesn't have one friend I consider worthwhile. I realize nobody is perfect, but I seem to pick apart every person I spend more than 20 minutes with. This one is loud, that one is dumb, the next one is a hypocrite and the one after that is a bore.

Please don't say I need new friends. The problem is not them, it's me. Why do I magnify other people's imperfections until they look so unattractive that I don't want to have anything to do with them?

Please help me if you can. Or am I — HOPELESS IN CINCINNATI.

DEAR CIN: Your statement, "The problem is not with them, it's with me," indicates you are far from hopeless — recognizing a problem is the first step toward solving it.

Chronic faultfinders are in reality dissatisfied with themselves. The person who is confident and secure does not demand perfection in his friends. He is content to take them as they are.

Get busy and work at being the kind of person you would like to be and you will be less critical of others. A wise philosopher once said, "A great deal of what we see in others is the reflection of what we are."

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Your reply to the exhausted boy boy whose lady customers couldn't remember where they had parked their cars didn't make sense to your faithful readers who live in Davenport, Iowa.

You suggested that the supermarkets letter the post to make it easier for people to find their cars. Well, we did that long ago, but it hasn't helped. Not only do the ladies forget which letter they parked by, they also forget to tell us they knocked down the post so we can replace it. So, keep trying, Ann, you may get it on the second try. — IOWA READER.

DEAR IOWA: Have you considered metal posts with the letters printed on a plate atop the pole? Some of the ladies might have to replace a few headlights and fenders, but after awhile they'll remember the posts are there and your problem will be solved.

Harp Case Is Home For Young Musician

CALGARY (CP) — Changing clothes in her harp case is the easiest part of performing for a said Carrol. "They figured I'd determined 15-year-old who drives her time between Grade years of constant talk they final 10 classes in Vancouver and a ty gave in."

season's engagements with the Calgary Philharmonic Orchestra.

"We get some of the funniest looks," says Carrol McLaughlin. "I just walk into my case and come out in a formal."

Inside the case her father has fitted three shoe boxes, 12 clothes hangers, an iron, a hair dryer, "curlers and things," a mirror, a metronome and even a small stool.

"Practically all my luggage is included with the harp."

The harp is home to Carrol in more ways than one. Because teachers are hard to find, she has spent much of the last five years travelling to cities and music camps in Canada and the United States.

"When I was little I told my parents I wanted to play one," Grande Prairie, Alta., where her parents owned a hotel. Carrol made the trips alone, and travelled to Seattle, Wash., for two weeks of "really concentrated lessons" a year.

Summers from 1962 to 1966 found her at the Banff School of Fine Arts or the National Music Camp at Interlochen, Mich. Now she moves with the performers—to a harpists' conference in New York this summer, then to a master harpists' seminar in Connecticut, then across Canada on tour with the National Youth Orchestra.

When Carrol sets the harp aside, she plays clarinet, saxophone and piano in Vancouver groups or joins in family jam sessions with her parents and brother.

"School," she says, "comes along as it comes."

"If I had a choice between study and practice I'd take practice."

Liberal Women's Group Hears Local Candidates

The monthly meeting of the Liberal Association was held at the Kiwanis Centre on Monday evening. Peggy Hasall played the piano for the opening number.

President Marylea Burtt presided and the minutes of the last meeting were read by the secretary Roberta Campbell. A. Bourdeau gave the treasurer's report.

Mrs. Burtt read two letters from the Ontario President, Mrs. Davidson stating the annual meeting will be held at the Royal York Hotel on February 8, 1968. At this time also a new constitution was presented to the members and voted upon.

Mayor J. R. Ellis and Alderman R. Scott addressed the group and a lively question and answer period followed with one of the questions being "What do you think is the greatest need in our community today?"

Alderman Scott replied that Belleville's major needs were the building of sidewalks and roads. Mayor Ellis stated he wished to see a better community feeling to build a better Belleville.

The next meeting is to be held on January 22, 1968 at the Kiwanis Centre with an auction sale to follow.

Points for Parents

By MARY BEYSON

Doctor: "This is a deep cut. I've put in a few stitches. When did your child have a tetanus booster shot?"

Mother: "I'm not sure. I believe it was a year ago."

A medical record is more reliable than a mother's memory, especially if there are several children in the family.

Keep a written record of the dates of immunization, booster shots and other medical facts. File it where you can refer to it quickly in case of an emergency.

U.C.W. Meeting

STONE CHURCH UCW

Mrs. Omar Chisholm, president, was in charge of the November meeting of Stone UCW held at her home. Mrs. J. Chisholm was pianist.

Theme of the meeting was Death Strikes at Midnight, and following the presentation of the topic by six members, general discussion was held.

The Christmas meeting will be held in the form of dinner with each member contributing an item to the program.

Kitchen Tested Recipes

Brown Sugar Used in Shortbread

By MARY MOORE

In over 30 years of making shortbread from various recipes I firmly believe those are my best yet. The difference is that light brown sugar is used instead of granulated or fruit or icing sugar. The cutting out method has been simplified so that busy mothers can tackle it after the children are in bed and have the whole batch baked before their adult bedtime. It contains only three ingredients.

SCOTCH SHORTBREAD
(Th 1¼" squares — easy to make and cut out)

1 lb. butter (room temperature)
1 cup fresh light brown sugar (packed)
5 cups unsifted all-purpose flour

Measure all ingredients into large mixing bowl. Work with your clean, ringless hands until the butter is all blended into the sugar and flour. This takes at least 5 min. of steady working. Turn out on lightly floured board. Knead and press and shape until you can force it to hold together from the warmth of your palms. With lightly floured rolling pin on lightly floured board roll out to a perfectly level ¼" thickness. Cut in squares. I used a 1¼" wide ruler as my guide on top of the dough and with a sharp knife cut the dough into exact 1¼" squares. These I lifted up, about 5 at a time, in a row on a spatula to transfer to shortened cookie sheet, placing them ¼" apart. I decorated each with 2 or 4 "silvers". They could be sprinkled carefully with colored sugar or decorated with little "straws" made of quartered glace red or green cherries.

Bake at 250 deg. Fahr. 18 min. I turned pans and switched them on racks two or three times during baking period. Do not brown or burn these. They should be only slightly tinged with gold.

Dinner Menus

THURSDAY	SUNDAY (Guests)
Chilled Grape Juice; Lamb Stew (with vegetables); Mint Dumplings; Cucumber and Green Onion Salad; Frosted Jelly; Hermits; Coffee.	Gourmet Pot Roast with Vegetables (see Wednesday); Rich Brown Gravy; Pickled Mushrooms (see Friday); Chocolate Layer Cake; Tea.

Church Groups

CHRIST CHURCH ACW

The final business meeting of the year for Christ Church Evening Branch ACW was held on Monday evening.

The devotional service was followed from "The Living Message" with Mrs. A. Boogard leading. Prayers and Scripture readings were given by Mrs. J. Kilborn, Mrs. P. Burton, Mrs. E. Smith, Mrs. G. Devolin and Mrs. F. Goodfellow. Mrs. L. Williams was pianist.

Following reports of the various secretaries, correspondence was read including several letters of appreciation. The monthly board letter was read and found interesting.

Thursday being St. Andrew's day a Corporate Communion service for all ACW members will be held in St. Margaret's-on-the-Hill Church at 10.15 a.m. also one at 7.30 p.m. in Christ Church. There will be a service in St. James' Church, Kingston also.

Flowers will be placed in the church in memory of all departed ACW members.

A Christmas tea, displayed by Mrs. Goodfellow, will be held in Miss Whitton in Manitoba.

The treasurer's report revealed the branch was in a splendid financial position.

Christmas donations will be made to Rev. John Jefferies for treats for his parishioners in Northern Saskatchewan as well as to Lansdowne House in Northern Ontario and for Christmas cheer baskets.

The annual potluck supper party will be held December 11.

Refreshments were served by Miss F. Reid.

PM, Draws Limits for France

OTTAWA (CP) — Prime Minister Pearson said Wednesday he has no quarrel with France having a national interest in Quebec.

He said in a CBC television interview that Britain has had a national interest in Canada for a long time. So why shouldn't France?

But Mr. Pearson said he would object to a treaty of friendship between Quebec and France along the lines of the France-German treaty. He said that is the type of treaty that two independent states make and is not acceptable.

Mr. Pearson also said it was right and proper for him to talk about international affairs affecting France in his Monday speech in London.

But the prime minister said he would have no right to talk about France's domestic affairs in the way Gen. de Gaulle talked about Canada's.

THE LITTLE WOMAN

"Look at it this way—at least I'm not one of those people who expect the government to support them!"

Frankford Personals

FRANKFORD — Mrs. Olive Hincks and her son Clarence, Huntington, Quebec, spent a few days last week with Rev. and Mrs. A. Carson.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Stewart and baby daughter Jill, Toronto, were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Selbourne Sharpe.

Mr. and Mrs. Doug Flood and sons, Guelph, were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Elliott.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wood and Mrs. A. Woodcox spent a few days last week with Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Bowes, Deep River.

Mann Warns Separatism Could End in Civil War

TORONTO (CP) — Maj.-Gen. Churchill Mann, 63, former vice-chief of the Canadian Army general staff, says if a united Canada cannot be maintained, armed force may be necessary against those opposing acceptance.

In a prepared statement expressing concern over the possibility that Quebec might separate from Canada, Gen. Mann warned against being "diverted into foolish channels and courses of action" that could lead to civil war.

"Bloodshed between compatriots" can be avoided by intelligent and thoughtful debate, he said.

"But if this cannot be accomplished," he added, "then I believe it may be necessary and worth while to compel acceptance of a majority view as to the desirability of a united Canada of 10 provinces and the territories of 1967, even if this should require enforcement by the use of arms . . ."

Gen. Mann said that as a sixyear veteran of the Second World War he believes it is time to put things in "intelligent perspective" and cut through the "verbiage, the fanfare and hullabaloo" to look at the facts directly.

He said separation of Quebec from Canada would leave the country "in tatters" and be harmful to the economy. It would be an easy prey for absorption by the United States, which "could scarcely afford the risk of a weakened neighbor on her northern flank."

For thousands of veterans "the whole idea of a disintegrated Canada is unacceptable," he added. Praising Canada's French-speaking armed forces personnel, he said they fought with equal gallantry beside their English-speaking compatriots.

Gen. Mann served as vice-chief of the general staff from April, 1945, until October, 1946. He was chief of staff of the 1st Canadian Army in the north-west Europe campaign of the third of Toronto. Second World War. He now lives in retirement on the out-

Ont in Regina they call Reggie Reed the check wagon that looks like a man.

In Hamilton they say he's a locomotive that can be stopped. "He's only a man with two arms, two legs and a football uniform. This club will stop him, there's no question about that."

Hamilton fan: "The Cats will bruise him worse than he's ever been bruised."

Roughrider fan: "He plays better when he bruises his brushes."

Hamilton fan: "Any club that can halt Jackson, Stewart and Scott can halt anything."

Roughrider fan: "When he bounces his head and goes into the buffalo charge he'll hit those Four Horsemen of the Tiger shtick troops into pygmies."

Tiger Fan: "The Roughriders can be taken."

Neutral Observer: "Yeah, they can be takin' your heads off, too."

Bob Hanley sports editor of the Hamilton Spectator columns: — "Reed appears to be the most remarkable football player of the last several seasons — best ground gainer and No. 1 punching bag of the western conference, the largest single parcel of the total Regina offence."

"Everybody knows he's coming and yet nobody seems to stop him. As for his 25 carries in the last game with the Stampeders — try failing down 35 times and getting back up again, even without the pounding and absorption of defensive pounding. Its incredible that one body (285 pounds) should stand up to such prolonged punishment."

While most of the Tiger-Cats agree that Reed can be stopped and stopped hard, coach Ralph Sazio was more reserved.

"We'll concede the 100 yards in the game," the Tabbies mentor said, "and try to compensate by scoring more points than Saskatchewan. It's worth trying to stop Reed's blockers. He'll go through without blocking, but that's good."

Hamilton tackle John Barrow says, "You have to consider that Reed makes up about 60 per cent of Saskatchewan's attacks. We stop Reed and we stop Saskatchewan."

It should be noted, however, that Hamilton wasn't able to stop Reed on October 9th this season when the Saskatchewan halfback gained 100 yards and the Roughriders edged the Tiger Cats 22-21 in an interlocking game.

Barrow claimed there was good reason for his success. "We had played Calgary the previous day and had geared our defence to stop the passing attack of Peter Liske. So less than 24 hours later we go into a game against a team with a strong running attack. We had no time to reset our defensive alignment."

"If as Munkmouth says "You believe in statix" it should be welcome news to Roughrider fans that the Cats have won five and lost two in Saskatchewan since the advent of the interlocking schedule. Statistics, in my book, are just figures on paper when the blue chips are tossed on the table.

At the same time one cannot forget that the Regina and Hamilton clubs have met in Grey Cup combat three times and the Tiger Cats won all three crushing Reginas 30-0 in 1922 and defeating them 14-2 in 1929 and again 25-6 when they last met in 1952.

Saskatchewan coach Eagle Keys admits the Tiger-Cats are a tough club now. "There's no reason why they can't play three good games in a row. They're very like us, a balanced club. We'll be ready."

Both clubs will not lack for support. A host of fans from both Hamilton and Regina set to mention other parts of the country will take part in the big invasion.

In Regina travel bookings were at crush proportions. The club's allocation of 700 extra Cup tickets was sold within 30 minutes Monday morning.

One special flight from Regina to Ottawa is sold out and another filling rapidly. Airlines plan at least three extra 108-seat aircraft-and there is a special train to Ottawa.

Goalie Lost Eye

Player Given $4,000

TORONTO (CP) — Ian Young, a former goaltender with Oshawa Generals of the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A series, has received nearly $4,000 in a special trust fund.

The OHA Injured Players' Fund presented him with a cheque Tuesday for $1,000 and the Scarborough Lions Minor Hockey Association, the league in which he began playing, gave him $600.

One of the public contributions was $100 from Bobby Orr of Boston Bruins, a former teammate.

Race Fans Will Watch Cup Classic

CAMPBELLVILLE, Ont. (CP) — Horse racing fans will be able to watch Saturday's Grey Cup football game from Ottawa on 12 television monitors located in the betting areas of Mohawk race track.

The monitors were installed after the track management decided to run Saturday harness races in the afternoon instead of the evenings to avoid conflict with National Hockey League broadcasts.

Leafs Nip Habs

Bucyk (2) Paces Bruins' Hot Line!

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

In July, 1957, Boston Bruins did some fancy trading with Detroit Red Wings and came up with left winger John Paul Bucyk.

The Wings appeared to benefit from the trade, getting in return goaltender Terry Sawchuk, winner of the Vezina Trophy for them in 1953. Bucyk at the time was only a two-boned kid from the Western Hockey League who had scored 11 goals in two National Hockey League seasons.

But Boston and Bucyk went together like beans and brown bread and Wednesday night he scored two goals to tie Milt Schmidt's record as the Bruins' top goal scorer by all time.

Bucyk's goals, his 12th and 13th of the season, helped the Bruins to a 5-1 victory over Minnesota North Stars and gave him a total of 229 goals in 11 years with Boston—the same number Schmidt, the club's current general manager, scored in 16 years.

Schmidt retired after the 1955 season.

In other games Wednesday night, Toronto Maple Leafs, bolstered by the return of Frank Mahovlich, nipped Montreal Canadiens 2-1 and Detroit Red Wings surprised the Rangers 3-1 in New York.

Chicago Black Hawks downed the Flyers 3-1 in Philadelphia in an interlocking game between the Eastern and Western Division of the NHL. St. Louis Blues edged Los Angeles Kings 3-2 and Pittsburgh Penguins bombed Oakland Seals 6-1 in the fastest scoring spree of the night.

With three games scheduled tonight, Wednesday's results left Boston in first place in the East followed by Toronto, New York, Detroit, Chicago and Montreal.

Philadelphia maintained its slim one-point lead over Los Angeles in the West but Pittsburgh is pressing both clubs. Minnesota is fourth followed by Oakland and St. Louis.

Tonight, the North Stars are in Montreal, Toronto takes on the Red Wings at Detroit and Oakland visits Philadelphia.

Bucyk's output Wednesday night left him second in the NHL scoring race behind Bobby Hull of Chicago, but he wasn't the whole story in Boston.

His linemate Johnny McKenzie scored one goal and added two assists and his centre Fred Stanfield scored two assists. Derek Sanderson and Tom Williams scored the Bruins' other goals while Bill Collins accounted for the lone Minnesota tally.

In Toronto, Mahovlich waited only 18 seconds before starting the Maple Leafs to their victory. After being out of action for 28 days, suffering from depression and tension, Mahovlich fed Mike Walton a perfect pass to give Toronto a 1-0 lead.

Jim Pappin got what proved to be the winner at 12:31 of the third period and Gilles Tremblay scored for the slumping Canadiens with less than two minutes left to play.

Jim Roberts scored two goals to pave St. Louis to its victory and end a seven-game losing streak. But Ron Schock's tip-in midway through the final period was the winner for the Blues.

Red Berenson, newly-acquired centre that the Blues got in a trade with New York, added two assists. Bill White and Bill Fleti scored for the Kings.

Ed Hoekstra scored the Flyers only goal late in the second period. The game featured one fight late in the third period when Eric Nesterenko of Chicago and Philadelphia defenceman Joe Watson tangled. Both got majors.

In New York, scoring ace Andy Bathgate got the others.

Les Binkley turned in a brilliant goaltending performance for the Penguins, but lost his shutout when Gerry Ehman scored for Oakland at 11:42 of the final period.

JOHN BUCYK

DOUG MOHNS

Gordie Howe of Detroit was shutout for his fourth consecutive game. Ted Hampson, Paul Henderson and rookie Bart Crashley scored for the Wings as Detroit ended a three-game losing streak.

Bobby Nevin got New York's only goal early in the second period on a pass from Don Marshall.

Keith McCreary scored twice in Pittsburgh's romp over Oakland. Bob Dillabough, Gene Ubriaco, Ab McDonald and Handsome new decanter. Smooth, light flavour.

Now you know why Hiram Walker's Gold Crest is the hit of every party.

When a whisky is as smooth as Gold Crest, you've got something good going for you! Because everybody likes it. And since a whisky like this doesn't happen very often, we've decided to celebrate this Centennial year by putting Gold Crest up in a new kind of decanter. Tall and cylindrical. Clean, clear, and slim. With a cut glass sunburst in the base. It lets you show off just a bit. Because it looks great, and tastes so smooth and light. It's the kind of whisky that goes well at any kind of party. Try it at your next party and see. Gold Crest. The Party Whisky.

Tiger-Cats Not Selling Roughriders Short; 'Spy' Gets Heave-Ho

HAMILTON (CP) — Football is comparable to chess, bridge and billiards—every move is planned and the atmosphere is heavy with psychology.

That's the reason it is difficult to determine when Hamilton Tiger-Cats are honestly analyzing their chances against Saskatchewan Roughriders or bullding a smoke-out for their western rivals in the Grey Cup at Ottawa Saturday.

Not one member of the Tiger-Cats, Eastern Football Conference champions, will say the Hamilton club is better than Saskatchewan.

Only 90 minutes of play will provide the answer after the game gets under way at 1 p.m. EST. The contest will be televised nationally by both the CTV and CBC networks.

Every member of the Ticats, including coach Ralph Sazio, will point out where the Roughriders' strength lies, but no one will outline their weaknesses.

During the week before Saturday's annual Canadian final between the top clubs in the EFC and the Western Football Conference, only one Hamilton player has come close to revealing the secret behind the strategy.

"You just never understimate the opposition in a football game," says Willie Bethea, a five-year veteran. "You have to remember that every member of the other team is a professional."

The Ticats worked out for more than two hours Wednesday night. Sazio worked on defensive and offensive drills on the frozen field of Hamilton's Civic Stadium, with the temperature about 25 degrees.

It was the most extensive workout the Ticats have attempted since defeating Ottawa Rough Riders 38-0 last Saturday in the second game of the two-game, total point EFC final. Hamilton won the two-game, total point EFC final 37-30.

Although the club acknowledged earlier that it is not concerned with spying, one unknowing viewer felt the brunt of Sazio's wrath when he wandered on the practice field.

The unidentified man managed to talk his way past security guards, walked unmolested into the centre of the field and stood huddled and almost hidden by a group of players.

It was almost a full minute before Sazio, wheeling to consult an assistant coach, spotted the intruder.

"What are you doing here. Get off. Get him out of here. Do I walk into your office without asking?" yelled Sazio.

The man walked quickly off the field and disappeared through the gates leading to the street.

Newspaper men were allowed to watch the practice from the bleachers.

Minor Hockey

If competition is the key to success, the Belleville Minor Hockey Association's tyke a e midget divisions enjoyed a successful evening. Close scores featured eight of the nine games played.

MIDGET

Wings blanked the Leafs by a 2-0 count with Michael Thompson registering the shutout. Wings scored unassisted goals by P. Wall and Blatchford.

Rangers nipped Canadiens 4-3 on lone goals by A Iacono, A. Hayman, R. Lough and R. Yearwood. G. Garland helped on one. For the losers, R. Robinson had a goal and assist. Parker and Wormald a goal each and D. Runt two helpers.

Bruins and Elks-Hawks settled for a 2-2 stalemate. M. Thompson and Mike Semark had Bruin tallies with Jim Drummond and Don Beecher replying, all goals unassisted.

TYKE

In the night's only one-sided affair, Mohawks skinned the Seals 5-0. Goals were shared by R. Gee, B. Hills, Richardson, R. Trumpour and Richamese. J. Hartt and Hills had assists.

Hawks and Wings tied 1-1. R. Chase from C. Thompson was the Wings' scoring play. A. Boisvert had the Hawk goal with B. Doorenbos' help.

Kings edged the Ravens 3-2 with goals by N. Davis, B. Wilke and M. Heinz. Bob Yeomood and E. Wessels had the stats. R. McErvien and B. Cunningham scored on solo efforts for the Ravens.

Rangers nipped the Penguins 2-1 with D. McCully and J. McCheery trigger'ing the winners' goals. D. Shaw from B. Bibby replied.

Goddard blasted home both goals as Flyers tripped the Bruins in another 2-1 squeeker. T. Allis had an assist. R. Counios scored for Bruins with D. Clark helping.

Canadiens defeated the Leafs 3-1. David Giddings, W. Nault and D. Horne were Hab scorers. S. Hiltz, Giddings and D. Jones drew assists. J. Burk holder scored for Leafs with M. Mulroney assisting.

Play Oshawa Here Tomorrow

Juniors Hope Gals Lucky!

What should be luckier for teenage boys than girls?

The Belleville Junior "B's" are looking to a pair of women's hockey teams to bring them luck and some fans at tomorrow (Friday) night's OHA Eastern Junior "B" game here.

Jim Matthews' youngsters tackle the tough Oshawa Cruckmen in a nine o'clock till at Memorial Arena.

Belleville's two entries in the Quinte Women's Hockey League, which plays in Picton each Saturday, will do battle in an exhibition game at 8.15.

The women's clubs are Barriage Landscapers and Ellis Printers. These gals take the sport seriously but have a lot of fun as well. So, yes a died-in-the-wool hockey fan or just out for some fun, the doubleheader should provide all the ingredients.

Back to the "B's", they are nearing the point where they must start winning if they hope to catch third fourth and final playoff position in the five - team loop.

With only a tie to their credit to date, the Charlie Drake - coached youngsters are in last place after dropping some mighty close decisions. They insist: "Once we get that first win, watch us go".

"Some strange scheduling has Belleville playing Oshawa here Friday and next Tuesday; travelling to Cobourg Monday, back to Oshawa on Saturday, December 9 and right back to Peterborough on Sundry, the 10th. It's a tough make-or-break stretch for the "B's".

May Resume Rivalry

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The U.S. Amateur Athletic Union is pondering the possibility that the United States and Russia may resume dual sports event rivalry.

David A. Matlin, AAU president, said a proposition had been received from Russia for the repayment by Russia, over a period of years, of the some $125,000 in losses to the United States due to cancellation of the 1966 dual track meet at Los Angeles.

Russia said its athletes backed out of the meet as a protest against U.S. involve.ment in the Vietnam war.

Saskys Protest "Skating Rink Field"; Practice Cut Short!

OTTAWA (CP) — Saskatchewan Roughriders protested Wednesday night at being provided nothing better than "a skating rink of a field" for workouts before the Grey Cup game Saturday.

Head coach Eagle Keys branded the practice area as "hazardous" and the club was refused use of the field that will be used for the Grey Cup game with Hamilton Tiger-Cats Saturday.

The Canadian football final between Saskatchewan and the Tiger-Cats is set for 1 p.m. EST and will be telecast on both the CBC and CTV networks.

The workout, meant to be the first major one since the defending Grey Cup champs last game Sunday, was cut to a fey formation practices and general manager Ken Preston began negotiating for a new practice area.

"I think it's up to the city to provide a proper practice field," complained Preston "It just isn't right at all that we come in and not be able to practice three days before the game."

After 45 minutes of what end Jim Carphin described as "looking at each other," Riders adjourned the outdoor gathering for a film session of watching past Ticat games.

Roughriders scheduled another practice session for today but said they wouldn't know until later what Ottawa Roughriders, who rent Lansdowne Park stadium, would be able to provide.

Preston said Red O'Quinn and Sam Berger, Ottawa general manager and president respectively, hoped to provide time at the indoor agricultural Collseum building at Lansdowne Park.

"It has a dirt floor and we could work there," said Preston, "We'd even go for just the end zone of the Grey Cup field —that wouldn't be used except for returning kicks in the game."

Workmen are putting finishing touches to the Grey Cup field refused to allow Roughriders use of the grass Wednesday.

The main field had to be rebuilt for the Eastern Football Conference finals and the Grey Cup game. The practice field was in good condition Monday but rain froze on it later.

The weather forecast Wednesday night called for snow storms today and perhaps Saturday. Lansdowne Park's main field was in good condition—but Riders still couldn't use it.

'Boss' To Root For West

OTTAWA (CP) — Allan McEachern, acting commissioner of the Canadian Football League, went on record Wednesday as a Saskatchewan Roughriders' fan in Saturday's Grey Cup clash with Hamilton Tiger-Cats.

He said a National Press Club luncheon he is "a staunch western supporter" in the professional football final.

McEachern said he is confident the Canadian pro league will be able to compete for football talent in the United States with the National Football League there.

The Vancouver executive also said the CFL gambled as far as weather is concerned in holding the first East-West playoff in the Canadian capital since 1878. But he predicted the gamble will pay off.

With The Trotters

BATAVIA, N.Y. (CP) — Worthy Direct, owned by Bruce R. Rowan of Rochester, won the featured $800 claiming pace Wednesday at Batavia Downs. The time was 2:12 and the winner paid $4.00.

Clint Galbraith drove as Worthy Direct beat Dudley Voting Guy to the wire by three - quarters of a length. Peter Pro was third.

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP) — Wilmington Belle paid $6.90 in winning the first race at Windsor Raceway Wednesday night, and combined with the winner of the second, Silver's Judge, paying $7.20, for a $17.90 daily double return.

Wilmington Belle is owned by Richard Bartle Jr., of Mentor, Ohio, and Silver's Judge, owned by Sam Christou and A. H. Raby of Windsor.

An exactor payoff of $130.20 was registered in the ninth by Martha's Daughter and David Hal B.

Coach Conference Planned

Top Players Honored At Dinner

OTTAWA (CP) — Grey Cup activity picked up a little Wednesday with a dinner honoring Canada's outstanding professional football player of the year.

Peter Liake and Terry Evanshen of Calgary Stampeders and Ed McQuarters of Saskatchewan Roughriders were guests at the banquet affair, McQuarters' Riders see action in Saturday's national final with Hamilton Tiger-Cats.

General manager Jake Gaudaur of the Tiger-Cats Wednesday was named a new governor to the committee in charge of the outstanding player awards.

He and Sydney Halter of Winnipeg, former CFL commissioner, replace Ottawa club president Sam Berger and Don McPherson of Montreal.

Other Wednesday interest centred on the arrival of Saskatchewan by chartered plane and their difficulty in obtaining a suitable practice field behind the stadium at Lansdowne Park.

Unattended during a week of intermittent snow and falling temperatures, the practice area appeared more like a skating rink when the Riders turned up to unlimber muscles cramped by a 3½-hour flight.

Eastern and western conference meetings took most of the morning, but were generally unproductive as most business was left over for the Canadian Football League annual meeting at Vancouver in February.

Today an innovation is planned with a joint news conference of the two coaches, Eagle Keys of Saskatchewan at an auditorium here and Ticat coach Ralph Sazio on a telephone hook-up from Hamilton.

It is the first time such a conference has been panned in Grey Cup history, with coaches normally subject to a great number of queries up to game time.

McCarthy Intends To Test War View At Four Primaries

WASHINGTON (CP-AP) — Senator Eugene McCarthy of Minnesota intends to hold his banner of Vietnam policy dissent in at least four Democratic presidential primaries next year.

McCarthy plans to announce formally today his intention to challenge President Johnson for the 1968 Democratic nomination for the White House.

His announced aim: To force a shift in U.S. policy in the Vietnam war.

McCarthy indicated in advance that his target list includes the primaries in Wisconsin April 2, Nebraska May 14, Oregon May 28 and California June 4.

He lists two other primaries as questionable, regarding his entry—the opening race in New Hampshire March 12, and the April 30 balloting in Massachusetts.

McCarthy hopes to gain a significant vote against Johnson in Wisconsin, acknowledges he may have little success in Nebraska, expresses belief he can do well in Oregon.

That leaves the final contest in California—a crucial one in McCarthy's view. He hopes to obtain the support of the dissident California Democratic Council for his effort there.

Presidential primaries are little more than polls in which the parties can show preference for candidates. The final choice must be made by the party nominating conventions next summer—by the Republicans in Miami and the Democrats in Chicago.

But primaries can also make or break candidates. Governor Nelson Rockefeller of New York, who did poorly in the California presidential primary in 1964, quit the Republican presidential race soon after and Barry Goldwater went on to win the nomination.

Most Tax Experts Oppose Policies Carter Advocates

TORONTO (CP) — Many members of the Canadian Tax Foundation would like to see the Carter royal commission report swept under the carpet despite the federal government's indication that it plans to adopt a number of the new tax measures.

Foundation members wound up a thorough study of the commission's tax proposals Wednesday during their 20th conference which delved into numerous aspects of the report.

Although a number of the speakers during three days of panel discussions and general sessions favored the implementation of the Carter recommendations, a majority of these participating showed strong opposition to the radical proposals.

One speaker on a panel studying the question of a compre-hensive tax base proposed by Harvey E. Brazer of the University of Michigan economics department.

Prof. Brazer said the implementation of the recommendations in their entirety "would produce for Canada a tax system which . . . would be superior to that of any major nation in the world."

As the chairman of the 10 panels presented their reports to the entire delegation Wednesday, Vancouver lawyer Thomas E. Ladner said "If I had to summarize the mood and all of panel discussions and general sessions favored the implementation of the Carter recommendations, a majority of these participating showed strong opposition to the radical proposals.

Mistrial Bid in Denis Case Dismissed

OTTAWA (CP) — A defence bid for a mistrial was dismissed Wednesday by Judge Bruce Macdonald after 13 days of court hearings into charges against Raymond Denis of attempting to obstruct justice.

Judge Macdonald heard 90 minutes of legal argument on the mistrial motion in the absence of the jury, then summoned the 12 men jurors into the courtroom and advised them of the motion and his dismissal.

But the trial struck a further hitch shortly afterwards when the Crown and the defence notified the court that each side has motions to present to the court. Neither Crown Attorney John Cassels nor chief defence lawyer Louis Assaly disclosed the nature of their motions while the jury was present. Judge Macdonald excused the jurors from the courtroom pending disposal of the motions.

Denis, former executive assistant to the federal immigration minister, is charged with attempting to obstruct justice by trying to dissuade Montreal lawyer Pierre Lamontagne from opposing bail for narcotics smuggler Lucien Rivard three years ago.

Mr. Lamontagne was lawyer for the United States government, which was seeking at that time to extradite Rivard from Canada for trial in Texas. Rivard's extradition was subsequently approved in Montreal and he was tried and convicted. He now is serving 30 years in prison in Atlanta, Ga.

PINES TO COST MORE

TORONTO (CP) — Scotch pines will sell for $4 and $6 this year, an increase of 25 to 50 cents over last year, Dr. W. W. Breslin, past president of the Christmas Tree Association, said Wednesday. Prices on other species were not announced.

Mr. Meltzer on Real Estate
"What's Your Problem"

By BERNARD C. MELTZER

If you are paying off your mortgage these days, don't be a bit surprised if the bank waives the penalty for prepayment of the mortgage. It's not generosity — merely good business.

Dear Mr. Meltzer: The millionaire has arrived! Hard-headed bankers are giving away money. This happens to me and I'm anxious to know why.

I've just completed arrangements for selling the house. One of the things I must do is pay off my mortgage. A paragraph in the mortgage states in large letters that the penalty for paying off the mortgage in 3 per cent.

I expected to pay $330. I was pleasantly surprised when the bank representative told me that I would be allowed to pay off the mortgage without any charge. Did I catch him in a moment of weakness? — Mr. S.

ANSWER: Right now it's good business for bankers to encourage borrowers to pay off their mortgages. Mortgage money is getting tight and interest rates are rising. Money coming in is being put out at higher interest rates.

When mortgage interest rates are low or are falling, banks discourage prepayment of mortgages. One way of doing this is insisting on the full penalty for prepayment. When mortgage rates are high or are rising, banks will usually waive the prepayment cost, and thus encourage more mortgages to be paid off.

Another guide used by lenders is the relationship of your mortgage to the current market interest rate. For example, if your mortgage is 5½ per cent and the current market rate is 6 per cent, then prepayment is promoted.

If the reverse is true, then one should be prepared to pay the full penalty. Since mortgage interest rates are now high, and are rising, the penalty is being waived.

Dear Mr. Meltzer: No wonder cities are in trouble! Conscientious home owners are penalized. The lackadaisical are rewarded. For years, city hall has urged us to clean up our neighborhood. Taking their advice, I borrowed $3,000, fixed up my home and made it look like new. My neighbor did nothing.

The thanks I got is in the form of $100 added to my tax bill every year. My neighbor who's causing the neighborhood to deteriorate is rewarded by a $60 reduction in his taxes. What do you think of that? — Mr. P.

ANSWER: Really, I would prefer saying very little. But, since you asked, I only partially blame your city. Your assessor is trapped because he must abide by the fair market value doctrine.

Your house has been fixed up! Therefore, greater market value is followed by higher assessment and more taxes. Many urban experts have advocated a reverse policy of rewarding conscientious property owners and penalizing the negligent.

• • •

Dear Mr. Meltzer: I want to know what my new neighbor paid for his house. How do I find out? He won't tell me and neither will the broker. I'm not a busybody — just inquisitive.— Mr. N. U.

ANSWER: Busybodies and merely inquisitive persons can get such information from the public record. It requires a trip to the county office where deeds are recorded.

Examination of your neighbor's deed will reveal what he paid for the property — either the first statement on the deed or by the amount of revenue stamps attached to the deed.

Dear Mr. Meltzer: Recently you advised a reader who had a title problem to consult an attorney. I disagree with you. My husband is a title clerk with 30 years' experience. Whenever an attorney, real estate broker, appraiser or anyone else in real estate, has a problem of title, they come to my husband. These gentlemen then turn around and charge a large fee for the advice. All my husband gets is "thank you." — Mrs. C. H.

ANSWER: Although some attorneys and brokers may take issue, I must agree with the correctness of our correspondent's statement. If I had a title problem, I would seek out the counsel of an old-time title clerk. Other knowledgeable people in real estate do the same thing.

Dear Mr. Meltzer: My wife stole our house — and refuses to give it back. When I went into business, I wanted to protect myself against a possible failure. Therefore, I made up a deed transferring our fully paid up property from joint ownership to her alone.

The business has prospered, so my fears were in vain. I have asked my wife to now transfer the house back into our joint names. She refuses.

She likes the idea of owning a valuable piece of real estate. I am embarrassed, and I fear to ask anyone what to do, as I will become the laughing stock of the town. — Mr. O. F.

ANSWER: You will have to decide to either let your wife keep the full property ownership, or have your action made public. Since the property was paid for by funds you earned during your married life, your attorney upon furnishing proof, can get your half interest or its equivalent back. To do this, your attorney will have to take legal action, which you will be unable to keep secret.

Macedonian Earthquake Leaves Two Dead

BELGRADE (AP) — A strong earthquake shook western parts of the Yugoslav republic of Macedonia early today. First reports said two persons were killed in the town of Debar.

Radio Belgrade said the earthquake was felt in the whole of western Macedonia. The population of several towns in the area fled their houses in panic.

The radio said the Seismological Institute of Skopje registered the centre of the quake 65 miles west of Skopje.

It was felt strongly in Skopje, but no damage was reported from that capital of Macedonia, which was destroyed by an earthquake in 1963.

The official news agency Tanjug reported that about 90 per cent of all buildings in Debar were destroyed, including the post office. It said several bodies were taken out of the debris and rescue teams were working to save others buried in the wreckage.

Belgrade radio said the quake, accompanied by a terrifying underground roar, cracked the walls of some buildings in Skopje, where 1,000 persons were killed four years ago.

Peek at Future Tax Reforms May Accompany Tax Increase

OTTAWA (CP) — Finance Minister Sharp will attempt to show his Scottish thrift when he comes to Parliament with a Stanley's Day budget message tonight.

The 55-year-old finance minister will raise taxes. He may have something to say about other matters, including government-sponsored medical care insurance and tax reform.

He is likely to hit the theme of government economies in the face of inflation, and justify his tax increases as an invitation to the public to join his fight against rising prices.

Mr. Sharp's already-announced spending target of $10,300,000,000 for 1968-69 indicates he will need about a 10-per-cent increase in revenues next year.

How much of the difference he expects to make up from normal growth of tax revenues, and how much he will start to gather by changing rates immediately, will be disclosed sometime after he begins speaking about 3 p.m. EST.

It has been suggested that the finance minister is increasing taxes as the only way to make the government's anti-inflation campaign believable.

No observers know where the increase will come, but they have suggested several possibilities:

—A surtax on personal income taxes, hiking everyone's federal taxes by a fixed percentage;

—A sales tax on consumer services, beating the provinces for first crack at an attractive new revenue;

—A refundable personal income tax, to be gathered, held and repaid later like the five-per-cent refundable corporation tax Mr. Sharp applied in 1966.

With the prospect of an announcement on medical care insurance and a peak at government thinking on tax reform, the budget has taken on more interest and importance than the regular annual budget of last June 1.

Sources say that if any change is to be made in federal legislation on medical care it will be announced tonight.

Mr. Sharp has said in the Commons that he will deal with tax reform, possibly expressing views on the substance of the report of the Carter royal commission on taxation.

It is the finance minister's fourth budget since he assumed the portfolio late in 1965, and his most difficult to bring off from a political standpoint.

Previous tax changes were minor. His two budgets in 1966 changed personal income and sales taxes to add $430,000,000 a year to revenues. Last June 1 he cut $40,000,000 off taxes on production machinery and drugs.

This time he comes to Parliament not only to raise taxes, but to urge unpopular restraints, and probably to advocate a medical care plan that he personally opposes.

Qualified Success

Confederation Conference Ends Today

TORONTO (CP) — The four-day Confederation of Tomorrow conference winds up today with Canada's 10 provincial representatives expected to call it, at the worst, a qualified success.

Delegates said it made Canadians more aware of the complexities involved in trying to strengthen and maintain national unity.

Premier Daniel Johnson of Quebec thanked Premier G. I. Smith of Nova Scotia Wednesday for softening the rough edges of a situation that developed between him and Premier E. C. Manning of Alberta during the frank discussions that have marked the sessions.

A constitutional split seemed imminent when Mr. Manning objected to Mr. Johnson's proposal to rewrite the British North America Act.

Premier Joseph Smallwood of Newfoundland expressed a similar view before he left the talks for an eye operation at a Toronto hospital.

Newfoundland would agree to any changes necessary to preserve Quebec's unique identity, but it would not accept a constitution that created nine equal provinces and a Quebec that was somewhere between a sovereign nation and a province.

All delegates tended to favor constitutional changes that would help Quebec preserve its language and culture as long as other concessions were available all.

Once the air had cleared, delegates turned their ire on the federal government for not consulting them on national policies that affect the provinces.

Premier Robarts of Ontario suggested a permanent interprovincial agency be established and that an annual federal-provincial meeting be held at a fixed time to discuss fiscal policy.

New arrangements for provincial participation in federal decisions on fiscal matters are an "absolute necessity," Mr. Manning said.

Premier Louis Robichaud of New Brunswick said the provinces should be given the choice of accepting shared-cost programs or the fiscal equivalent.

On the constitutional question, Attorney-General Robert Bonner of British Columbia suggested—and the other provinces agreed—that federal-provincial powers be delegated.

Powers now are specifically allotted to Ottawa or the provinces without provision for delegation from one authority to another.

Delegation was a method of providing special status to meet a single province's particular needs, said Attorney-General A. A. Donahoe, who took over the Nova Scotia delegation from Mr. Smith returned to Halifax for a special session of the legislature.

Premier Ross Thatcher returned to Saskatchewan Wednesday to attend to government business.

The four-day conference called by Premier Roberts was the first of its type open to the press.

Robarts Praises N.S. Premier

TORONTO (CP) — Ontario saw no need to have the constitution rewritten, clarified his remarks by saying Canadians "shouldn't in any way be fearful of moving in the direction of a new constitution."

His suggested a close reading of the BNA Act would show that many of its sections are no longer operative.

He praised Premier Johnson for observing that not all the BNA Act would need to be rewritten; that some parts were worth keeping.

Constitution

Joey Rejects Changes

TORONTO (CP) — Premier Joseph Smallwood of Newfoundland praised Premier Daniel Johnson of Quebec Wednesday and repeated his contention that Canada's constitution should not be changed to create unequal provinces.

Mr. Smallwood said that in six years of attending federal-provincial talks he had never known anyone to make a more favorable impression than Mr. Johnson did at the Confederation of Tomorrow conference which ends today.

"He has done a lot for himself, his delegation and his province."

"You can't help liking him," Mr. Smallwood said, adding amid laughter from delegates: "Don't hold that against me."

"I liked him before I came here."

Newfoundlanders prized their Canadian citizenship dearly and did not want to do anything "dangerous to Canada's unity."

They also admired the tenacity with which Quebecers cling to the French language and culture. Surely everyone would agree to changes in the constitution that would enable Quebec to preserve its special identity, Mr. Smallwood said.

But Newfoundland would oppose any attempt "to remake Canada in another image." It did not want a constitution that would create nine co-equal provinces and a Quebec that was somewhere between being a nation and a province.

Newfoundland would give Quebec "anything she needs to be herself." But it would not agree to a constitution that would reduce the number of provinces, unless the provinces themselves agreed.

Johnson Raps Press On Conference Coverage

TORONTO (CP) — Premier Daniel Johnson of Quebec, for the second time at the Confederation of Tomorrow conference, criticized the press Wednesday for its coverage of the conference.

Holding before delegates a copy of the Toronto Star's final edition, he pointed to the headline:

"After clash with Robarts, Manning . . . Johnson withdraws his demand for a brand new constitution."

"I assume the translators are competent—I was told they are doing a wonderful job," he said. "Now what language should I speak to be understood by some of the reporters? Or is it the re-writing at the desk?"

"By the way," he added, "I never withdrew."

In his opening remarks at the morning session, Mr. Johnson said Quebec wanted a new constitution (one constitution as well). Later in the session, after remarks by Premier E. C. Manning of Alberta, he said:

"I hope that I did not convey the impression to Mr. Manning or anybody else we want to scrap everything that actually is in the constitution (British North America Act). We made this point very clearly . . . that we didn't want to start from zero and throw away what has worked basically in the last 100 years."

Meeting Cost $80,000

TORONTO (CP) — It will cost Ontario about $80,000 for the four-day Confederation of Tomorrow conference now under way in the city's newest skyscraper—the Toronto-Dominion Centre.

This includes financing for closing in the conference room, designing desks for each premier or his representatives, pool arrangements to provide close-circuit television monitors for the press and a supporting staff.

A provincial spokesman said Wednesday about 150 delegates and observers are attending the conferences and the province has underwritten cost of providing them with lunches.

He added the province also is paying for translation services both of actual proceedings and of printed reports of discussions for each delegation.

About 300 press representatives at the conferences have been assigned space and facilities one floor above the conference room with the cost borne by the province.

Injunction Expires Today

MONTREAL (CP) — Cargo-handling operations on the Montreal waterfront continued Wednesday, but an injunction that got the work started after a three-day shutdown expires today.

A hearing to determine whether or not the injunction should be extended is to be heard today in Quebec Superior Court.

It is to be heard at the same time as a provisional injunction which forbids shipping companies from refusing work to longshoremen expires.

The longshoremen won one legal battle Wednesday in their long-standing dispute with the shipping companies over terms of a binding federal government report.

The companies, represented by the Shipping Federation of Canada, had sought a motion to dismiss the provisional injunction that got cargo-handling operations working again.

The Quebec Court of Appeal dismissed the motion Wednesday and ordered the shipping federation to pay court costs.

It took under advisement an appeal by the federation to overrule the injunction and said it would decide at a later date if the federation has the right to appeal the injunction at a later date.

The Shipping Federation said Wednesday in a statement its counter action against the injunction was "in no way an attempt to handicap operations in the port of Montreal."

However, the statement said, despite "our overwhelming desire to keep the port in operation, as employers we must protect our own economic interests and competitive ability to the extent of requiring at least a reasonable level of work for the wages paid."

The federation and the International Longshoremen's Association have been feuding since Nov. 1 over their different interpretations of the binding federal report prepared by Laurent Picad, designed to increase the port's productivity.

The dispute erupted further last Friday when the stevedoring companies, members of the federation, fired all of Montreal's 3,000 longshoremen for what they said was failure to report for duty in sufficiently-large work gangs.

The ILA got work started again Tuesday through an injunction and much of the backlog of cargo that had piled up during the shutdown was taken off or loaded aboard the affected ships in the port.

GUNS STOLEN

ORILLIA (CP) — Thieves stole guns worth more than $4,000 plus $200 in cash from Elwood Epps sporting goods store here Wednesday, Mr. Epps is one of Canada's best-known gunsmiths.

Robichaud Wants $34 Million

TORONTO (CP) — Premier Louis Robichaud of New Brunswick told the Confederation of Tomorrow conference Wednesday he wants $34,000,000 being held by Ottawa under a shared-cost program.

Moments later he received a "cheque" for that amount from someone with a sense of humor.

Mr. Robichaud said the $34,000,000 is the remainder of New Brunswick's allocation under a federal aid program for technical school construction. He said seven schools have been built and his province now needs hospitals, roads and other types of schools.

Students' Bodies Found

BUFFALO, Mo. (CP-AP) — Two bodies found in a field about three miles from here Sunday have been identified as being those of two McGill University students last seen on the way home to Montreal from Mexico in September.

Officials said Wednesday the bodies of Bertram Kidd, 20, and Marjorie Sharp, 22, will be flown to Montreal after an inquest here later in the week.

Identification was made Wednesday by Dr. Peter Nash, a friend of Rev. D. W. Kidd, father of the boy.

Identification of the decomposed bodies, that had several bullet slugs in or near them ended a mystery about the whereabouts of the two. They had visited Mexico and disappeared on their way home.

The Mexican embassy in Ottawa said Nov. 21 they had been seen crossing the border Sept. 18. There was no further report of them.

A Beatle at War

Beatle John Lennon frolics across the desert in this scene from How I Won the War, a film that is a sneering satire about the Allies, their leaders and the men who fought in the Second World War. Film centres mainly on the Battle of El Alamein and features the Beatle in his first straight role. (CP Photo)

Penfield Accepts Science Award

NEW YORK (CP) — Dr. Wilder Penfield, world - famed Montreal neurosurgeon, Wednesday night accepted a Family of Man science award on behalf of himself and "those who have worked with me and laid down their tools and those who work on."

The award, for excellence in the scientific field, was presented at a banquet of the Society for the Family of Man here.

The society's citation to Dr. Penfield mentioned that the founder of the Montreal Neurological Institute has been described as a "medical sage."

"Explorer and mapper of the human brain, he has used his extraordinary skill to restore to active and useful lives those with little hope of either.

"His massive work on epilepsy alone is a towering contribution to our understanding of the disease which afflicts a sizable portion of mankind. Under his guidance the Montreal Neurological Institute has become the foremost centre of its kind in the world."

Campbell: Strong Federal Government Is Required

TORONTO (CP) — Premier Alex Campbell of Prince Edward Island told the Confederation of Tomorrow conference Wednesday the federal government must continue to have "a place of primacy" in the country—the necessary fiscal and monetary strength to introduce and carry out policies.

He said constitutional changes "are not necessary to meet the needs of P.E.I. However, if a review of the constitution is in the national interest, "we are prepared to enter into that review and be part of the deliberations."

Mr. Campbell later criticized some aspects of federal programs and said the Maritime provinces need "extra special consideration" in the next 10 to 15 years.

Quality Related to Quantity

Thoughts at Large:

Ignorant people always resent smart company; it's only smart people who appreciate being in company which knows more than they do so they can learn something.

• • •

It is a delusion that we can increase or decrease the size of anything without at the same time changing its "quality"; all quantitative changes are also qualitative — as with a nation that grows through conquest or annexation, and thus alters the whole tone and quality of its "world view."

• • •

A man with a "little boy" side to his personality has a great appeal for a woman — until she marries him and subsequently finds that the man has stopped growing on every other side, while the "little boy" looms larger than ever.

"All promises must be kept" should be the cardinal rule of parents and teachers; promises to children are not to be used as punishment, for nothing makes a child more cynical or indifferent toward tasks than the dawning realization that adults neither punish nor reward as they say they will.

• • •

To be proud of one's honesty is to taint it with a greater sin.

• • •

Everyone has at least one relative who perfectly fits Hebbel's description of a certain type: "There are persons who always find a hair in their plate of soup for the simple reason that, when they sit down before it, they shake their heads until one falls in."

• • •

The world of politics has always been at least a generation behind the world of ideas; but now the world of politics is several generations behind the world of technology — and much of our present frustration and futility is the result of trying to handle 1967 engines with 1907 steering-wheels and brakes.

• • •

Even in the pre-atomic age, war has always had its discount: simply breathing the consequences of one war has bred the germs of the next.

Children who are excessively fond of a dog in the family are obviously getting from the dog what they're not getting from anyone else in the family. (An emotionally nourished child can take a dog or leave it.)

The current "revolution" in sexual conduct was predicted long ago by those who warned that a moral code based on fear would be left in a vacuum when and if the fear was ever removed.

Timing Of Ban Issue

OTTAWA (CP) — If government legislation flashing the death penalty becomes law, what happens in a man already on trial for murder and subsequently convicted? Must the judge sentence him to be hanged?

The answer is yes, as the bill now stands. But this may be changed before it gets through committee and is given third and final reading by the Commons.

Terry Nugent, (PC—Edmonton Strathcona) suggested Wednesday that the bill, already approved in principle by the Commons, should be made clearly applicable to court proceedings already in progress when it becomes law.

Solicitor-General Pennell agreed to consider the suggestion, and many state his position when debate resumes today on third reading of his bill to limit the death penalty to murderers of policemen and prison guards for a five-year trial period.

At present, the bill specifies that it has no effect on court proceedings launched before it becomes law.

"Suppose a man is accused of murder last April, and the process of his trial is subject to a great many delays," Mr. Nugent said. "His case would be subject to the provisions of the new act.

"On the other hand, a man accused of an offence on the same date, and whose trial had been expedited, would be dealt with under the ol law."

Andrew Brewin (NDP—Toronto Greenwood) said a specific date should be set after which all trials and proceedings would be handled under the new law.

HOUSE MUST DECIDE

OTTAWA (CP) — Parliament not the government, must decide on a hours for bilingual Commons' employees, Prime Minister Pearson said in the House Wednesday. Creditiste Leader Caouette asked when bilingual employees will receive the seven-per-cent bonus paid to civil servants.

Baseball Trade Winds

Little Luis Back Home In Chicago!

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Little Luis Aparicio, the speedy shortstop who once helped Chicago White Sox win a pennant, returns to Comiskey Park after a five year absence in one of dozen traded baseball players made at the winter baseball meetings.

"That is good news. Wait until I tell my wife," Aparicio said when Chicago general manager Eddie Short called him in Maracaibo, Venezuela, to break the news.

The White Sox got Aparicio back from Baltimore Orioles Wednesday in a six-player deal.

Chicago gave up pitchers Bruce Howard and Roger Nelson and infielder Don Buford. The Orioles dealt outfielder Russ Snyder and John Matias, a minor league first baseman. The Orioles had earlier traded

Scholarships

Nancy Nixed $5,000

NELSON, B.C. (CP) — Canadian skiing star Nancy Greene, a student at Notre Dame University, says acceptance of a special $5,000 athletic scholarship from the British Columbia government last spring would have disqualified her from competing in the 1968 Winter Olympics.

Miss Greene said in an interview the scholarship, given to her after she won the women's world skiing championship, is really in a tangle. She said she has not seen any of the $5,000.

The Rossland, B.C., skier said she learned she would not be allowed to accept the scholarship after checking with the International Olympic Association.

Miss Greene said the whole thing hinges on the fact that the scholarship was awarded for athletic rather than academic reasons.

Names Three To Hall

MONTREAL (CP) — Col. Jack Davies, chairman of the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada Hall of Fame committee, announced Wednesday the election of three former Hamilton athletes and one from British Columbia to the hall.

Selected were Mrs. Elizabeth Campbell who as Betty Taylor, a member of the famed Hamilton Olympic Club, was a medal list in the women's hurdles at the 1932 Los Angeles Olympics and 1934 British Empire and Commonwealth Games in London, England.

Larry O'Connor was chosen for his performances in the same games, plus his membership on the Club's 440-yard relay team that brought Canada a gold medal at the 1928 Empire Games at Sydney, Australia.

Neil J. Farrell was chosen in the outstanding official capacity. Farrell, a immediate past national honorary secretary of the AAU of Canada.

The fourth choice was German-born gymnastic coach Wilhelm Weiler of Vedder Crossing, B.C.

Legion Second In Command Shuffleboard

Royal Canadian Legion Branch 99's shuffleboard team finished second in a field of 18 teams in the Ontario Command tournament held at Milton.

The Woodstock branch are the new Command champions defeating Belleville in an exciting final match. Milton were the last year champions.

Branch 99 won the tournament and went on to claim the district and zone titles. It barely missed the clean sweep.

Members of the team are: J. Goode, Lloyd Doran, R. Marsh, Al Calnan, C. Woodbeck, J. Burshaw, J. Scanlon and E. Schwichtenberg.

Next year's tournament will be held at Woodstock, the home of the new champion.

kunckhoff pitcher Eddie Fisher to Cleveland for lefty John O'Donoghue.

There was a rumor of a trade between Boston Red Sox and Cincinnati Reds in which catcher Mike Ryan and pitcher Bill Rohr would go to the Reds in exchange for pitcher Sammy Ellis and catcher John Edwards.

New York Yankees and Detroit Tigers both felt they were close to making a deal for 33-year-old Aparicio.

Harry Dalton, Baltimore's director of player personnel, said a trade with the Tigers or the Yanks would have meant giving up some of the Orioles' top young prospects and he wasn't prepared to do that.

Cleveland Indians sent Chuck Hinton to California Angels for Joes Cardenal in an exchange of right-hand hitting outfielders.

Baltimore Manager Hank Bauer said Howard, 26, was a deciding factor for Baltimore in the deal despite his 9-20 record last season with Chicago.

"Howard has pitched good against us. He has a good slider and will fit into our starting rotation with Jim Palmer, Dave McNally, Tom Phoebus and Jim Hardin."

"We are thinking of moving Ron Hansen to second base," Short said. "Aparicio would help our defence and we think he can bounce back at bat. Say-der fits into our general outfield plans."

Teen-ager Does Not Want to Drive

By Dr. Joseph G. Molner

Dear Dr. Molner: Do you think a person should be forced to take his driver's test if he has spells when driving, of feeling like he if going to pass out?

I often get these spells when driving, especially in heavy traffic, or on hot days when I have to wait too long for a light to change.

My parents urge me to get my license but I have this awful fear. What do you think I should do? — D. D.

I gather that you are a teen-ager from the mention of your parents.

Whether your trouble is physical or psychological — it could be either — you are a menace on the road if you get befuddled in heavy traffic.

You don't mention whether you have these spells or seizures at other times. If so, then you should be checked by a physician, and any physical condition or disability should be reported to the licensing authorities, and conceivably listed on your license, depending on the condition involved and the laws in your state.

If these spells are purely psychological, it would indicate to me that you are suffering severely from lack of confidence, and ought to take driver training, or more training, if you already have had some.

Such extreme lack of confidence can lead you a dangerous driver, just as a physical disability might — dangerous to yourself and anyone else on the road.

Certainly you should not be urged to take a license exam until you know what your trouble is.

Dear Dr. Molner: Please advise about the causes and cures of ringing in the ears, and ear noises. — Mrs. C. B.

That's all covered in my booklet, "Ear Noises, Their Causes and Cures," which sounds more terrifying than it could devote in the column. If you'd like a copy, send 10 cents in coin, and a long self-addressed, unstamped envelope, plus 5 cents for postage to Dr. Molner in care of the Chicago Sun-Times Syndicate, P. O. Box 158, Dundee, Ill.

Dear Dr. Molner: Is there a personal diet for heart patients, or is each individual case to be handled separately? — Mrs. D. M.

Each must be handled separately. In many cases, no special diet is necessary or helpful. Depending on the particular problem, and the patient's circumstances, weight reduction may be beneficial. Avoidance of animal fats is often advisable. Avoiding salt may be required in the patient who has edema or dropsy.

Dear Dr. Molner: I have read about these bands or pins people send down if they are in poor health. I have to put drops in my eyes for glaucoma and am supposed to take medicine for two other conditions but I forget. So how do I get one of these bands or pins to make me remember, most of all my eye drops. — Mrs. A. B.

That isn't what these pins and other insignia are for. They are to be worn so that if a person with some hidden medical problem collapses, people will know what the trouble is — so a diabetic or epileptic won't be mistaken for being intoxicated.

I don't see how the insignia would help you remember your eye drops and other medicines. But why not hang a calendar in some strategic spot (in the bathroom, in the kitchen or any place where you are bound to see it every day)?

Make a habit of making a check-mark on the calendar every day, but also make a habit of taking your eye drops or other medicine at the same time. If the calendar has its check mark, you will have had your medicine. No check mark means you forgot. So then you take it.

LBJ Says McNamara Has Set Clear Policies for Successor

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson says major U.S. defence policies are clearly defined for the man who will succeed Defence Secretary Robert McNamara, quitting the Pentagon for the presidency of the World Bank.

But a triple play of announcements by the World Bank, White House and Pentagon Wednesday night left in a fog some of the more intriguing aspects of the defence switch in assignments. The statements reported:

—McNamara will take over the presidency of the 107-nation World Bank after he finishes his work on the fiscal 1969 defence budget next year, probably sometime in February or shortly after.

—President Johnson maintained "the mission of our participation in the war in Vietnam is firmly set, major defence policies are clearly defined" and McNamara's successor—not yet named—can carry on McNamara's tracks "without loss of momentum or effectiveness."

—Outgoing President George D. Woods of the World Bank sounded out McNamara last April in McNamara indicated his interest in the post. He discussed it with Johnson, offering to stay at the Pentagon "as long as he felt it necessary."

—About mid-October, Johnson asked McNamara if he still was interested. Treasury Secretary Henry H. Fowler had prodded Johnson for the U.S. nomination for the World Bank presidency.

—McNamara told Johnson he was still interested. The nomination went forward to the bank. Its 20 executive directors voted unanimously Wednesday night to offer the $40,000-a-year job to McNamara. A delegation headed by Woods called on McNamara at the Pentagon.

The White House statement, issued under Johnson's name, called McNamara a "great administrator of the defence establishment . . . wise, resourceful, prudent" and said, "I shall miss him greatly."

McNamara's statement described the defence chief as "profoundly grateful to the president for his unfailing support and friendship."

But neither formal statement did much to confirm or dispel speculation that McNamara was being thrown to the Vietnam war hawks—that he is being eased out because Johnson purportedly is sliding more and more with the military chiefs.

Arthur Schlesinger, onetime aide to former president John F. Kennedy, said that McNamara's departure is "ominous."

Johnson wasn't available for questions. McNamara read his statement for TV cameras and then left the Pentagon studio without stopping to answer any questions.

The Johnson and McNamara statements did nothing to clear up what has become a key point in the speculation as to whether McNamara is being dumped.

This point revolves around when McNamara learned his name had been put in nomination for the World Bank presidency.

There are reports that McNamara, though he had discussed the matter with the president on at least two occasions, did not learn he had been nominated until after the action had been taken by Johnson.

Son of Miner Is Appointed Britain's Financial Chief

LONDON (CP) — A soft-spoken Welshman with a taste for power took over today as Britain's new chancellor of the exchequer, dedicated to making devaluation of the pound work.

The appointment Wednesday night of Roy Jenkins, 47-year-old son of a miner, to the key post in the Cabinet of Prime Minister James Callaghan, was seen as a victory for a group of young parliamentary reformists in the Labor party cabinet. Callaghan replaced Jenkins as home secretary.

"Forward the young ones," was the front page headline in the left-wing Sun.

"Younger men of imagination, brains and compassion, free from the image of conditioning of Labor's cloth-cap past, are now in key seats of power," The Sun said.

Apart from Jenkins, the group includes Defence Secretary Denis Healey, 50, and Anthony Crosland, 49-year-old president of the Board of Trade.

The British press generally welcomed the change and said Jenkins on the right was to follow up the 14.3-per-cent devaluation Nov. 18 of the pound and the harsh economic measures that went along with it.

Callaghan resigned because he was forced to recommend devaluation despite frequent, public pledges that he would maintain the old exchange rate of $3 Canadian and $2.80 U.S. Now it's $2.57 Canadian and $2.40 U.S.

Observers of the London political scene said Jenkins, not the warmest of Prime Minister Wilson's friends, got the job through sheer ability.

A first - class brain and relish for work have kept him ahead of critics.

The political correspondent of The Times wrote that Jenkins "has the radical intellect that will be needed to rebuild the British economy from the bottom up."

The Times said in an editorial the post-devaluation policy was absolutely vital to the future of the British economy. It added that "Mr. Jenkins's ministerial career has given evidence that he has the qualities to take advantage of this opportunity."

The Financial Times described the new chancellor as a man inclined towards expansion, but said "he has been around long enough to realize that the only kind of expansion in Britain that does not contain the seeds of its own destruction is one that is led by exports."

By SYDNEY OMARR

For December 1

ARIES (Mar. 21 — Apr. 19): New moon position in your chart relates to your finances, your decisions. Your imagination is great. Your creative urge, if fulfilled, could spell new way of life. Act accordingly.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 — May 20): New deal indicated where money and legal affairs are concerned. You don't get anywhere by forcing issues. But you do gain by having files in order, facts at hand.

GEMINI (May 21 — June 20): Accent on how you handle problems. Dynamic approach beats passive ones. Mental perk up. Get going. Start dialogue. Everybody's ears open! Find out what others are thinking, doing.

CANCER (June 21 — July 22): What you do today requires cooperation of co-workers, associates. There is tendency to antagonize those concerned with your welfare. Know this. Take preventive measures.

LEO (July 23 — Aug. 22): New moon today places emphasis on children, games, creative endeavors. Your emotions tend to take charge. Know this. Try to achieve sense of balance. You win if logic combines with impulse

VIRGO (Aug. 23 — Sept. 22): Today you find out what is of value, what is merely illusion. Key is to act on information. Don't delay, neglect or procrastinate. You learn lessons, but the question is how you apply them.

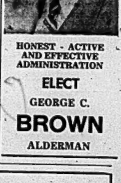
LIBRA (Sept. 23 — Oct. 22): Your sense of humor gains friends, wins allies. Others unwilling to listen to your problem. Today you are in mellowing end. But if patient, you move toward objective.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23—Nov. 21): View of possessions, income potential comes into sharper focus. Don't permit yourself to be talked out of valuables. Keep weather eye on what is your own. Be shrewd.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 — Dec. 21): New moon in your sign ance, individuality. Use your highly intuitive faculties, your own methods. Don't imitate. Be independent in thought, action. Strive for originality.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 — Jan. 19): Illumine previously darkened areas. Mental shake off secret fears. There is light now, and you can perceive true meanings. Message crystal clear before day is over.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20 — Feb. 18): Colleagues come to your support due to mutual interests. Realize value of charm, public relations. Be agreeable. Overcome tendency to be fixed, stubborn. Accent flexibility.



PISCES (Feb. 19 — Mar. 20): New career start likely tonight through social contact. Study Aquarius message. Be alert to ideas. One who makes suggestions may be testing your reaction. Be mature, dignified.

If today is your birthday, . . . your ideas are original, you often become impatient with those who lag behind, tardy in action. Key is to help others by what you're driving at through wisdom, understanding. If you show keen, real interest, others will respond. You're due to start a new project which could result in greater recognition.
